IRISES OF PERSONALITY

“The ornamental is just as necessary to the greatest good in human life as that which we speak of as strictly practical. Things which seem to be purely ornamental are sometimes the most useful, and we know very well that the beautiful is second to nothing in its power to serve mankind.”

Visitors are always welcome. The height of the flowering season usually extends from the middle of May to the middle of June or even later. The dwarf Irises bloom earlier, about the end of April or the first part of May. In Irises, the present season promises an especially generous showing of such wonderfully fine things as Cardinal, Germaine Perthuis, Geo. J. Tribolet, Moa, Magnificent, Yellow Moon, Frieda Mohr, William Mohr, Balboa, Mrs. Carion Cran, Dolly Madison, Allies, Amber, Lady Byng and Valencia. In addition we hope to have demonstration bloom from many fine varieties added only last season, including Tropic Seas, Reverie, Ophelia, Jubilee, Louis Bel, Purissima, Sir Michael, Prosperity, La Correge, Realm, Labor, Thais, Ophir Gold, Wild Rose and Zula.

To reach our garden from U. S. 12, follow M. 78 1.4 miles south of U. S. 12 on Lake Avenue and Kernan Drive, turn left on East Columbia Ave., one block (east), then left (north) on Grand Boulevard to 172—the first place from the corner on the left or west side of the street.

Prices quoted are net cash with order with the exception that 5% may be deducted on orders for named varieties at catalogue prices amounting to $10 or more and 10% on orders of $25 or more. All special offers are net as quoted.

Special prices will be quoted on lots of one dozen or more of one variety. We are always glad to quote prices on lists of wanted varieties.

Terms cash with orders. Remittances may be by check, money order, bank draft or registered mail. Orders amounting to less than $2 are not solicited.

Orders for all plant material herein offered will be filled in rotation as received. Early orders are highly advisable as stocks of some varieties are very limited.

We reserve the right to refund money paid for plants which for any reason beyond our control we are unable to supply. Shipment of Irises will be made as soon as possible after the blooming season, beginning about July 1st and continuing through the balance of the season. Shipment of Peonies begins about September 15, and shipment of Poppy roots from the middle of August on.

No warranty, either express or implied, is given as to growth or productivity of any plant, root, bulb or seed which we offer for sale. We do guarantee to exercise the greatest of care in filling orders, and are always glad to rectify any errors made in the names of varieties shipped to the extent of replacing any variety that proves untrue to name. We ship only live, healthy stock which we guarantee to arrive in good condition. Every order has our close personal attention. It is our earnest desire and effort to please every customer.

All offerings in this list at prices quoted will be shipped prepaid anywhere in the United States by parcel post or express at our option.

We do not substitute unless requested to do so.

“Sunbeams imprisoned that fall to earth and grow;
The lovely ling’ring blush of sunset afterglow.
The whiteness of the snows, a gleam of garish gold,
A wave of royal purple, a dash of yellow bold.”

—Grace Hine Dalzell.

“If you yield to the magic spell of the Iris, it will lead you across the border into a wonderland of delight, for an Iris garden is a floral world in itself.”

IRISES

This list of 450 named Irises is presented in full confidence that it represents in a very unusual degree the finest varieties of recent introduction. This selection, or any part of it, would grace the garden of the keenest connoisseur. The selection has been aided by several of the leading Iris authorities of this country who have visited personally the gardens of most of the distinguished American introducers, and also have made repeated pilgrimages to the most famous originators and introducers of France and England.

The members of the Garden Club of America recently voted the Iris our most popular garden flower. This is a well deserved distinction, because, with its dainty refinement, with the delicate poise of the Orchid, it presents a wider range of coloring, will withstand more neglect and abuse and will thrive under more widely varied and less favorable conditions than any other garden flower. But it is at its best when planted in rich well drained soil and in a position open to full sunshine.

Increasing stocks have made possible considerable reductions in prices of many fine varieties. We are very glad to pass this saving along to our customers.

Any 25 cent Iris will be sold 3 for 50 cents ; $1.75 per dozen.

Any 35 cent Iris will be sold 3 for 85 cents ; $2.25 per dozen.

Any 50 cent Iris will be sold 3 for $1.25 ; $4.00 per dozen.

Any 60 cent Iris will be sold 3 for $1.50 ; $5.00 per dozen.

Any 75 cent Iris will be sold 3 for $1.85 ; $6.00 per dozen.

Any $1.00 Iris here listed will be sold 3 for $2.50.

Special quotations on larger quantities.

Your choice any twelve 25 cent Irises listed for $2.25 ;
any 20, $3.50.

What is this—the Iris,
 It's a sunbeam in bloom;
 It's robe is the rainbow
 In colors so gay,
 All covered with star-dust
 That fell by the way.

“Mysterious as the opal with its ever-changing fire, its marvelous, fragile structure more wonderful than the orchid, its beauty seems wholly ethereal, making you dream of far-away things—like the smoky clouds at dusk, or the rainbow glistening in the sun.”—B. H. Farr.

Most of the beardless Irises are right at home on the border of a pool, or in a grassy meadow with a brook running through it, though they will do well in the ordinary garden if given good care immediately after planting and until they become established.

Bonemeal, Stonemeal, and very light applications of Vigoro are the best fertilizers for Irises. Never use fresh, barnyard manure.

