Our Oregon Grown "Dutch Bulbs"

We have been successfully growing and offering these bulbs to the American public for the past six years during which time we have proven beyond any question or doubt that our Willamette Valley grown bulbs are the equal of the finest Holland or English product. Beginning in the fall of 1923 with one acre of tulip and narcissi bulbs we have made steady progress until we expect to plant approximately twenty acres of these bulbs the coming fall. With twelve acres of tulips approximating two million bulbs planted during the past year, and involving nearly two hundred separate varieties, we undoubtedly have the largest and most varied planting of these bulbs in America. The particular merit of our tulip and narcissi bulbs aside from the possibilities of early delivery lies in their extreme earliness of blooming; the bulbs ripening fully three weeks ahead of the imported stock, assures a corresponding gain in time of blooming the following spring. Narcissi bulbs grow to the finest degree of perfection here in the Pacific Northwest, absolutely the very cream of the American product both as to size and quality. This is readily attested to by the fact that four of Holland's largest firms are now growing their total stocks of narcissi for the American trade here, involving over three hundred acres.
