Extract From Letter Received From Henry
Lutts, of Youngstown, N. Y.

"I fruited the Triumph on the June buds received from you in the spring of 1896. Many trees had on eight to twelve fine peaches each. In an orchard of 2,000 trees of about ten varieties of the leading kind grown here, the Triumph was the only variety that bore and matured its fruit. This speaks well for hardiness and early bearing quality. A variety that will fruit on June buds eighteen months after planting, and that where the mercury drops to 15 degrees below zero, is a remarkable peach," and worthy of extensive cultivation.
