NEW ENGLAND GLADIOLUS SOCIETY EXHIBITION AT BOSTON, 1929.

— 1929 —

We have added many of the newer varieties to our list this season because we are able to offer them at prices within reach of customers that are always seeking the new and the rare, also many of the old favorites that are continuously being demanded. We grow for trial each year a large number of the latest creations and the selected few are held until we can increase sufficient stock to offer them at prices within reason. With a crop of well over ten million bulbs and with constantly improved facilities we can be depended upon more than ever before to furnish our ever increasing list of customers with their complete bulb requirements without disappointment and at very reasonable prices.

You are cordially invited during the summer. We shall have over twenty acres for Gladiolus this year and it will well repay you for the trip to come and see what a gorgeous sight the blooms on this massive planting will make and to compare the newest creations with your present favorite.

We are located on U. S. Route 1 on the main highway to Portsmouth, six miles from Newburyport.

Sincerely,

LOUIS G. ROWE, Prop.

Care and Culture of Gladiolus

BULBS should not be planted until corn planting time, as nothing is gained by planting before the ground is warm.

Select a sunny location away from roots of trees and shrubs. In localities where summer is extremely warm, a partially shaded situation is preferable. If your soil is heavy, plant four inches deep, and if light, six inches, having bulbs five or six inches apart.

Place bulbs in a well worked trench in staggard or zigzag rows— . . . , and cover at first with about two inches of loam; when shoots begin to appear, work balance of loam into the trench. At all times keep the soil loose. As an aid to producing larger blooms work in fertilizer around the plants when about a foot or more in height and never at planting time. At the time flower spikes appear abundant watering is very beneficial.

Bulbs should be dug as soon as you note the leaves turning yellow. Cut stem off half an inch above bulb, spread them out to dry for two or three days in a sunny location and then place in an open shed or room for two weeks or more before storing them away in a cool, dry cellar. Keep them spread out and not over three inches deep. It is a benefit to give bulbs an occasional sunning or airing during the winter.

When cutting the flowers be sure to leave at least four leaves remaining on the plant. Positive injury to the blooming qualities of the bulb for the following year will occur if this precaution is not heeded.

If you want the blooms for cut flowers, cut the spike when first bud fully opens. The remaining buds will open nicely and give you a longer period of bloom and greater enjoyment.

Remove wilted blossoms, change water and cut off small portion of the stems each day.

THE large bulbs that we offer average $1\frac{1}{2}$ inches and are the best flowering size. The medium bulbs are about one inch and guaranteed to bloom, but cannot be expected to give as large a bloom as the larger bulbs the first year. The small size will average $\frac{3}{4}$ inch and all should bloom and will develop into fine flowering bulbs for next season as well as giving a fine increase of bulblets. No less than six of the smaller sizes will be sold unless priced singly. Six bulbs offered at the dozen rate.
