POTASH-FED
DAHLIAS

We certainly appreciate all the letters we have received telling us of the wonderful results our customers have had growing Potash Fed Dahlias. If testimonials were in keeping with our sales policy, we could fill a book, but we feel fully repaid for our effort in producing a super stock which is manifest by the universal satisfaction of our customers.

You will find another change in Dahliadel catalog, and we hope it will help you in selecting varieties. The number directly following the originator's name is our score of that dahlia, not copied from any trial grounds, but scored as the variety does for us at Vineland, N. J., grown in various types of soil under different methods of topping and pruning, scoring down for such weaknesses as late blooming, not standing August heat, sporting open centres, also scoring hard on foliage being susceptible to ravages of Thrips and Leaf Hoppers. Following is the score card used:

- 15 Form—True to type, artistic.
- 15 Size—According to type, diameter x depth.
- 15 Color—Clean, attractive, pleasing and useful.
- 20 Stem—Erect but not cumbersome or brittle.
- 15 Foliage—Strong, healthy and insect resistant.
- 15 Substance—Including keeping qualities and tight petals.
- 5 Distinctiveness—Something different or unusual in form or color.

100

The letters, c g e, classifying the dahlia to its use: (c) Cut flowers—suitable for the florist, or for cutting for baskets, bouquets and decoration. Qualifications are good keepers with tight petals of suitable form and colors, on good stems. Keeping qualities have preference over size. (g) Garden varieties—suitable for landscape work, borders, beds and mass planting, free and early bloomers of showy colors. (e) Exhibition varieties—winners on the exhibition table, having qualities that score high in competitive judging, size, form, stem and color predominating.

“Potash Fed Dahlias” is not a secret or just a trade name, but a modern method of growing dahlias so that they are literally alive with energy, making failure well-nigh impossible. Our whole object in producing such stock is so that you may reap the harvest of blooms, and our cultural directions scattered through the catalog are to aid you in growing them successfully.

The application of Potash in combination with the other elements necessary for proper plant growth (See Fertilizer), accompanied with the following conditions, will produce Potash Fed Dahlias.

First: Cultivation to aerate and sweeten the soil to keep the plant in a steady, healthy, growing condition. See Cultivating.

Second: Watering when necessary to make and keep the plant food available at all times. See Irrigation.

Third: Most important of all is the health of the stock from which your plants or tubers were grown. This condition has its direct effect on the results obtained, for an unhealthy plant, whether stunted or diseased, cannot take up potash or any other element of plant food in sufficient quantities while in this debilitated condition. Hence, unhealthy or diseased plants cannot be “Potash Fed” even if grown in the midst of plenty.

If we were to say “Corn-Fed Pork,” at once we would see the pig eating corn, but when we say “Potash Fed Dahlias,” it is hard to visualize a dahlia feeding on potash, as it is something we cannot see. It is necessary to have the right food available when it is needed, and the animal or plant must be in a healthy state to make proper use of the food and give the results you are looking for.

ELIZA LONDON SHEPARD (Peacock 86), 1930, c g e, Bloom 9 x 4, Bush 5½ ft. Informal Decorative of a bright golden orange apricot so blended, making a one-tone spectacular flower. Blooms of good substance with full centres are borne on long, stiff stems. Strong, upright grower and free bloomer. Plants, $10.00

GOLDEN SONNE (De Wilde), c g e, Bloom 7 x 4. This Cactus is being introduced as a Holland Introduction, but we are quoting good authority when we say it was originated in New Jersey as Golden Sun. It is, however, a fine dahlia, especially as a cut flower and for exhibiting, where it has been a popular winner. Color, clear golden yellow, shading to soft salmon rose on the outside petals. A dahlia we can heartily recommend. Plants, $1.25

GOLD IMPERIAL (Hall), 1930, g e. This Formal Decorative is a rich gold color with just a tint of lavender on reverse. Petals heavy with a waxy appearance. Deep, graceful flowers with high, perfect centres. Vigorous grower. Won gold medal at Camden for best Undisseminated Seedling. Plants, $5.00

