My Golden Anniversary Tribute

THIS is a most enjoyable period of my life and as I celebrate my Golden Anniversary this year I feel profound gratitude for the happiness I have enjoyed through my intimacy with flowers and people. As I look back fifty years, as it were, I recall those men who have toiled with me, such men as Luther Burbank, Dr. Van Fleet, Mathew Crawford and others, and who have passed on. In sorrow, I pause to pay tribute to them. Their work will live forever and I can think of nothing greater than the better fruits, flowers, plants and trees they have left for us to enjoy. I pay tribute, too, to my friends, wherever they may be in all parts of the world. They have been the most important factors in the development of my business. They have inspired me over the rugged paths and through periods of doubtfulness and disappointments with their liberal patronage and friendly letters. Hundreds of them call on me each year, to my pleasure, and the joy they receive from the beauty of my flowers, I share with them. Words cannot express my appreciation to those who work with me. Unflinchingly, they have toiled to share the pride of possessing the foremost gladiolus farm in the entire world. My Golden Anniversary marks a climax in my career. The glories of half a century I share with all my friends.

Peonies

THE following lists of peonies represent a collection extraordinary. Many of the varieties have been obtained from the most famous originators of England, France, Germany and other European countries, and also represent the choicest productions in America. Twenty years of tireless search has assembled these aristocrats of the flowering kingdom. Many are as sweet scented as roses, others are of gigantic size, possessing colors of rare beauty and types that bid fair to quicken the heartbeats of all who love and know this favorite flower of the springtime.

Peonies are perennial flowers and each year increases their beauty. The luxuriant foliage is beautiful and decorative even after the flower season has passed and will remain so until late fall or severe freezing. The divisions or roots I send you are all labeled and of best quality.

Peonies make any spot more beautiful. See reliable cultural directions immediately following the listings.

New Introductions for 1930

The six new Peony introductions which follow have been selected with painstaking care and are genuinely fine and destined to become favorites among peony lovers. I would advise you to choose at least one of these eight new kinds to add to your collection and I urge you to place your order early as the stock is very limited. Shipments will be made during September and October, prepaid.

GOOD'S GEM (G. and R.)—Peony experts who have seen this peony for the past few years have proclaimed it the finest Japanese variety yet introduced. Good's Gem possesses to the ultimate degree those qualities most sought by Hybridizers. A veritable giant in size of flowers and plant, remarkable substance and striking coloring combine to make Good's Gem a masterpiece. The petals are snow white, the petaloids golden yellow. A very robust grower, dwarf in habit and reliable in flowering. Price $50.00

DR. J. H. NEELEY (G. and R.)—In Dr. J. H. Neeley we are introducing a peony that is now considered one of America's truly fine varieties. We are confident that this variety is destined to be ranked among the five finest. In bud form, the flowers are faint blush pink, upon full opening are pure white, the broad, heavy guard petals are of an unusually waxy texture; the center petals are rounded and cup shaped. The stems are long and strong. The fragrance is very pleasing. In Dr. J. H. Neeley we believe perfection has almost been reached. Price $50.00

DARLING O'MINE (G. and R.)—Crown type; midseason. Commercial growers of peonies invariably select this variety as the peak of perfection for cut flower plantings. Darling O'Mine may be adequately described as an improved President Taft. The strong stiff stems support extremely large flowers of beautiful rose pink, blending to delicate lavender pink in the center. We believe this variety is destined to be one of the most popular ever produced in America. For cutting it is ideal, for landscape it is superb and for general usefulness it is unsurpassed. Price $50.00

ANNE NIELSON (G. and R.)—Crown type; late. For delicate beauty and charm, Anne Nielson is without an equal. It possesses the aesthetic refinement attained in such beautiful varieties as Venue and Mme. Emile Galle. The guard petals are very broad and pure snow white in color. The secondary petals are slightly smaller than the guards and are delicately margined shell pink. Anne Nielson has a pleasing rose fragrance. A truly remarkable peony, is the consensus of opinion regarding Anne Nielson. Price $50.00

WHITE SWAN (Single) (G. and R.)—A beautiful dwarf single peony that is among the first to flower. For landscaping we believe the White Swan is unsurpassed by any single variety with which we are acquainted. A double row of snow white petals surround a disc of golden yellow stamens. The flowers are supported by stiff stems. White Swan remains in flower in better shape and for a longer time than any other single. A row of this variety on the lawn is a beautiful display. Price $10.00

