HARDY
PLANTS
AND
FOR 1916

“To build a house, with Love for architect,
Ranks first and foremost in the joys of life.
And in a tiny cabin shaped for two,
The space for happiness is just as great
As in a palace. What a world were this
If each soul born received a plot of ground—
A little plot, whereon a home might rise,
And beauteous green things grow.”

THIS condensed list of Hardy Plants and Bulbs is issued in the hope that it may induce the planting of this stock by those who do not yet know the charm of the Hardy Garden.

And to those whose borders are now attractive with perennials, we trust we can offer something to increase their attractiveness.

No better Bulbs and Plants are grown anywhere than those from Wayside Gardens, large, sturdy and having at least one full season of outdoor growth before offered for sale, and are properly packed to reach you in good condition.

The list of varieties is purposely limited in number to those that are the best and most satisfactory and selection does not become a tedious undertaking.

While the better the soil and cultivation, the better will be the results, none of these are difficult to grow and will give results with a minimum of care.

We can not too strongly recommend fall planting for results the first season. Set in their permanent positions in September or early October, the roots soon make new growth and are well established before cold weather and with the first warm days of spring are ready to start into growth and will furnish a wealth of bloom the first season.

TULIPS (For Fall Planting)

The Darwin and Cottage Tulips are so far superior to the early flowering varieties that we list no others.

They bloom the latter part of May and the flowers which never open flat, are borne on strong tall stems, two feet and more in height.

The colorings are indescribably beautiful and for convenience in selection we have divided them into three groups, the colors of the varieties in each group harmonizing with each other both in the garden and when cut.

The bulbs may be left undisturbed for two or three years before being lifted and replanted.

Darwins in Pink and Rose Shades

Gretchen, very delicate flesh pink, 35c per doz., $2.50 per 100.

DELPHINIUM (Hardy Larkspur)

The Delphiniums are strictly hardy plants which in good soil send up stalks five to six feet in height, with long spikes of flowers in every conceivable shade of blue. They are very desirable for their own remarkable beauty and on account of the scarcity of other good flowers of this color.

In addition to the varieties named, we grow large numbers from seed obtained from our own selection and hybridizing, and some of the very finest specimens are obtained from this stock. During August these seedlings are in bloom and selection may be made in person is desired.

Wayside Hybrids, selected specimens, 25c, $2.50 per doz.

Wayside Hybrids, all shades, 15c, $1.50 per doz.

Belladonna, graceful spikes of large single light blue with white center, 25c, $2.50 per doz.

Belladonna Hybrids, similar to above in growth but colors vary from light to dark blue, very desirable for general planting, 15c, $1.50 per doz.

Formosum, large spikes of deep gentian blue with white eye, 10c, $1.00 per doz.

Formosum coelestinum same as above with flowers of delicate azure blue, 10c, $1.00 per doz.

Barlowi, deep blue with coppery sheen, large, 20c, $2.00 per doz.

Chinense, dwarf, loose sprays of large, medium blue flowers, 10c, $1.00 per doz.

Chinense alba, same as above, flowers white, 10c, $1.00 per doz.

IRIS

The Iris is one of the finest, if not the finest, of our hardy plants. Not particular as to soil or location, but asking only that the sun shine on it, it throws up spikes of bloom that are marvelous in their delicacy of structure and the colorings which are exquisitely dainty are wonderful in their blendings and variety.

They are very effective planted in groups and if used for borders are particularly desirable in that the foliage remains fresh and upright after the blossom stalks are removed.

Planted in late August or early September they flower very freely the first season.

We list only two or three of the older and common varieties.

Florentina, very early, creamy white faintly flushed with lavender, fragrant, 15c each, $1.50 per doz.

Gerda, standards light cream, falls deep cream, 25c each, $2.50 per doz.

Helge, lemon yellow with pearly shading, 25c each, $2.50 per doz.

Halfdan, creamy white, 25c, $2.50 per doz.

Ingeborg, pure white, very large flower, 30c, $3.00 per doz.

Walhalla, standards light bluish lavender, falls violet purple, 35c, $3.50 per doz.

Midnight, a rich deep purple, the finest in this color, 75c, $7.50 per dozen.

King of Irises, standards clear lemon yellow, falls rich maroon bordered yellow, 50c, $5.00 per doz.

Mithras, standards light yellow, falls brilliant wine red with narrow border deep yellow, 50c, $5.00 per doz.

W A Y S I D E G A R D E N S

Niebelungen, standards fawn yellow, falls violet purple with creamy white edge, 50c, $5.00 per doz.

Princess Victoria Louise, standards sulphur yellow, falls rich plum bordered with cream, 50c, $5.00 per doz.

Rhein Nixe, standards pure white, falls deep violet blue with white edge, 75c, $7.50 per doz.

Mrs. H. Darwin, pure white, falls slightly veined with violet, 15c, $1.50 per doz.

Pallida Mandraliscae, very tall, rich lavender purple, large and handsome, 25c, $2.50 per doz.

Lohengrin, tall, flowers very large, of a uniform shade of soft lilac rose, 75c, $7.50 per doz.

Pallida Her Majesty, tall, standards soft rose, falls deeper rose heavily veined, 25c, $2.50 per doz.

Pallida Dalmatica, late and one of the tallest sorts, flowers are large, of a clear light blue with just a touch of lavender in the sun, stock is the genuine Dalmatica and one of the finest Irises in the list, 35c, $3.50 per doz.

Orientalis Snow Queen, one of the Siberian Irises, with large ivory white flowers, late, 25c, $2.50 per doz.

DIGITALIS (Foxglove)

Gloxinaeflora, tall spires of inverted bell shaped flowers rising from a mass of strong foliage. Very stately and dignified and adds a peculiar charm to any border. In either rose or white. Will do well in shade. (This variety, while the most attractive, is a biennial.) 10c, $1.00 per doz.