Remember that rhizomes of bearded Irises like a good baking in the sun. Naturally they “sit” on the ground as a duck “sits on the water.

Iris root rot, when it appears, should be entirely cut out and burned. The cut surfaces of the rhizomes should be bathed in a purple solution of Potassium permanganate and allowed to bake in the sun a few days before replanting.

In poorly drained and heavy soils, while not perhaps necessary, it is well to mulch Irises lightly in the late fall after the ground freezes to prevent heaving out from alternate freezing and thawing.

PEONIES

"No garden can really be too small to hold a Peony. Had I but four square feet of ground at my disposal I would plant a Peony in the center and proceed to worship."

—Mrs. Edward Harding.

Fine Peonies, because of their all-around dependability their sturdiness, their exquisite beauty and delightful fragrance have a peculiar fascination for flower lovers. The Peony is so hardy that it thrives in the coldest climate, without winter protection. Wherever the ground freezes at some time during the winter the peony can be successfully grown. It is the ideal flower of the North where most perennials can hardly survive. Nearly all of the varieties in this list are real aristocrats of the Peony world.

Peony roots are best planted at any time in the fall, beginning about the middle of September. All orders for Peony roots will be shipped during this period. Prices are for standard divisions with three or more eyes.

A discount of 15 % from list prices will be allowed when selection of varieties is left to us.

ORIENTAL POPPIES

"For dazzling barbaric splendor, the great Oriental Poppies are absolutely unrivaled. Standing out in bold relief against a background of green, they command instant attention, and a mass of them in bloom is a sight never to be forgotten."—B. H. Farr.

The prevailing color is a vivid orange-scarlet, with black blotches at the base of the petals, the heart of the enormous, cup-shaped flowers showing a mass of bluish black stamens in the center. The stamens of Poppies are said to be the most beautiful stamens of all flowers. The gigantic flowers sometimes reach a diameter of nine to ten inches or even more.

Says Dr. J. H. Neeley: "Varying from red to orange, salmon to pink, mulberry to white, this barbaric flower offers a wide range of colors, is free from disease, fairly hardy and easy to transplant."

"It has been well said that the blood of all the poppies runs red; that all are harmonious, all appealing, but among the family as a whole, there is none so regal as the Oriental Poppy."

The chief requirement of this most striking plant is that it should be moved only after the beginning of the dormant season about the first to the middle of August, and from then until the ground freezes in the fall. It is important in transplanting that the plant be set deep enough to place the crowns two to three inches below the surface. After the ground freezes, a light covering of straw or coarse litter should be placed over the ground to prevent the plants from being heaved out by alternate freezing and thawing which, in our experience, is the most common cause of winter killing. Plants also may be killed by planting where water will stand over the crowns in winter, or by cutting off the crowns after growth starts in the spring. The plants like full sun, but do well in partial shade, especially certain of the darker colored varieties. It is well also when transplanting to make a fresh diagonal cut with a sharp knife at the base of the root, so that a freshly cut surface may be exposed to the soil. Plant about two feet apart.

Prices are for field grown plants. Some nurseries claim that pot-grown plants give entirely satisfactory results. Other extensive nurseries agree with us that they are much inferior, and that field-grown plants not only are much more likely to live and grow well, but also that in the great majority of cases they bloom earlier and more generously.

The wonderful blooms may be kept for several days as cut flowers if the freshly cut stems are immediately singed at the cut surface, or if the stems are plunged at once into boiling water for a moment or two, and then placed in cold water.

Many new hybrid varieties have been introduced in recent years, extending the color range and showing improved habit and form. A few of these newer varieties are somewhat temperamental, requiring frequent transplanting or propagating, and some of them have a tendency to disappear after blooming. All such varieties in this list together with some others of which our stocks are very small are not priced and are not offered for sale during the present season.

We believe that the vogue of the Oriental Poppy is just beginning; that when its ease of culture, its wide color range and striking charm are better appreciated, the demand will far exceed any commercial supply that now exists. We believe that this list of some 65 named varieties of Oriental Poppies is the largest list offered by any grower in this country. The largest list we have found offered by any commercial grower hardly exceeds twenty named sorts.

Plant Oriental Poppies in your garden and enjoy a thrill that perhaps you have never before experienced.

TIGRIDIA

(Tigerflower, or Mexican Shell Flower)

This is a summer flowering bulbous plant that blooms freely from mid-summer until frost bearing colored and curious tiger-like blotches in the center of the flower. The flowers are large, 4 to 6 inches across, triangular in shape, marked with peculiarly arranged spots and blotches in brilliant orange scarlet, yellow, gold and brown. The foliage and bulbs resemble those of the Gladiolus and cultural requirements are very similar. The bulbs may be planted at intervals in the spring after frost, and must be dug in the fall and stored in a cool, dry place as with Gladioli bulbs. The bulbs should be protected from mice during the winter.

TIGRIDIA Pavonia. Large, flat shell-like flowers with three large petals of bright orange-scarlet and center of clear, bright yellow with curious blotches of gold and reddish-brown. 25c each; 60c for 3; $2.00 per dozen.

“Purple Iris,
Streaked with amethystine memories of the night,
Health-glossed and firm as are the ripe wings
Of oriental butterflies—”.