THOMAS A. EDISON (Dahliadel 88), 1930, g e, Bloom 9 x 4½, Bush 4 ft. This gorgeous Formal Decorative, selected and named by permission of the famous electrical wizard, met with his complete approval when viewed at his West Orange estate. Furthermore, it has met with universal approval in the dahlia shows of 1929 and at our nursery in Vineland. The staghorn petal formation, the dark green insect-resistant foliage, the cane-stiff stems, and its thrifty growing habit leave nothing to be desired. In introducing it to a dahlia-loving public for 1930, we do so with the knowledge that it is worthy of and will carry the usual Dahliadel guarantee, insuring its performance in your garden. Plants only, $10.00

DAHLIADEL SPANISH GARDEN AT TRENTON, N. J., 1930, FEATURING THE THOS. A. EDISON DAHLIA AND THE FESTIVAL OF LIGHT

DAHLIADEL NEWS

The past year has marked more advancement than any year in Dahlia History. The scoring system is fast coming in favor from the elaborate system worked out by Mr. Sweeney for trial grounds and seedlings, which is more for use of the professional than the novice, to the more simplified systems, such as explained on page 1 of this catalog.

New varieties introduced last year were far above the average. They are being selected for strength of growth and stem as well as the rest of the dahlia virtues, making it easier to grow exhibition dahlias each year. Then again, thousands of fans are feeding and caring for their dahlias scientifically, thanks to news articles, Dahlia Societies, catalogs and books on dahlias.

The National Association of Commercial Dahlia Growers, Inc., are doing a great work with their slogan, "Square Deal." This organization is stabilizing the dahlia industry with a systematic credit system and looking after complaints. Growers with a clean slate are hereby invited to send to Thomas Leavitt, Assinippi, Mass., for application blank for membership.

DOINGS OF THE A. D. S.

The American Dahlia Society have for once and all put an end to the argument of what is an Amateur. This has been solved by Classes A, B and C in the premium list of the 1929 New York Show, copy of these classes will be found on page 6, as we believe they will be of interest to anyone exhibiting dahlias. Our Secretary, Wm. J. Rathgeber, 198 Norton Street, New Haven, Conn., will be glad to enroll you as a member of the A. D. S. Dues are $2.00. The Bulletins issued quarterly are well worth the money.

On page 6 you will find a New Classification of the Dahlia made up by the Nomenclature Committee at a joint session with a Special Committee of the A. D. S., of which the writer had the pleasure of being a member. I personally believe it is a workable classification in which Class 1 has been opened to take in new types coming into prominence.

Classes 6, 7 and 8 divide the Cactus, very ably eliminating the word Hybrid, and making a rather definite line between Semi-Cactus and Informal Decorative. Where the majority of the floral rays are revolute or rolled back for less than half their length, we have a Semi-Cactus. When the floral rays are generally long, irregular in arrangement and usually twisted or pointed, we have the Informal Decorative. This classification should be interpreted to take dahlias that do not fit the Semi-Cactus Class.

The Miniature Decorative Class we favor very much and hope to soon have a set of Little Jewel in white, red, yellow and bronze.

Class 12 is for once rightly named Ball Dahlias, and Hybrid Show is no more.

COMING EVENTS

The movement is well under way to have one big Dahlia Bulletin or Magazine to cover the greater part of the United States. This seems to be the modern and logical solution to the excessive expense of each small society issuing their own. It will probably make uniform dues in all societies, and if you belong to your local society you will also belong to the A. D. S. through affiliation and receive the big Bulletin with the news of all the Societies. It is probable that each society will have space allotted for local news according to its membership or subscription, and that each society will be responsible for enough news to fill their allotment.

Another issue well worth considering is the use of a universal score card in Judging. It should not be at all complicated, so that the exhibitor as well as the Judge will fully understand it and one that can be used rapidly. No Judge is proficient until his mind is so organized to give each quality its right value. The score card should be kept in mind in all Judging and used in all close competition. Before installing this system be sure you have Judges who can use it.

