CALIFORNIA-NEVADA

AN INVITATION

The tourist, hunter, camper, and fisherman is welcome to the National Forests of California. One aim of the Forest Service (U. S. Department of Agriculture), which administers the 19 million acres of Government lands within these Forests is to provide, for every one, a simple and inexpensive outing. You will, therefore, find yourself under no burdensome restrictions when you use the National Forests for recreation. You may go where you please, pitch camp wherever the fancy strikes you, and stay as long as you like. Wood for fuel is free, as is the use of the Government telephone lines.

Care with fire, and proper camp sanitation, are practically all that is asked of the visitor. BE CAREFUL of your matches, cigars, and cigarettes. They are responsible for many forest and grain fires. BUILD YOUR CAMP FIRE in a safe place—and put it OUT, with both water and dirt, every time you leave camp, BURN OR BURY all tin cans and refuse, so that the camp may be attractive for the next visitor. REPORT every fire you see. Telephone its location to the nearest ranger at once. Minutes count.
