Forcing Gladiolus Bulbs

For Early Fall Delivery

P. Vos & Son, Inc.

Grand Rapids, Michigan

It is a proven fact that the coming blind of forced Glads, Narcissi and Tulips is caused by cutting flower spikes deep for commercial purposes. For this reason we have refrained for several years from cutting flowers for summer sales in order to maintain the greatest possible vitality for winter forcing.

Darwin Tulips

These varieties are well suited for either forcing or bedding.

Prices are per 1,000; 250 at the 1,000 rate, and for smaller quantities please add 10 %.

Dielytra Spectabilis or "Bleeding Heart"

These plants are strong, healthy stock, and always make popular sellers. A very beautiful drooping heart-shaped flower in pink and white. For forcing or outside planting.

Per dozen	$ 4.80
Per 100	35.00

Spiraea (Astilbe)

Large selected clumps for forcing or outside planting. Most easily grown in any border, forming attractive bushes and giving just that added touch of color so often needed. They develop well feathered plumes of rich colored flowers—the cluster having a pyramidal effect, terminating with sprays of pure white, soft pink or deep rose flowers.
