GREETINGS

It is with great pleasure that I am able to present my 1928 price list.

Although I advertised my entire business for sale, it proved to be too large a collection for any of the several applicants to handle. By greatly reducing my stock the past season, I feel that with very much improved health I shall continue planting my choice varieties of dahlias, and at the same time soliciting an offer for the entire business, good will and mailing list of 19,000 names, all bona fide requests.

The real estate is in good demand now for building purposes, it being built up on both sides by new residences. Consequently the entire stock of bulbs can be purchased at a great money-making price, either in one lot or several lots.

PLEASE NOTICE

For those who have not been able to visit my field and are not familiar with the new varieties. I make a specialty of making up special collections, all labeled. You need only state the number of bulbs you can use and the total amount you wish to spend—10, 15, 20 or 25 dollars or more. I will then make the selection and submit the list for your approval, and guarantee satisfaction. See page 25 for other special collections.

The stock of many of my varieties were sold so low last year that I have not catalogued them this year, but I may be able to furnish a limited number.

SEEDLINGS

I have selected and described from 1000 seedlings this year, about 50 new kinds of special merit. I will make a special low price for these in one lot.

Don't envy the man that's above you;
For the place he has given his best,
But try all your might and you'll reach him,
By learning to pull with the rest.

There are plenty of steps for the climbers,
But sturdiest, surest and best
Are the steps you take when you're trying
And learning to pull with the rest.—Florists' Review.

NOTE THE FOLLOWING

Do not plant your dahlias in the shade.

Stunted plants, thick and bushy on top, with no blossoms, are the result of dry weather, or too heavy soil.

I guarantee every bulb I send out.

Do not wait for bulbs to sprout before planting. There is nothing like mother earth to sprout them. Plant them where you want them to grow.

The more flowers you cut the better dahlias bloom.

Dahlias do well with me; they will with you, if you will follow my instructions carefully, and above all, note what is said on another page in regard to watering.

SPECIAL OFFERS OF DAHLIA BULBS

READ CAREFULLY

For the benefit of those who are not familiar with the names, colors, and characteristics of the Dahlia, and wish to have the selection made for them, I make the following collections at a special low price to even up stock. They consist of an assortment of classes and colors and the entire selection must be left to me.

- No. 1 COLLECTION, contains one dozen named varieties carefully selected, no two alike, and each labeled. This collection contains at least $2.50 worth of bulbs. Price, postpaid, anywhere in the U. S. A. $1.25
- No. 2 COLLECTION, contains one dozen named varieties carefully selected, no two alike, and each labeled. This collection contains at least $5.00 worth of bulbs. Price, postpaid, anywhere in the U. S. A. 2.25
- No. 3 COLLECTION, contains one dozen named varieties carefully selected, no two alike and each labeled. This collection contains at least $10.00 worth of bulbs. Postpaid, anywhere in the U. S. A. 5.25
- No. 4 COLLECTION, contains 20 bulbs without labels, that have become mixed in digging and handling. Frequently a whole row of high-priced varieties has to be thrown into this collection. The supply for this collection is limited. The quality of bulbs that get into this collection makes it positively necessary to make the price, postpaid, anywhere in the U. S. A. 2.25

"Stillman the Dahlia Man" will always reach me.

SEED FIELD CORN

During the last few years I have taken great pride in producing the best corn for family use that can be grown. I think I have now four varieties that contain all the desirable features that any person could wish for family use. One for corn meal and three for green corn. Prices for selected seed follow.

Stillman's Special Rhode Island Double Cap Corn

Outer end entirely capped. Butt nearly capped. The best white northern corn grown. The ears are large, butt stems are exceedingly small. The ears are easily husked and broken off. It yields two and three ears to the stalk. The kernels are large and in straight rows. It makes the sweetest and best table meal. The kind that makes the best R. I. Johnny-Cakes. Always get the Stillman strain.

