MRS. JOHN M. LEWIS
PEONY FARM
COPENHAGEN, N. Y.

THE LEWIS PEONIES are strong, vigorous, new varieties that have been tested for a number of years, free bloomers showing a wide range of beautiful tints and colors, from pure white to the darkest shades of ox-blood red.

Peonies should be planted on well drained soil, free from shade at least half of the day; open sunlight being an advantage. They should be kept well cultivated and no fertilizer placed in direct contact with the roots.

The eyes should be about two inches below the surface of the ground and mulching put on the first winter AFTER the ground freezes.

Large Divisions (L.D.) are from three to five eyes, usually five. Small Divisions (S.D.) are one to two eyes with roots to correspond.
