Price-List of Gladioli for Spring 1926

GROWN BY
E. M. BUECHLY
GREENVILLE, OHIO

The season of 1925, has produced the finest crop of gladioli we ever grew, and while we have discarded some varieties, we have added some very meritorious ones, and on many of the higher priced ones, prices have been reduced to where most anyone can afford and thus enjoy their elegant loveliness. The prices quoted are for bulbs 1½ inches up to 2 inches and over in some varieties. Dozens will be supplied at ten times the price of one, and on thousand lots will quote special trade rates to those entitled to same. Have good supply of America, Alice Tiplady, Myra, Le Marechal Foch, Pendleton, Evalyn Kirtland, Mary Fennell, Niagara and Goliath.

Catalogue of Peonies and Irises will be issued in June.

When comparing prices, note that we pay postage or express to any part of the U. S. Orders should not be for amounts under one dollar.

Culture and Care of Gladioli

Gladioli will do well in any good garden soil. Like other plants, the better the soil and culture, the better will be the results. Plant in April or May owing to the latitude; or a safe rule is when the ground is in good condition to work and warm enough to induce growth.

Be sure to select an open sunny location, for they delight in full sunshine. Also avoid planting near the walls of a building or where roots of trees or shrubs absorb the moisture and fertility; this is sometimes far beyond the limits of their branches.

If for hand cultivation plant rows fifteen to eighteen inches apart and for horse culture from two and one half to three feet apart and place the corms from four to six inches apart in the rows, covering them from four to five inches deep. Cultivate frequently.

Guarantee: While we exercise the greatest care to keep all stock true to name, we are only human and liable to mistakes, however, in common with other growers, we do not assume any responsibility other than to replace any stock that may prove untrue to name or to refund the purchase price of same.

Prompt and efficient service is what we shall always endeavor to render, for your success means our success. We do not lose interest as soon as the bulbs or plants are shipped, but are always anxious to hear from our patrons, as to how they succeed. One of the best plans to make a selection of gladioli, or in fact any flower, is to see them growing in the field, where not only their colors are displayed, but the habits of the plants are also manifest.

Visitors are always welcome, no gate to open; just drive in. Location 2½ miles south west of city.

Nursery Farm is Wonderful

Choice and Rare Varieties of Peonies and Irises, Presenting a Panorama of Color Greet the Eye at Buechly's Nurseries

One of the beauty spots of Darke County is the Buechly Nurseries, two miles west of Greenville, where choice and rare varieties of Peonies and Irises, presenting a panorama of color greet the eye.

The pleasure of working with flowers was likely inherited from his mother by E. M. Buechly, the proprietor of Buechly's Nurseries. He was born on February 20, 1857 in Darke County, Ohio, and was reared on a farm. After a limited education, he taught school two years, after which in 1878 he took up the growing of general nursery stock, and in which he continued all these years. In the last decade of the 19th century he introduced and named the famous Eldorado blackberry which still holds its place as one of the best, if not the best blackberry for all the northern states. About 1915 he originated the Bun Special Strawberry which has also met with good success. About 1915 he planted the first commercial planting of peonies and has added thereto each year some that appealed to him. For some years now he has been planting seed from his best varieties of peonies and irises and some of them appear very promising. One of the irises took first place at Columbus, Ohio, in 1924 as best seedling, and a seedling peony attracted marked attention. His iris seedlings now number thousands and peonies hundreds of plants, but he is too modest to introduce them unless they prove themselves worthy entrants, after thorough trial in different parts of the country.

Mr. Buechly's chief pride and delight are his wonderful peonies and they are indeed much too wonderful to describe in any manner and as Mr. Buechly is always glad to welcome visitors to his Paradise of flowers, it would be indeed worth all time and trouble to pay a visit to this beautiful nursery farm.

A Few Words of Appreciation from Satisfied Customers

Union City, Ind.

Mr. E. M. Buechly,
Greenville, Ohio

Dear Sir: I received the bulbs, and they are in good condition, everything is satisfactory. I thank you for the extras. Thanking you also for the prompt attention given my order,

I remain respectfully,

Mr. Buechly:

My order of peonies arrived in excellent condition yesterday. I had them planted last evening. I am very much pleased with the roots, they were all that could be expected.

Yours respectfully,
Cambridge, Ohio

Christmas Thoughts

By E. M. BUECHLY

Having some space left in our booklet, we tax your patience with a few thoughts on Christmas that came to our mind on a recent evening before the glad day.

*Yes, another year has gone,
Soon a new born Christmas dawn,
Will be here to cheer us on our weary way;
But, 'tis sad to think each one,
Finds our life's race nearer run,
And reminds us here's no place for us to stay.*

*May the joys and hopes and fears,
That we gather in these years,
Lead us ever on and upward to our goal;
To that land beyond the skies,
Where no troubles ever rise,
To disturb the peace and comfort of the soul.*

Beauty is its own excuse for being.
—Emerson.