DAHLIA SEED

IMPORTANT—It is very important that you understand that every plant you get from seed is an entirely new variety and may be even better than the flower it is taken from. So please do not call any dahlia obtained from seed by any name that is already given to any dahlia as it has no connection with any other.

I do not save seed from poor, insignificant flowers. The wonderful success my customers have with my seed is ample proof that it is far superior to any on the market.

DIRECTIONS FOR PLANTING

In the latitude of New York City seed should be sown about March 15th to April 1st. Flats or boxes about 3 or 4 inches deep are best. Cover the seed about $\frac{1}{2}$ inch deep and keep in a warm place until the plants are all above ground. Then they can be moved to a cooler place. They should be kept in the sun to avoid growing too slender. Transplant in the open when weather is free from frost, about 15 inches apart. Discard any undesirable ones as soon as they bloom, thus giving the others more space.

DAHLIA STAKES

As many of my customers make inquiries of me as to where they may obtain strong Dahlia stakes, I have arranged to furnish a good, strong, Oak Stake, $1\frac{1}{4}$ inches square, and 6 feet long, in the rough, just as they come from the mill, at 12c. each, F. O. B. Westerly. These stakes will last almost a life time if kept under cover when not in use.

GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS

Guarantee.—I guarantee every bulb I send out to be true to name and to have a sprout or at least one live eye that will sprout, but I am not responsible for the growth in another person's hands. In case a bulb fails to sprout, notify me as soon as possible.

First of All.—Send me your order as soon as you receive my catalogue, as the demand for some varieties often exceeds the supply, and those who order early are less liable to disappointment than if they waited till the rush at the time of planting. ORDER bulbs sent early to avoid disappointment. Kindly order by name and not by number.

If you do not want to spare all of the money to send with the order, send the order along, together with one-quarter of the amount as a guarantee of good faith, and the balance can be remitted when you receive notice that your order is ready to ship.

Customers who are not personally known to me will be notified when to remit the amount of their bill.

Bulbs are shipped as soon after April 1st as convenient, unless otherwise specified.

When sending orders use the Order Blank furnished with this catalogue. Any number of additional Order Blanks may be had upon application. When filling out the Order Blanks, be sure to fill out the Second Choice columns as well as the First Choice.

It is well to mention the varieties that you are willing to have substituted in case some of those selected are all sold out. Or, if requested, I will select such varieties as will substitute to best advantage. Otherwise, money sent for such bulbs will be returned to the sender.

Size of Bulbs.—Some varieties of Dahlias always produce very small bulbs (or tubers), while other varieties make large ones. So do not consider small bulbs as worthless, for they are equally as good as large ones.

Bulbs to be replaced after July 1st will be booked for shipment the next season only, and in all cases the bulbs to be replaced must be returned.

The best way to send money is by registered letter, money order or express order.

Do not hesitate to send small orders. An order for one bulb will be as carefully filled as an order for one thousand.

Terms.—Cash invariably in advance, or C. O. D. On all retail orders fully paid for in advance I will prepay carriage to any part of the United States.

ATTENTION.—Orders taken in the Fall not fully paid for will be sent C. O. D., unless previous arrangement has been made.

Do not delay ordering until the time to plant, as many varieties may be sold out before that time. ORDER EARLY.

If bulbs are received before it is convenient to plant them, they should be covered with moist earth until planted.

I use the utmost care to prevent errors in labeling and packing, but if an error does occur, kindly notify me, that it may be rectified immediately.

Please bear in mind that orders are booked and assembled in rotation as received, and are packed to be shipped at the time your order specifies.

FERTILIZER FOR DAHLIAS

I am prepared to furnish both the Pulverized Sheep and Poultry Manure. They are both thoroughly pulverized and kiln dried, and all germs of weeds or grass destroyed. It is perfectly dry and convenient to handle. It is put up in 50 lb. and 100 lb. bags, and can be readily shipped by express or freight. Both of these fertilizers are especially adapted to dahlia growing and for all kinds of garden truck generally. For corn I especially recommend the poultry. Price of poultry in 100-lb. bags, $4.00; 50-lb. bags, $2.25. Sheep in 100-lb. bags, $3.00; 50-lb. bags, $1.75. F. O. B. Westerly.

