Important To Purchasers Read Carefully

EARLY ORDERS. Place your orders early, as it is almost impossible during the rush of the planting season to fill an order on short notice without doing an injustice to others who have their orders previously booked. In fairness to all, we practice filling orders in rotation as received, in accordance, however, with locality and suitable time for planting.

CLUB ORDERS. By several friends or neighbors combining their orders is an advantage, as you can then order in larger quantities at lower rates, also save on transportation charges. Quantity rates as priced in this catalogue are, six plants of any one variety at dozen rates. Twenty-five plants of any one variety at hundred rates. Less quantities are at single rate prices unless specially noted. Our complete stock makes it possible for customers to secure anything needed (for lawn and flower beds, kitchen garden or conservatory) in one shipment, which is a large saving that would otherwise be incurred when ordering from several firms.

SHIPPING FACILITIES. We are admirably located for making shipments, North, East, South, or West, having the C., C. & St. L. Railroad East and West, the C., H. & D. Railroad North and South; also have the Western Ohio Electric, all of which connect with various lines. We have the Wells-Fargo and American express companies, which make our shipping facilities first class for any direction, thus assuring you of prompt and most direct service. When no instructions are given, we use our best judgment as to how to ship.

PLANTS BY MAIL. We deliver to any address in the United States all articles in this catalogue marked prepaid. In ordering plants by mail, please bear in mind that parcels are limited as to weight, and a volume measuring only 72 inches combined length and girth. This will naturally limit parcel post shipments to the small sized articles.

PLANTS BY EXPRESS. This is a most satisfactory method of transportation, as it enables us to give good values in the form of fine, large plants. We do not pre-pay express shipments, but larger plants are sent, and if goods are miscarried, they can be easily traced and if damaged in transit, more easily rectified. When sent by express, we usually send some extras; again, plants are handled by express companies at special rates.

FREIGHT SHIPMENTS. This method of shipment is advised only with heavy and bulky stock.

GUARANTEE. Most failures with plants and bulbs growing are due to causes entirely beyond our control, such as unfavorable weather and soil conditions, too deep or too shallow planting, etc., which renders it impossible for us to guarantee success. We take all possible care to supply such stock as will, under proper conditions, produce satisfactory results. We guarantee stock to be true to name, and will, upon proper proof, replace any that may prove untrue.

REMITTANCES. Remittances should be made by Post Office Money Order, Registered Letter, Bank Draft, or Express Company Money Order.

AN INVITATION

We extend a cordial invitation to every one interested in beautiful surroundings to visit Wagner Park Nurseries. June, July, and August are the best months, but visitors are welcome at any time. When touring in your auto, do not fail to include Wagner Park in your tour. Good roads lead in every direction.

Wagner Quality Combined with Wagner Service Assures Satisfactory Results.

Special attention is called to the prices we quote for regular, large, and extra large sizes. Any one at all familiar with growing plants will know it is possible to have them in the various stages of growth and in the different sizes.

READ CAREFULLY THE FOLLOWING EXPLANATION.

REGULAR SIZE. This is our lowest priced stock. The plants we send out for this price are good, thrifty, young, well-rooted stock, which will grow and give satisfaction, and recommended to those who are satisfied to wait for the fully developed effects and results.

LARGE SIZE. This is a class of plants that are quite well developed and from which good results are obtained even the first season; in fact, of such size as many nurseries offer as extra large. We highly recommend this size, as they are so well grown that results are almost assured even to the most inexperienced planters.

EXTRA LARGE SIZE. These extra selected plants are of such age and size to produce immediate effects. All of this size have been frequently root and top pruned to make them compact and bushy and well supplied with fibrous roots. Those desiring quick results, order of our largest size stock.

WAGNER'S IS A SERVICE NURSERY

Not the mere Selling of Nursery Stock But Everything
We Ship is Prepared Ready to Plant and Grow.

FREE SERVICE

Note Particularly What We Offer This Season

Every Tree, Shrub, and Plant is carefully pruned by our experts before shipping; you have only to plant in well-prepared soil and watch them grow. This means much more work for us, but we do it with pleasure, looking towards the satisfaction and greater returns our customers derive from the plants.

It is a realized fact that more failures with nursery stock—Roses, Shrubs, Trees, and Plants in general—are due to improper pruning at planting time than from any other cause. Naturally the digging of a plant or tree is more or less of a check to its growth, so it becomes necessary to do a certain amount of pruning (which, of course, varies according to species and varieties) to give the roots an opportunity to again become established in the new location without an overburden to supply the necessary nourishment to so much top-growth. Again, this pruning induces stronger bottom growths, which is the foundation for making a shapely plant and from which good results may be expected. While from improper pruning you can only expect weak, short growths, and those plants that flower to produce only small blossoms. We feel this a needed service to the amateur, and while it makes much more work for us, we do it with the greatest pleasure, that our customers may obtain the very best results and effects from our plants. This we know will be as greatly appreciated by our patrons as the special service we have offered for years, to give free advice to those interested in having their grounds artistically planned, which we are glad to announce also originated with us.

There are some things which can be pruned only at certain seasons, and full instructions for anything of this nature will be sent with shipment. We, therefore, who are experienced, offer this additional service to our customers that the failure of plants to grow from this cause may be reduced to a minimum.

NOTE.—Any one preferring to have stock shipped unpruned, kindly so state when ordering, when we will gladly comply with the request.

Treatment of Plants on Arrival

If plants arrive during freezing weather, do not unpack them immediately, but place in some cool though not frozen spot, such as a shed or outhouse, until they commence to thaw out.

If they arrive during hot, dry weather, they should, if possible, be planted immediately and well watered. If impossible to do this, then heel in (throw soil over the roots) and water, until the permanent bed is ready for the plants. If the roots seem dry when received, moisten them immediately, and place in the shade. Always keep the roots where they are not exposed to drying winds.

Roses

The Most Glorious Flowers of the Garden

DELIVERED FREE

All our Roses are sent PREPAID anywhere in the U. S. except those varieties on page 11.

The rose is a source of interest to all flower lovers everywhere, and a necessity to every well-planted garden. The demand for good garden roses is greatly on the increase. People are beginning to appreciate the value of introducing roses more boldly in with general plantation. At the same time the "rose garden" is extending its appeal.

One may use roses profitably anywhere, often in very restricted space. They have manifold uses as practical climbers, covering ugliness with beauty, clothing bare banks and walls with color and grace.

Wagner, as a Rose Specialist, growing his stock in exceptionally favorable soil and climate, offers the best opportunities possible for "Success with Roses."

