NINETEEN-HUNDRED-AND-FOURTEEN CATALOGUE of GERANIUMS

ISSUED BY R. VINCENT, JR. & SONS COMPANY
TO OUR FRIENDS, PATRONS AND THE TRADE IN GENERAL

— GREETINGS —

It is with renewed pleasure that we present to our many friends this, our GERANIUM CATALOGUE for 1914, thanking them for the encouraging patronage and support they have given us during the past. We trust we may merit a continuance of their fullest confidence and assure them that we will in the future, as in the past, do all in our power to make every transaction satisfactory in every way.

That the Geranium is the most popular flowering plant today with the mass of people is indisputable, and this is not to be wondered at when we consider the grand acquisitions that are continually being added to the list, embracing a range of the most bewildering variety, comprising all imaginable colors, shades and combinations, from the most dazzling colors to the softest and most delicate tints, baffling successful description, so that the most critical cannot fail to be satisfied.

The list of Novelties we offer this season is, without doubt, the finest it has ever been our good fortune to import. They represent only the cream of the European introductions, and are, without an exception, worthy a place among the very best and represent a great advance toward the standard of perfection. They have all originated under the experienced hands of men who are recognized the world over as introducers of the best in Geraniums, men to whom we owe the credit of making the Geranium what it is today. We therefore feel perfectly safe in presenting them to our customers, confident they will meet every requirement of a Geranium.

are not intended to portray in any manner the size of the flowers or truss but to give an idea of the general appearance. We have tried to make the descriptions as true as it is possible to make them, very few doing full justice to the Variety represented. The colors of all Geraniums, except the Novelties, have been tried by Dauthenay's French Color Guide.

IMPORTANT TO PURCHASERS

Please read carefully before ordering

The price list which will be found on a separate sheet is for stock from 2-inch pots and is offered on the following conditions:

This list cancels all previous quotations. All offers are made subject to goods being unsold. We cannot hold plants on inquiry without a guarantee of acceptance.

Orders for growing crops accepted subject to crop failure, shortage, or other causes beyond our control.

C. O. D. orders must be accompanied by one half of the amount of the order.

As heretofore, all sales and quotations are made on a strictly cash basis, regardless of the responsibility of the customers. We make low prices, guarantee full count, and render the best possible service in every way.

We prefer to ship all plants by Express, without pots; they then travel at a special plant rate—20 per cent less than the regular merchandise rate. It is not necessary to prepay charges to secure this rate. We have the Adams and the United States Expresses.

All claims must be made immediately on receipt of goods; later claims will not be considered. When loss occurs through our fault, we will take pleasure in correcting same, but will not be held responsible for damage occurring in transit, claims for which should be made at once to the delivering Express Company.

No charges are made for boxes, packing, or for delivery to Express or Freight office on orders of $1.00 or over; on orders for less than $1.00, 15 cents must be added to pay for packing.

We take all possible means to keep every variety separate and true to name, but cannot be held responsible for the success of crop.

We extend an invitation to all interested in horticulture to visit our establishment at any time, and to inspect our stock, feeling confident that they will find it up to the highest possible standard of perfection that it is possible to obtain.

We are located 12 miles north of Baltimore. Get off at Cowenton, on the Philadelphia Division of the B. & O. R. R.; or at Chase, on the P. B. & W. R. R. of the Pennsylvania system. Send us word of your coming, and we will meet you at either station.

MARYLAND

Ever since we have been in the Geranium business we have endeavored to find a novelty on which we could stake our reputation. In this endeavor we have raised hundreds of seedlings ourselves and discarded innumerable very promising seedlings offered by others, as not possessing the qualities we desired should be in our first novelty. Several years ago we placed in the hands of an expert hybridizer certain stock from which we believed the desired results could be obtained, with instructions that he was to spare neither time nor expense to produce a variety that would embrace, as far as possible, all that was required in a Geranium—color, health, fullness, habit of growth and freedom of bloom. We have no hesitation in claiming that these qualities are all found in our novelty for 1914, the Maryland.