Be sure your full address comes with every letter or order.

POINTERS ON GROWING DAHLIAS

There are always some people who do not succeed in growing Dahlias with their first season's experience, and are naturally very much disappointed. To those I wish to say that it is not due to a fault of mine or of the bulbs, but is wholly due to your method of cultivation, kind of soil, or weather conditions. A glance through the hundreds of letters I receive from pleased, enthusiastic people who purchase their stock from me is positive proof that my stock is without fault. Exercise a little patience and a whole lot of good common sense and you will grow as nice Dahlias as anyone.

The Right Kind of Soil.—The kind of soil for Dahlias is a light loam or a stony knoll or side hill.

It is very essential that the soil has good drainage. A rich soil is all right if it has good drainage. Heavy, solid ground will produce an abundance of foliage and few and inferior blossoms.

It should be borne in mind that the poorer the soil, the more fertilizer it requires, and the lighter the soil, the more water it needs. See directions for watering elsewhere. It is a very unwise thing to advise no fertilizer in growing Dahlias, especially in the Eastern states. As a rule nothing will grow without sufficient nourishment. Heavy soil is usually quite rich and when lightened as directed elsewhere, will not need as much fertilizing as weak, light soil.

Heavy Soil.—If your soil is heavy with a clay sub-soil, it should be lightened with coal ashes or sand. If coal ashes are used, the coarser they are the better, the main object being to make the soil lighter, more porous, and to give it a good drainage. I have seen Dahlias grown to perfection on a spot where the soil was nearly clear coal ashes.

In applying coal ashes they should be plowed, or spaded in, broad cast, 10 to 18 inches deep, and not dumped in one spot where the Dahlia is planted. One part coal ashes, or sand, and one part soil will not lighten it any too much. This will give a better drainage and allow the sun to act on the soil to a greater depth.

Ashes from either hard or soft coal will do but on very heavy soil those from soft coal are preferable, being much coarser. Both kinds mixed together are also desirable.

Watering.—Watering is one of the most essential things in producing perfect blooms on your Dahlias. 90 per cent. of the failures in growing Dahlias is due to lack of water when the hot days of Summer come. Did you ever notice that the stalk of the Dahlia is about all water except the outside shell, and that where sufficient water is supplied the hole in the center of the main stalk is nearly full of water?

The Dahlia, as soon as it begins to bloom, will absorb the moisture from the soil for a distance of two or three feet. For example: Dig down deeply amid the roots of the Dahlia and then again about 4 or 5 feet from the plant and observe the difference. The dry hot days come earlier some years than others, but usually when the buds begin to open it is time to begin watering.

The best method of doing this is to make a basin-shaped mound of earth around the plant, about 2 feet in diameter, and into this basin turn three or four water pails full of water as often as every three or four days. Fertilizer is used to obtain size, water to make richness of color and perfection. Try it.

Planting.—The ground should be plowed or spaded to a depth of 8 to 10 inches. Make the drill to receive the bulb, 12 to 16 inches long and 6 inches deep, and about 6 inches wide. Lay the bulb down flat in the drill and then apply the fertilizer on both sides of the bulb, 4 to 6 inches from the bulb. If pulverized Sheep Manure is used, about one pint to one quart is usually sufficient to each bulb according to the strength of the soil. If poultry manure is used one pint to each plant is sufficient.

It is very desirable to plow in a quantity of stable manure broadcast. Always stick the stake in the ground before covering the bulb and thus avoid piercing any part of the bulb.

Do not hesitate about ordering Dahlia Bulbs on account of distance, for they go safely by mail or express to any part of the world.

Did you ever notice when a mule's kicking he isn't pulling?

A TALK FOR THE BEGINNER

Do not expect to grow as large flowers as an expert the first year that you try Dahlias, for with any flower you need some experience as well as instruction in order to have great success.

