A FEW REMARKS

DEAR FRIENDS: How swiftly the days go by! Short, indeed, seems the time when the new Summer season, fraught with Nature's radiant beauty and exquisite charms, was with us in all its richness and splendor. We reveled in the lovely forms and colors and fragrance of the flowers; we delighted in the varied and beautiful landscape adorned with trees, shrubs and showy bloom; and we gloried in the happy bird-song and restful insect hum. But today there is a change. The waning sun and once more icy touch of old Father Time warns us of the approach of stern Winter, and we realize that soon, very soon the passing season will be gone, never to return.

But, my friends, shall we grieve over its passing? Shall we not rather look hopefully forward and rejoice in the coming advent of Spring? Shall we not, in fancy, see the lovely vernal messenger in her flowing robes, strewing flowers over the barren earth as the warm sunshine and gentle showers drive cold Winter away and call back the little feathered songsters? Then with the mind's eye may we not see the smiling faces of the Snow-drop and Crocus peeping out from under the coverlet of snow, and beckoning the Hyacinths to ring their graceful bells, and to the Tulips to hold aloft their showy chalices and display their bright colors.

Thus, while old Winter holds sway let us brighten our windows with potted bulbs, and beautify the door yard in early spring with the hardy bulbs in beds and borders. May this booklet assist you.

THE ADVENT

OF SPRING.

About Hardy Bulbs

WHAT are known as Hardy Bulbs or Dutch Bulbs include Hyacinths, Tulips, Narcissus, Crocuses, and a number of other flowers that bloom in early Spring.

Plant them in Autumn, setting from 4 to 6 in. apart and from 3 to 5 in. deep according to size, then mulch the bed with stable litter to enrich the soil and furnish protection from severe cold. They make a fine display in the garden or on the lawn when bedded.

The Hardy Bulbs are also well adapted for winter-blooming in the window. Pot firmly in good porous soil, the crown protruding, water freely, and store in a dark closet for six weeks, watering as needed. Then gradually introduce them to the light of the sitting-room window. See that the bulbs are well rooted before bringing to the light. Avoid strong sunlight until you wish the buds to open. After open, the cooler the room the longer the flowers will last.

For a glowing bed of rich color in spring plant Darwin or Gesneriana Tulips. It will be enthusiastically admired and praised, and the talk of the neighborhood. Try it. 100 fine bulbs mailed only $3.75. See culture on page 8.

HYACINTHS

HYACINTHS are generally named first, perhaps because of their early, showy, wax-like bloom and their mild, delicious fragrance. The flowers are bell-shaped, very graceful in form, and borne in charming trusses 3 to 6 in. long. These are supported by fleshy stems 3 to 5 inches in length, thus affording a showy display that makes the air redolent with exquisite perfume. They come in various shades of white, blue, red and yellow. Peeping up from their cozy bed almost before the snow and ice of Winter have disappeared we give the Hyacinths a royal welcome, and enthusiastically admire their charming colors, exquisite beauty and superb fragrance.

Large Hyacinths

I recommend these for pots and bowls of water. They produce large trusses, but the regular size I offer on next page will give as good satisfaction. These are single-flowered, the best for house culture. See that the bulbs are well rooted, then bring gradually to the light. See directions for treatment under "About Hardy Bulbs". Extra large size, all colors, 25 ct. each.

Single Hyacinths

Larger Size

THESE are preferable for the garden as well as for window pots or glasses. I offer fine bulbs about 16 centimeters in circumference, and such as will produce large trusses either indoors or in beds. 12cts. each, $1.35 per doz. Following are the best sorts:

Gen de Wet, light rose.

Gertrude, deep rose.

Grand Maitre, porcelain.

King of Blues, deep blue.

L'Innocence, pure white.

King of Yellows, golden.

Smaller Size

These are the finest named smaller size, about 14 centimeters, but such as yield fine spikes this year and finer the next year, and still finer the third year. Only 6c each, 65cts. per dozen.

Gen de Wet, light rose.

Grandeur Merveille, bluish

Grand Maitre, porcelain.

King of Blues, deep blue.

L'Innocence, pure white.

Queen of Pinks, rose-pink.

These are preferred for beds.

Double Hyacinths

These are showy and handsome but the spikes are not so full and large, and lack the exquisite gracefulness of the single varieties. They require same treatment as singles, and are fine for beds and borders. I only have the larger size bulbs. Each 15c., doz. $1.50. Noble par Merite, dark rose.

La Tour d'Auvergne, pure white.