The Maryland is the result of a cross between Alphonse Ricard and La Pilote. In habit of growth it resembles the La Pilote, only much stronger, being more robust, vigorous and branching. The foliage is handsomely marked with a chocolate zone. The individual flowers are magnificent, semi-double, perfectly formed and of grand texture, being profusely produced in enormous trusses. The color is of the most intense, dazzling, fiery red and of marvelous beauty. Words are inadequate to accurately describe the wonderful beauty of the flower and the exquisite finish of the plant.

Maryland is a variety that we introduce to the florist and the great mass of flower lovers with every confidence that it will, with its most pleasing habit and strong constitution, prove satisfactory in every way, and meet every requirement of a first class Geranium.

SCARLET BEDDER

In Scarlet Bedder, introduced by Elmer D. Smith, of Adrian, Michigan, in 1913, we have an ideal scarlet bedding Geranium in every sense of the word. It is an intermediate color between S. A. Nutt and Alphonse Ricard, but being brighter or approaching nearer to scarlet than either of these. It is a short, stocky, sturdy grower, making flower stalks at almost every joint. It is necessary to pinch out the buds to get a good growth in pots. The trusses are of medium size, not quite as large as Nutt, but any deficiency in size is more than made up in the number produced, as the bed will become literally covered with the bright scarlet flowers. In comparison with S. A. Nutt it is superior in every way, freer in bloom, more brilliant in color and the habit of the plant is more compact. During the past Summer it has been tried out in all parts of the country and as a bedder has done remarkably well, giving universal satisfaction, and the general verdict is that it is the coming scarlet bedding Geranium.

Descriptive Geranium Catalogue

ALPHA (ROZAIN-BOUCHARLAT, 1912)

This is a bronze hybrid of a Pelargonium peltatum (ivy-leaved), and a golden bronze Pelargonium Zonal (Geranium). The foliage is finely denticulated. The center of the leaf is greenish maize with a broad dark zone edged golden yellow; free-growing Ivy Geranium growth. The flowers are of a rich shade of scarlet red, a striking contrast to the bronze foliage; individual flowers are single, of medium size, abundantly produced in fair-sized trusses.

A most attractive plant for hanging baskets and window boxes and a striking bedder where it can be so used.

HELEN MICHELL

When Henry F. Michell Co. introduced their new Geranium, Helen Michell, to the trade and announced that they would disseminate it Jan. 1st, 1913, its sterling qualities were at once recognized and the demand was so great that, in justice to their customers, as well as to the Geranium itself, they concluded to defer the disseminating for one year, so as to give them an opportunity to work up a larger stock, that all could be served alike instead of only a few being favored by securing early stock of this splendid bright scarlet Geranium.

Helen Michell is a cross of Jean Viaud and Alphonse Ricard and the introducers claim for it supremacy in brilliancy of color, in size of bloom, in vigor and strength, in earliness of bloom, in constancy of bloom, in propagating qualities, in the number of trusses to the individual plant, in its wonderful ability to retain its brilliancy of color in the hottest of weather. It is semi-double and of the clearest possible shade of scarlet. Its growth is compact, semi-dwarf, with lustrous green foliage. The flowers are borne in gigantic trusses.

During the past year it has won enthusiastic admiration from all who have seen it and won a Certificate of Merit at the International Flower Show in New York.

It is a pleasure to have the opportunity of offering a Geranium of this class to our customers.

EDMOND BLANC

This is, beyond doubt, the handsomest and most brilliant Geranium we have in the cerise color. It is a bright rich carmine shaded around the white eye and on upper petals with bright scarlet, a color that is so entrancing as to catch the eye of the most casual observer. Very few people in passing a bed of this variety fail to stop and admire its marvelous beauty. Its foliage and habit of growth are ideal for a pot plant and a strong constitution enables it to withstand very unfavorable weather. We have a splendid stock of this variety and predict for it a great future.

