for Prices

Above is Los Angeles rose which took the highest prize at in 1918 as the Finest Rose of Season

Prices on H. & S. Rose same as in New York, Los Angeles, Chicago, etc. Rose at side is Etoile de France an old favorite but never beaten for a dark rose

Roses

Plant in December, January or not later than February and you get flowers in six weeks.

March is getting late and April too late for best success.

Pick out the heaviest, most clay soil. Nowhere will roses be long lived on very sandy soils.

If possible use rain water.

Rarely use well water.

Roses are sensitive to alkali in water

We sell

nothing but Hybrid Teas, Teas and Perpetuals.

These varieties will not stand northern winters but bloom abundantly here in fall, winter and spring.

Do not expect many flowers in summer.

Climate Selected Varieties

By our Mr. Pomeroy in California and nearby

This makes a great difference. Certain varieties do well in moist climates and will not thrive here

Palms

For descriptions see "The Rio Grande Plant Book" and below for new varieties.

Balling means a ball of dirt taken up around roots and tied with burlap and twine. No extra charge. Boxing means putting into handy boxes with handles; for these $1.00 is charged for sizes up to 3'-4' and $1.50 for larger. A refund is made when boxes are returned.

Sizes are graded by height of leaves when dug and caliper. The latter is usually the same in inches that the height is in feet. Palms are invariably cut back when dug so that height is not always seen in delivered plant.

[illegible]

Special Palms

New Fan Palm, (Catha Edulis)—A most delightful avenue palm with leaves much greener and handsomer than regular Fan Palm. First introduction here. In pot grown palms, 2'-3' high, small $2.00 each, $20.00 doz.

House Palm, Dwarf Chinese Fan (Latania Borbonica)—This will not stand full sun but is fine for a porch or piazza or inside. Tub-grown 1 to 2 feet high, $2.00 each, $20.00 doz.

Sago Palm (Cycas Revoluta)—Small plants $1.50 each, $15.00 doz. Larger ones $2.50 each, $25.00 doz.

Genuine Fruiting Date Palms—$30.00 each to be delivered in March. These are rooted suckers from Deglet Nur and Menarkher female date palms. They will not be over 1 or 2 feet high but are sure to produce the finest varieties of eating dates. They come from the Imperial Valley in California where 8 year old palms have produced 400 lbs. dates to a tree and are most delicious. Only a few securable. Mature bearing date gardens of known fine varieties are hard to buy there at $15,000 per acre and these suckers sell by the hundred at $30.00 each. They are a most promising experiment.

In November and December, a limited amount of fruit is to arrive at $1.25 per lb., the same as sold in California.

Roses

Exclusive Agent for the wonderful new roses of Howard & Smith of Los Angeles; prices same as in Los Angeles, San Francisco, Chicago, New York, Boston, Etc.

LOS ANGELES ROSE—In 1918 this rose took the highest award at Paris for the best new rose of the year. It possesses a color new in roses—a luminous flame pink toned with coral, shaded to translucent gold at base of petals. The buds are long expanding to a flower of great size, beautiful till last petal drops. Price $1.50 each.

LOLITA ARMOUR ROSE—This past season this rose took the same highest awards at Paris. This is a wonder. Chrome yellow at base of petals shaded to burnt orange and copper with reflex of petals bright salmon turning to delightful shrimp pink. Flowers large and cup-shaped. Price $2.50 each.

SEVEN NEW ROSES—At $1.00 each, $10.00 per dozen.

MADAME EDOUARD HARRIOT—Superb coral red, shaded gold at base, passing to shrimp pink. Often mistaken for the Los Angeles rose. Very floriferous, Received highest awards in England.

JULIET—Old gold outside, interior rich rosy red changing to deep rose. Flowers are large, very double, fragrant.

MRS. WAKEFIELD-CHRISTIE MILLER—Rosy carmine, outer petals with soft pearly blush giving it a two-toned effect. Buds and flowers very large and born erect on long stems.

GRACE MOLYNEUX—Creamy apricot with flesh center, large, finely formed flowers, fragrant, and free blooming.

AUGUSTINE GUINOISSEAU—White faintly suffused with flesh pink, very fragrant.

SUNBURST—Yellow shaded coppery orange. Large magnificently formed, richly tea-scented.