We send out only strong, well-rooted plants, in perfect condition for "taking hold" vigorously in alien soil.

Special skill is brought to the production of choice roses of less hardy habit. In this respect Wagner Nurseries are an incomparable resource to the rose lover of intelligence and taste.

Our collection of free-blooming hardy roses, such as we urge for general selection, is second to none. This list includes varieties adapted to every purpose, house walls, trellis, pergolas, rose groups, etc. The rose houses and rose fields at Wagner Park indeed comprise a perfect microcosm of the rose world.

We place our knowledge of roses at your disposal, being very glad to help you, when it is desired, in the selection of varieties and offering complete information on the subject of successful rose culture in any part of the United States. We make special designs also of rose gardens, rose walks, etc., etc. We want you to know Wagner Roses if you do not already know them.

GENERAL DIRECTIONS FOR THE CULTURE OF ROSES.

WHEN TO PLANT. Field grown plants should be planted as early in the spring as possible. Pot plants may be planted at any time, but do better if planted early, after all danger of frost is past.

PREPARATION OF THE SOIL. Roses will grow and give good results in any fertile, well-drained soil, but they thrive best in a soil consisting of considerable clay. Dig the soil deep and if drainage is imperfect it must be provided for. It is worth while to use care in the preparation of the beds, as the general health of the plants, quantity and quality of flowers usually more than repays the extra cost expended on this detail. Stir the soil frequently but not too deep, or the roots will be disturbed.

PRUNING. About the end of October it is well to cut back any long canes of the strong growing sorts. This prevents them from being whipped by the winter winds, which, unless staked, would loosen and break the tender, feeding roots. The principal pruning, however, should be done in spring before they start growth. Cut away all dead wood and cut all live branches at least one-half their previous year's growth. This insures strong bottom growths and large flowers on long stems.

INSECTS. A few applications of a good insecticide will exterminate all insects at the outset, after which very little or no trouble will be experienced. The following preparations are good. Apply to the upper and under surface of the foliage by means of whisk broom or sprayer.

SOAP SOLUTION. Dissolve about one ounce of Ivory or other good soap in one pint of boiling water, adding one and one-half gallons of cold water.

TOBACCO SOLUTION. Made of boiling the leaves or stems of tobacco. The liquid should be made about the strength of weak tea.

BORDEAUX ARSENATE OF LEAD MIXTURE. At the rate of eight ounces to five gallons of water is an excellent solution.

WINTER PROTECTION. Do not cover your plants too soon; a nip of frost will not hurt them, but will help to ripen and mature them. Such materials as leaves, hay, straw, or cedar boughs, etc., will afford excellent protection. A few shovelfuls of earth will also be of great benefit. In the spring wait until the weather is settled before uncovering.

Hardy Hybrid Perpetual Roses

MOST VALUABLE CLASS BECAUSE OF THEIR LARGE, SWEET, BRILLIANT COLORED FLOWERS.

The Hybrid Perpetual Roses are so vigorous and hardy, they may be planted in all localities and remain out over winter without any protection. The flowers of the Hybrid Perpetuals are large, handsome, and practically all shades of red, crimson, pink, and white. They are the best class to plant, especially in the Northern States, owing to their hardiness. While they particularly need no protection, a good mulch for winter after the wood is well ripened will be very beneficial. While they are called Perpetual, they are not constant bloomers, except those so noted, but they produce the finest and most exquisite flowers of all hardy Roses. Wagner Park Flowers

Wagner Park Hardy Flowers

Herbaceous—Perennials—General List

The Garden of Hardy Flowers is of gorgeous bloom from earliest spring until frost, glorified by its appropriate flowers from month to month, with new things each day to delight you. Year after year this goes on and the garden increases in beauty and loveliness, practically without any expense other than the first cost. Hardy flowers require less care and attention, are more free from insects and disease, yet producing abundance of beautiful blossoms. Among the Hardy Flowers are found all the old-time favorites and some of the noblest plants that have been dear to our Grandmother's garden, famous in song and story—a fragrant memory of gay sweetness. Hardy Flowers even defy the "melancholy days," for the autumn perennials—the cheerful asters, the dainty Michelmas Daisies, the many new varieties of Phlox of myriad pastel tints—are not less lovely than their brilliant predecessors. Even after frost there are the gay little hardy chrysanthemums, the "pompon" of Grandmother's day. And when winter's winds have whipped the last blossoms from the stalks, the souvenir of the brilliant procession of lavish bloom lingers to set agog anticipation of "next year." For "next year" the Wagner Hardy Flowers will "come back," richer, more interesting than ever, like charming friends. And that's the beauty of it! A Wagner Hardy Border or group of Wagner's Perennials is a permanent affair. Once properly planted they require little care for years. If the most effective and most lovable flowers were not found among the perennials, their splendid faculty for taking care of themselves would give them a place in every good garden, in every "yard."

Wagner Perennials are strong, splendid plants and include practically everything worth growing in the temperate zone. The vigor, the robust roots of Wagner-grown plants have advertised the merits of Wagner Nurseries in every part of the country.

Cultural Instructions

In reference to the cultivation of hardy plants, take care to start right. Remember that the plants are to stand undisturbed for some time, and that they may flourish, spade the ground deep and dig in a liberal supply of well rotted manure. Do not plant too near or under trees, except in the case of certain varieties, which enjoy partial shade, and then be careful not to let the tree's roots impoverish the soil.

Plants, like mankind, cannot endure too much hardship. When they die there is certainly something that has caused it. A great many valuable plants that are sent out perish because of careless planting. No matter how careful we may be in lifting and packing the plants, some of them may be lost through neglect after being planted.

The secret of success is to have the soil well prepared so that when the plants are received they can be planted without delay. After the planting is done, careful attention should be given to watering, especially if the weather is warm and dry. All hardy plants should have a heavy mulching during the first winter, which is a great protection and assists the plants to become well established.

The Above Instructions Apply Also To Shrubs, Trees, Etc.

(D) Indicates height 6 to 15 inches; plant from 6 to 15 inches apart. (M) Indicates height 15 to 36 inches; plant from 12 to 30 inches apart. (T) Indicates height 36 to 60 inches; plant from 30 to 48 inches apart.

We have growing on our grounds specimens of many varieties of Hardy Plants, ranging in price from 75 cents to $5.00 each. Make out and send us your order now and get the best. Your order to Wagner Park Nurseries is carefully executed, whether it be for one peony or a thousand perennials.

