REMEMBER!

THE kaleidoscopic splendor of Tulips burst upon the merry months of May and June; but long, forgetful weeks of work and days of scorching heat have blustered in between to dull the edge of memory—yet Don't forget the Tulips! They always are so bright and provocative of joy, so fatal to dull care. Let Tulips be coming into your mind. Get out now into the mellow ground of autumn. Plan a few plans for Tulips. Make attractive groups of them against the evergreens; make color harmonies of them.