GEORGE DICKSON—Deep scarlet, shaded to velvety crimson, inside nearly black, large and very full flower, fragrant and extremely vigorous grower.

THREE YEAR FIELD GROWN ROSES At $1.25 each, $12.00 per dozen.

AMERICAN BEAUTY—The large, well-known cup shaped roses.

MRS. A. R. WADDELL—Orange pink with outer petals flesh. Very free-blooming.

FRAU KARL DRUSCHKI—The immense cup-shaped white rose

J. B. CLARK—Scarlet shaded to intense red, very large flowers, fragrant.

ROSES—Continued

STRONG TWO YEAR FINE ROSES—At 75c each $8.00 per dozen.

Etoile de France, dark red; Paul Neyron, largest rose grown, pink. Radiance, intense pink; Mrs. A. R. Waddell, rich salmon; Mme. Leon Pain, silvery pink shaded; J. P. L. Mock carmine and flesh pink; Dr. Wm. Gordon pink edged with white; Antoine Revoire, salmon and carmine; Ulrich Brunner, cherry red; R. M. Henriette, cherry red; Mrs. John Laing, silvery pink; Killarney, wonderful pink buds. And others. Usually roses will be sent assorted unless directed otherwise. All are cut back to 6 inches from ground because they start and bear flowers quicker if that is done. Stock limited and order early as late planted roses do not do well.

Cannas

No flower will give such wonderful blooms and so long continued blooms as the canna. I am growing over a quarter million for the northern market and have the finest assortment west of the Alleghanies.

The Temple Orange

This most wonderful of recent new varieties is supposed to be a cross between the Tangerine and Pineapple oranges. It has the brilliant color, loose skin, loose segments, easy eating qualities and juiciness of the Tangerine, the large size and sweetness of the Pineapple orange. It ripens in February and can stay on tree for 3 or 4 months enabling it to be marketed at high prices. Over three hundred thousand are to be planted in Florida the coming year. See page 14.

English Walnuts—The only English Walnut planted in our section have had either California Black or northern roots and they have not done well. From their method of growth, it is evident that our soil temperature is too high for these roots. We are now getting trees grown in extreme southern Arizona and grafted onto the desert walnut roots of Arizona. When the trouble with the roots is remedied by getting a root acclimated to our soil temperature, the English Walnut should do well here. Only a few trees obtainable this season.

Citrus Trees

WHY PLANT ORANGES—When the writer was in Los Angeles, this past fall, he got the prices for a week at which the Citrus Growers Exchange had sold in the large cities over the country citrus fruit and averaged them. 189 cars of oranges averaged $6.91 a crate, 9 cars grape fruit averaged $2.36 a crate, When in Florida last winter, he made a similar average and oranges averaged $4.06 and grape-fruit $2.50 a crate and later the orange prices went up and grape fruit prices went down. This means that grape-fruit has been planted faster than the demand has increased and there is more money in growing oranges.

Prices and Stocks—It takes from three to five years to grow a good citrus tree. During the war, stocks were sold out and few new ones started. The demand has vastly increased and there is not enough trees to plant the groves planned. We have prophesied the present tree famine and raise in prices. There is slight probability of decrease in prices next season tho it may possibly come in 1922. Our new nursery below Brownsville will then be in full swing and we can lower prices because growing most of our own trees. But at present, we advise early orders as we have not enough trees for the demand. Also we advise planting NOW as the prices of groves and the returns on them have so advanced and tho it is possible there may be a recession in 6 to 8 years, it is not probable and if there is any, it will be so small that groves planted now and properly cared for, are sure of being profitable either as a permanent investment or to sell.

Balling—Consists in digging trees with a ball of dirt around the roots and holding it there with burlaps and string. If unbroken, it is the best way of transplanting trees. But if the tree is lifted by trunk and the ball of dirt is broken, it is of slight value. The weight makes balling too expensive for long distance shipments. It costs 50c for a single tree, $4.00 per dozen, $30.00 per 100. This is added to cost of trees and it can only be done for stock at Delta nurseries.

Roots—For sandy soils, rough lemon roots have done better than the sour orange and it can be furnished in some varieties but the root stock will usually be sour orange. Sweet orange or trifoliata will never be sent.

PRICES ON STAPLE VARIETIES

Reservation—The right is reserved on all orders to change size if the size wanted is unobtainable or not in stock. In lemons, the variety in stock will be sent.