One of my customers said that he had no luck with Dahlias until he read my catalogue. There he found the very information that he needed, viz.: How to lighten the soil and render it porous.

If you have a heavy growth of plants and no flowers, it is an indication of too heavy soil, or the same result will be encountered on some dry, rich land. In the latter case water is what is needed and in great abundance, say three or four pails of water three times a week to each plant, with some liquid fertilizer once a week.

Notice that after a heavy rainfall Dahlias take on a new life and the flowers are fuller in the center and more brilliant in color.

All the Dahlias described in this catalogue as to color and shape are described to the best of my ability, but I do not guarantee them to fully meet the ideas of all purchasers in regard to color shadings.

The best method of planting in the field is to make the distance between every other row 3 and 5 feet, respectively, thus affording a passageway on one side of each row after the plant will become large and fill the 3-foot space. $2\frac{1}{2}$ to 3 feet apart in the row according to the nature of the plant is about the right distance when 3- and 5-foot spaces are used. Do not plant near trees or shrubs, as tree roots will take the strength of the soil from the Dahlia. In the open by themselves is the best place. Avoid the south side of a large building where the sun is extremely hot without a good circulation of air, for the flowers will burn on the back before fully open.

For early flowering they may be planted any time after May 1st or as soon as all danger from frost is passed.

Some people have an idea that the larger the bulb the better the plant it will make, but this is not the case. A small bulb is just as good as, and in many cases better than, a large one.

The Clumps should be divided about the time that you are to plant in the Spring. At this time you can readily see where the sprouts are and with the use of a knife the head of the clump can be split through between the sprouts, or eyes, taking whatever bulb, or bulbs, would come off with one sprout. One sprout is always better than more. If the sprouts are over 2 inches long when you plant the bulb it is better to cut them off a half-inch from the bulb and a new sprout will come and make a better one than the slender one that grew in the cellar.

Care of the Plants.—Keep the ground well cultivated and free from weeds. A frequent stirring of the surface is very beneficial. An application of some standard fertilizer raked into the surface of the soil around the plants two or three times during the season will be very helpful to the development of the flowers.

Never leave more than one or two stalks in a hill. You will have better plants and larger flowers if you will allow only one sprout to grow.

When the buds begin to open a dressing of liquid fertilizer around the plants, several times in a season, will also be beneficial.

Stakes may be used to advantage to prevent plants from breaking down.

Disbudding.—The proper way to disbud the plants is as follows: If the first, or crown bud, appears to be weak or defective, cut it off.

Then when flowers appear on branches, cut them for decorative purposes, below one or two joints, thus removing with the flower whatever buds and foliage may be there. The flowers and foliage cut thus give a better effect for whatever purpose they are to be used. This method is a good invigorator for the plant and at the same time does all the disbudding required on the majority of Dahlias.

Remember, if bulbs are received before you are ready to plant them, cover them with moist earth to keep them from drying up.

Care of the Bulbs in Winter.—After the frost has killed the foliage, lift the clumps with a spade fork and allow them to dry in the sun about half a day. They should then be stored in a place free from frost. If an old style cellar without cement bottom or heat, they need not be covered, but if cemented and heated by furnace, they should be covered with papers and cloth to keep the air from them and thus prevent too much shriveling.

Disbudding.

Wherever you see my dahlias, either in my fields or on my exhibition tables, you see them as they grow naturally. The only right way to exhibit dahlias. There can be no deception in size. I do no disbudding whatever.

Please Notice

Every dahlia offered in this catalog is described to the best of my ability as they are while growing in my fields without any disbudding; and every statement as to size is positively correct as they grow for me with no extra care. If disbudding with proper care is resorted to they will exceed sizes stated. If a purchaser does not grow them to sizes stated the fault is not mine. It may be the weather, the kind of soil, the lack of water, and a dozen other things. One year's trial is not sufficient to try out a new variety. Experiments in your own garden are the best education.

Prices: Orders received prior to Jan. 1st for shipment the following season will be subject to prices quoted in the new catalogue even though they have been reduced from the last issue.