Chrysanthemums (Hardy) (M) Many are the lovely flowers that give a succession of beauty throughout the summer days, but when fall comes we have still the best in reserve, notably old-fashioned and really hardy Chrysanthemums. The flowers of these, which are in the greatest profusion, will endure the early frost and early snow storms, and delight us with a show of blooms on such sunshiny days as we may be favored with in late fall. They occupied a place of honor in many an old-fashioned garden where the perennial border was the garden's crowning glory. We now have many new and improved varieties which will make a grand show either planted in clumps in the hardy flower bed or in groups among shrubbery. They are of the easiest culture and will grow in almost any soil. An occasional watering with liquid manure will be beneficial, giving more and better bloom. The hardy Chrysanthemum is especially recommended to inexperienced cultivators, for no class of flowers is easier to manage. Their blooming period is from September to November. DELPHINIUMS. (Perennial Larkspurs) As permanent subjects in the hardy flower garden, we have few plants more worthy of special attention than the Delphinium (Larkspurs). For producing a striking display over a long season, they are probably unique. For general effect in groups or beds they are extremely valuable as a whole, but one is easily carried away on closer inspection by the exquisite beauty of their flowers. Indeed they have many points of excellence, any one of which alone should entitle them to popularity. But to appreciate their beauty one should see them growing, for it is almost impossible to convey anything like an adequate idea of their worth by mere description. The Delphinium of to-day is one of the most beautiful of all flowers. Blue flowers are too often absent from the hardy herbaceous borders and this is the time to rectify this state of things.

English. (See cut) This collection includes practically all shades of blue. We offer mixed colors, $1.00 per dozen; $7.00 per 100, prepaid. Large plants, 25 cents; $2.50 per dozen; extra heavy clumps, 50 cents; $5.00 per dozen.

Belladonna. (M) The freest and most continuous blooming of all, never being out of flower from the end of June until cut down by hard frost. The clear turquoise-blue of its flowers is not equalled for delicacy and beauty by any other flower.

Formosum. (M) June to August. The flowers are intense, deep blue, perhaps the most brilliant blue to be found in flowers freely produced on long spikes, and if the plants are cut back after flowering, they will bloom the second time in the fall.

ERYNGIUM Planum. (M) July, September. Light steel blue flowers.

EULALIA. See Hardy Ornamental Grasses.

FUNKIA. Plantain Lily. (D) The Plantain Lilies are among the easiest plants to manage. Their broad, massive foliage makes them attractive subjects for the border even when not in flower, and they deserve extensive cultivation.

The flowers are of gorgeous coloring and very large, from 2 to 3 inches in diameter, and are produced on long stems. It is excellent for cutting.

"HOLLYHOCK PATH" Garden Lover? Have you ever tried them?

Nothing to do with the "primrose path," but incidentally almost the prettiest sight in gardening.

Yes, of course, Hollyhocks in colonies or in a formal line anywhere are always pretty. But a "Hollyhock Path" is beautiful, and if you have a chance to make one, don't miss it.

The stately line of rose and scarlet and faintly flushed salmon sentinels, brilliant and warm in the center and paling to tender tones of nothing-at-all at the ends—well, even your blase "garden expert" gets out his enthusiasm for the Hollyhock Path.

Wagner's Double Pink Beauty

This variety is indeed a beauty and distinct from all other Hollyhocks. The flowers are borne on tall, upright stalks and are of a most pleasing shade of pink, and perfectly double.

New Mammoth Allegheny. The colors are shell pink, rose, and ruby red, a shade or two deeper at the center and exquisitely tinted towards the edge. Single flowers. Single. These handsome and showy plants are great favorites. Their unique growth gives them a welcome everywhere.

Double. Their flowers are large, fully double, handsome in form, and lively shades of color. Double white, pink, crimson, and yellow.

These Mallows are considered as the most marvelous of all hardy plants. Their flowers are of enormous size, often measuring eight to ten inches across, and are gorgeous in color. They bloom in the greatest profusion from July to October, and when in flower are a sight to behold. The plants are as hardy as an Oak, and will grow in most any soil or situation. Do not fail to include some of these in your order. We can highly recommend even the mixed colors.

Hardy Grasses Impart a Degree of Tropical Brilliance to the Landscape.

Hardy Ornamental Grasses and Reeds

For ornamental purposes, such as hedging, planting in clumps to hide an unsightly object, or singly on the lawn, these grasses are strikingly original in effect and impart a degree of tropical brilliance to the landscape. The clumps enlarge in size yearly, each season's growth dying to the ground every winter, but is supplanted by newer, denser, and more vigorous increase. In the fall the grass may be cut and utilized for the winter protection of tender plants and roses. The plumes which these grasses produce are large and beautiful, having a feathery appearance, and may be used for interior decoration. Absolutely hardy. All our plants are propagated from the root, and hence more valuable than seedlings, which do not come true.

EULALIA Japonica Variegata. A standard old sort of distinctive value. Blades are striped lengthwise in a handsome manner, being a combination of creamy white in the center with a broad margin of bright green. Plumes are very beautiful.

Gracillima. This grand variety of Eulalia forms exceedingly handsome clumps 4 to 5 feet high, which are hardy in all parts of the country. The graceful, narrow foliage is beautiful, shining green with midrib of silvery white. We strongly recommend this superb ornamental plant.

Japonica Zebrina. This fine ornamental grass is the finest of all Eulalias for single lawn specimens or clumping. Grows 4 to 6 feet high. The leaf blades are deep green, distinctly striped crosswise with large bars of pure white, as shown in engraving. This artist has failed to do justice to this splendid variety in portraying the number of plumes. We had on our trial grounds as late as November 1, thousands of Japonica Zebrina with 50 to 100 plumes on single clumps. 25 cents.

Lily of the Valley, a Most Charming Flower for Bouquets.

Japonica. One of the most beautiful of the tall-growing grasses.

ARUNDA DONAX Variegata. A beautiful variety growing to a height of 6 to 8 feet. The leaves are of a glossy white always predominating; for planting masses in a conspicuous place or for adding color to a bed of ornamental grasses, it is indispensable, and no collection of hardy grasses ought to be without it. 35 cents; extra large, 50 cents.

PHALARIS. Arundinacea Variegata. (Ribbon Grass.) An excellent variegated foliage variety, very desirable for bordering large beds of other ornamental grasses. $1.00 per dozen; $5.00 per 100, prepaid; extra large clumps, 25 cents; $2.50 per dozen.

LYNCHIS Chalcedonica. (M) June, July. Bright crimson clusters of flowers. Excellent for cutting.

DAY LILIES--Hemerocallis

Hemerocallis.

