Price List of Gladiolus Bulbs for 1929-1930

A FEW WORDS ABOUT PRICES

I am particularly pleased to be able to offer many of the late introductions at such materially reduced prices that they will be within the reach of many who have wanted these beautiful varieties, but have felt that they could not afford the prices at which they were held.

At the time this list is prepared there are no others available, and in figuring the prices for the many varieties, I am apt to make many errors. Some may be too low; in which case, I will be the loser. On the other hand, some varieties may be listed at a little higher price than will be asked by some other grower, later on. I wish to assure you that I will be "right on the job," and will more than make up any difference in price by liberality in count, and you may order from this list with perfect confidence that you will receive full value for your money.

QUALITY

It is now a well known, and generally accepted fact, that bulbs produced in this region are of exceptionally fine quality.

While poor stock can be grown anywhere by improper methods, I do not believe it possible to produce anywhere in the world, finer stock than can be grown right here in the beautiful Willamette Valley of Oregon, where we are blessed with fertile soil, wonderful climate, abundant water, and a long growing season.

My bulbs are grown on new ground each year and are sound, plump, free from disease, and true to name.

SIZES

So far as possible, I have used the six standard sizes in this list, but there are a number of varieties of which stock is somewhat limited, and the bulbs at this time being not more than half grown, cannot tell exactly what I will have to offer. These varieties are listed as "Large," meaning over one inch in diameter; "Medium," meaning over three-quarters of an inch; and "Small," meaning about one-half inch. Some of the small size may be a trifle less than one-half inch, but generally this size, and the medium and large as well, will run well oversize. I am liberal in grading all of my stock.

The best size to order depends on several things. For exhibition blooms, large young bulbs are best, though any bulb of an inch or more may be counted upon to give a splendid spike, and generally, two or more spikes. Medium sized bulbs will give very good results, and even numbers five and six will yield many blooms, though the spikes will not be as large as those from the larger sizes. The small sizes are best for the purpose of increasing stock, and I order them and bulblets almost exclusively for my own planting.

HOW TO ORDER

Please note carefully whether the variety is priced "each," "per dozen," or "per 100." Ten bulbs or 25 bulblets at the 100 price; 100 bulblets at the 1000 price. For less number, add 20%. Six bulbs or bulblets at the dozen price. Single bulbs or bulblets at one-tenth of the dozen price. The 1000 price for bulbs is nine times the 100 price. No single item less than 10c.

While very small orders are generally handled at a loss, I will be glad to fill any order, regardless of amount. I figure that in this way, I can reach many new customers who are willing to send a trial order. Last season had as many as four repeat orders from some of these customers.

WHAT TO ORDER

It is not necessary to buy the high-priced varieties if you do not care to do so. A very beautiful assortment may be had from this list without paying over ten cents for any bulb, and if you are not familiar with varieties, order a "Set" containing about the number of bulbs you want.

There is much pleasure and satisfaction in having new and beautiful Glads in your own garden, but the number of these to order must necessarily depend on your purse, the degree to which you are infatuated with this beautiful flower, and the purpose for which you wish them. It is good business for a commercial grower to take on new varieties while they are still high in price, and propagate his own stock.

PLANT MORE GLADS

The Gladiolus is such a wonderful flower for cutting that there should be a liberal planting in every garden. It is a good idea to plant your novelties and "pets" in the flower beds where they may be seen and admired by passers-by, as well as by yourself. But it is a still better idea to set aside a liberal space in your vegetable garden or back yard, and there plant liberally of the more reasonably priced and equally beautiful ones, so that you will have an abundance of flowers all through the summer and early fall for your own use, and to give to your friends. I offer a mixture which is especially well adapted to this purpose, the mixed sizes greatly prolonging the blooming season.

USE BULBS FOR GIFTS

I have often wondered why bulbs are not more generally used for gifts, especially at Christmas. There are some "Sets" offered in this list which could be divided up to make a number of satisfactory gifts at small cost, and they would be far more acceptable to any flower lover than most of the gifts which are exchanged at the Christmas season. Try it this year. You will please your friends and ease the burden of Christmas shopping.

GUARANTEE

Every shipment is guaranteed to be free from disease; true to name, and to be satisfactory to the customer in every respect. All or any part of any shipment may be returned to me and I will promptly refund the price paid, plus return charges. Any stock proving untrue to name will be replaced with very liberal overcount, or money will be refunded, or I will make any adjustment within reason, that you may suggest.

Delivery of all orders in good condition is guaranteed. This includes damage by freezing, so you need not hesitate to order in fall or winter.

SUBSTITUTION

If sold out of any size ordered, I will substitute the next size smaller, giving overcount to more than cover the difference in price. If unwilling for me to do this, please so state in your order.

I never substitute in varieties without permission, but if you are willing that this be done in case I am out of any variety ordered, please say so. It is very helpful to me, and in such cases, I always send something of greater value.

ORDER EARLY

It is becoming more and more customary for Glad growers to order in the fall or early winter. This insures securing the kinds and sizes wanted. There are many varieties which are still rather scarce, and I notice that when I am sold out of one, most of the other growers are in the same fix. In the early part of the season, when my storage is filled to overflowing, I am likely to think that I have too much stock, and be extra liberal in count, though I always give liberal overcount in filling orders.

