MRS. ROSE K. DARNELL

DECORATIVE—As you gaze on the illustration shown in natural colors on the opposite page you see the identical as though you were standing before a plant of our new creation.

“Mrs. Rose K. Darnell”

The large flowers which are very deep and of perfect formation are of true decorative type; having at all times thick full centres.

The stems are extra strong, long and stiff, holding the blooms very erect, which grow above the foliage on a sturdy bush of medium height very free and open.

The plant is an easy grower and a profuse bloomer. Color a rich luminous old rose; tinted throughout on the reverse a soft tourmaline pink. A perfect dahlia in every way.

Plants, $10.00

Greetings

In presenting our catalogue for 1926 we wish to thank our customers for their generous patronage of the past season and also for the many letters of appreciation.

We shall endeavor to please you at all times and solicit again your favors.

Our offerings are finer than ever this season; the tubers are field grown from healthy stock which has never been forced.

Our green plants are grown from carefully selected stock and are strong, well rooted and healthy.

GROWING THE DAHLIA

Select your dahlia garden in a sunny, open location, free from trees and perennials, if possible. The dahlia will grow in any kind of soil, but prefers light, loamy ground. If your soil is of heavy clay, give it a liberal application of either sharp sand or coal ashes, thus making the ground more porous and providing better drainage.

Broadcast your dahlia garden the fall previous with well-rotted barnyard manure to a depth of four to six inches, spading it well under.

In the early spring, spade the soil again, keep it fine and mellow until planting time. Divide your plantings into two; if you have plenty of stock, make three plantings.

June 20th—Make your first planting. Mark out your dahlia garden, four by four feet, if you have the room to spare; if not, three by three feet will do. Now drive stakes five feet long, allowing twelve inches to be driven into the ground; dig holes six inches deep, at the base of each stake; lay the tuber flat down in the hole with the eye end of the tuber next to the stake, three inches from it, with the eye up; cover it up with four inches of soil. When the sprout has grown four inches above the ground, fill up the hole. Only one sprout, never more than two, should be allowed to grow from a tuber. When your plant has grown four sets of leaves, pinch out the top (or the fourth set of leaves); this checks the upward growth, will cause your plants to branch and keep each variety a uniform height. When your plants have attained a height of two feet, work in well around each plant a generous handful of raw bone meal (you have of course been cultivating and hoeing your dahlias well up to this time).

You have pinched out the top of each plant, side shoots or sprouts are growing and buds are appearing. Select the crown or center bud (if it is perfect); if the crown bud should be deformed, choose the best-looking bud of the three that appear on the main branches. At this time disprout the side shoots growing above the three sets of leaves and also rub off all flower buds except the bud that you select for your flower. You will now have a branch or branches, with one bud and stems for your blooms when they are fit to cut, two to three feet long.

Make your second planting the first week in July, and follow the above method. Follow with your third planting July 15th, but do not pinch out the top—just let this late July planting grow upward as they will. As soon as these dahlias of the third planting are well up, give each plant a good handful of high-grade potato fertilizer.

By making three plantings your dahlia garden will return you blooms of the highest quality the entire season.

After frost has killed the tops, dig the tubers carefully; remove the soil from the roots and store in a box or bin in your cellar, safe from frost and heat—a temperature of 40 degrees is best. During the winter, on nice sunny days, open your cellar windows and give them a breath of fresh air.

In the spring divide your clumps, allowing one or two eyes to each tuber for planting out again.

SUMMARY:—Select a sunny, open location for your dahlia garden; keep the soil well spaded, fine and mellow before planting, well cultivated and hoed after planting. Use raw bone meal or high-grade potato fertilizer in addition to well-rotted barnyard manure.

Do not plant too early; do not disbud too early. When your dahlias reach a height of two to three feet, tie them securely to their respective stakes. Keep your tubers after storing away from heat and frost.

CAROLYN HARTMAN

A Sunnyside Creation

HYBRID CACTUS—Those of you who know dahlias will be convinced of the superiority of this beautiful flower by the first glance at the illustration. The formation is of the finest the long petals curl, twist and interlace, giving the large flowers great depth without any coarseness. The plant grows very tall and is free and open.