First National Atlantic City Flower and Garden Pageant

September 9 to 14, 1930, inclusive

Atlantic City is this year staging a new sort of beauty pageant; a pageant of flowers; a pageant of beauty that promises to be the event of the year for garden lovers.

The first two days of the show will be devoted to the gladiolus as the feature flower, the second two days to garden flowers, while the final two days will glorify the dahlia. Commercial firms will maintain their exhibits for the entire six days, but the competitive exhibits will be staged on the days devoted to the respective flowers. The pageant will be held in the world's largest hall, the Atlantic City Auditorium, and will be financed and managed by the Auditorium, which is owned by the city.

Several State and local societies will make this the scene of their annual show, and while at this writing the plans for the pageant are not entirely complete, there is, however, at even this early date evidence enough that this will be the show of the year. Dahliaedel will maintain the largest commercial exhibit in their history at this show during the six days and cordially invites their customers and friends to visit and compete for the many fine prizes that will be offered. It is expected that an advance premium list will be issued late in February, which may be had by writing J. W. Johnston, Director of the pageant, 383 Bourse Building, Philadelphia, Pa.

Green Plants

Dahliadel plants are cuttings taken from stock of named varieties, grown in specially built greenhouses, rooted in sand benches in a special propagating house for that purpose, potted and grown inside until established, then moved to cold frames for hardening off, ready for shipping and field planting.

The popularity of Dahliadel Green Plants is growing fast, and we suggest that you give them a trial on your next order if you are buying the higher-priced varieties, as plants are one-half tuber price in most cases. Green plants, when properly grown from healthy stock, give equal or better blooms than from tubers, and make a nice clump in most varieties. The way the plant is grown has a lot to do with tuber production, but we believe by following our cultural instructions you will have tubers as well as blooms.

Where dahlia plants are grown without much fertilizer or water they are apt to make more tubers than when grown in the midst of plenty. To produce tubers on plants use a balanced plant food but not to excess, water only when necessary. After the plants are well started (or about six weeks after planting) or at least six weeks before you want blooms, cut bushes back severely, leaving about one-half the growth and not more than six laterals for the first blooms. This will give the plant an over-supply of feed roots, which will start tuber production at once. On digging in the fall you will find mature tubers, where on (check) plants not cut back you will find mostly fibrous or feed roots.

In growing Dahliadel Green Plants, only the strongest cuttings are potted, and again the best plants are selected for filling orders. This assures you of the best stock procurable.

Planting Directions

The following directions are based upon years of practical experience and may be of value in solving some of your cultural problems. These suggestions should be changed to suit the local requirements. However, we sincerely believe that the fundamental principles involved will apply throughout the country.

Care of Green Plants

After removing moss and paper pots from plants that have been shipped, plant them with the top of the ball of dirt about 3 inches below the ground level and cover the top of the ball of dirt about 1 inch. Fill in gradually as the plant develops. In locations where there is danger of flooding, or poor drainage, do not plant as deep.

Cut all plants back to 2 or 3 pairs of leaves above the ground or at least pinch out the top to cause the plant to branch.

Water thoroughly and then protect with open basket or open crate for a few days as a partial protection from the sun and wind. For cut worms, scatter Poison Bait the evening of planting. See "Cut Worms."

Dahliadel Green Plants are properly grown and hardened for shipment and in our specially designed shipping box have been successfully sent all over the U. S.

WHEN TO PLANT. One of the common errors in dahlia culture is planting too early. In the latitude of Philadelphia they should be planted between May 15th and June 15th. Farther north, where hot summers are less harmful and early frosts are prevalent, plant as soon as danger of frost is over.

Where seasons are still shorter in the north, start tubers or plants in cold frames in pots or in squares of inverted sod so they can be planted in your garden without disturbing the feed roots. This will give you two to three weeks longer growing season.

The further south you are and the earlier you plant the more you will have to cut back, thin out and disbud to get large blooms the end of the season.

DIVIDING CLUMPS. It requires a little judgment to divide dahlia roots properly, as some varieties are more compact than others. The eyes will be found around the stem or crown, and never on the tuber itself, like a potato. Hence a tuber without a piece of the crown is worthless. A division consisting of a good tuber with one good eye is all that is necessary; more are of no advantage. Large clumps should never be planted whole.