It is no joke about my storage being filled to overflowing. Every season, thus far, I have doubled my planting over the year before, so that my stock is always ahead of my storage, and I just have to ship a lot of it in the fall. Therefore, if you help me by placing your order early, I am going to reciprocate by giving you extra bulbs. Am making arrangements to facilitate the digging and cleaning of my stock and expect to ship fall orders as soon as bulbs can be sufficiently cured to pack.

TERMS

Terms are cash with order, except that if desired, a deposit of 25% will hold order for shipment until March 1, after which date, it will be sent C.O.D. for any amount unpaid at that time.

Charges are prepaid to all points in the United States and Canada; 5% discount on orders of $25.00 to $50.00; 10% discount on orders of $50.00 or more. In case you contemplate placing a large order, please submit list for special quotation. I may be able to save you money.

CULTURAL SUGGESTIONS

These suggestions are intended for beginners, and are designed to enable them to secure satisfactory results with the minimum amount of trouble:

A sunny location is necessary, and Glads will not do well close to foundation walls or rank growing shrubbery, which robs the soil of moisture and plant food. While sandy loam probably is best, they will do well in almost any soil.

Plant the first four sizes about four inches deep, and the smaller ones two and one-half to three inches. One and one-half to two inches is about right for bulblets. Space bulbs four to six inches apart. Bulblets are best planted thickly in rows or trenches.

Any good commercial fertilizer may be used, following the directions that come with it. Pulverized sheep manure, mixed with the soil in the bottom of rows or trenches is excellent.

In cutting, leave at least four leaves on the plant or you will not find a good bulb when you dig in the fall.

Give your Glads clean cultivation, and water when needed. When you water, soak the ground 'way down below the roots. A superficial sprinkling of the surface does no good to any plant.

Dig when the tops begin to turn brown, and before the ground freezes. Cut tops off close to the bulb, and spread bulbs to dry, protecting from dew and frost. They may be dried in shed or basement if desired. After about two or three weeks, the new bulb will separate readily from the old bulb and root, and at this time, they should be cleaned and stored for the winter. Small quantities will keep in paper bags with the tops left open. Good idea to store large quantities in trays with screen wire bottoms, placed in racks. The idea is to permit circulation of air around bulbs. Bulblets may be stored in any convenient open receptacle. If closed up tight, they are apt to mildew. Keep in a cool, dry place.

WHAT OUR CUSTOMERS SAY

The following quotations from a few of the many letters received last season, will indicate the manner in which my orders are handled:

EDMONTON, ALBERTA

"In my time I have bought bulbs from every place—East, West, North and South—and had both good and bad from all; but for both quality of stock and generous treatment, you took the palm."

SYRACUSE, N. Y.

"Received shipment of bulbs today and they sure look fine, the best I have ever seen anywhere. Health, clean, size, etc., they can't be beat. I have bought a lot of bulbs but none ever looked finer than the shipment from you, and as to extras, I thought at first, on opening package, I had the wrong one—so I sure wish to thank you for your liberality."

MODESTO, CALIFORNIA

"I acknowledge receipt in excellent condition of the Gladiolus ordered by me on January 28. I wish to express my appreciation of the manner in which you filled my order. Your special offer called for bulbs three-quarters inch in size, but you have furnished very few that small and about four-fifths of them are full one and one-half inches, and some larger. Your offer specified 180 bulbs, and you have forwarded more than 200. In the few substitutions, you have been so liberal in quality and number that I would not trade the substitutions for those specified. Of the entire lot I have not found one diseased, infected or imperfect bulb. I am pleased to recommend you to my friends."

HUNTINGTON, W. VA.

"I want to let you know the bulbs arrived safely and in fine condition, and I am so pleased with them can hardly wait to plant them. Also thank you so much for the extras. You were so generous and I do appreciate them."

NORTH WILDWOOD, N. J.

"Your bulbs received in wonderful condition, and generous count."

SEATTLE, WASH.

"I find the No. 6's very satisfactory, and every one of yours bloomed. Will send my order soon. I was sure glad of the new list. I'd about worn mine out."

OTTUMWA, IOWA

"Bulbs arrived O.K. Was very much pleased with your generosity. Hope they bloom as nice as they look."

CHILLICOTHE, OHIO

"I received the shipment of bulbs this A. M., and am more than pleased with them. You were generous both in your count and your extras. Thank you very much for the same. Please keep my name on your mailing list, so that I may receive your price lists in the future, as you will get my orders from now on."

DUBUQUE, IOWA

"The Glad bulbs were received yesterday all O.K., and I want to thank you for the liberal count and the extras. Mr. ———, who on my recommendation ordered some bulbs from you, also received his yesterday, and is very much pleased with them, and is grateful for the extras and liberal count."

SALISBURY, PA.

"Received your shipment of Glad bulbs today in A-1 condition. Many thanks for the fine high crowned bulbs, and the many extras, also the extra bulblets."
