QUALITY

THE NURSERY STOCK listed herewith is of the very best quality.

It is all of my own growing, well matured and carefully handled. It should all grow vigorously and make fine orchard trees.

IMPORTANT ORDER EARLY

As a result of war conditions nurserymen all over the country have only a small supply of stock with which to meet the unusual heavy demand created by high prices for fruit. The demand so exceeds the supply that before spring nurseries everywhere will be sold out. I have standing offers from large nurseries for practically everything I have so whatever I do not sell retail this fall I will wholesale during the winter. The only way is to order early. In another year conditions will probably change so there will be trees for everybody.

PRICES

The rising cost of production reflects on the nursery business the same as any other line of endeavor. Labor and materials have doubled so the price of trees has to come up to meet it. Under the circumstances and in comparison with other nurseries my prices are decidedly reasonable.

PEACHES

Dormant buds only. A dormant bud is the seedling nursery stock with the bud set at the base. By taking this stock up early in the spring soon after the bud starts out a growth of two or more feet can be expected in the orchard the first year. It is some advantage over waiting another year for regular nursery stock as the young tree is well established and the second year puts out a large top. Dormant buds are not taken up until in the spring when it is seen that they are starting out. Dormant Buds each 30c; per 100 $25.00