FERTILIZERS

Of the ten elements considered absolutely necessary to plant growth, we find nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium the prime essentials and the ones most lacking.

Nitrogen stimulates the growth above ground, producing large bushes and flowers, but if used to excess the flowers will be soft, wilting readily, and the bushes will be overgrown and lower the vitality of the tubers.

Phosphoric acid increases the root development, especially the lateral and fibrous roots, strengthens the plant growth and gives substance to the bush and flowers. It also aids in ripening the tubers. This element is found in bone meal, with a small amount available in manures.

Potash is the balancing agent for nitrogen and phosphoric acid. It gives color to the flowers and foliage, and vigor and tone to the plant in general. It is an essential in starch formation and aids in the maturing of well-nourished tubers.

FERTILIZER to be applied before planting.

Scatter broadcast after spading and mix thoroughly into the top soil to every 100 square feet of ground or to each 10 dahlia hills.

5 lbs. Raw Bone Meal

10 lbs. Unleached Wood Ashes or

1 lb. Muriate or Sulphate of

Potash, not both

Bone meal may be doubled if soil is very poor.

FERTILIZER or TOP DRESSING to be applied about August 15.

Scatter broadcast over ground not closer than 6 inches nor more than 18 inches from the stalk and rake in, to every 10 hills.

1½ lbs. Raw Bone Flour

1½ lbs. Animal Tankage or

4 lbs. Sheep Manure, not both

5 lbs. Unleached Wood Ashes or

½ lb. Muriate or Sulphate of

Potash, not both

HOW TO PLANT. Tubers should be planted in trenches or holes 6 inches deep, laid flat down (not on end) and covered with earth not over 2 inches in depth, filling in as the plant develops. Where drainage is poor, do not plant so deep and keep a furrow open between rows to facilitate drainage in wet weather.

Do not plant the roots in or over any quantity of compost or hot manure. The rows should be from 4 to 5 feet apart and the plants in the row from 2 to 3 feet apart, or from 6 to 10 square feet should be allowed for each plant. A novel way to plant is to place your stakes 4 x 5 feet apart, and plant a tuber or plant on each side of the stake, giving you room to walk between and care for your plants, and also get as many in a given area as if planted twice as close. Different varieties will not mix by growing them together. Also, should one plant fail, there will be no blank places.

SOIL PREPARATION AND CONDITIONING. The dahlia will grow and produce excellent results in a wide range of soils. It is not as much a matter of soil type as it is conditioning. To grow exhibition blooms to perfection, the nearer soil can be to ideal the better your results will be. Soil should contain enough clay to keep the fertility from leaching and also enough sand or stones to facilitate drainage. The primary factor, however, in growing dahlias is that of drainage, which in sandy soils is well taken care of, but in heavy soils dig in and thoroughly mix a quantity of coarse coal ashes into the subsoil.

We might suggest ditching 18 or more inches deep where the row is to be planted, running the ditch with the slope if possible. Fill in with coarse ashes, clinkers or any coarse material that will not rot, keeping it below spading depth, then fill in top with a mixture of soil and peat moss, probably 15 per cent to 20 per cent peat moss. This, although quite a task, will enable you to grow what your neighbors cannot, unless they do likewise.

The use of peat moss broadcast and mixed well into the top soil is an advantage on heavy soil to open it up and on light soil it will conserve moisture and hold fertilizer.

As soon as the soil can be worked in the spring it may be further improved by a cover crop of oats and Canada field peas. Or, better still, sow rye in September or October. The green crop will do no harm during the late blooming season, will winter over, and should be turned under about two weeks before planting. This will add organic matter, supplying humus and further adjusting soil conditions. If soil is poor, the oats or rye may be top dressed with stable or hen manure, the sooner after planting the better.

IRRIGATION. When your dahlias need water, wet the ground so it will penetrate about a foot deep when growing in light soil. In heavy soil, watering need not be as heavy, as it may be followed by a rain and overwatering may result. Cultivate as soon as sufficient drainage has taken place, and do not water again until necessary, which will be a week or more.

