VIGORO

A highly concentrated plant food scientifically prepared. For all purposes where a fertilizer is used, it has given satisfactory results.

For garden plants it should be thoroughly mixed in the soil before planting. For house plants it should be mixed in the soil before potting, and added on the surface just before the blooming period. It produces wonderful velvety lawns, and has stood the test during the past summer. Full directions in the "How to Use" booklet in the top of each bag.
