Special Offer --- Flower Seeds

To Sow Now

Our extensive flower seed business is built up on the foundation of knowing from direct experience what we are selling you. We appreciate fully that our interest as well as yours is promoted by supplying you with "All the best and nothing else." The past Summer we have very carefully studied over trials of Petunias and have added this specialty to our list. No class of pot or bedding plants are as popular and as profitable as are the greatly improved Grandiflora and California Giant strain of Petunias. This list will be followed January 1 by our Annual Spring Catalogue.

Early Sweet Pea White Harmony, Our Best Commercial White

Late, or Summer Peas

Planted about 12 inches apart with Early Peas after Mums, this late flowering type will not grow up or crowd the Earlies until they have exhausted themselves; after which their strong growth crowds out the earlies and they flower freely well through June. South of the Ohio River this late type can be sown in the open and unless the winter is too severe or changeable they easily winter over with some protection. In more northerly sections this plan is sometimes carried out successfully. They must not be sown too early.

STOCKS AS A MONEY CROP

TO follow Mums or plant at any time up to March 1, our American Strains of Stocks are profitable. They will produce from 60% to 70% double flowers and this proportion can be substantially increased by removing the weak plants. We further find the single stem close planting system more profitable than liberal spacing and topping. Our system of handling this crop is fully detailed in a bulletin we issue and gladly enclose on request.

The varieties marked x we find the very finest

PETUNIAS

The past season we have thoroughly and carefully compared all available varieties of Petunias. This has enabled us to make up a list that we feel very confident includes all really worth while types and varieties. This seed is grown for us by the leading Petunia specialists of California. To secure seed it is necessary to hand pollinate nearly all the varieties we offer and this is costly work. The seed we offer is 1929 crop and will be harvested and ready to mail about November 15.

ANNUAL LARKSPUR

Easy to grow—beautifully soft colored flowers on fine stems are some of the reasons for the rapidly increasing use of "Annual Delphiniums" as Larkspur are sometimes called. There are two distinct types, the regular Branching or Stock Flowered should be planted 10 x 12 inches apart. "Exquisite Pink Improved" and the new "Empress Rose" are fine improvements in this class. Dark and Sky Blue are also valuable colors. The Hyacinth Flowered type produces but one fine long stem, is several weeks earlier than the Branching kind and should be planted in rows 8 inches apart and about 3 in the row. We have a full supply of fresh seed of all colors.

The following are the Stock Flowered or Tall Branching type.

Ball Mignonnette

For many years we have carefully compared numerous strains of Mignonette with the one we have bred up and are offering under our name. This strain produces full heavy spikes of light colored flowers and is two to three weeks earlier than New York Market.

We also have a carefully selected strain of New York Market. Both are priced at:

Trade Packet, $1.00 1/4 oz. $2.50 1/2 oz. $4.00 1 oz. $7.00.

SCHIZANTHUS

This is a valuable annual especially for the retail grower, and we know of nothing easier to handle. For Christmas flowering, sow seeds in September and shift on in pots, flowering in 4-inch, and pinch back about November 1. For later flowering, shift in larger pots and keep pinched; in this way large specimens are produced for Spring flowering. They can also be sown out in a bed after Mums for Spring cut flowers. Must be grown in cool house.