GOOD'S IDEAL (G. and R.)—Semi rose type; midseason. A remarkably beautiful peony is the consensus of opinion regarding Good's Ideal. The flowers are large and are supported by strong stems. The guard petals are pale flesh and surround a collar of faint Havana brown. In general appearance the flowers are creamy white and are very striking. It is naturally a free and reliable bloomer. Good's Ideal is a plant of ideal habit, strong, upright and vigorous, with good stems. It is truly a sensational peony. Price $50.00

MRS. J. H. PERKINS (G. and R.)—A crown type flower of large size that flowers in midseason. The broad shell shaped guards of pearly white enclose a zone of creamy-white interspersed with pale yellow petaloids. The broad center petals are pale flesh white. The stems are long and strong. The fragrance is strong and pleasing. In total effect Mrs. J. H. Perkins is a magnificent "triple-decker," a peony greatly admired by those acquainted with it. Price $35.00

JUDGE SNOOK (G. and R.)—A really glorious flower that is destined to be ranked among the world's finest. The flowers are extremely large and are of the rose type. It flowers in midseason. The stems are long and strong, supporting enormous flowers of pure snow white, when fully opened. Upon first opening the flowers are pale creamy flesh, fading to pure snow white. The odor is strong and pleasant. It is our belief that Judge Snook is undoubtedly one of the most magnificent peonies ever originated. It is robust in growth, and reliable in flowering. You will be growing Judge Snook eventually. Price $50.00

Peonies in mass planting are extremely beautiful.

Iris

THE IRIS has justly earned its widespread popularity. Compared with the orchid, it is superior in many ways. Its colors are marvelous. The amateur can grow the Iris as successfully as the skilled grower. It is very hardy and is a rapid multiplier. Grace, beauty and loveliness can be claimed for the Iris which is one of our loveliest flowers and indispensable to borders, rock gardens, ponds and pools.

My collection of Iris is one of the foremost. From all parts of the world where Iris have been grown, these fine things have been procured. The Iris are among the flowers most easily grown. Plant as many Iris as your garden space will permit and you will be delighted with their great beauty. See cultural directions following listing.

Dutch Bulbs

DUTCH BULBS are tremendously popular because they produce blossoms for us on the heels of the winter. No sooner do we shake the last flakes of snow from our shoulders than the brave little crocusses appear, followed soon after by hyacinths, daffodils, narcissi and tulips. How welcome these flowers are and what cheer they bring to our winter weary souls.

These magnificent spring flowers give us of their beauty when we need it the most and then graciously make way for other later flowering plants. Securing extra fine blooms from dutch bulbs gives rise to no difficulty even to the amateur grower. My bulbs are imported from the best and most reliable growers in Holland and are guaranteed to reach you in excellent condition. Plant plenty of dutch bulbs and enjoy the ease of culture and the beauty of the flowers. See cultural directions following the listings.

Planting and Cultural Directions for Peonies

Much has been written on this subject and lengthy suggestions made (many of which are useless and worse), but for success it is only necessary to carefully follow a few simple directions.

First of all, do not manure your soil for a year before planting, nor for a year after planting, and never cover plants with manure over winter. Use leaves, grass clippings, and similar materials for this purpose.

Spade your ground deeply and pulverize thoroughly. Any good garden soil is suitable. Set plants so the crown (where eyes and roots connect) will be covered about three inches (four inches is a little deep and two inches a little shallow).

When planting, set plants so that the bark side of the plants, or roots (instead of the cut edge surface), lean against the ground. This will enable the new roots to grow downward and your plants to build a healthy new crown, instead of the old roots and crown forming the center and resulting in a weak plant.

About December when the ground is well frozen over, cover the plants as above directed. This is not to keep the roots from freezing, but to keep the freezing and thawing from heaving them out of the ground.

The second year you can begin to feed your plants with well-rooted manures and other fertilizers, applied around the plants and worked into the ground, but never over the plants. Never cut away the tops before September 10th, as this very greatly injures their root growth. The tops are the lungs of your plants and are necessary to develop the next year's flowers.

