Introduction

In presenting this price list for the fall of 1927 and spring of 1928, we are pleased to call your attention to the many reductions in prices of peonies. It is now possible to secure a splendid collection of modern peonies at a nominal cost. These reductions are due to the fact that there are available stocks on hand at present to warrant these reductions which we are pleased to pass on to our customers.

We are not issuing a descriptive catalog this season, as there are no changes in the descriptions we wish to make at this time. This price list supercedes all previous quotations and will be effective during the balance of 1927 and the spring of 1928.

The growing of peonies is a hobby with us and we have a splendid collection to choose from. We are growing many varieties not included in our present list and should you desire any variety not shown in our price list, write us for prices as we can doubtless furnish it.

Cultural directions will be found in our descriptive catalog and if you do not have a copy, we will be glad to supply you with one upon request. Briefly, any good garden soil will be found sufficient to raise good peonies. Keep the soil loose about the plant and occasional watering will be found beneficial. When planting see that the eyes are placed at least two inches below the surface of the ground. Shallow planting will be even better than too deep planting which often results in failure to bloom. Care after blooming period will insure a good crop of flowers the following spring.

Give us an opportunity to serve you and we will assure satisfaction. Most of the plants we send out will be undivided plants grown one year from division.

We want to take this opportunity to thank all our customers for their patronage in the past and solicit their continued orders which will have our personal and careful attention.

IMPORTANT

Order early while stocks are unbroken to avoid disappointment. We have splendid stocks of many of the very finest peonies, such as Therese, Tourangelle, Walter Faxon and others. We will make no substitutions without permission.

Peonies and Iris, unless otherwise instructed, will be sent by express at purchaser's expense. On small orders, add postage for parcel post delivery. Any excess postage will be returned.

Remittances must accompany orders unless satisfactory credit has been previously established. Post office money order, check or bank draft made payable to Sunny Acres Nursery is preferred. Stamps will be accepted for small amounts.

Discounts: On orders up to $10.00, a discount of 5% will be allowed; on orders from $10.00 to $30.00, a discount of 8% and on orders from $30.00 up, a discount of 10% may be deducted from the prices herein quoted. This applies only when cash accompanies the order.

We guarantee all stock we send out to be true to name. We will gladly rectify any errors should they occur.

Caution: To avoid delay and confusion, check your order over carefully before mailing to make sure your name and address is plainly written. If express office is located at a different point from mailing address, so indicate.

Location: Our nursery is located on the Jefferson Highway, four miles north of the City of Minneapolis. We are on the direct route to the many beautiful lakes so abundant in northern Minnesota which have proven a hunter's and camper's paradise. We will appreciate and welcome a call from you at any time during the week.

PEONIES

During the early fall months is the proper time to plant peonies. We prefer the latter part of September and early October for our planting. Planting may be completed any time before the ground freezes. See page two for liberal discounts on the following prices.

We urge every reader of this list to join the American Peony Society and receive the bulletins sent out during the year. They will all be found of interest and assistance to you in choosing the best to be obtained in peonies. Write to W. F. Christman, Secretary of the American Peony Society, Robbinsdale, Minn. for full particulars.

IRIS

Along with the early spring blooming perennials we find the Iris among the leaders. For a wide range in coloring, delicate combinations of color, airy bloom, combined with unusual hardiness, we find the Iris in the front rank. They multiply so rapidly under normal conditions that it is possible to have a large collection in a few years from a very modest beginning. If you are not now enjoying their beauty, try a liberal planting this season. Some of the improved varieties are marvelously beautiful.

We are showing the rating in the column preceding the name of the variety that will be of assistance in arriving at comparative values as to desirability. We are carrying some that are not rated high but which we feel possess more merit than the rating indicates.

As with the peony list preceding this we have made the descriptions exceedingly brief. More complete descriptions will be found in our descriptive catalog which has been received by most readers of this list. If you do not have a copy, we will gladly mail one on request.

In planting Iris, the rhizome, or enlarged root, should be placed very near the surface of the ground. The soil should be firmly placed about the roots to hold the plant in place. Good drainage, frequent cultivation, fertile but not too enriched soil will produce the best Iris for you.
