HUNTINGTON'S

LIST OF BEST KNOWN AND MOST USEFUL

SEEDS of PERENNIAL & BIENNIAL PLANTS

As varieties and prices of these items seldom change we will not send this to you each season. Subject to crop failure we will be able to fill any item offered as long as we are in business.

AQUILEGIA, Long Spurred—Mrs. Scott Elliott

RALPH E. HUNTINGTON
PAINESVILLE, OHIO, U. S. A.

This list may not reach you at planting time so we ask you to file it for future use.

To the Buyer

In presenting this list of seeds, my whole effort has been to place before you the best and widest possible list of really good, fresh, and true seeds. By offering them in this manner, I am able to price them as low as seeds of like quality can be handled. Last season we could hardly keep up with our orders by working nights, and it is very gratifying to note that we received many complimentary letters as to the quality of our seeds.

ORDERING—IMPORTANT

The highest grade annual seeds offered by the best houses, come from very much the same sources, wherever you buy them, and comparatively near by, hence it is an easy matter to keep in touch with the crops and to avoid listing crop failures. On the other hand, very much so, the seeds in this list come from all over the world. It is absolutely impossible for us to learn of crop failures of many items until long after the printer has our catalogue finished. If the buyer, in placing an order, will name one or two second choice items it will be of great help to us, and will insure 100% delivery.

GERMINATION

I do not guarantee germination, either in frames or outside, but I do guarantee at least 90% in an approved test. So many causes may contribute to failure that a guarantee of germination is impossible. Condensed directions for growing are sent out with each order.

QUANTITIES

Except in new or very scarce items, each packet will contain from one to five hundred seeds, according to value per ounce. Trade packets will contain at least three times the quantities of the packets, and in most cases 1000 seeds. Many new and scarce items are bought by the thousand seeds instead of by weight. Some costing us as high as $8 per 100, and these are priced accordingly.

Jobbers or growers please write for ounce or pound prices on your wants.

* GOOD ROCK PLANTS

The seeds offered in this list, such as are not gathered on the Painesville nurseries, come from all over the world. Crop information on most of these is impossible, hence I do not dare offer them in quantity. It often happens that we have many items in good quantity, which are only quoted in packets. Send in your planting lists for quotations.

The very highest grade delphiniums, largest singles and best doubles, give a very light seed, of weak germination, and comparatively short keeping quality. Flowers from the strains offered below will be wonderful in quality, and plants will be large and strong. I do not recommend planting the seeds outside except in a most sheltered situation. Also do not attempt them after Sept. first. After that time we will hold orders for fresh stock, which should be harvested soon. The named sorts will not come true, but colors and types will predominate.			Superbus . Like Caesius, Heavier grower, small single flowers of white. Very useful and pretty rock plant.....	.15	.40
I have tried, and seen on other places, about every strain of delphinium offered on earth. I have seen none better than these offered below, but I have seen many not nearly as good, though held at higher prices.			Cruentus . Deep blood red, small, ¼ oz. 50c.....	.15	.35

Annuals for Fall Sowing

It is not generally known that many of our best and prettiest annuals may be sown in the fall, and that some of them are even better if fall sown. Among these are Alyssum, Antirrhinum, Calendula, Calliopsis, Candytuft, Centaurea, Cyanus and Imperialis, Clarkia, Cosmos, Dianthus, Escholtzia, Euphorbia, Godetia, Gypsophila, Hunnemannia, Kochia, Larkspur, Marvel of Peru, Didiscus, Linum, Lupinus, Nemophila, Nicotiana, Nigella, Petunia (bedding vars), Phlox Drummondii, Poppy, Schizanthus, Verbena. Sweet Peas may also be sown in fall, but personal experience here has shown that our frigid Ohio springs are rather hard on the seedlings. All the above will be found in splendid variety in our list of annuals.

Plants from fall sown seeds are hardier, with better root system, and can be transplanted in the cool, wet weather much easier than those from the spring sowings. They will bloom earlier, and blooming season can be greatly lengthened if both fall and spring sowings are made.