MRS. LAWRENCE

This is, without exception, the finest Geranium of its color that we have ever seen. A continual bloomer of well-formed flowers and trusses; color, an artistic shade of bright satiny salmon pink. Its splendid dwarf, compact habit of growth, brilliancy of color, and constancy of bloom render it unsurpassable as a bedder and indispensable as a pot plant, being strongly recommended for winter flowering. Its distinct and graceful form has placed it in the front rank of its race.

Standard Varieties

We have no hesitation in claiming that our collection of Standard Varieties stands pre-eminent among such collections in the world. It contains only distinct and useful varieties and is the result of the most careful selection from hundreds of varieties introduced by the foremost European and American hybridizers. We have listed only those sorts which years of experience in growing and selling Geraniums has taught us are the very best in their different classes, such as can be depended on to produce the most satisfactory results and which represent the highest standard of development yet obtained in their special class or color.

In keeping our list up to this high standard we are constantly adding many of the newer varieties and discarding some of the old sorts which have been favorites but are now superseded by others which are more beautiful in form, greater in substance, more exquisite in color and more satisfactory in growth.

DOUBLE VARIETIES

Abbie Schafer. (Hill.) A beautiful, soft, pleasing crimson scarlet—in fact, one of the finest and most dependable reds we have; splendid semi-double flowers; magnificent trusses, abundantly produced; excellent, semi-dwarf habit. A variety that is good everywhere.

Alphonse Ricard. (Brt. 1894.) A Geranium of such perfect habit that it has become the standard by which all other Geraniums are judged. The handsome, perfectly formed, semi-double flowers of bright vermilion scarlet are produced in profusion, and the foliage is a handsome luxuriant, bright green slightly zoned. It is in every respect a general favorite.

Anais Segalis. (Brt. 1906.) Large, double flowers; immense trusses; dark, rich, deeply-zoned foliage; strong, robust grower; the color is a bright salmon, brightening toward the center.

Beaute Poitevine. (Brt. 1887.) One of the most popular varieties we have. With its lively light salmon color, its semi-dwarf, robust and branching habit, beautiful, deep-zoned foliage, healthy constitution, perfectly-formed flowers, and enormous trusses freely produced, it is a variety that can be depended upon.

Berthe de Presilly. (Brt. 1889.) A most beautiful shade of silver rose pink, slightly shading to an almost white center; large, semi-double flowers, profusely produced in splendid trusses; handsome, light green foliage. One of the best bedding pinks we have, standing the sun well. We are confident it will meet all requirements.

Centaure. (Lem. 1887.) An exquisite shade of Neyron rose; large trusses of finely-formed flowers, freely produced, rigidly held above the rich, velvety, deep green foliage. Stands the sun perfectly as a bedder.

Colonel Thomas. (Brt. 1907.) One of the best among the recent Bruant introductions. Distinct in color and exceptionally attractive, the color being a pleasing shade of deep, cardinal red and apparently covered with a purplish sheen, deepening toward the center of the large, well-formed flowers, which are borne in large clusters; the habit is ideal; dwarf, vigorous and branching.

Cousin Janie. Dwarf, compact grower; very free flowering; exceptionally fine as a pot plant; small, light green foliage; semi-double flowers of a beautiful clear pink, slightly spotted red, gradually shading to a white center.

Dagata. (Brt. 1905.) One of the most distinct and handsome pink Geraniums we have. The foliage attains a magnificent size; it is that exquisite rich green that is so much admired by the most discriminating trade; the color is a strikingly beautiful shade of mauve rose, with large blotches of white at the base of the petals; the trusses are gigantic and produced in profusion.

Double Dryden. An ideal, fancy pot plant as well as a good bedder; in color it is an attractive combination, being coral white at the center, shading through a delicate lilac toward the outer edge of the petals, which are a beautiful, glowing, soft crimson; flowers and trusses of good size.