Do not spray your dahlia bushes, and sprinkle the surface of the ground every night or so, for this will only pack the surface, preventing air circulation and causing the soil to crust and dry rapidly in the sunshine. This also draws the feed roots to the surface, to be sickened by the heat of the sun's rays. The flowers obtained are soft and the root development very poor, low in vitality and hard to winter.

CULTIVATION. By cultivating at least once a week, and as soon after a rain as the ground can be worked, the weeds will be held in check and a soil mulch formed which will conserve the moisture and lessen the need of irrigation.

As the plant develops and the feed roots come toward the surface, the ground should be worked rather shallow around the hill for the radius of at least a foot. Still work the balance of the ground rather deep and bring some fresh soil to the plant at each cultivation, giving the plant a new supply of food and protecting the surface roots from the heat of the sun. Have the hills mounted 5 or more inches by the middle of September. This will help support the stalks.

Casper G. Ware

CASPER G. WARE (Bowen-Dahliadel 85), c g e, Bloom 8 x 4, Bush 4 ft. This is truly a dahlia of many uses. When grown naturally without disbudding, you have an ideal flower for bedding or hedge effect with a mass of blooms throughout the season. It is one of the best and outstanding varieties, especially for its keeping qualities. Color, a pleasing shade of bright silvery violet rose. D. S. of N. J. Cert.

BRANCHING. Allow only one stalk to grow (never more than two). Pinch out the crown or centre above the second pair of leaves or eyes. The principle of taking out the centre is to develop the eyes, which are located at the base of the leaves between the stem and leaf. The top pair of eyes will make themselves evident in surprisingly short time, and these shoots or laterals on most varieties should be pinched back again, leaving one pair of eyes on each branch. By the time these get a start, the second or lower set of eyes on the main stalk will have developed along with the four above. These six stems should bear the first six flowers.

DISBUDDING. When the terminal bud on each of these stems is about the size of a small acorn, or as soon as the side shoots are large enough to pull out, disbud by taking out all the side buds and shoots except the lower pair on each of the six branches. Leave only one side shoot on each, should you desire very large flowers. These new branches should be handled as the previous set. All of the disbudded stem should be cut with the flower. This early disbudding and pruning is not solely for the benefit of the first six flowers, but mainly to keep the bush low and properly branched for the future crop.

Care should be exercised with late topping or cutting back not to open hollow stems so that water can get in and start stem rot. Should water get into the stalk, slit the stalk just above the ground with the point of a sharp knife, and by twisting the knife let the water out.

Certain varieties branch to excess. These should be thinned out at intervals of two weeks, and not more than six shoots allowed to come into bloom for the first flowers. This affords the plant better air circulation and sunlight.

STEM BORER. This black-and-white striped worm enters the stem above the ground and usually works upward and will be noticed in the early season by the shortening of the internodes, later on by wilting. Cut the plant off near the ground and get the borer with your knife. If the borer is below where you want to cut back, use a hooked wire from the top. A plant cut back not later than July 15th should be in full bloom early in September.

Should a plant be too large to cut back when borer is discovered, use Pyrethrol at strength of 4 ounces to gallon and inject with ear syringe. This will kill the borer or drive it out. Drain stalk out by slitting at the bottom to prevent stem rot.

ROBERT TREAT (Muehler 80), g e, Bloom 9 x 4, Bush 5½ ft. This dahlia, similar in color to the American Beauty Rose, is different from any other dahlia in shade or color. Plants are strong, healthy growers of spreading habit. Flowers produced freely on long, erect stems. $1

THRIPS are tiny insects that enter the growing tip or shoot and chafe the newly formed leaves, injuring them so that they develop malformed and curled. These insects seem to enjoy the life blood of certain varieties on account of its flavor and do not molest the adjacent bush. If the attack is not checked it will result in a stunted bush, which in reality is only debilitated by insect ravages.