All shipments to Canada after being delivered to the Express Company or the U. S. mail are at purchaser's risk as to delays or loss.

A man that's clean inside and outside; who neither looks up to the rich nor down on the poor; who can lose without squealing; who can win without bragging; considerate to women, children, and old people; who is too brave to lie, too generous to cheat, and too sensible to loaf; who takes his share of the world's goods and lets other people have theirs—this is the ideal conception of a true gentleman.

A lady in Oklahoma wrote me thus: "I am sending to you again for dahlia seed. I have tried seed of various dealers in different parts of the country, but have had better success with yours than any of the others. I have given your name to several friends, who have gotten your seed and have been well pleased with the results."

A lady in Maryland wrote thus: "I am writing you as I promised when the first bloom of the 'Silva Quarta' arrived, and it's here before me. The most wonderful and exquisite creation of any dahlia I have ever seen. My kind neighbors have come in and also marveled at its beauty. The perfect shade of lavender, the wonderful quill petals, one inside the other, the full deep large bloom and its sturdy stem, one almost stands in awe of God's wonderful handiwork."

THE LADIES NEW DAHLIA SNIPS

These new snips are meeting with a large demand. Especially used for disbudding, pruning, and cutting flowers. Being 8 inches long they have proven very useful for many purposes in the household and greenhouse. Sent postpaid in the United States for $1.50.

TESTIMONIALS

Oct. 5, 1927—A gentleman in Massachusetts wrote thus:—"The plants developed splendidly and produced blooms far exceeding my expectations. They have indeed been admired by everyone who has seen them. Another spring if you have similar unlabeled bulbs as good or better (if possible) I shall be in the market for a limited quantity, as I shall also for some of your justly famous Golden Sweet Orange Corn, which we like better than any other we have ever tried."

May 31, 1927—A gentleman in New York wrote me:—"Enclosed find $2.00 for Special Offer No. 4. Last year I had a package of your seedling seed and grew some wonderful flowers. This year I planted the mixed decorative seed. They germinated 90 per cent and are doing wonderful. I have always had wonderful results with your seed. Too bad you are retiring. Luck to you, I think you are entitled to the rest, as you are leaving, like Lindbergh, a mark for someone to shoot which will be hard to beat."

Oct. 17, 1927—A lady in Pennsylvania wrote me thus:—"Last spring I ordered nine dahlias from you. They bore an abundance of blooms. But Oh! the 'Our Country' did so well. They were the talk of this end of the town. Will send you an order for a few more this fall."

Sept. 22, 1927—A physician in No. Carolina wrote me saying:—"I am very partial to the Millionaire, and if you had never originated but that one flower, your life would be a great blessing to every lover of dahlias." This same gentleman wrote me Sept. 24, 1926: "Your U. S. A. won over all competitors and the Millionaire did at our County Fair. It's a wonder. The seed you sent me produced marvelous dahlias."

Jacksonville, Fla.—A gentleman writes:—"Replying to your letter of Jan. 11, 1927. Say to all inquiring that dahlias will do as well in Florida as in any State with proper care, excepting in midsummer. And in addition we can have two crops, spring and fall. Dahlias exhibited by me at the local garden show, April 20 last year were still blooming when frost took them the middle of December, and most of them were six feet tall."

Feb. 1, 1927—A lady in Canada wrote:—"I feel I must tell you about the great success I had from the seed I had from you last year, The Ten Sea Lions. I started the seed in boxes in the house about the middle of March. When the plants were two or three inches high, I transplanted them into tins, and out of nearly 200 plants all flowered but about three or four. Some of the flowers were over 8 inches across, and a perfect riot of colors. People came from miles away to see my flowers. They said they never saw their equal."

Feb. 2, 1927—A lady in Oklahoma wrote:—"Please find inclosed money order for 1 package seed of Rhode Island group and one package seed from all White dahlias. Had a package of mixed Decorative last year, and had the finest flowers in Northeast Oklahoma."