Edmond Blanc. One of the newer Geraniums that is attracting attention wherever seen on account of its handsome coloring, being the most brilliant of the cerise shades. The color is a bright carmine shaded around the white eye and on the upper petals with bright scarlet. The flowers are perfectly formed in large trusses, which are freely produced; foliage deep, rich green, slightly zoned.

E. H. Trego. One of the most beautiful shades of dazzling scarlet, with an exquisite, soft, velvety finish on a saffron ground. The flowers are large, semi-double and often measure two inches in diameter, produced in enormous trusses in great profusion; the foliage is glossy green, with dark zone, large and of good texture; an excellent semi-dwarf, robust, and branching. An ideal pot variety.

Fleuve Blanc. (Brt. 1905.) Color pure white; florets are very large and just semi-double enough to give them a fine finish; enormous trusses on long stems, held well above the foliage. It possesses all the essential points that constitute an ideal Geranium, enabling it to withstand our trying Summers, being one of the best of the magnificent Bruant or sun-proof type; very large, handsome, rich green foliage, zoned with dark green; growth semi-dwarf, vigorous and compact.

General Grant. (Brt.) A universal favorite as a bedder; bright orange-scarlet flowers, profusely produced during the entire season in medium-sized trusses; a vigorous grower, standing the sun exceptionally well.

General Saussier. (Lem. 1906.) An extraordinarily attractive variety as a pot plant; ideal habit of growth; semi-dwarf, vigorous; clear, light green foliage; an exquisite shade of bright carmine fading through delicate lilac to a large white center.

Henriot. (Brt. 1907.) A beautiful shade of Neyron rose; magnificent, semi-double flowers, produced in enormous trusses on long stems held well above the luxuriant, handsome, zoned foliage; dwarf, compact, branching habit; strong constitution.

Jean Oberle. (Brt. 1906.) One of the most beautiful among the colors known as peach pink; an exquisite shade of hydrangea pink, shading tenderly to almost pure white at outer edges of each petal; the florets are exceptionally well formed; immense trusses; habit unusually strong and vigorous; very free bloomer; foliage distinct and one of the type that stands the sun perfectly.

Jean Viaud. (Brt. 1891.) An attractive, bright, clear shade of mauve rose, shading to a distinct white throat; flowers are large and trusses enormous, sometimes measuring six inches in diameter; habit dwarf, compact, vigorous and exceptionally free blooming.

Jean Violette. (Brt. 1906.) Large, semi-double flowers of a beautiful shade of rich violet crimson, semi-dwarf, robust grower. An excellent variety.

John Doyle. Rich, deep scarlet, exceptionally bright and effective; large-sized trusses on long stems, held well above the foliage; robust grower and continuous bloomer; splendid habit; a universal favorite.

Jules Vasseur. (Brt. 1906.) Semi-dwarf Cyclops of an exceptionally handsome color—bright cardinal red, with a distinct white eye, and slight violet shading on upper petals; strong, robust grower; the foliage is rich green, slightly feathered, clean and healthy. Magnificent as a pot plant.

King Edward. (Lem. 1906.) Immense, semi-double flowers of a beautiful shade of rich carmine lake, gradually shading to a distinct white center; large trusses, produced in great profusion; one of the finest pinks in this class; splendid habit of growth and stands the sun well.

La Favorite. (Lem. 1888.) One of the finest double whites in this class; pure in color; flowers of an enormous size; a continuous bloomer, the plant being covered with flowers the entire season; beautiful foliage; finest habit; unsurpassed as a bedder.