Stems are long and stiff. The color which gives this dahlia the last word of refinement is a blended combination of delicate buff pink and amber overlaid with a rich golden sheen colored on the reverse a soft Persian lilac shading toward the tips pale rhodonite pink. Fine for exhibition and very desirable for high grade florist work.

MAH JONG

A Sunnyside Creation

HYBRID CACTUS—On a very tall robust plant with many branches grows this new dahlia. "Mah Jong," so named on account of its vivid oriental coloring, which is a lively shade of scarlet red shading to a pale lemon yellow at the base of each petal. The flowers, always with full centers, are very large and of great substance. Fine for exhibition and cutting, as it is a splendid keeper.

This dahlia was admired by everyone who saw it.

Tubers, $10.00; Plants, $5.00

GEORGE AEUGLE

A Sunnyside Creation

DECORATIVE—We offer in this new dahlia all that is desired. The tall, vigorous plant with its fine light green foliage is very open. The immense flowers, which are very full and deep, are held erect on extra strong, stiff stems. Color a rich wax yellow suffused on the reverse dragon's blood red. Fine for exhibition and cutting. A grand keeper.

Plants, $10.00

ARTHUR R. GEMBERLING

A Sunnyside Creation

CACTUS—If you are looking for a yellow cactus in which exhibition and commercial qualities are combined we are proud to offer "Arthur R. Gemberling."

The plant is a strong, robust grower with rich dark green foliage. The flowers, which are composed of long, narrow petals, are produced in great abundance.

The stems are extra strong and stiff as a cane. Formation perfect and a grand keeper.

Color a clear, lively piric yellow, delicately veined, on the reverse soft thulite pink. Will show up pure yellow under artificial light.

A good dahlia that has come to stay.

Tubers, $10.00; Plants, $5.00

MABEL SNYDER

A Sunnyside Creation

DECORATIVE—This variety has a very pleasing appearance and will captivate you at once. The strong, tall plants are covered with very large flowers composed of broad pointed petals reminding one of a pond lily. The stems are long, straight and wiry, holding the blooms which are of beautiful formation in a graceful manner.

The color a soft shade of strontian yellow, outer petals overlaid soft vinaceous orange slightly colored on the reverse pale rosane purple. Fine for exhibition.

Tubers, $5.00; Plants, $2.50

CAMDEN COURIER

A Sunnyside Creation

COLOSSAL DECORATIVE—This massive new exhibition dahlia is not only very large in size but has great depth as well.

The flowers, which are produced in great abundance, are perfect in formation. The petals are of good, thick substance, and while the blooms are of great size, this dahlia is not coarse. The stems are very long and straight.

In color "CAMDEN COURIER" is a light cadmium, overlaid grenadine red. The blending of these two colors produces a shade of rich bronze, which is intensified by a golden glistening sheen spread over the entire bloom. For a short color description, the color could be called a rich golden bronze.

The plant is a giant, with dark green, luxuriant foliage, strong and sturdy. A free grower, of branching habit. Should be given plenty of space to grow, as the plant grows as massive as its blooms. Admired by all who saw this huge dahlia.

Tubers, $10.00; Plants, $5.00

MARJORIE LEIGH

(DECORATIVE)

A Sunnyside Creation

We might write a book and give you various flowing descriptions therein, but we are sure that cold type cannot convey the beauty of this wonderful new dahlia to you. "It is so beautiful, so different," was the exclamation of our visitors who viewed our gardens in the season past.

Picture a very tall plant, strong, sturdy, of upright growth, with glossy foliage of a medium shade of green. Now leave this green setting and let your eyes rest on a mass of beautiful dahlia blossoms, large in size, fine in form; stems that are long, straight and stiff, holding erect, high above the plant, their blooms. The color, the softest shade of Jasper pink, tinted throughout pinkish buff with a reflex of rich begonia rose. A rare color combination.

In the sunlight "Marjorie Leigh" is beautiful. Under artificial light "Marjorie Leigh" is peerless.

The illustration on the opposite page is greatly reduced in size.