PEONIES

No flower of our gardens is of such permanency as the Peony. With proper care and fertilization they bloom year after year. And as we learn to know them, we look forward to their coming as to a meeting with old friends.

As Peonies make practically all their new root growth in the fall, they should be planted in September to obtain any results the following season, and no great number of flowers should be expected until the second or third year.

The propagation of this plant is slow and prices are never low for good varieties.

While there are many hundreds of good varieties differing slightly in color and habit, the following are some of the best, and will be a revelation to those who are not familiar with the choice originations of specialists.

Edulis Superba, an early large dark pink, 35c, $3.50 per doz.

Festiva Maxima, large pure white, edges of center petals prominently flecked with crimson, early, 50c, $5.00 per doz.

Monsieur Jules Elie, pale, lilac rose, an extra large flower of great beauty, early and a free bloomer, 75c, $7.50 per doz.

Duchess de Nemours, (Calot) creamy white, medium sized cup-shaped flowers, beautiful in bud, very free bloomer, early, 50c, $5.00 per doz.

Eugenie Verdier, delicate hydrangea pink, tall, free bloomer, exquisitely dainty, early, $1.00, $10.00 per doz.

Felix Crousse, large brilliant red, one of the best red varieties, late mid-season, 75c, $7.50 per doz.

W A Y S I D E G A R D E N S

Couronne d'Or, snow white with carmine edges on central petals, a ring of yellow stamens around the center petals lights the flower with gold, immense full bloom, 50c, $5.00 per doz.

Mlle. Leonie Calot, delicate rose white, an extra fine flower, late mid-season, 75c, $7.50 per doz.

Madame Emile Galle, deep lilac white, one of the most delicate in coloring, scarce, late, $1.00, $10.00 per doz.

Dorchester, pale hydrangea pink, extra good, very late, 50c, $5.00 per doz.

Marie, lilac white, fading to milk white, golden yellow staminodes around the collar, tall, free bloomer, late, 75c, $7.50 per doz.

Marie Lemoine, large silver white, extra strong stems and strong grower, very late, 75c, $7.50 per doz.

Rubra Superba, (Richardson) deep crimson, considered the best late red, 75c, $7.50 per doz.

PYRETHRUM

Roseum Hybridum, daisy like flowers ranging in color from white to bright rose, particularly valuable for cutting. 15c, $1.50 per doz.

IBERIS (Hardy Candytuft)

Gibraltarica, single plants grow to two feet in diameter and in bloom are a solid mass of white flowers tinged with lilac pink.

Sempervirens, flat heads of white flowers, 10c, $1.00 per doz.

W A Y S I D E G A R D E N S

AQUILEGIA (Columbine)

The blossoms of the long-spurred Aquilegias are so delicately poised at the tips of the slender branches, that they almost seem ready to take flight. They come in blues and whites and yellows and shades of pink and rose, and are as attractive for cutting as in the garden. They remain in bloom for a long season and are vigorous in growth and long lived.

Coerulea, rich blue and white center.

Coerulea hybrida, various colors and shades.

Coerulea rosea, rose shades.

Chrysantha, bright yellow.

Chrysantha alba, white.

Haylodgensis delicatissima, delicate rose and yellow.

Skinneri, scarlet.

CLEMATAQUILLA, or Spurless Aquilegia
(novelty)

Beauty, sky blue.

Queen of May, flesh pink.

Red Jacket, rose shades.

Sapphire, deep sky blue.

All above varieties 15c each, $1.50 per doz.

CAMPANULA

Medium, (Canterbury Bells) flower stalks three feet in height with large bell shaped flowers in blue, rose and white. (These are the finest of the Campanulas, but are biennials and are of no further value after flowering).

Carpatica, a dwarf perennial variety, with bell shaped flowers in either blue or white.

All varieties, 10c, $1.00 per doz.

BERBERIS THUNBERGI

We are large growers of this shrub which is now so largely used for hedges and permanent planting. Unlike the California Privet, it is entirely hardy and there is no loss from freezing out. While it may be sheared if desired, it has naturally a most graceful habit of growth and is most attractive if left in its natural form. The autumn tints of the leaves are very beautiful and older plants carry a profusion of bright red berries well into the winter.

Strong well rooted plants,

18 to 24 in., 20c, $2.00 per doz., $15.00 per 100.

15 to 18 in., 15c, $1.50 per doz., $12.00 per 100.

AMPELOPSIS VEITCHII (Boston Ivy)

One of the best climbing vines for walls and chimneys, clinging to smooth surfaces without support. A strong grower and foliage dense and very attractive.

Heavy plants, 20c, $2.00 per doz.

ALL STOCK offered in this catalogue is guaranteed true to name and will be replaced without charge should a mistake be made. PRICES are net, except that six of one variety will be sold at the dozen rate, fifty at the hundred rate.

On remittances for $15.00 or more, any quantity may be selected at the lowest price quoted.

As shipment by express is preferable in nearly all cases, your express address as well as post-office address should be given with all orders.

GLADIOLI - DAHLIAS

The growing of Gladioli and Dahlias is one of our specialties and during the blooming season acres of these beautiful flowers are a rare sight. As no flowers are cut with long stems for the market, the bulbs produced here are exceptionally fine and well developed. These bulbs should not be compared with foreign grown stock, and if high quality in Gladioli is desired, bulbs known to be American grown should be insisted upon.

In the finer Dahlias of the Cactus type, many varieties which bloom freely and satisfactorily near the coast are practically failures in the climate of the middle west. In our continuous trials of new varieties we are obliged to discard nearly all for this reason and grow for sale only those which give a satisfactory amount of bloom.

A descriptive price list of these bulbs is issued separately.
