HARDY NURSERY STOCK

TO THE GROWER:

With the increasing demand for fruit you can make no mistake in buying nursery stock this spring providing the stock is reliable and you are able to obtain varieties that are adapted to the climatic conditions of your location at a reasonable price. Many varieties that prove successful in some localities are a failure in others.

NOW, MORE THAN EVER BEFORE, the grower should know that he is investing his money and spending his time on varieties that are adapted to our northwestern climatic conditions and not on novelties or untried new varieties that some nurseryman or agent desires to sell at a high price.

I grow and offer for sale, only, varieties that have been tried out and recommended by professional fruit growers of Minnesota and then tried out to my own satisfaction on my fruit farm at Newport, Minn.

Formerly I have propagated twenty-five or more varieties of strawberry plants but have eliminated many of these this year and now offer you only the very best to grow in Minnesota and surrounding states.

My evergreens, shade and fruit trees and flowering shrubs, as well as my fruit plants, are all grown in my nursery at Newport.

The reason that I am able to quote the following prices is that I have eliminated nearly all advertising expenses. I am SUBSTITUTING this price list for my annual descriptive catalogue which, in ITSELF, is a large saving. YOU PAY ONLY FOR NURSERY STOCK and not a lot of sales expenses.

A satisfied customer is my best advertisement.

PURE-BRED STRAWBERRY PLANTS

Everbearing Varieties

The everbearing strawberry is fast taking the place of the June bearing varieties as they produce fruit abundantly the same season that the plants are set, then produce a good crop of fruit the following spring. They are not subject to the effects of the strawberry weevil which destroys so many June bearing patches. The two varieties which I offer are very hardy and are the most popular of the everbearing.

PROGRESSIVE—Staminate. Very productive, fruit medium size and of excellent quality. Produces fruit from about a week earlier than any June variety until late fall. Price, $2.00 per 100; $12.00 per 1,000.

SUPERB—Staminate. Fruit very large and attractive. While this is one of the best everbearing varieties I consider it the best June bearing variety also. I usually grow a heavy crop of this variety in the fall and the following spring the same plants produce an immense crop of excellent fruit. Price, $2.00 per 100; $12.00 per 1,000. Either of the above varieties 25 plants for 75c or 50 plants for $1.25.

June Bearing Varieties

MINNESOTA NO. 3—Staminate. This new strawberry is the result of a cross between Senator Dunlap and Pocomoke and in some ways resembles the Dunlap, but is far superior as it produces a larger fruit and is a much heavier yielder. The fruit has that attractive, glossy appearance which is one of the Dunlap's features. The plants are larger and the roots longer than the Dunlap which accounts for its better drought-resisting qualities and the long season of fruiting. Try No. 3 and you will be well pleased. Price, 25 plants 50c; 50 plants 90c; $1.50 per 100; $8.00 per 1,000.

MINNESOTA NO. 935—Staminate. While this is one of the newer productions it has been tried out enough to be placed among the best varieties. Fruit is very large, season of ripening late. Plants very hardy. I consider this our best late variety. Price, 25 plants 50c; 50 plants 90c; $1.50 per 100; $8.00 per 1,000.

GIBSON—Staminate. Early. 25 plants 50c; 50 plants 90c; $1.50 per 100; $8.00 per 1,000.

SENATOR DUNLAP—Staminate. Medium. 25 plants 50c; 50 plants 90c; $1.25 per 100; $7.00 per 1,000.

BRANDYWINE—Staminate. Late. 25 plants 50c; 50 plants 90c; $1.25 per 100; $7.00 per 1,000.
