Rare Peonies

VAN WERT, OHIO, Oct. 28, 1920.
TO PEONY LOVERS —

About two weeks ago I mailed a printed letter to Peony Enthusiasts offering to divide my fine, rare Peonies and let purchasers have divisions with one or more eyes, at prices to correspond with the size roots after the divisions were made.

The response to that letter has been so great (one enthnsiast in Duluth even using the wire to telegraph an order for seventeen varieties) that the stock of some kinds has been exhausted, and I am sending you this letter to replace the one of two weeks ago.

I here give a list of varieties which are still in my garden and from which I can cut divisions with one eye (sometimes they will have more) which I will furnish at prices quoted.

If you wish me to send the roots Parcel Post, yon may add 25c to the price of each division and I will prepay charges and insure the delivery. Express will probably be cheaper for you.

Laura Dessert	$8.33

Enchantress	3.33
Madame Savereau	5.00

Here is a list of fine peonies which are not so rare as those in my first list and I am not quite sure whether there will be a demand for them in divisions, as full size, one year old plants are not so very expensive, but I will list a few just to find out whether or not I should list this price varieties in divisions.

These varieties not being so scarce as those in my first list, I can promise that every division will have at least two eyes.

Here is a list of Single and Japanese varieties in which I am very much interested and while they are not in the same class as the Peonies in the preceding lists, I am sure some Peony students will want them in their gardens.

I will cut these into divisions at the price quoted. I am not advising the purchase of any of these as I have not yet rated them because I have given my time to the double sorts.

I am working early and late, and until today I have succeeded in shipping divisions on the day following the receipt of the order. Rain may spoil my plans, but I will try to ship very promptly, so you can have your roots before the ground freezes.