SWEET SCENTED DAY LILY—Hemerocallis Thunbergii

This beautiful variety possesses all the desirable features of the Hemerocallis and equal to any of the varieties in hardiness and vigorous growth. The blossoms are pure yellow and sweetly scented and produced on long stems. It blooms so freely it would be practical to class it among the ever-blooming plants, for the handsome blossoms may be seen from early June to late summer. The finest and best of all.

One of the most beautiful and popular of our garden perennials. The foliage is narrow, grass-like, and remarkably free from insect enemies. These plants are so hardy that they need no protection over winter, even in the severest climates. They possess a constitution equal to that of Golden Glow. The flowers resemble the famous Easter Lilies. The blossoms are excellent for cutting, lasting a long while and the most backward buds will open when in water.

The culture of these plants is very simple as they thrive in almost any kind of soil, but the most luxuriant growth and profusion of blossoms may be had when planted in a shady, moist location. Our stock of Hemerocallis is field grown and can be depended upon to be the truest grown. Certainly no perennial is more worthy of cultivation and none more satisfactory. For massing or planting in the hardy border with other varieties of plants or shrubs, it is unrivaled.

HEMEROCALLIS Apricot. (D) A splendid new hybrid variety of good growth. Flowers are a rich apricot shade, a color seldom seen among plants.

Disticha fl. pl. (M) Broad foliage of good height. A late blooming variety. Flowers are double orange yellow shaded copper.

Gold Dust. (D) Flowers bright Indian-yellow, buds and reverse of petals bronzy-gold. 20 cents; $2.00 per dozen; $12.50 per 100; larger plants, 50 cents; $5.00 per dozen.

Kwamso. This variety is equal to the Thunbergii in hardiness and luxuriant growth. The foliage is slightly broader and of a good color. Blossoms are borne on long, stiff stems and are of orange-yellow color. Its flowering period is during June and July. An excellent variety in every way.

Luteola. (M) A magnificent new hybrid combining the floriferous characteristics of Thunbergii. The long-tubed, half-reflexed, bright golden yellow flowers are borne on tall branching stems, each flower very large and are produced continuously throughout the summer.

Middendorffii. (M) This variety is a native of Siberia and Japan. The blossoms are golden yellow and are fragrant.

Iris Germanica--German Iris

The beauty of the Iris is proverbial; the very name refers us to the rainbow and the eye, two of nature's most beautiful objects. Irises flourish and flower exceedingly in any ordinary soil; however, they delight in well-rotted manure and deep, rich soil. Many are very thirsty subjects and adorn the margins of ponds and streams. They are also indispensable for shrubbery borders, etc., and are very effective. They are invaluable in the herbaceous borders both on account of their hardiness and easy culture, and for the lavish wealth of blossoms that crown their numerous stems. This group includes all the broad-leaved Iris. For the wild garden, shrubbery borders, margins of water, rock-work, etc., they are admirably adapted, in fact, hardly any place can be found in which some of this section will not thrive. They are the most resplendent flowers for Decoration Day, fully equal if not superior to anything else. Their beauty and fragrance have won a place in many gardens and will be planted more extensively in the future. Height, 15 to 24 inches.

Iris Kaempferi--Japanese Iris

With a great blaze of splendor the Japanese Iris brings the Iris season to a close. The last to bloom, it is a glorious climax to the grand Iris procession that began early with dwarf forms of April and May, following each other with constantly increasing boldness of form and color until June ushered in the great Germanica family (listed on page 20) with its massive sheets of color, followed in quick succession by tall Iris Kaempferi, crowning glory of all, with its great bloom measuring nearly a foot in diameter, rising on tall stems to a height of five feet. Seeing them for the first time, one cannot withhold an exclamation of surprise and wonder, and having once seen them can never forget their striking beauty. Perennial Phlox

It is no exaggeration to say that the Perennial Phlox are among the best and most popular garden plants. For producing a grand show of color, they have no equal; they produce a fine effect when grouped with other plants in the hardy border, furnishing brightness after the shrubs are done blooming, and they do much to make the garden gay throughout the season.

The old-fashioned Phlox often had simply small tufts of bloom at the top of a small, almost naked stem. The newer and improved varieties are more compact and do not grow quite so tall. The panicles of bloom are simply immense, often measuring 12 inches in diameter. The blossoms are as large as geraniums.

Another good quality is its long continuance in bloom. It begins to blossom in early summer and continues until late in the fall; sometimes showing a mass of bloom for three months.

Phlox thrive in any ordinarily rich soil, and are not subject to any insect pest. When they are in bloom they should be given a plentiful supply of water. They like sunshine, and a full exposure is desirable for them.

The perfect hardiness is another strong feature in its favor. We have never known of its being winter killed in any section of the country. Like all perennials, a mulching of good stable manure after the ground is frozen, is beneficial to it; this can be carefully dug in around the plants in the spring.

The plant increases in size every year, and a well-grown clump will send up a large number of stalks until you have a solid mass of color. Plants set in good soil, with proper care, will bloom the first year, but they will not do themselves justice until the second year.

Bridesmaid. (M) Pure white, with large, crimson center; very free flowering.

Wagner Park Peonies, The Flower Beautiful

A Planting of Peonies on Our Grounds.

Wagner Park Herbaceous Peonies are the most beautiful of all the Hardy Perennial plants, and should be in every garden, large or small, in bed, borders, shrubberies or drives; in park, grass or woodland. They should, therefore, be planted near at hand for close enjoyment of their beauty, as well as in masses for distant color effect, in lines straight or curving on the margin of shrubberies, and in groups between shrubs; in large or small beds in the midst of turf; in borders at the foot of walls; and in mixed borders at constant intervals; and the rougher parts of the garden. All these situations they adorn. There is no other plant that will make such a magnificent display of color, or gives so much satisfaction in return for the trouble involved in its cultivation.

Whether in the old kinds or in Wagner's lovely new varieties, they will thrive in practically any position, and there is hardly one which will not flourish to perfection. They are amenable to the simplest treatment in any soil and are as hardy as the dock by the wayside. They need not the slightest protection.

The flowers are produced in great profusion in an almost endless variety of lovely tints, and in many cases with the fragrance of the tea rose. They are of extreme beauty for decoration, and in large gardens a considerable space should be especially devoted to Wagner's Peonies for cut flowers for the house; in vases and bowls no flower is richer or more handsome, and for large functions the blossoms are invaluable.

The delightful perfume of some of the varieties, more particularly the choicer kinds, makes them very valuable. Another merit which the herbaceous Peony possesses lies in its beautiful foliage, which causes it to be almost as attractive in its young growth and autumn tints as when in flower.