- Le Cid. (Lem. 1887.) A charming shade of deep, cardinal red; beautifully shaped florets; fine trusses; habit dwarf, clean and healthy; fine as a pot plant; very satisfactory as a dwarf bedder.
- Leon Baudrier. (Brt. 1906.) Semi-double Cyclops. Immense semi-double flowers, large, full trusses, freely produced on long, rigid stems; foliage thick and of leathery texture; habit of growth robust and branching; color a beautiful shade of carmine lake, shading soft cerise to a large, white center. A most excellent fancy pot plant.
- Leopold Bouille. (Brt. 1906.) Semi-double Cyclops; bright, solferino red, upper petals richly shaded bright carmine purple to a distinct white center; profuse bloomer; flowers large, of perfect form and borne in large trusses; habit is ideal. Like all the superb Cyclops, this will, within a short time, become a universal and indispensable favorite. Exceptionally good for a pot plant.
- M. A. Roseleur. (Brt. 1900.) A most beautiful shade of Neyron rose. The flowers are large, semi-double, showing a distinct white center; enormous trusses, borne on long stems well above the clean, extremely handsome foliage. In habit of growth it is most pleasing, semi-dwarf, short jointed and vigorous. We unhesitatingly recommend it, as there is no question but that it will give satisfaction in every case, either as a pot plant or as a bedder.
- Mauna Loa. (Lem. 1907.) A beautiful and attractive shade of russet orange, a taking color as a pot plant; trusses of medium size, borne in great profusion; splendid, slightly zoned foliage; fine habit of growth.
- Marquise de Castellane. (Brt.) One of the most distinct and beautiful Geraniums in the Bruant class. Beautiful, soft crimson, varying to tomato red. The flowers are very large, perfect in form and borne in large trusses, profusely produced on long, rigid stems; foliage large and of heavy texture, slightly zoned; habit, semi-dwarf and vigorous; strong constitution. A variety which we can recommend, knowing that it is among the healthiest growers that we have.
- Marquise de Montmort. (Brt.) Deep crimson carmine; a very novel and beautiful shade; fine, large trusses and florets, held well above the strong, robust, deep-zoned foliage. An exceptionally striking variety, greatly admired.
- Miss F. Perkins. An exquisite shade of deep rose pink, with a distinct white throat; large, handsome flowers and trusses borne on long stems held well above the clean, healthy foliage; well-known standard favorite as a bedder or a pot plant; constant bloomer, being a mass of color the entire season; strong constitution, standing our extreme climatic conditions in fine shape.
- Miss Kendall. Dark carmine red, shading to geranium lake toward the center of the bold, round, full flowers of fine form; trusses large and strikingly handsome; strong, vigorous grower; dark, rich green, deep-zoned foliage. A splendid variety.
- Mme. Barney. (Brt.) A splendid, deep, pure pink of a lively shade; grand habit of growth, dwarf and branching; very free in bloom; semi-double and of large size; a perfect bedder and pot plant.
- Mme. Buchner. (Lem. 1908.) Snow-white flowers, abundantly produced in large trusses; strong, vigorous grower, with broad, fluted foliage, slightly zoned.
- Mme. Canovas. (Lem. 1898.) Very dark, velvety scarlet, with maroon shading; immense florets, produced in large trusses on long stems held well above the foliage. A rival to S. A. Nutt in color, but a stronger grower.
- Mme. Charlotte. Flowers are large, semi-double and perfect in form; trusses enormous, produced in great profusion on good, long stems throughout the entire season; habit is perfect, dwarf, robust and vigorous; foliage heavy, deep green, broad chocolate zone. The color is a clear, distinct, rosy salmon, shading lighter toward the outer edge; unexcelled as a pot plant; a splendid bedder.
- Mme. F. Sarloveze. (Brt.) An exquisite and pleasing shade of bright rose, shading to white center; the immense and semi-double flowers are very attractive; dwarf and branching habit and growth.

Mme. Jaulin. (Brt.) Flowers are very large, produced in enormous trusses; semi-dwarf, compact, vigorous habit; broad, deep-zoned foliage; color delicate peach pink, shading to a daybreak pink in center; a perpetual and profuse bloomer.

