Historic, Archive Document

Do not assume content reflects current scientific knowledge, policies, or practices.

62.71 1926

WING'S Delphinium Gardens

PAUL REVERE

The new discoveries which are being made in the world of flowers are rapidly keeping step with the great unfolding of ideas along every line of light. Delphiniums have always been beautiful, but only in the last few years have they attained their present perfection and height of beauty. There are two noted strains, Blackmore and Langdon, and the Wrexhams, which have taken many prizes in the famous flower shows of England.

When you were a child did you ever experience the joy of blowing soap bubbles? Has the memory of these airy, iridescent colorings stayed with you all these years? The very same wonderful hues are to be found in these delphiniums. We see again these beautiful colorings at dawn and sunset. Delphiniums, with their dignity and glory, surpass all other flowers grown. They have two seasons of blooming and have a long, satisfactory flowering period.

When you buy a package of this seed you are not just buying SEED, but you are purchasing over a hundred promises, and best of all there is a wonderful fulfillment in most of these promises. Hardly any two are alike, for the bees and humming birds have been helping to paint a picture of fairy colorings which bring great joy to the devoted flower lover.

We offer seed of the following Wrexham plants for sale at a dollar and a half a package :

Paul Revere—Semi-double, deepest wisteria, tips of back petals bright blue. Bronze bee. Striking.

Nancy—Single with guard petals. Dark heliotrope over blue, shaded. Veined dark heliotrope, small golden bee, long foot stalks. Spikes over seven feet.

Vision—Large single deep forget-me-not blue, tinged with pink wisteria. Flower three inches across. Bronze bee. Spike five feet six inches. Extremely lovely.

Joan of Arc—Semi-double, royal purple inner petals, royal blue outer petals. Immense dark furry bee. Intense in color.

Mrs. Wm. E. Scott—Wonderful spike, iridescent light mauve and pale blue. Mouse-colored bee. Lovely.

Sally Ann—Sky blue, faintly tinged with pink. Large dark bee. Very attractive.

Good Morning—Wonderful pale frosted blue, tinged pink, large flowers.

Dream—Light mauve, single with guard petals over bright blue, golden bee. Foot stalks eight and nine inches long. Spike over seven feet. Wonderful.

We have mixed seed from rare Wrexham and Blackmore and Langdon delphiniums at a dollar a package.

We will have plants to offer of the above named varieties another year as well as many others of both the English strains.

We have splendid two-year-old plants, unnamed, from a dollar a piece or ten dollars a dozen, to five dollars a plant.

WING'S DELPHINIUM GARDEN
Box 3380, Portland, Oregon