These varieties we consider the best for general planting.

flowers, loves the old-fashioned Pink; graceful habit, delicate colors and sweet clove scent all combine to make it a general favorite. The marked improvement in this plant during the last few years has been something wonderful; instead of small flowers we now have blooms that in size and color are nearly equal to the fancy green-house carnations. For edging a bed of hardy plants they are without a rival, but may be planted in masses with good effect. The varieties we list below we consider the best of their color.

Lord Lyon. Fine, showy, bright pink flowers on long, stiff stems. This variety will give entire satisfaction. See colored illustration inside front cover.

Carmen. A strong grower producing fine pink flowers which are fragrant.

No class of plants gives a wider range of colors, while the form and substance of the flowers is all that could be wished. Their main season of blooming is in June, but if the old flower stems are removed, they will give a fair sprinkling of flowers in the autumn. The bloom is similar to that of an aster, and ranges in color from pure white and the various shades of pink and red to deep purple.

Uliginosum. (Giant Daisy) (T) July to September. Large white Daisy-like flowers. Excellent for the hardy border and cutting.

Large plants, 25 cents each; $2.50 per dozen. Extra heavy clumps, 50 cents; $5.00 per dozen.

The plants grow from eighteen to twenty-four inches high and bloom from July until late into October. Its beautiful Centaurea-like flowers of a delicate lavender blue color, are four or five inches in diameter and are highly prized for cutting. No picture or description can do justice to its delicate beauty. Of the easiest culture, succeeds in any sunny location.

Wagner Park Flowers

A Very Attractive and Effective Shrub Planting.

Hardy Flowering Shrubs

Happily the charm of color is not wholly claimed by the gay gamut of flowers. The very fine collection of evergreen, deciduous, and flowering shrubs at Wagner Park nurseries offers endless opportunity for producing beautiful effects practically the year 'round. A mass of common bush Holly (Mahonia Aquifolia) to select a very simple example, will put warmth and cheer into the grayest November day, while the brilliance of tone and the handsome, glossy foliage of a Barberry hedge under December skies will make us forget "the joys of June." We should like to be able to devise for every nature-lover a "shrub-itinerary," so to say, with a special eye to exposure, climate, etc.; we do this, indeed, when clients consult us.

The Magnolia, whiter in blossom than the snowy narcissus, and, with certain varieties, almost as daring in appearing "before the swallow dares"; the fern-like grace and elegance of all the Spireae, the delicate Forsythia, Deutzia, Diervilla (Wiegela) the odd Japonica with their oriental suggestion and interest, the old-timer Philadelphus or "Syringo"—sweetest, daintiest bush of the Puritan gardens—the spring list is endless. That other distinguished member of the Syringa family, the Lilac, deserves, perhaps, a chapter all by itself. We are specialists in this flower of unfailing, ever-growing popularity. If you are a lilac-lover, if their mauve and fragrance have wrought their charm on you, the scores of rare varieties at Wagner Park would rouse your enthusiasm to a rare pitch.

Through the hot, dry period of summer, the coolness and rest of a fine shrub plantation is indescribably refreshing. And if there are any plants we could not part with they are the late-flowering shrubs—a fine list, though not a long one—that usher in autumn and linger to make the American "fall" one of the most admired spectacles in nature. The cultural requirements of ordinary shrubs are very simple. "Success with Shrubs," when the plants are vigorous Wagner Park stock, is easy, pleasurable, and sure. All Wagner Park Shrubs have been transplanted and are in robust health and condition. As the height of plants is often no criterion of quality we give, in several instances, the diameter also for comparison and guide.

We bring particular training and experience to the matter of congenial combinations. In fact a Wagner shrub plantation is a real study in artistic values; knowledge and long experience playing an important role in the happy juxtaposition of greens, browns, silvers, golds—the regard for picturesque outline, for simplicity of effect without monotony of sorts, for privacy without loss of views and "vistas." It is in ways like this that Wagner "plants and plans" are made to produce their delightful effects.

Specifically Evergreen Shrubs are treated under the chapter-head, "Evergreens," pages 23 to 28, and to which your attention is directed in connection with shrub and tree planting.

VARIETIES SUITABLE FOR SHADY PLACES. Altheas, Berberis, Caryopteris (Blue Spirea), Cornus, Cydonia, Deutzia, Forsythias, Hydrangeas, Kerrias, Philadelphus, Rhus, Sambucus, Spireas, Symphoricarpus (Snowberry), Syringas (Lilacs), Tamarix, and Viburnum. The above varieties will also thrive in sunny, open situations.

VARIETIES WITH VARIEGATED, HIGHLY COLORED FOLIAGE, BARK, AND BERRIES. The following with variegated and colored foliage: Berberis Purpurea, Corylus Atropurpurea, Kerria Variegata, Forsythia Aurea, Philadelphus Aurea, Sambucus Aurea, and Variegata, Spirea Opulifolia Aurea, Weigela Variegata. Among trees, Prunus Pissardi and Japanese Maples. The following varieties having berries: Berberis, all varieties, Callicarpa, Cornus Siberica, Cydonia, Euonymus (Strawberry Tree), Eleagnus, Lonicera, Myrica, Rhus all varieties, Rhodotyphus, Ribes, Sambucus, Rosa Rugosa, Symphoricarpus (Snowberry, Red and White), Viburnum (Snowball) Opulus, Lantana, and Dilatatum. The following have highly colored bark: Cornus Siberica, Sanguinea and Stolonifera.

Shrubs always have hard wood like the branches of a tree, and this wood does not die during the winter, except in a few of the more tender varieties, which branches should be cut off as soon as the live branches begin to sprout in the spring.

SPECIAL NOTE.—We wish to call attention to the very low prices we quote at the bottom of each page on shrubs, for regular, large, and extra large sizes. Our lowest prices are for nice, thrifty, two-year-old plants, but where best effects and quick results are wanted we always recommend the large or extra large sizes. Extra selected specimen plants vary in price according to size and variety, $1.00 to $5.00 each.

Ornamental Hedge Plants

Every owner of property, whether a large estate or a small city lot, wishes to have the surroundings of the home look beautiful. In producing a truly pleasing and attractive landscape effect the selection of a fence has always been a serious problem. Something is needed to outline the lawn clearly, but what to use is often a perplexing question. How easy this difficulty is solved when we consider the hedge. Nothing is better suited for the purpose and more desirable. A hedge will beautify the plainest kind of grounds and add immeasurably to the original attractiveness of grounds already beautiful. Contrast in your mind the wooden or iron fence with a fence that nature provides. The former is clumsy and contrasts rudely, while the hedge blends beautifully with the green lawn and surroundings. Hedges used for the purpose of seclusion and also screening undesirable objects should consist of tall growing varieties of shrubs and irregularly arranged. If space will permit plant a hardy border, using an assortment of varieties. At the bottom of page 19 we give a list of those varieties that are suited for the various purposes.