LEAF-HOPPERS are larger than Thrips and of a pale yellowish green color, a little over ⅛ of an inch in length. They fly when the bush is touched during the heat of the day. These sucking insects do much to keep a plant from getting a good start. They, as well as Thrips and Aphids, are common carriers of virus diseases and should be kept in control for this reason if for no other. During the windy weather when dust cannot be applied to advantage, overhead sprinklers used during the heat of the day will control red spider and check the Leaf-Hoppers and Thrips.

We believe the best control of Thrips, Leaf-Hoppers and Aphids is by dusting with a good nicotine dust. Apply in sunshine with the temperature above 70 degrees at weekly intervals from the time the plants are set or tubers start to grow as a preventive, and if any should appear, then about every four days until they disappear.

Another good control method is to spray with Pyrethrol. This can be done at any time of day and regardless of weather conditions, except rain. We have found this very effective for Leaf-Hopper, Thrip, Red Spider and Aphids, 2 ounces to the gallon of water. For flea beetles, grasshoppers, ants and Japanese beetles, 4 ounces to the gallon. Should a bush be infested with ants, spray bush and pour a teacupful of spray down the ant hill. This will do the dahlia no harm, but kill the ants.

By dusting or spraying before the presence of insects, it is doubtful if you will see any. As it is difficult to procure Nicotine Dust and Pyrethrol in most localities, we are listing them on page 42 of this catalog.

CUT WORMS are easily controlled by scattering about a teaspoonful of poison bran bait around the plant (but not touching it) as soon as plants are set or shoots appear from tubers. The early evening is the best time to apply it.

2 tablespoonfuls of molasses or brown sugar.
1 level teaspoonful paris green mixed in.
Juice of an orange or equivalent in water.
1 quart of bran or enough to make a reasonably dry mash.

STUNT. In our twenty years with dahlias, we have dug and destroyed all unhealthy stock as soon as detected, and the results are most gratifying. This is properly called roguing. As there are a number of causes for stunt, it is hard to tell the exact cause. However, we do know that roguing is the only practical way of eradication, and believe some of the causes of stunt may be attributed to one or more of the following conditions:

First: From lowered vitality as a result of poor culture, lack of cultivation, etc.

Second: The ravages of attacking insects, Thrips, Leaf-Hoppers, Stem Borers, etc.

Third: The rotting of the feed roots caused by too much water where drainage is poor, or water in the hollow part of the stem.

Regardless of cause, all stunt should be dug and destroyed. Our many years of this practice leaves us less than 1% to dig annually on most varieties.

Cut Flowers

Dahlias should be cut in the evening or early morning, removing the lower leaves and all of the buds if not disbudded. Immediately put in water in a cool, dark place to freshen.

Hot-Water Treatment—Cut and freshen as above, then put stems in 1 to 2 inches of water almost boiling for 1 to 2 minutes, then place in deep cold water to cool. Flowers are then ready to ship by packing in a strong corrugated box lined with tissue paper. Fasten stems down by nailing a wooden strip in the center of the box or by tying down through the bottom. Flowers packed snugly will carry better than when packed loose and allowed to batter.

Flowers when wilted can be freshened by cutting end of stem and placing in hot water as above. Repeat until flower is freshened.

The hot-water treatment will do wonders in making your exhibition blooms keep fresh after staging, but do not cut off the discolored end of stem unless you are again going to treat it.

The physical action of a cut flower is to take water up into the stem which evaporates through the flower and foliage. The slower this action of evaporation or transpiration takes place, the longer the life of the flower.

Dahlia Tubers That Will Winter

First, sidestep the varieties that are known to be poor root makers.

Second, plant only stock that has been properly grown without previous forcing.

Third, fertilize so that your plants will have a balanced ration, namely, nitrogen in manures, humus or bone meal; and phosphoric acid in acid phosphate or bone meal, and potash in wood ashes, sulphate, or muriate of potash.

Fourth, cultivation is worth more than watering for healthy plant growth. Water thoroughly only when necessary (not more than once a week in a dry spell), but cultivate once a week throughout the season, until the middle of September, then stop. This check will help materially in ripening the tubers.

