Flowers Worth While

Are THESE that Smile in the Garden of
JOHN H. NEELEY, Paulding, Ohio

EDEN

The Lord God planted a garden
In the first white days of the world,
And set there an angel warden,
In a garment of light unfurled;
So near to the peace of Heaven,
The hawk might nest with the wren;
For there, in the cool of the even,
God walked with the first of men.
And I dream that this garden closes,
With its shade and its sun-flecked sod,
And its Lilies and bowers of Roses
Were laid by the hand of God.
The kiss of the sun for pardon,
The song of the birds for mirth—
One is nearer God's heart in a garden
Than anywhere else on earth.
—D. F. Gurney.

HERE AND HEREAFTER

Would the average man and woman who neglect the home they live in, want the grave they fill, given the same neglect that their Home and family had received during their Life and opportunity to bring pleasure to their loved ones through the expenditure of a little effort and a few dollars?

Since they must realize that they have but one Life and one never-ending eternity, can they afford to abuse the privileges of the first which they control, see, feel and enjoy, and depend upon their graves being better respected than they respected their HOMES where daughters spent all the hours and years of toil to prolong Life and scare Death away!

Would it not have been better to have planted 100 Shrubs that would bring pleasure to the living, rather than a five cent piece for a rose or plant to be squandered to cover the grave of some one who was too stingy and mean to live while they did live?

Death must have a real sting to the man or woman who dies in a beautiful home and amid a sorrowing family who loves them and respects them for their personal worth. Where a home is used for and ruled by Dollars alone, it must be a real disappointment to the departing master that he cannot take his Dollars with him, since he loved them more than he did his HOME and his children. Roses now and refreshing tears for the future, rather than work and neglect for the living and flowers only for the grave. Which shall it be, a beautiful HOME or a beautiful grave?—Selected.

LOVE OF LIFE

The other side of Jordan may be bright as bright can be,
 But I ain't a-faultin' this old world—it's bright enough for me;
 You've got to be a swimmer when you
 strike that Jasper sea,
 Yonder—on the other side of Jordan!

I make no doubt the country is a country
 out o' sight,
 With all them fields o' livin' green an' rivers o' delight;
 But I jest ain't in no hurry for to rise an'
 take my flight
 Yonder—on the other side o' Jordan!

No matter what's the trouble—no matter where I roam—
 This world to me is sweeter than the sweetest honeycomb,
 An' I never shall resign it till they holler,
 "Come on home!"
 Yonder—on the other side o' Jordan!

LITTLE GIRLS

Little girls are mighty nice,
 Take 'em any way they come,
 They are always worth their price,
 Life without 'em would be glum;
 Run earth's list of treasures through,
 Pile 'em high until they fall,
 Gold an' costly jewels, too.
 Little girls are best of all.
 Nothing equals 'em on earth,
 I'm an old man an' I know,
 Any little girl is worth
 More than all the gold below;
 Eyes o' blue or brown or gray,
 Raven hair or golden curls,
 There's no joy on earth to-day
 Quite so fine as little girls.

Pudgy nose or freckled face,
 Fairy-like or plain to see,
 God has surely blessed the place
 Where a little girl may be;
 They're the jewels of his crown
 Dropped to earth from heaven above,
 Like angel souls sent down
 To remind us of his love
 God has made some lovely things—
 Roses red an' skies o' blue,
 Trees an' babbling silver springs.
 Gardens glistenin' with dew—
 But take every gift to man,
 Big an' little, great an' small,
 Judge it on its merits, an'
 Little girls are best of all ! —Guest.