Hedges are More Desirable Than Fences.

the ground. Varieties used for hedges of light growth should not be pruned back so severely. In the case of evergreens, such as Arbor Vitae, these when first planted out, need only be pruned enough to put them in uniform shape. After the hedge has become established it will be necessary to do a certain amount of pruning from year to year. Those of a formal character will require severe pruning to keep them in their required shape and of a desired height to suit the requirements of the place. Varieties such as Berberis Thunbergii only require the cutting away of the irregular growth. The above comprises a few of the first essentials of success in forming a good hedge.

To make a satisfactory hedge the ground should be well prepared before planting. If the soil is of poor quality, a trench should be dug 15 to 18 inches wide, and 18 inches in depth, filling this in with good, rich soil. This will insure rapid and strong root growth, which will well repay for the time and trouble.

PRUNING AND CARE OF HEDGES.

To secure a compact hedge and one of even growth, it is necessary, when the plants are first set out to prune back quite severely to an even height. This will encourage strong bottom growth and makes the foundation of a good hedge.

As an illustration: If you wish to plant a hedge of privet and receive plants from a nursery 18 to 24 inches in height, after these have been planted they should be pruned back within 9 to 12 inches of

Shade and Ornamental Trees

Showing a Good Arrangement for Planting Trees on the Lawn.

Judicious planting of ornamental trees and shrubs enhances the value of real estate more than an equal amount of money invested in any other way.

Our complete list of shade and ornamental trees comprises nearly three hundred varieties, but have taken extra precaution in the list here, selecting only such kinds as possess distinctive and decorative merit, all of which are suitable for lawn, park, or avenue planting.

Trees for Special Positions

We classify these that our customers may select trees especially suited to their position and needs. Those varieties not classified may be used in general planting, hardy borders, etc. All varieties we list possess some distinction and merit.

VARIETIES FOR LAWN SPECIMENS. Acer Platanoides, Dasycarpum, Wieri Laciniata, Pseudo Platanus, Reitenbachii, Schwedleri and Negundo; Aesculus Hippocastanum and Rubicunda; Betula Alba; Cornus Florida; Catalpa Speciosa; Fagus Sylvatica, Sylvatica Purpurea; Latifolia and Sylvatica Purpurea; Liquidamber; Liriodendron; Platanus Orientalis, Occidentalis; Salisburia; Tilia Europea Americana and Ulmus Americana.

VARIETIES FOR STREET AND AVENUE PLANTING. Acer Platanoides, Dasycarpum, Pseudo Platanus, Schwedleri and Negundo; Catalpa Speciosa; Larix Europea; Liquidamber; Platanus Orientalis and Occidentalis; Populus Deltoides; Quercus Palustris; Tilia Americana and European; Ulmus Americana.

VARIETIES FOR SMOKY, CONGESTED CITY STREETS, which demand a sturdy, robust tree. Acer Platanoides; Allanthus; Catalpa Speciosa; Gymocladus; Populus Carolina; Platanus Occidentalis and Orientalis; Salisburia; Ulmus Americana.

VARIETIES PRODUCING FLOWERS. Nothing is more attractive than a group of flowering trees. See description and color on the following pages. Aesculus; Aralia; Cercis; Cerasus; Crataegus; Cornus; Catalpa Speciosa; Koelreuteria; Liriodendron; Magnolias; Persica; Pyrus; Prunus Trilboia; Robina; Sophora; Sorbus Aucuparia.

Have your ground ready to plant upon arrival of trees if possible. If, however, impossible to do this, unpack and heel in, that is, dig a trench and cover the roots with fine soil, pressing it down firmly that there are no air spaces to the roots, and if soil is very dry, give a watering. Make preparation to plant in their permanent place at the earliest date possible after receiving them. If shipment should arrive in a frozen condition do not unpack, but put in a cool place, free from frost, until perfectly thawed, when they may be unpacked and planted.

In planting, make the hole wide enough so that when the tree is set out, you can spread out the roots, always avoiding as much as possible twisting and crowding the roots. Work the soil in carefully about the roots, leaving no cavities or air spaces, and pack the soil firmly.

Hardy Ornamental Evergreens--Conifers

PINES, SPRUCE, HEMLOCK, ARBOR VITAE, more than two hundred varieties of evergreens and conifers, vie with thousands of deciduous trees and shrubs in their display of beauty at Wagner Park Arboretum, the home of the finest collection of arboreal treasures in the country. It is frequently a surprise to visitors to see the great assortment of evergreens and the fine specimens we have. The illustration shows a section of Evergreens in our Arboretum.

Our Soil is Especially Adapted to Digging Our Plants With a Ball of Earth, Thus Assuring Successful Transplanting.

From out the thousands of specimens of all sizes and shapes that adorn the landscape at Wagner Park, there can easily be selected trees, bushes, and shrubbery that will furnish the desired background for any home, park, or public ground. The prices are altogether moderate.

For those who cannot personally visit Wagner Park and see the glorious profusion of foliage, the inexhaustible variety of color tones, the graduations of shade between the dark greens of some varieties and the bluish tints of other species of evergreens, the service of our Landscape Artists will prove especially helpful. We can select trees and shrubs, conifers and deciduous plants that will answer all the utilitarian purposes of windbreaks, border planting, shade production, and screens for unsightly vistas, no less than those purely aesthetic considerations of garden, lawn, and terrace adornment.

For an evergreen group surrounding a house the plants that submit to severe clipping have made themselves perhaps the favorite—Retinosporas, Juniperus, Thuyas, for example. Symmetrical conifers delight the architects by their effective "horizontalism," Nature's expressions of the builder's principle.

Evergreen hedges are becoming more and more features of the well laid out home. The smallest place is improved by them. For gardens, vegetable and flower, they are an invaluable attraction.

The varieties of color, of tone, more accurately to be found among a characteristic evergreen selection, permit of no less harmonious and striking pictures than do flowers. From the wonderful blue of the Colorado Spruce, Picea Pungens, and Kosteriana, to the brilliant "spring green" of the Common Red Cedar, Virginiana, or certain varieties of the Juniper in which appear odd variegations of silvery white, there are endless possibilities for color harmonies. We have devoted particular study to the happy blending of evergreens with reference to color and shape and we place our experience and knowledge at the disposal of our patrons.