Tubers, $10.00; Plants, $5.00

BERTHA PENNINGTON

(DECORATIVE)

A Sunnyside Creation

Just another new beauty to add to the artistic list. "BERTHA PENNINGTON" is a decorative, in form the type that is so useful for every purpose. For the exhibitor and decorator this dahlia will prove a delight, on account of its artistic formation. While this flower grows to a great size, there is no stiffness and heaviness whatever about it.

For the home garden it will be found invaluable, as it is of the habit where you will be greeted with a mass of blooms before you take notice of its foliage.

The stems are very long, stiff and straight, holding their flowers up high.

The color of this most artistic dahlia is a delicate coral pink, shading quickly toward the center to a light gold, while the reverse of the petals, which are so artistically curled and twisted, is of a light coral red. Owing to the formation of the petals, this color is so pronounced that it is almost the main shade of the bloom.

The plant grows very tall and strong. The foliage is of fine leaves of a light green. A grand profuse bloomer.

Tubers, $5.00; Plants, $2.50

MISS AMERICA
A Sunnyside Creation

MISS AMERICA

"The Hundred Per Cent. Dahlia and Why"

In making this assertion we admit a dahlia must be perfect in every way for all purposes. Miss America, hybrid cactus in type, has size, stiff, straight, wiry stems; is a splendid keeper, making it invaluable for the exhibition table. The illustration on the opposite page, shown in natural colors, was cut five days before it was photographed.

For florist's work its value knows no bounds, with its artistic formation, the stiff, long, wiry stems, its keeping qualities and last but not least the rich blending of colors.

For the home garden and the amateur, Miss America cannot fail to please and give satisfaction. A free, rank grower and an early and profuse bloomer. The plant, which is of a branching habit, is very easy for the amateur to work.

In color Miss America is a rich orange buff, blending toward the center, lemon chrome; the long petals are wavy, twisted and curled, colored on the reverse light Jasper red, adding richness and beauty to this autumn shaded dahlia.

The plant is a very free grower, strong and vigorous; the foliage rich dark green; the large flowers, which are borne in great profusion, are of splendid texture—no trace of stiffness or heaviness. The Artistic Dahlia, Miss America.

PRIDE OF CALIFORNIA (Decorative)—A large red decorative, held on extra good stems. Fine for garden and exhibition.....	.50
PRINCESS PAT (Hybrid Decorative)—Flowers are very large, of perfect form, on good stems. Color, a very pleasing shade of old rose, which illuminates under artificial light.....	1.00
ROBERT TREAT (Decorative)—Plants grow strong and produce many blooms of great size and depth, with full centres. Stems are straight, long and erect. Color a lively American Beauty rose shade. Very fine.....		2.00
ROOKWOOD (Giant Decorative)—A remarkably distinctive dahlia in every way; habit of growth, heavy, vigorous and spreading, but dwarf, unusually free flowering, coming into bloom early and producing 100 per cent. perfect flowers to the end of the season. The form is absolutely perfect and entirely distinct, composed of peculiarly curled or twisted petals, in color a pleasing shade of cerise-rose, which does not vary during the entire season.	2.50	1.25

