Pride of Quecklenberg. This variety was imported from Germany where they specialize in hybridizing Pelargoniums. It is a very strong grower and a free bloomer. The color shades from a light salmon to almost black. The lower petals are salmon with a light throat and a deeper color with very dark blotches on the upper petals. It begins to bloom in April and is at its best in May. The color is entirely different from any other variety and it is very popular with the retail trade.
