FIFTH EDITION

1923

Our 1923 Catalog brings greetings to you, and we take this opportunity to express our deep appreciation for your liberal patronage during the past. We trust that you, as well as our newer customers, will enjoy the greatest possible success with your Dahlias this season. We have one of the largest and best collections of Dahlias in the West. Our roots are all field grown, without being forced or over-fertilized—grown as you grow them. Our stock has been selected from the finest American and European varieties. We specialize in the latest California novelties, which in our estimation, are unexcelled.

Thanking you in advance for any orders you may favor us with, which we assure you, will be given our personal attention.

Sincerely yours,

R. McWHIRTER.

J. P. BONGARD,

GENERAL INFORMATION

Order Early—As orders are filled in rotation, ordering early will insure the reservation of varieties that later may be sold out.

Terms—Cash with order unless parties are known to us. No goods sent C. O. D. unless 50 per cent of purchase accompanies order.

Decorative Dahlias

New Introductions for 1923

Alcatraz—Awarded a certificate of merit at the trial gardens of the Dahlia Society of California, 1922. The flowers are very large, perfect decorative formation, with good stems. Color is an unusual shade of dark red; sometimes the petals are distinctly edged with apricot. Very free-flowering and good for both exhibition and as a cut flower.....$2.50

Aurora B.—This variety has been referred to by different growers as something entirely new in Dahlias. It has been called a decorative collarette. The color is a striking shade of purple, with reverse of petals suffused white. Comes in full decorative form, with a white collar between each row of petals. Very free-bloomer, with large flowers, on long, straight stems. One of the most attractive in our gardens last season. As we have a fairly good stock of this novelty, we are listing it at the moderate price of$2.50

Halvella—We consider this one of the finest Dahlias we have ever had the pleasure of introducing. The color is a beautiful shade of rose pink, with flowers of very large size, which stand erect on long, stiff stems. The formation is all that could be desired, with blooms of unusual depth and broad petals. We can recommend it very highly for commercial purposes as it has excellent keeping qualities. Also invaluable for exhibition. Halvella won the first prize for "best 25 blooms" of one variety at the Alameda Floral Society's Dahlia Show at the Hotel Oakland, 1922, in competition with the best California varieties. This variety has been tried out and grown in the East with great success. Blooms freely until very late in the season. Stock limited.....$5.00

Melrose—A beautiful shade of lavender pink; good-sized blooms, with exceptionally long stems. A prolific bloomer; nothing better as a cut flower, and good for exhibition and garden. An all-round good Dahlia.....$2.50

Gladys Meyers (Pelicano)—A splendid, new decorative, with immense flowers, on very long, stiff stems. The color is a lovely shade of creamy yellow; great depth of bloom, with excellent keeping qualities. We consider this one of the best yellows on the market.....$2.50

HOW TO GROW AND CARE FOR DAHLIAS

If possible, plant in an open, sunny situation. Prepare the soil thoroughly by deep digging. Be moderate in the use of both manure and water. Never plant when the soil is wet. Lay the tuber flat on its side and cover it four inches deep, pressing the soil firmly on the tuber. Keep the soil loose and mellow by frequent hoeing.

3x3 feet is about the proper distance to plant apart.

Keep all dead flowers trimmed off.

Dahlia blooms keep much better if cut in the evening—about sunset—and the less foliage taken off with the flowers the better for both plant and flower. If green is desired, use some other green of better keeping qualities.

After frost has killed the tops, dig the tubers carefully, remove the soil from the roots, and store away in a box or barrel, secure from frost. As a precaution it would be well to cover the tubers so stored with sand, leaves or moss.

All clumps should be divided into several pieces before being reset the following spring.

To have large blooms, it is absolutely necessary to disbud, leaving only one bud to each shoot.

DAHLIA SEED

Growing Dahlias from seed is one of the most interesting stages of Dahlia cultivation. Our seed is carefully selected from the choicest varieties. We send postpaid to any postoffice in the United States, Dahlia seed in packets.