Selected stock in either green plants or tubers properly fertilized, watered and cultivated will produce wonderful blooms, and the tubers will have every chance of wintering. A complete starch formation is essential for the proper wintering of a dahlia tuber, and the above suggestions are essential.

DIGGING AND STORING. After the first black frost, cut off the tops at the ground and allow to stand a few days to bleed out. Then dig with a garden fork. Care should be exercised not to break the tuber necks. Cut the stalk back again to about 2 inches above the crown. Then by tapping on the cut stalk endwise with a light instrument, most of the dirt will free without injury to the necks of the tubers. Dry in the sun a few hours, and your clumps are ready to store. A root or white potato cellar is preferable with a temperature of about 40 degrees. In this they need no protection or covering. The average house cellar is too dry and hot, and in such conditions the clumps should be placed in the coolest part and packed upside down in a box in dry sand, ashes or preferably ground Peat Moss.

After the tubers are stored a month, it is well to look them over, trim out any portion showing rot and dip all the fresh cuts in equal parts of hydrated lime and flowers of sulphur, and pack them back again as before. Should the tubers show signs of shriveling, place dampened Peat Moss over the top of the box to prevent further drying.

Dahlia tubers air dried and so packed should keep well until spring with no further handling, providing they were grown properly, well ripened and not frosted.

DAHLIADEL NURSERIES

DAHLIA GROWERS' SUPPLIES

DAHLIADEL PLANT FOOD—Made especially for dahlias, of the highest grade materials, for the production of fine flowers and strong tubers, and so blended to have a balanced food available as needed by the plant. Good also for all outdoor flowers and vegetables. A very economical fertilizer.

Directions: Spring application, 3 to 6 lbs. to each 100 square feet. August application, 3 to 4 lbs. This may be divided into three applications, but not over 10 lbs. to ten hills should be applied during a season.

Price, F. O. B. factory in Philadelphia, 50 lbs., $3.00; 100 lbs., $5.50; 200 lbs., $10.00; ton, $90.00. We can ship in the States of New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, and New York only, owing to State regulations.

DOMESTIC PRUNING SHEARS—Double cutter; works especially well for dividing tubers. The steel in these shears stands up better in sand and dirt than any shear we have found. For general pruning we find them very satisfactory. Postpaid, $3.25.

IMPORTED PRUNING SHEARS—Made especially for root cutting. Double cutting blades curved and pointed, making them the best type for dividing dahlia clumps. This is the shear we are using for all our dividing and trimming. Suitable for general pruning as well. Postpaid, $4.00.

PYRETHROL—A non-poisonous Pyrethrum Insecticide, effective on all insect life, especially Japanese beetles, and not injurious to animals or plants. Will not burn or stain foliage or flowers. Directions for application sent with order. Postpaid, including the fourth zone, $\frac{1}{2}$ lb., \$.60; 2 lbs., \$1.60; 10 lbs., \$6.35.

BRASS SPRAYER GUNS—Continuous spray, one-quart size. Suitable for spraying Pyrethrol, nicotine or soap sprays, but not for sprays containing lime or solids. Postpaid, including the fourth zone, $2.15.

DAHLIADEL NICOTONE—A 3% nicotine dust. 5 lbs., $1.50; 25 lbs., $5.75 by express, collect. By parcel post, prepaid, including the fourth zone, 1 lb., $.50; 2 lbs., $.90; 5 lbs., $1.75. For distant shipments, include additional postage.

DAHLIADEL DUSTING OUTFIT—Consisting of one pump-type duster with extension spout for dusting small plants without stooping, and 1 lb. Dahlia del Nicotone. Postpaid, including the fourth zone, $2.10, with 2 lbs. of nicotine, $2.50. For distant shipments, include additional postage.

VERMOREL "ORANGE" DUSTER—The best knapsack duster we have found for applying nicotine dust. F. O. B. Vineland. Shipping weight, 18 lbs. Price, $15.00.

MODERN DAHLIA CULTURE—By W. H. Waite. Written to meet the needs of the novice and to interest the expert. 126 pages of clear type, well illustrated. Cloth binding. The best book to date. $1.60 postpaid.
