The National Trio offered here constitutes a very imposing and important Trio of Roses. In shapeliness and color, fragrance and form the three varieties offered here have no rivals among Roses. They are varieties for the amateur and professional. They thrive anywhere and bloom under more varying conditions than many other varieties. There are other Roses that are a real delight, and others that one should grow, but there are none that excel in all points the National Trio.

Dwarf Fruiting Orange

"Fruits freely—easy to grow—beautiful blossoms—delightfully fragrant."

Dwarf free flowering variety, which is suitable for pot culture. While it will grow three or four feet high and branch freely, it is not an uncommon thing to see little cutting plants five or six inches high full of bloom, and even bearing one or two medium-sized oranges. The fruit at its best is not more than one-half the size of an ordinary orange, but it is very bright and beautiful in color, delicious in quality; but it is for its flowers more than its fruits which commends it to general cultivation. When it blooms it is so full that it seems to be all flowers. The pure waxy-white blossoms emit a delicate yet powerful fragrance which is surpassed by no other flower. Japanese Lace Fern

One of the Most Beautiful and Popular
Foliage Plants of the Century
A Decorative Plant of Unusual Value.

(Asparagus Plumosus)—26c
The family of Asparagus plants comprises a number of varieties. Some are climbers, some drooping or trailing, some erect and bushy. Many of them are highly prized for their beautiful and graceful foliage, and the two varieties which we list on this page are practically the most popular and valuable of all. The variety Plumosus (Asparagus Plumosus Nanus) is a tall climbing decorative plant and one of the rarest and of delicate beauty. Its bright green foliage is extremely fine and plume-like. The fronds grow from six to eight inches in width and when cut retain their color and shape for weeks. The plant may be grown as a pot plant, a bushy form or climbing. Asparagus possesses the advantage of being more graceful and its foliage finer than those of the most delicate Fern. As a house plant it will thrive under practically all conditions. The Asparagus likes a good rich soil and fairly warm temperature. The plant does best and carries the richest color of foliage when it is kept in a growing condition through a plentiful supply of nourishment. Nice plants, 26c each; 3 for 74c; $2.50 per dozen. Stronger plants, 38c each; 3 for $1.08; $3.65 per dozen. Larger plants, 59c; 3 for $1.60; $5.66 per dozen.

Juniperus--The Cedars

This large, natural family of evergreen trees is probably the most remarkable in many respects. For number, usefulness, and distinctiveness of species and varieties it is hardly equaled. Including our hardiest natives, the Red Cedars, they range in size from medium-high trees to the smallest bush forms and dwarfs, trailing flat over rocks and sandbanks. Select evergreens for specimen groups, or entire hedges and wind-breaks, in almost any range of color or shape, and for any locality, dry or moist, exposed or sheltered, will be found amongst the Junipers.

EVERGREEN TREES

Pinus--The Pines

This family of well-known evergreens includes our most beautiful park and lawn trees, as well as our invaluable forest trees. They are so manifold in habit and character that a suitable tree may be found amongst the Pines for almost any place and location. They are extremely hardy and vigorous growers, but prefer a well-drained soil, and will not succeed in stagnant moisture.

WHITE PINE (Pinus Strobus). The most valuable of all Pines both ornamentally and commercially. A tall beautiful tree with regular whorls of horizontal branches, attractive cones five to six inches with leaves a soft bluish green. 4 to 5 feet, $5.00; 3 to 4 feet, $3.50.

Thuya--The Arborvitae

This class of evergreens cannot be too highly recommended. Thriving in most any soil, they respond freely to liberal treatment. Arborvitae adapt themselves wonderfully to most various treatments and uses, and most of them are quite hardy; they are, no doubt, the easiest evergreens to transplant.

THUYA OCCIDENTALIS GLOBOSA. A handsome tree, with a round compact head. Foliage dark green and very dense. Good as specimens or porch decorations. Price, 1½ to 2 ft., $6.00 each; 15 to 18 inches, $4.00 each; 12 to 15 inches, $3.00 each.

Being perfectly hardy it is in demand for general purposes. Prices, 2 to 2½ feet, $4.00 each; 1½ to 2 feet, $3.00 each.

AMERICAN ARBORVITAE (Thuya Occidentalis). The ever popular Arborvitae with its pyramidal outline of variable height, bright green foliage, lighter or yellow-green beneath, or in winter taking on shades of bronze. THUYA OCCIDENTALIS PYRAMIDALIS (Pyramidal Arborvitae). This is one of the most shapely evergreens, having a uniform pyramidal outline which it retains at all times. Foliage is light green. Branches are numerous and dense. An excellent ornamental tree for specimen planting, as popular as the American Arborvitae. Price, 4 to 5 feet, $9.00 each; 3 to 4 feet, $4.00 each; 2 to 3 feet, $3.00 each.
