Iris and Peonies

RETAIL PRICE LIST

THE WING FLOWER AND SEED COMPANY

1923

MECHANICSBURG, OHIO

1923

INTRODUCTION

THE great business slump of 1920 forced many businesses all over the country to the wall. The Wing Seed Company had over one hundred thousand dollars' worth of seed orders for which they had the seed on hand, ready to fill, cancelled. This blow forced them into the hands of a receiver where they remained for over two years. A few days ago they threw the receivership off, and they now emerge as The Wing Flower and Seed Company, with the originator of the business, Charles B. Wing, still active in its management.

For the present the new Company expects to devote most of its attention to bulbs, the stock of which is one of the largest in the United States, occupies over one hundred acres of ground, and includes about three thousand varieties.

The new Company proposes to make this business one without a superior anywhere in America, and to that end they are earnestly bending their efforts.

This price list is preliminary and covers only a portion of the varieties that we are growing. Later on we will issue much more complete lists.

We wish to call your attention to one little change in policy. We live in a village where it is utterly impossible to secure a large amount of labor. For that reason it is necessary for us to handle only orders of a fair size and refuse very small orders. From now on the minimum sized order for Gladioli must be one dollar, the minimum for Dahlias one dollar, Hardy Phlox two dollars, Bearded Iris one dollar and fifty cents, Japanese Iris two dollars, Peonies two dollars and fifty cents. Neither can we accept orders smaller than this when two or more bulbs are combined. For instance, we would not accept an order for fifty cents worth of Gladioli and fifty cents worth of Dahlias, the two combined making one dollar. We would, however, accept an order, say for one dollar's worth of Gladioli with the addition of fifty cents worth of Dahlias or for any other amount over the minimum of one dollar. We would also accept orders for a dollar and a half worth of Bearded Iris and any number of Peonies that you wanted to go with it.

GUARANTEE

Our bulbs are all guaranteed, true to name. When they bloom, if any prove untrue, we will cheerfully replace them.

TIME OF SHIPMENT

Peonies—September 20th until the ground freezes.

Iris—July 15th until ground freezes.

No spring shipment of Peonies at all and Iris, no high priced varieties in spring.

BEARDED IRIS---DE LUXE LIST

New and Rare Varieties

Minimum order on all Bearded Iris, one dollar and fifty cents. Prices are not postpaid.

The Bearded Iris should be moved only in the Fall, and from now on we propose to fill all of our Bearded Iris orders between July first and the time the ground freezes.

Beardless Iris—Japanese, Siberian and other varieties listed as Various Iris, in our catalogue, should be moved only in the Spring. We are therefore not listing Beardless Iris in this price list.

BEARDED IRIS---General List

A word about prices. Labor is scarce and high prices. Our Iris fields now cover forty acres and we find that the men can not fill retail orders for Iris, tramping over this entire acreage, and leave any profit for us, unless we have a minimum charge of about twenty-five cents every time a man stops to dig, but a man can dig several roots almost as quickly as he can one. We therefore are arranging our prices so that you can have one freshly dug root at as low a cost as we can possibly afford, or if you can use several of the same variety, the price becomes very low indeed.

Wing's Seedlings

The naming of new varieties or seedlings among Iris is proceeding at an almost alarming rate. We have grown Iris for a good many years and we have grown the finest varieties in existence throughout most of this time. For several years we have been interested in producing seedlings of our own, but not one of these has been under observation long enough yet for us to feel just like naming it. We do not want to name anything unless it is superior to other varieties similar to it that have already been named. We now have, however, a stock so worthy that we think our customers would be safe in purchasing some of it without its being named. Of the varieties that we now have under observation, there are perhaps two hundred seedlings that will excel in beauty, both in color and form, fully two-thirds of the so-called standard varieties. For the present we have classified these seedlings up into classes A, B, C, D and E, the varieties in each class being as nearly as we could estimate, all of equal value. Class A is not for sale. Class B we offer at one dollar per bulb, and we think that if class B were named, the price would be a dollar and a half or two dollars. Class C we offer at seventy-five cents per bulb, believing that if these varieties were named they would sell for a dollar to a dollar and a half. Class D we offer at fifty cents each, the value in our opinion being seventy-five cents to a dollar. Class E we offer at twenty-five cents each, their value being thirty-five cents or over. Five plants of class E at fifteen cents each, no two alike.

S343	Class C.....	.75	.60
S344	Class D.....	.50	.40
S345	Class E.....	.25	.15

Please do not ask us for any special color. They are not classified that way, but only as to value. Some are Tall Bearded, some Intermediate and some are Dwarf.

8208—Mixed Iris

A good many of our customers like to buy good sized quantities of Iris at a moderate price, and to have a number of different varieties, included. For a good many years we have sold mixed Iris, our selection, without labels and judging by the constant demand, we must have been giving good satisfaction. We offer lots of one hundred mixed Iris of good varieties, to include not less than ten sorts, without labels, for two dollars.

PEONIES

Peony prices are not prepaid. If wanted by mail, add postage at the rate of one pound for every two roots. Minimum order accepted, two dollars and fifty cents. Quotations are all for strong divisions, three to five eyes.
