CARE AND PLANTING DIRECTIONS

When you receive bulbs, open package at once to admit air, and store in a fruit cellar. Plant the first or middle of May, or later if you want them later, up to the last of June. Plant in beds, rows, or borders away from trees, and always in the sun, but a good garden is best. Plant about four inches deep, using well-rotted manure or pulverized sheep manure and tankage in the row. Mark each variety with a heavy stake, using water-proof ink or a lead pencil, as ink will wash off. Cultivate thoroughly for the best flowers and water when necessary about once a week, but be sure you use enough to reach the roots, otherwise it is best to leave off the water and just cultivate. In cutting leave about four leaves or more to develop the bulb. Dig before freezing weather, and dry in the sun for a day or two, but do not let them get frosted. Store in a cool fruit cellar if not too damp. Remember, good bulbs, plenty of sun, food and water with good cultivation will give you prize-winning flowers.

IMPORTANT—Buy your bulbs from us. We are members of the American Gladiolus Society with twenty-five years' experience. You are therefore assured of the best bulbs grown.