Planting and Cultural Directions for Iris

The Iris is very easily grown, but thrives best in a well drained, sunny location. If the latter is impossible, exposure to the sun for one-half the day will suffice. Fertilizer is not necessary unless the soil is in poor condition, and in that case I advise the use of bone meal. If the soil lacks lime, ground limestone worked into the soil will benefit it. Barnyard manures, when used, should be well decayed and thoroughly worked into the soil.

Plant so that the top of the rhizome is exposed to the sun and the lower point covered about one-half inch deep. If possible, the bed in which the Iris are to be planted, should be elevated two or three inches above the surrounding soil, so that the surplus water will drain off quickly. Rhizomes should be planted from 18 inches to two feet apart, the latter is best, to allow for growth and expansion.

Iris may be planted almost any month in the year when the ground can be worked, but soon after the blooming season is the best, so that the plants will become well established before winter. It may be well to protect them with a mulch for the first winter, but after that no protection is necessary.

The Iris is exceptionally free from disease. Root rot may be caused by lack of sunlight, drainage or accumulation of decayed vegetable matter about the plant. All old foliage should be removed from the plant in early spring. Work the soil about the plant two or three times during the spring and fall.

Planting and Cultural Directions

Hyacinths

Hyacinths are returning to popularity for both formal and border plantings. They are also adapted for potting and growing indoors in glasses.

For planting outdoors in the garden, a well drained soil should be had which would prevent decay. Beds should be raised several inches to prevent any lodgments of water which would cause bulb rots. Set six inches apart and six inches deep.

To have Hyacinths in glasses: fill the glasses with clean, soft water, put a small piece of charcoal in the glass to keep the water pure and sweet. Keep in a dry, cool place. Water should never be changed but only replenished. Use large bulbs for this purpose.

For potting Hyacinths a light, rich soil produces best flowers. Plant bulbs one inch deep and one and one-half inches from each other. Water well, and keep them in the dark for eight to 10 weeks to allow to root properly. When the flower spike is three to four inches out of the bulb it may be exposed to the light. Large bulbs are best for indoor growing.

Lilies

Lilies may be used for border and clump plantings. Plant four to six inches deep and four to six inches apart. As a protection against the spring thaws, use a light leaf mulch or grass clippings. Do not plant where the water will stay during the winter months. Have a well drained soil.

Crocus

One of the earliest flowers that is to be seen in the spring. Crocuses make an effective showing when planted in masses or arranged in groups in borders. They are perfectly hardy and can be left in the ground for several years without being disturbed. Plant two inches deep.

Tulips

An excellent spring flower which may be used in border or bed plantings, also adapted for potting. Plant four inches deep and two inches apart for border planting, and four inches deep and four inches apart in bedding. It would be advisable to use a mulch to prevent any heaving which occurs in the spring.

Narcissi

Narcissi or Daffodils, which bloom in March or April are the first flowers that dominate. The large yellow trumpets like a fairly heavy soil, while the white trumpets take a lighter soil. For fertilizer do not use fresh manure but fertilize only with Bone Meal. Plant about six inches deep, same distance apart. Always have a well worked soil. Mulch over in winter to prevent heaving.

Evergreens

In earlier days this country was blessed with one of nature's greatest gifts, "trees." In the march of progress these were used or destroyed until many kinds have become actually scarce. Today, we are waking up to the fact that these beautiful things of nature should be preserved and used to beautify our homes.

It is my aim to offer my customers from time to time the very best things to be had. With the ever increasing popularity of evergreens, shrubbery, perennials, etc., I have decided this year to list these items in my fall catalog.

The items in this department are all guaranteed true to name and safe arrival of each shipment is guaranteed. If any order is received in bad condition or is not satisfactory, report this immediately upon receipt of shipment. Shipments will be made as soon after September first as possible but if you are needing these items for a particular date just advise when placing your order. No shipments, however, will be made before September first.

Evergreens are all shipped, prepaid, at the proper time for planting after September first. However, we can ship at any specified time after September first.

COLUMBINE (Aquilegia)—As a cut flower, the long spurred Aquilegias are the daintiest of our outdoor grown flowers. They come in blues, whites, and yellows and shades of pink and rose.

Two year old stock. Prepaid.....each, .25

DELPHINIUM (Larkspur)—Delphiniums are the most beautiful hardy plants in cultivation, as they have such an immense variety of beauty and increase in size, in beauty, and often in quantity, year after year. They will bloom from spring until fall.

