9th ANNUAL SEED CATALOGUE

FOR SPRING OF 1924.

Vegetables, Flower, Bulbs and Plants

HONOR ASTERS

J. K. RUGOWSKI SEED CO.
MANITOWOC, WISCONSIN

D. N. Shoemaker.

MAR 9 1924

PERSONAL

This is our 9th annual greeting, of which I feel very proud, and were it not for the patronage of those who have always received our little catalog we would be unable to even offer you this one. It gives me great pleasure and confidence to be of service to all. Even in time of distress I have had confidence in my undertakings, and many years of patience has produced various new flowers and vegetables that I have offered in the past and still will offer in the future—many of which are now under way. My Asters have made me many friends, and a world wide reputation, for I still am waiting for some one to develop a strain that is able to beat any of mine. When shown side by side on any exhibit we won all 1st prizes in every class at the Wisconsin state fair the past four years and expect to do so again in 1924.

Gladiolus, and Dahlias, of which I am the originator of very many good strains, I will positively assure you that in 1924 and 1925 I will do equally well as I did with my Asters—many first prize winners.

My success the past season in developing new flowers and vegetables was wonderful, especially with Dahlias, Gladiolus, Potatoes and Beans, I have a record of producing a potato that yields 766 bushels per acre; I also have a Gladiolus that all visitors will be able to view in 1924 that stands as tall as the average grown up person. Over 1,000 different colors, shapes and sizes of Gladiolus, not two alike. Over 100 different varieties of Dahlias, etc., etc., etc. All of these wonders and many others can be seen; and all produced personally by my own Hybridizing, which has taken nearly a decade to produce all for the benefit of you and the future generations.

It would give me great pleasure to have you and your friends pay me a visit during the growing season, any time from July 20th to October 1st. Thousands have enjoyed it the past season. There is no better place on earth to spend a day than amongst beautiful field flowers.

If you are a lover of Flowers, you would make a good judge. So pay us a visit. Thank you.

J. K. RUGOWSKI, President.
