Finest Gladioli

Retail List For 1924

IF you would give your loved ones flowers, give them while they live. For the dead cannot smell the fragrance of their blooms, nor sense the tender sentiment which prompts the giving.

We guarantee our stock to be clean, healthy, up to size and 100% true to name. (Remember this when comparing prices).

If, however, error should occur, we will replace same free, or refund purchase price.

We are pleased to know if our bulbs please, but especially anxious to know if they displease, for your good will is our greatest asset.

We do not substitute without permission on values over 15c per bulb.

To those who are not familiar with the different varieties of gladioli, we wish to say, that everything listed in this folder is a worthwhile variety, The cheaper ones are very beautiful, but are generally older and more plentiful, while the higher priced ones are usually new and rare.

Gladioli may be planted from the middle of April to June first and thrive best on a sandy soil, but will grow in most any garden, producing beautiful flowers. Plant in a sunny place about four or five inches deep and from three to nine inches apart, according to your space.

Please do not send orders amounting to less than 50c.

Terms:— Cash with orders; we pay postage on retail orders.

All bulbs listed are No. 1 size, unless otherwise specified.

All offers are made subject to prior sale.

We wish to recommend to all flower lovers “The Flower Grower”, published by Madison Cooper, Calcium, N. Y., $1.50 per year.
