Rose Hill Nursery Price List

These prices are for high grade nursery stock. All trees etc. guaranteed to be delivered in perfect growing condition. Satisfaction guaranteed.

We will not be responsible for stock that becomes damaged after date of delivery. We do, however, agree to replace at one-half price, all stock that fails to live, providing purchaser receives it promptly, and plants and cares for it properly. Purchaser must notify the Rose Hill Nursery Co. by August first after delivery, giving list of stock that failed to live and a duplicate of his order must accompany said notice.

We will pay freight charges on all orders amounting to ten dollars or more.

We can send grapes, berries, roses, shrubs, bulbs, tubers, and also one-year-old fruit and ornamental trees by Parcels Post at prices given in this list.

Certificate of Inspection

Our nurseries are inspected each year by inspectors of the Entomological Division of the Department of Agriculture of the State of West Virginia, and are free from insect pests and diseases. A certificate of the department is attached to all shipments, and will also be furnished to customers if desired.

How You Can Grow a Successful Orchard

To grow a successful orchard a few important points should be given careful consideration. To start right is most important, as a mistake at the beginning can never be corrected.

Plant Proper Varieties.—Select varieties that are adapted to your section of the country. We make a specialty of growing varieties suited to this section of country. If in doubt as to best varieties for your location, write us, or your Experiment Station. This service is absolutely free.

Plant Good Varieties.—Buy sturdy, healthy, properly grown trees, with a good root system. Get trees grown in your neighborhood, if it is possible to get good trees close home. They will be acclimated then. That is a head and shoulder start in the race for profits. Read a good paper.