Mme. Landry. (Brt.) One of the choicest and handsomest of the Bruant race. Very free and constantly in bloom throughout the season; florets very large and borne in enormous trusses on long stems held well above the heavy, deep-zoned foliage; color is a brilliant shade of apricot salmon, shading to copper, with white eye; in habit it is robust, semi-dwarf and vigorous; strong, healthy constitution, enabling it to withstand the extreme heat and hold its foliage the entire Summer.

Mme. Laporte Bisquit. (Brt. 1906.) A very strong, robust, semi-dwarf and compact grower. The foliage is large, handsome and deeply zoned; flowers large; trusses immense and freely produced; color an exquisite shade of rich, light salmon, shading lighter to an almost white margin at edge of petals.

Mme. Recamier. (Lem. 1903.) Pure white; individual flowers are double, beautifully formed and produced in enormous trusses; strong and vigorous grower; broad, fluted, slightly zoned foliage; evidently the best white we have.

Monsieur Emile David. (Brt. 1906.) Strong, healthy, erect growth of luxuriant, glossy green foliage; trusses reach enormous dimensions. Immense semi-double flowers of a violet-rose color, with base of upper petals feathered white, freely produced on long, rigid stems; unsurpassed as a pot plant.

Mrs. Annie Vincent. (Brt. 1908.) Exquisite semi-double flowers of a pure carmine color, somewhat maculated white; incomparable for freshness and brightness; short, robust growth, with exceptional resistance to inclement weather. The handsome, semi-double flowers are supported in magnificent trusses well above the attractive foliage.

Mrs. Lawrence. This is one of the finest Geraniums we have in this color. Clear, healthy foliage; splendid dwarf, compact habit of growth; wonderfully free in flowering; indispensable as a pot plant, being strongly recommended for Winter blooming; unsurpassed as a bedder. The color is an artistic shade of bright, satiny salmon-pink, slightly tinged white.

Ornella. (Brt. 1906.) A continual bloomer; beautiful, semi-double, deep rich scarlet flowers, slightly shaded crimson; excellent habit; splendid truss and foliage. A magnificent variety, which we are confident will meet the requirements of any semi-double scarlet Geranium. Luxuriant both as a pot plant and a bedder.

Peter Henderson. (Brt. 1902.) A magnificent representative of the Bruant race; grand in health, habit and size of bloom; large flowers and trusses of extraordinary splendor produced in great profusion. The color is an excellent shade of poppy red, a color that carries well, and when used for bedding shows as far as the eye can see. As a pot plant, its habit is perfect and will meet all requirements, as it is a strong, robust, but dwarf and compact grower, with a clean, healthy constitution.

President Baillet. (Brt. 1906.) This variety represents the true Bruant type. Beautiful, heavy, luxuriant, slightly-zoned foliage; strong, robust grower; enormous trusses of semi-double flowers freely produced; color a bright scarlet, with a soft, velvety finish; strong, healthy constitution, standing the sun well.

S. A. Nutt. A dark red Geranium. Considered to be one of the best bedders and is more generally used than any other Geranium both as a pot plant and bedder; a vigorous, compact grower, with clean, healthy constitution.

Suzanne Despres. Dwarf, bushy, compact habit; magnificent, slightly-zoned foliage, lending beauty to the delicate coloring of the flowers, which is coral white, each petal margined with tender rose, perfectly formed, abundantly produced; semi-double grower; an exceptionally good variety as a pot plant.

- Victor Grosset. (Brt. 1906.) Continual bloomer; excellent trusses and flowers of a bright, rich shade of apricot salmon, bordering on vermilion-scarlet; splendid bedder, excellent habit; strong, healthy constitution.