	Tubers	Plants
ROSA NELL (Decorative)—This dahlia cannot be recommended too highly, as it has all of the good qualities which a dahlia is expected to have; that is, perfect size, stem and form. Color commonly described as a bright rose, but really a bright Tyrian rose	.75
ROYAL GOLD (Decorative)—A wonderful free bloomer, with excellent stems, flowers of good size of a striking luminous tone of golden amber	.75
SEÑORITA (Hybrid Cactus)—This massive bloom was admired by every visitor who saw it in our gardens the past season. A fine, free flowering variety, with long, straight, stiff stems. The color a very rich shade of velvety scarlet. Fine.....	1.50	1.00
SKAGERRAK (Hybrid Cactus)—A lovely, clear lemon-yellow, large in size, with good depth. We have grown this dahlia for three years and cannot praise it enough—its fine shape, good, long, straight stems and its free flowering habit make it all that is asked for. Just a real good dahlia.....	.75
SHELIKOFF (Decorative)—A dahlia of good substance on erect stems. Color, deep garnet. Type and form very good.....	.75
SHIRLEY BROWN —A Hybrid Cactus of the true type, with a delightful shade of old gold coloring which is one of its chief attractions. Flowers are borne well above the foliage on long, wiry stems. A large, deep flower, recommended for all purposes	.75
SHUDOW'S LAVENDER (Decorative)—A beautiful lavender decorative of exquisite coloring, fine flowers held on long, stiff stems well above the foliage. A wonderful dahlia.....	1.50	1.00
SISKIYON (Hybrid Cactus)—The plants are low growing but very sturdy. Stems are straight and stiff. The flowers grow easily 10 inches across. Color is a beautiful shade of lavender pink enriched with tints of mauve. A fine dahlia.....		2.50
SPORT FELLOWS (Cactus)—Identical in every way of the much-admired F. W. Fellows, but a lovely shade of deep buttercup yellow. Fine for all purposes. See our pink section.....	1.50
SULPHUREA (Hybrid Cactus)—Large sulphur yellow, with long narrow and pointed petals, very free flowering. Fine for cutting and exhibition. Very attractive.....	.50
T. A. LEONARD (Decorative)—This dahlia never fails to give you an abundance of fine flowers which grow large on fine strong stems. Color a bright carmine rose. A choice dahlia.....	1.50
THEODORE VAIL (Decorative)—Flowers of good size and form, held well above the foliage on long, erect stems. Color, old gold, shading to apricot.....	.50
THE U. S. A. (Decorative)—A mammoth flower of deep orange; that very unusual color so hard to obtain in the dahlia. It beats everything for color yet produced.....	.75
TRENTONIAN (Decorative)—The plant is tall and of spreading habit. The stems are long, stiff and straight and hold the large flowers erect. Color a deep bronze, described by the originators as that of an "Indian's Skin." Profuse bloomer and good keeper. See our pink section.....		2.50
VENUS (Decorative)—A very attractive and lovely variety. Color is a soft shade of creamy white with lavender suffusion.....	.75
WIZARD OF OZ (Decorative)—One of the largest dahlias grown. The color is a glowing amber pink, soft in tone. The plant is a strong grower and flowers are held erect on stout stems....		1.50
WOLFGANG VON GOETHE (Cactus)—Apricot shaded carmine.....	.35
YELLOW KING (Hybrid Cactus)—Immense flowers on long, stiff stems, clear yellow and good keeper as cut flowers.....	.25

The Gladiolus Beautiful

Do not let another season pass without a corner of your garden planted in "GLADIOLI" with their easy culture, their beautiful coloring, together with their keeping quality as a cut flower.

In any good garden soil, free from shade of trees and buildings, spade up a plot of ground, in the early spring, after all danger of frost is past, broadcast it with a liberal dressing of raw bone meal, mix well with the soil. "Do not use fresh manure."

Set the bulbs five to six inches deep in rows, four inches apart between each bulb, rows eighteen inches apart. You can also make a bed and plant in a mass, four inches apart each way. Keep the soil loose, by frequent hoeing. Do not let it form a hard crust.

When cutting your flower spikes, cut them in the early morning or in the evening, when the first two lilies open. Let three or four leaves remain on the plant, so the bulb will cure properly.

Dig bulbs in the fall; cut off tops; let them dry where the sun can get at them for a few days; store away in low boxes, in a dry cellar, where the temperature is around 40 degrees.

For that beauty corner in your garden for 1926 we have prepared

This Beautiful Special Collection

Six Blooming Bulbs, Christine M. Kelway, stately, of lively rich coloring.
Six Blooming Bulbs, Gretchen Zang, fine spikes of the finest pink.
Six Blooming Bulbs, Helen Franklin, very vigorous and decidedly exquisite.
Six Blooming Bulbs, Kunderdi Glory, lilies large and ruffled, very choice.
Six Blooming Bulbs, Maiden Blush, lovely enough for every occasion.
Six Blooming Bulbs, Mrs. Frank Pendleton, tall and beautiful, one of the best.

See full description of each variety on page 27.