Notice—Care should be taken not to sow too early, else the seeds will germinate and seedlings will winter kill. Early November is the best time in this section.

NOTICE—Instead of writing out long lists, items may be checked and footed and the catalog returned to us. A new one will be sent with the seeds.

CONCERNING PERENNIAL SEEDS AND A FEW OTHERS

Poor germination of seeds makes a fine chance to lay something up against the long suffering seedsman. I think, from years of experience with him, that the average seedsman is doing his level best to get you something that will produce results, and to give you a dollar for the dollar you spend with him. Barring a few scarce perennial seeds, I doubt if there are any seeds held over for one year. Failure may result from so many causes that even our expert growers are not likely to lay failure to old seeds on a first trial. Many items either must be fall planted, or are better planted at that time. These are, and have been for many years, a source of complaint, and of dark suspicion that the seedsman is sending out antiques. Among these are Adonis, Aetheopappus, Anthericum, Apocynum, Asperula, Cassia, Colchicum, Convallaria, Cirsium, Dicentra, Dictamnus, Ferula, Echinops, Gunnera, Hedysarium, Hel-leborus, Heracleum, Hypericum, Liatris, Morina, Oenothera (Missouriensis), Pardonanthus, Peony, Phlox, Sidalcea, Spirea, Trollius, about all vine and shrub seeds. Above items, if planted in frames in fall, or if planted outside, and given some light covering to prevent heaving, will at once remove all suspicion as to any advanced age.

Then there's the really fine seeds, many of which should not be covered at all. Heuchera, Lobelia, Leontopodium, Gnaphalium, Erinus, Androsace and Giant Petunia, and other fine annuals, either should be covered very lightly, or else not covered at all.

Each spring we plant about two acres of perennial seeds, as time and weather will allow, from about April first to May fifteenth. Such large items as Hollyhock, Mallow, Centaurea, Gaillardia, Coreopsis, and like, invariably, barring accidents, give us a good stand, but the finer and more uncertain Campanula, Digitalis, Aquilegia (note that I offer these in two sections), Agrostemma, Double and finer Hybrid Delphiniums (Belladonna and Bellamosa are sure fire outside) Lychnis, and other medium fine seeds often fail, or after germinating meet up with weather conditions that put them out of the running. We expect little from these, however, and make all preparations to handle them in frames. When we do get a stand of them outside it saves much labor and time, so we always try them outside first.

When the grower is not able to be constantly with the seedlings, the ideal summer cover for the frames is common cotton cloth, next best is lath frames, spacing lath about $\frac{1}{2}$ inch apart. We also use glass, covered well with a paint made from white lead thinned with gasoline. This shades during hot weather and is mostly washed off by fall.

Prepare all seed beds, either frames or outside, by thorough plowing or spading, and raking, then for fine seeds level the soil and firm it lightly, scatter the seeds thinly, first seeing that the planting space is level, so that the seeds will not wash to one corner of the little block when watering. Then screen soil over the seeds to the depth of the size of the seeds, or so that they are just covered from sight. Water lightly with a fine sprinkler and await results. Do not allow the soil to bake.

DON'T—Plant seeds deeper than the size of the seeds,

Plant fine seeds in full sun in hot weather (Coarse seeds will do for you about as would lettuce, carrot, beet, or like items).

Plant seedlings out in the fall. Let them stand in seed rows or frame till spring, with light mulch.

Water too much, or with too heavy force. This breaks the tender little plants, and causes damping.

Use too much fertilizer on the little seedlings. Let them get large enough to "eat."

You will never get germination from poor seeds, but you will often get poor germination from perfectly good seeds, at least we do. The trouble lies almost invariably with something done wrong, too heavy, too light, covering; too much, too little water; wrong soil; too much, too little air. Use your plan or seed sense, study your conditions and you will be richly rewarded for a little time and less money spent in the most fascinating branch of gardening.

I will gladly help solve your planting problems, but please remember that you are one of many, and that I'm busy. Don't write until you know you cannot get results yourself.

Respectfully,

R. E. Huntington.