Ivy-Leaved Geraniums

- Achievement. Distinct and pleasing shade of soft cerise pink; immense, semi-double flowers, freely produced in large trusses; capable of withstanding inclement weather because of hardness and strength, the result of a cross with a zonal.
- Alliance. A French hybrid between a zonal and Ivy. Its color is a most exquisite shade of delicate lilac white, upper petals feathered and blotched bright crimson rose; flowers semi-double, abundantly produced in fine, large trusses; foliage beautiful, clean, and of splendid leathery texture; habit excellent, robust, strong, close jointed.
- Ballade. (Lemoine 1905.) Large, semi-double flowers and splendid trusses; color tender lilac, upper petals feathered with crimson maroon; a strong, dwarf, steady grower, of splendid habit; a fine pot variety.
- Bettina. (1905.) Superior, semi-double flowers and trusses of a magnificent shade of tender lilac white, center of flowers and petals being blotched with Tyrian rose; remarkably beautiful as a pot plant; dwarf, compact habit.
- Cæsar Franck. One of the most popular Ivy Geraniums yet introduced; the color is an attractive shade of soft, rich crimson, with an exquisite shading of tender rose at base of petals; habit vigorous, quick growing and pleasing; strong constitution.
- Colonel Baden Powell. Flowers of enormous size, one of the largest among the Ivies, abundantly produced in good-sized trusses; semi-double, of elegant showy form; color varies at times from pearl white to soft blush.
- Corden's Glory. Flowers of good quality and large size; pleasing and attractive for fancy baskets or vases; a profuse bearer of a beautiful, bright scarlet flower, which is considered to be one of the best of this type.

- Corinthienne. (Lem. 1905.) Grand, large flowers, borne on long stems, abundantly produced on excellent trusses; beautiful, white, tinted lilac, feathered and blotched with dark purple on upper petals; a strong, dwarf grower.
- Comtesse de Grey. Profuse bloomer; large, well-formed flowers; a pleasing, light satiny salmon color; foliage and petals of fine, durable substance; strong, healthy, erect growth; luxuriant, glossy green foliage.
- Dina Scalarandis. Beautiful, double, white flowers with a slight tinge of lilac on edge of petals; profuse bloomer; excellent trusses; dwarf, compact grower.
- Hector Gaicomelle. An exquisite shade of lavender white, effectively tinted pale rose, upper petals distinctly feathered crimson maroon, lower petals touched with same color; large, semi-double flowers; splendid habit of growth and when well grown leaves nothing to be desired in the way of an Ivy Geranium.
- Incomparable. Very large trusses; florets immense and regular in form; a beautiful variety; exquisite shade of rosy carmine; dwarf, compact, robust grower.
- Joseph Warren. A distinct and striking variety; large, bold, semi-double flowers of good substance; lovely, rich, purple-rose color, slightly feathered dark maroon.
- Mme. Thibaut. Magnificent shade of clear rosy pink, upper petals delicately but distinctly feathered deep crimson maroon; immense trusses; undulated petals; strong, vigorous habit, luxuriant, waxy foliage.
- Mrs. Banks. Flowers are large, semi-double, and borne in medium-sized trusses on long, wiry stems; color a pleasing shade of blush white, upper petals feathered reddish Neyron. In habit of growth it is truly an Ivy; exceptionally strong and vigorous, flowering abundantly through the Winter; handsome, light green foliage.
- Mrs. Hawley. Pleasing shade of rose-cerise, slight magenta shading, dark blotch on upper petals; large, semi-double flowers; strong, robust grower; splendid habit.
- Pierre Crozy. Profuse bloomer; large, semi-double, bright scarlet flowers, handsome and delicate finish; open trusses; possesses all the good qualities which make up an ideal pot plant; low growing bedder; very heavy in texture, while forms of truss and florets are found only among the Ivies.
- Rycroft's Surprise. Semi-dwarf, short-jointed and branching habit of growth. One of the best and most beautiful Ivy Geraniums we have. In color it is a charming clear rose—a rich pink which is very attractive. Combining all these qualities, it makes an ideal Ivy Geranium.
- Scarlet Crousse. A magnificent shade of cardinal red; fine, full flowers, large trusses; splendid, free, bold habit; deep, green foliage of fine substance; very effective.