Wagner Park Evergreens have been several times transplanted. They are shipped to you in ball, with an abundance of roots, carefully burlapped. Spring and early fall are the best times to plant, though Wagner Evergreens planted in the mid-summer and winter months have done splendidly.

Such an arrangement and planting of Evergreens show their individual charms most effectively. Note the contrast of the "Kosters Blue Spruce" against the green.

Wagner Park Flowers

Ornamental Evergreens Conifers

The soil at Wagner Park Evergreen Nurseries is admirably adapted to the vigorous development of fibrous roots. This enables us to "lift" each plant "in ball," or with the soil protecting its roots intact. Wagner Park Evergreens, if intelligently planted in their new location, and properly sprayed and root-soaked during the hot months, grow almost as if they had never moved.

Quality is represented by the bushiness of the plant, and this is only accomplished where frequently transplanted and properly handled. Transplanting is what produces fibrous roots, but good feeding is necessary to impart health, vigor, and give a rich color to the foliage.

ABIES. Balsamea. (Balsam Fir) An ornamental native of our forests, that is very hardy; has dark green needles of pleasant fragrance; grows rapidly when young and does well in moist soils. Wagner Park Flowers Rhododendrons have an individual charm all their own. They are effective both in foliage and flower. It is in partial shady places where they thrive best.

Hardy Evergreen Shrubs

These "Broad-leaved Evergreens" are being used more and more each year because they are so desirable and effective in all landscape work. Their heavy leaf masses meet the demand for fresh green foliage to enliven and cheer the bare aspect of deciduous trees and shrubs in winter. But best of all is the magnificent display that most of them make when in bloom, especially the Rhododendrons and Kalmias. Another desirable quality most of them have is such a fondness for shady places that they meet a large demand in beautifying these spots which are usually thought so difficult to adorn. As a rule they transplant easily, are quite hardy, give immediate results, and are altogether very satisfactory things to use.

AZALEA, Amonea. A bushy evergreen with small green leaves that deepen to a lustrous coppery color in winter. During May the whole plant is clothed with a mass of brilliant claret-colored flowers that hold their beauty three or four weeks. Nice plants, $1.00; larger, $1.50 to $2.00.

Hinamayo. (New) Flowers bright pink. $1.50 each; larger, $2.00.

EUONYMUS, Radicans. See Evergreen Vines.

KALMIA, Latifolia. (Mountain Laurel) One of the grandest of our native evergreen shrubs. Flowers are wheel-shaped and set in close corymbs on the ends of the stems, pure white to pink, and appear in May or June in such profusion as to almost smother the foliage. Nice plants, $1.00; $10.00 per dozen; extra large, $1.50 each.

MAHONIA, Aquifolia. The richness of the glossy leaves gives this Mahonia great popularity for ornamental planting. Excellent for edging plantings of Rhododendrons or other evergreens. Yellow flowers followed by blue berries for winter decoration.

AZALEA. Deciduous. See Shrubs.

BERBERIS, Illicifolia. (Holly-leaved Barberry) Holly-like, dark, lustrous green leaves with orange-yellow flowers. 25 cents each; $2.50 per dozen. Larger, 35 cents, $3.50 per dozen. Specimens, 50 cents each.

HOW TO GROW RHODODENDRONS.

Rhododendrons and a great many of our native plants grow naturally in shady, damp situations, are surface feeders, and this should be taken into consideration when preparing the place to receive the plants. A northern exposure should be chosen, and where there is shade much of the day. Soil should be dug two feet deep, and adding a mixture of leaf-mould, swamp peat or muck or field sods, also sand. The material should be well mixed or pulverized before planting. During the summer the ground should be mulched with leaves or other material and the plants at all times well supplied with moisture. Well rotted manure may be used for top dressing. In winter the plants should be protected by straw, corn fodder, or cedar boughs, particularly where exposed to the sun. Winter sun on the frozen leaves often spoils the foliage of Rhododendrons.

Prices quoted are for good specimen plants of the various varieties. Our Rhododendrons are many-stemmed clumps. Do not compare them with single stemmed, half-hardy Rhododendrons offered by many. There is no comparison.

RHODODENDRONS. The Rhododendron is the noblest of our evergreen shrubs. Their large, showy flowers are not equaled by any other shrub. They are a native of the Allegheny and Carolina mountains, where they are seen growing in such profusion that they have become world-famed.

CATAWBIENSE. This is our native variety, producing clusters of bright pink flowers. Not so free to bloom as Grandiflorum, but hardier in extreme north. We offer only large, heavy plants. Price $3.00, $4.00, and $5.00 each.

CATAWBIENSE GRANDIFLORUM. (See illustration showing how freely they bloom.) A very compact grower with dark green, glossy foliage. The flowers are a rosy-lilac color and produced in large clusters and in the greatest profusion during late May or early June. Price for nice plants full of flowering buds, $1.00 each; $11.00 per dozen; large size, $1.25 each; $13.50 per dozen. Heavy specimens, $1.50, $2.00, and $2.50 each.

MAXIMUM. A taller growing variety than Catawbiense and the leaves are somewhat larger. This variety will withstand more exposure than any of the others and is the latest to bloom. Blossoms are white, tinged pink. While it does not bloom so freely as the Catawbiense Grandiflorum, it is the variety to plant in the extreme Northern States. We offer only extra heavy specimen plants, which will be sent with ball of earth on roots that transplanting may be successful and certain. We cannot assure blossoms for this season, however, with this class of plants the foliage is the important feature, which remains green the entire year. Plants 3 feet spread and 5 feet high, $5.00 each. Larger specimens, $7.50 to $10.00 each.

Trained Specimen Trees

Box Trees

No evergreen has ever attained the popularity of these beautiful little trees. Much of this is because of their distinctive character from any other evergreen. Their suitability to so many places as decorative plants, and the small amount of care they require to grow them, make them very desirable for the home grounds. They are long-lived, hardy, and will stand frost and cold; but in the extreme north they need protection over winter or moved indoors. They are useful for grouping, planting against house foundations, for formal or colonial gardens, terraces, and porches.

Our stock of these plants is very complete in these various sizes, and are all nice specimens. They are all well supplied with large balls of fibrous roots, which when shipped are wrapped in burlap, guaranteeing their safe arrival to any point in the United States or Canada. When planted in a mission plant box or colonial kettle they are carefully crated to protect them from any injury.

Box Trees, Pyramidal Bush and Globe Shape add dignity and cheerfulness to the entrance of a home. Note the effect in this picture.

