ELLIOTT IRIS GARDENS

GROWERS OF CHOICE IRIS

HAMPTON, - - - IOWA

Iris may be safely planted at any time the ground is open. The period soon after flowering is a very favorable time. July, August and September are ideal months.

Plant Iris in any soil or location where average plants grow. The sunnier the location, the better. Plant the roots only an inch or two under the top of the ground and avoid using fertilizers such as manure, straw or leaves. Plant 12 to 15 inches apart and keep ground loose and free from weeds.

I am sure you will be pleased with the rhizomes I will send you, as I send divisions that will make you a satisfied customer. I guarantee them to reach you in first class condition and will replace any that do not, without argument.

I would rather have your second order than the first—your second order will be larger.

Iris are among the hardiest perennials.

Water, not drought, is the danger with Bearded Iris.

 ----- 25c each   Lemon Lillies ----- 15c each, $1.50 a dozen

Iris may be used in many places to increase the beauty of your grounds—along walks, drives, in shrubbery borders, corners and beds. Plant them where other things will not grow, use them with pride of ownership. They require so little attention and give so much in return. In this climate they are almost always in bloom for Decoration Day, when one can use flowers to such good advantage.

The dwarf varieties make a wonderful edging for larger beds and in front of the taller kinds. One morning last spring I picked two hundred seventy-five blooms from an eight foot strip of Pumila Atrovioleacea, which we use as an edging for our shrubbery on three sides of our home. Can you imagine the beauty of this so early in the spring?

Use small groups in varied colors in the small garden and masses of light color for distance and formality. Pallida Dalmatica and Salmon Oriental Poppies make a wonderful display.

For a few dollars you can start your Iris garden and get increased beauty and enjoyment year after year.

PLANTING AND CARE OF GLADIOLI

In preparing soil for planting it is best to spade in a good covering of manure the fall preceding the planting. In spring, when the ground is in good condition, spade deeply and pulverize thoroughly, using well-rotted manure.

Keep the soil clean and well worked, and frequent watering is essential.

Plant bulbs about four inches deep and four to six inches apart in the row. Plant at intervals of about two weeks apart for a continuation of blooms.
