Mr. Perly Spaulding,
Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir:

Yours of November 17th is at hand.

Replying will say that we are in the retail business and not wholesale consequently we only issue a retail pricelist which we are enclosing but we can supply any of the varieties of Currants on which we make quotations at 50% of the retail price.

Yours truly,

THE NORTHERN NURSERY CO.

By

A. M. Ferguson

TO OUR CUSTOMERS.

We have had thirty years' experience in growing and selling Nursery stock. The past twenty-two years we have been located at Denver (while we only incorporated under the present name in January, 1901). For the first few years in Colorado our business was confined to Denver and adjoining territory, but at the present time we are doing business in all states west of the Missouri river, particularly in localities where it is necessary to plant the hardy varieties to obtain good results. We have had the advice of our customers from different states to add to our own experience in the selection of varieties best adapted to the different localities. When orders are secured from parties not familiar with varieties and the selection is left to us, special care will be taken to furnish sorts that are best adapted to the locality. SPECIAL INSTRUCTIONS WILL BE GIVEN IN REGARD TO THE PLANTING AND CARE OF TREES.

LOCATION OF NURSERY.

OUR OLD PLANT is located at No. 4335 Lowell Boulevard, formerly Homer Boulevard, on the Rocky Mountain Lake car line, three miles from the Post Office.

THE NEW PLANT is four miles north of Denver on Clear Creek.

Our business has increased in the past few years to such an extent that we found it necessary to increase our plant, so, in addition to the usual amount of Nursery stock planted at our old Nursery, we have Two Hundred Thousand Trees at the New Plant, which will place us in a position to take care of our regular trade and also the increase in business with the same care and attention that we have in the past.

PRICES AND QUALITY.

We have often been told by our customers that they have been offered stock at a less price than ours. To them we say: "CHEAP STOCK IS DEAR AT ANY PRICE." In buying Nursery stock the question should be: "How good is it?" and not "How cheap is it?" In no other purchase is the quality of such vital importance as in Nursery stock. The first cost of a tree is the smallest part of its cost by the time it comes into bearing; so, as a mere matter of insurance, a man can not afford to buy anything but STRICTLY FIRST-CLASS, WARRANTED STOCK. Most of the worthless stock is "worked off" by agents, who sell on their own account, and are not authorized by any responsible firm to take orders for them. The purchaser is caught by their talk, "CHEAP PRICES," the orders are filled without regard to the varieties called for, or the quality of the stock, and when the trees come into bearing the purchaser finds that he has an inferior grade of fruit, and the cost of the trees, the expense in caring for them and the use of the ground they have occupied have all been a total loss to him. If the people would only buy from agents showing a certificate authorizing them to represent a responsible firm, there would be no danger of their being cheated.

WE POSITIVELY REFUSE TO MAKE A PRICE ON ANYTHING BUT FIRST-CLASS STOCK, and will leave the worthless stock to be "run off" by those who have no reputation to maintain.

PACKING AND SHIPPING.

We pack our trees in moss and burlap completely; ship by express, except car lots which are shipped by freight. The loss of Nursery stock is usually caused by carelessness in packing, delays in freight shipments, or neglect on the part of the customer to call promptly and receive the goods and care for them when they reach their destination. To avoid this loss we give personal attention to the packing, ship by express, which guarantees the delivery of the stock at your express office in good condition. If the shipment receives prompt attention and stock the proper care when it arrives, the percentage of loss will be small, and we feel well paid for our care in packing and our extra expense in shipping by express

STOCK TRUE TO NAME.

Special attention is given to filling all orders true to name, but in the rush of packing and shipping, occasionally there is an error in varieties. In such cases, on proper proof, we hold ourselves in readiness to replace the stock free of charge, or refund the purchase price.

REPLACING STOCK THAT DIES.

We guarantee to deliver the stock to our customers in good condition, and there our responsibility should end; but, in order to meet our customers half way, when the seasons and conditions are unfavorable for planting, we have decided to replace, AT ONE-HALF THE REGULAR PRICE, ALL STOCK THAT FAILS TO MAKE A GROWTH THE FIRST SEASON.

These lists must be sent to us on or before September 1st, if wanted for the fall delivery, or March 1st, if wanted for the spring delivery.

RULE.

Multiply the distance in feet between the rows by the distance the plants are apart in the rows, and the product will be the number of square feet for each tree or plant, which divided into the number of square feet in an acre (43,560), will give the number of trees or plants to the acre.

THESE PRICES ARE FOR STRICTLY FIRST-CLASS STOCK DELIVERED TO YOU. WE PREPAY THE FREIGHT OR EXPRESS TO POINT OF DELIVERY.

SELL 50 AT 100 RATES; ONE-HALF DOZEN AT DOZEN RATES.

This price list includes the strongest growing and best varieties for the West, and are sure to give satisfaction to our customers.

We can furnish almost any variety we may have a call for, but we desire to have our salesmen confine themselves as closely as possible to the kinds named in this list.

$31.90

THIS ORCHARD FOR $25.00.

We will put in this stock at these prices for a short time, believing we will encourage the planting more extensively of good reliable orchards. The varieties may be changed in all the Model Orchards to suit the conditions in the locality where the stock will be planted.

We make quotations on three grades of fruit trees, but in all cases advise our customers to purchase the first grade, knowing that the heavy stock will stand more exposure, and believing that better results are obtained by planting the prime trees.

PLUMS.

We have a natural Plum country. Experience has proven that the better varieties of plums will succeed where the wild plum grows. There is no orchard fruit that will bring a larger return per acre than the plum. They can be grown on low wet soil or high dry soil with equal success.

We furnish first-class trees in both the European and American varieties.

CHERRIES.

The cherry can be grown successfully throughout the West. Unlike the plum, the cherry should not be planted on low, wet soil. In irrigating, do not use water too freely, except the first year, when it is a benefit to start the tree. Cherries can be grown without any irrigation if properly cultivated. The returns per acre are equal to that of the plum.

SHADE AND ORNAMENTAL TREES.

THIS IS OUR SPECIALTY.

We grow shade and ornamental trees in large quantities and with special care.

To insure the growth of large shade trees it is absolutely necessary that they should be in good thrifty condition when transplanted. We keep our trees in that condition by the free use of water in irrigating and constant cultivation. The cultivation cuts the roots of the trees and allows new fiber roots to form; the irrigation keeps the trees full of vitality. The result is that the tree recovers quickly when transplanted.

There are many trees on the market that have been grown on the ranches and timber claims where they have not been cultivated or watered in years, and there is not enough vitality in the trees to stand transplanting. Others are shipped from the East, and necessarily out of the ground for some time, and in many cases not properly packed, and when they reach here there is barely enough life to start a leaf. WE GUARANTEE TO DELIVER OUR TREES TO OUR CUSTOMERS IN THE BEST OF CONDITION.

EVERGREENS.

We have experienced so much trouble in the growth of evergreens that we have sold but a small amount in the past few years, except for the home trade. But our experience in the past two years has been very satisfactory, and we have decided to continue the sale of them, BUT ONLY FOR THE SPRING DELIVERY.

To be successful in transplanting the evergreen, it is necessary that a ball of earth should remain on the roots, and not allow the roots to be exposed to the air. In all cases our trees will be shipped with a ball of earth. This adds to the expense of digging and handling; also freight, and necessarily makes the price higher; but, unless handled in that way, we do not care to accept the order.