Wagner Park Lily-Cannas, The Finest Grown

A Bed of Lily-Cannas is a Veritable Bit of the Tropics

Visitors are invariably enthused at the beauty and size of Wagner Park Cannas with their wide, arching leaves and stiff stalks of flaming flowers growing like torches above their noble foliage. This effectiveness is not confined to only a few weeks' display, but being exuberant in growth, a bed of Cannas soon becomes attractive after planting and each day thereafter adds to its beauty.

Cannas should not be planted out-of-doors until after all danger of frost is over. They may be planted as late as June, but the earlier planted, the better the results. The most practical way to care for the roots over winter is to take up the clumps after the first killing frost, leaving some earth adhere to the roots. Place them in a dry cellar where frost will not penetrate. Do not allow the roots to become too dry or the tubers will wither, but care should be taken that they are not too moist to allow mildewing. In spring the bulbs can be started in sand in the house, if kept moist, or can be planted in the open ground as soon as all danger of frost is over.

A Very Artistic and Attractive Planting.

Wagner Park Flowers

We Will Make Your Garden Bloom from Springtime Until Frost

Let us advise you as to how you can secure the utmost beauty and delight from your garden.

We offer the advice and service of our landscape architects and gardeners to assist you in making your surroundings more beautiful.

A PLAN for laying out grounds properly is as necessary as a plan for building a house. A mistake made in the beginning often costs many times the small expense of a plan or having a landscape architect view the grounds, to say nothing about the annoyance and delay in securing the desired effect. Wagner plans and planting have been utilized in every State in the Union, and in many foreign countries. We are prepared to submit ideas for gardens in any climate and any soil.

On the following terms we will make a sketch showing how to lay out and plant your grounds in an artistic and attractive way. Send us a rough sketch of your grounds, showing location of buildings, walks, drives, if any, also trees and shrubbery, or any other permanent things already established and that are not to be removed. Show location of all the entrances to lot and buildings, any objectionable or desirable views from the residence, and grades of any importance. Photographs will also be of valuable assistance if convenient to send. The sketch need not be drawn to scale, but should give the width and depth of the lot, and other principal dimensions.

When the sketch is sent us, remit one dollar ($1.00), for which we will at once send a coupon for the amount, and this coupon will be accepted by us as part payment on an order amounting to $5.00 or more. We wish to impress upon the minds of our customers that this is not a scheme of any kind by which we are receiving pay for the sketch, but it is done only as a safeguard against some curious persons that would impose upon us and ask for plans with little or no intention of making use of them. These plans we furnish are not stock plans, but you will receive a plan made especially for your own grounds. The planting arrangement is worked out by our Landscape Architects to meet the requirements of your place.

We make plans for the surrounding of the humblest little cottage as well as the extensive and elaborate estate, public parks, factory grounds, schools, universities, sanitariums, etc.

Note.—The above arrangement, however, applies principally to home grounds of moderate size and not to extensive or elaborate grounds where a large amount of work is involved. We are prepared, also, to do this class of work, and solicit correspondence from parties desiring such work. We furnish plans by mail, or, when desired, will send a landscape gardener to do the work or instruct you how to do it. Our terms for this class of work are always very reasonable.

We design and plant large public and private grounds of all kinds

Planting and furnishing stock for parks, factory grounds, schools, universities, sanitariums, and hotel grounds is one of our specialties, and we are prepared to plan and advise how and what to plant to produce the best results with the least amount of labor and expenditure. Call on us when in need of such service; we assure satisfaction.

Wagner's Lawn Grass Seed

How to Make a Lawn

All good gardeners now use seed for the making of a good lawn in preference to turf or sod. The preparation of the ground is an important feature and the best soil is a medium texture, neither very heavy nor exceedingly light; the surface should be thoroughly pulverized and level. Remove all stones, sticks, sods, etc., harrow or rake it fine and roll it firm. It is impossible to get the soil too fine to receive the seed. Sow the best seed obtainable; it is always cheapest in the end. It is best to sow seed liberally, not only to produce a lawn quickly, but because the best lawn seed produces fine-leaved grasses, which should take entire possession of the ground at once, thus choking out and preventing the development of any weed seeds, which are apt to be in all soils. Distribute seed evenly, going both ways across the plot. After sowing, cover the seed by raking lightly; then roll the ground.

When the grass has become well rooted, use lawn mower for cutting it, and keep mower sharp, as if dull it will pull and injure the grass, besides causing the lawn to have an uneven appearance. Never allow the grass to become so high that the mower will take off the first joint, as this is an injury. Mow as often as necessary; in growing weather, at least once a week. Let the short clippings remain on the lawn, as they wither and dry and form a protection to the roots. When the clippings are long, they should be raked off, for, besides being unsightly, they are also injurious. When the weather is dry and hot, avoid cutting too close.

Quality of Lawn Grass Seed Usually Required in Making a New Lawn.

10 x 25 feet requires.....	1 pound	40 x 60 feet requires.....	10 pounds
25 x 50 feet requires.....	5 pounds	50 x 100 feet requires.....	16 pounds
40 x 50 feet requires.....	8 pounds	50 x 150 feet requires.....	24 pounds

For Renewing Old Lawns—Use about one-half the quantity given above.

“WAGNER PARK” Grass Seed—A special mixture which we prepare. Prices: 35 cents per pound; 5 pounds for $1.60; bushel (20 pounds) for $6.00.

“PREMIUM” Grass Seed—This mixture, while not quite equal in quality to “Wagner Park” variety, is a good, clean mixture and an excellent lawn may be produced with it. Prices: 30 cents per pound; 5 pounds, $1.35; bushel (16 pounds) $4.00.

“SHADY LAWN” Grass Seed—Fine for shady places and where other grasses will not grow. 40 cents per pound; 5 pounds, $1.75; bushel (16 pounds), $5.00.

Garden Furniture

We Here List Some Very Desirable Articles for the House, Veranda, and Lawn. They are All Made in Our Own Extensive Factory, and Offered at Most Reasonable Prices.

We use heartwood Cypress exclusively, of which wood can be said, "Cypress is indeed the wood eternal." It lasts forever. Cypress does not shrink or swell like most woods, takes paint perfectly, and defies decay.

All our boxes are finished in Flemish green, which harmonizes well with all surroundings. In formal gardens it is sometimes desirable to have them painted white, and if wanted in white we charge 15 cents extra for all sizes except boxes larger than 18 x 18 and window boxes larger than 36 inches, for which our charge is 25 cents extra. Measurements of all boxes are outside and inside dimensions.