Two year old stock. Prepaid.....each, .35

GAILLARDIA—GRANDIFLORA (Blanket Flower)—Base of petals are scarlet crimson, border golden yellow. A most beautiful combination; useful in assorted bouquets; valuable for table decoration.

Two year old stock. Prepaid.....each, .25

ACHILLEA—Plants suitable for dry sunny places. The dwarf kinds are useful for carpeting or for rockeries; the taller varieties as border plants.

Ptarmica, The Pearl—Pure white, double, flowers all summer. Priced for cutting.

Two year old stock. Prepaid.....each, .25

ASTERS, HARDY (Michaelmas Daisies)—These are among the showiest of our late flowering hardy plants, giving a wealth of bloom during September and October.

Two year old stock. Prepaid.....each, .30

COREOPSIS (Tickseed) GRANDIFLORA—An improved variety with large bright yellow flowers; one of the best hardy plants. Fine for cut flowers all summer long.

Two year old stock. Prepaid.....each, .20

DIANTHUS (Pinks) Hybrid Garden Pink—Without the spicy fragrance of the hardy pinks a garden is incomplete. Their perfect form and rich coloring make them great favorites for summer bouquets. June.

Two year old stock. Prepaid.....each, .20

GYSOPHILA PANICULATA (Baby's Breath)—A beautiful old-fashioned plant possessing a grace not found in any other perennial and attracting the eye of everyone.

Two year old stock. Prepaid.....each, .25

HYBISCUS MALLOW MARVELS—Improved new hardy giant flowering marshmallows, the most free blooming of all perennials; rich, gorgeous and hardy as an oak.

Two year old stock. Prepaid.....each, .25

HOLLYHOCKS—The Hollyhock is an old garden favorite, full of sentiment and association with a distant past. It is a plant of strong, vigorous growth and noble aspect.

Two year old stock. Prepaid.....each, .20

ORIENTAL POPPIES (Papaver)—These are the legal representatives of this popular genus. No plant is more brilliant in late spring or early summer than the Oriental Poppy, with its large flowers, silken petals and flaming colors. Whether planted singly or in masses, their large flowers and freedom of bloom render them very conspicuous in any location. Easy of culture and a considerable range of color. Orange; Mrs. Perry, salmon rose; Bracteatum, rich blood red.

Two year old stock. Prepaid.....each, .35

PYRETHRUM (Painted Daisies)—Showy, hardy perennials, growing 2 ft. in height, with most brilliant and lasting flowers. Luxuriates in rich sandy soil and plenty of water, especially when in bud.

Two year old stock. Prepaid.....each, .30

PLADYCODON (Balloon Flower)—June to October. Large, showy, deep blue flowers. Good for rock gardens and border.

Two year old stock. Prepaid.....each, .35

VERONICA (Bluebird Flower)—An elegant hardy border plant, growing about 1½ ft. high, producing long spikes of bright blue flowers in June and July.

Two year old stock. Prepaid.....each, .25

YUCCA (Adam's Needle)—Among hardy plants there is nothing more effective and striking for isolated positions on the lawn or on dry banks where few other plants thrive.

Two year old stock. Prepaid.....each, .25

Special Information and Terms

Prices quoted in this catalog include all packing and delivery charges and are the lowest possible consistent with good quality.

SHIPMENT: Safe arrival is guaranteed to any point within the United States. Any claims for shortage must be reported immediately upon receipt of order.

ORDERS: You will want your Plants just as early as they are ready to ship, and to avoid any possible delay you should place your order immediately upon receipt of this catalog. Orders will be filled as nearly as possible in the order in which they are received. Please use the order blank sent with this catalog.

TERMS: Remittances must accompany all orders. Send bank draft, express or postal money order, or if more convenient for you I will accept your personal check. Please do not send orders for less than $1.50 as these can only be filled at a loss.

LABELLING: All items will be properly labelled for identification.

GUARANTEE: Only first-class stock, whether plants, bulbs, or shrubbery, will be shipped and under proper conditions they will give the expected results. However, no guarantee can be given as to the growth or productivity as the disappointments are almost invariably due to conditions beyond my control.

Peonies may not produce typical blooms until the second or third year. Many fine varieties throw single or semi-double flowers the first year, and if not properly cared for may do so the second year, so withhold your decision until you have seen normal blooms. Iris should be allowed a second year to show best results.