Isabella, blush white.

Garrick, azure blue.

Kastanjabloom, pink.

Jaune Supreme, rich yellow.

The above are the finest of the Double Hyacinths, and are sure to please those who get them. They may be grown in pots, but are recommended for out-door planting.

The engraving shows a truss in full bloom.

ABOUT TULIPS

TULIPS are really the most important and useful of the Hardy Bulbs for garden decoration, and may also be grown in pots for the winter window. The flowers are large, graceful, showy, borne on long, strong stems, and come in a great variety of bright colors and shades. When bedded they make a fine display for several years without special care, and if given special care the bulbs will increase in number and size and yield a glorious exhibition of bloom.

The soil for Tulips should be sandy and porous and well drained. If water stands upon the bed for a few days, at least during their dormant season, the bulbs will, like those of Hyacinths, decay and disappear. Set bulbs five inches apart and four or five inches deep. After planting a light mulch of stable litter will prove beneficial. If you buy but a half dozen bulbs let them be Tulips. They will give you the most pleasure being more lasting, more showy, and more satisfactory. Pride of Harlem and Gesneriana spatulata are best for beds.

The Earliest Tulips

THE Earliest Tulips are the Duc Van Thol. They grow six inches high, appearing almost with the Early Hyacinths. The flowers are single, large, and of exquisite texture. They are really very beautiful, and I can supply fine bulbs of all the colors: Cochineal, Red and Yellow, Rose, Scarlet and Bright Yellow. 5cts. each, doz. 50cts.

Following the Duc Van Thol come the Double Tournsol Tulips, the earliest of Double Tulips. large, bright and very showy. They grow about 8 in. high, and are handsomely variegated. No. 1 is bright red with gold edge, and No. 2 yellow with an orange shading. 5cts. each, 50cts. per dozen.

I heartily recommend these Earliest Tulips. The Duc Van Thols are desirable for pots or beds and are always admired. The Tournsols are double, larger, and showy in a bed or border. A few each of these Early Tulips should be found in every home.

They are rare but deserve to be better known.

Early Single and Double Tulips

SINGLE Early Tulips are much used by florists for winter-blooming. They are also desirable for beds out-doors for early spring flrs. The Double Early Tulips are especially adapted for out-door culture. I have fine bulbs of both classes, and offer the best named varieties. See next page.

SINGLE EARLY TULIPS

Coltage Maid, dark rose shaded white, handsome.
Couleur Cardinal, rich crimson, inside vivid scarlet.
Flamingo, brilliant dark rose, large and fine.
Joost Van Vondel, cherry red, feathered white.
Keizerskroon, bright red, gold border; splendid.
La Reine, white, sometimes tinged with rose.
Prince of Austria, brilliant orange-red; fragrant.
White Hawk, the finest pure white, large, lasting.
Yellow Prince, the best yellow; large, sweet-scented.
Waterloo, brilliant scarlet, large handsome flowers.

The above splendid collection, 10 fine bulbs in 10 best varieties, all the choice colors, 50cts.

DOUBLE EARLY TULIPS

Couronne d'or, old gold, orange shade; large.
Imperator Rubrorum, fine vivid scarlet, extra.
LeMatador, dazzling scarlet, one of the showiest.
Murillo, white shaded pink; large, splendid.
Rubra Maxima, dark red, very showy in beds.
Salvator Rose, fine deep rose, edged light rose.
Schoonard, snow white, rare and beautiful.
Titian, red with gold border; exceedingly fine.
Tea Rose, fine sulphur yellow, shading orange.
Toreador, orange-red, edged terra-cotta; large.

The above splendid Double Early Tulips in 10 best varieties, all the colors, 50cts.

Fine Large Late Tulips

Yellow Rose, double as a rose, pure golden yellow.
Byblooms, white with richly colored stripes, mixed.
Bizarres, yellow, distinctly striped, beautiful, mixed.

Price 5cts. each, 60cts. per dozen.

DARWIN TULIPS

DARWIN TULIPS are not the earliest, but are the most desirable of all Tulips, being hardy, tenacious, large and showy, displaying the richest colors. They grow from 20 to 30 inches high. The big strong stems issue from a mass of exquisite undulated foliage covering the bed, each stem holding aloft an elegant bloom that is the very picture of grace and beauty. The Darwins are glorious and especially attractive when used in beds or borders, groupings the colors separately or in ribbon fashion. See next page. They are also showy in mixed beds.

The Finest Darwin Tulips

Baron Tonnaye, 26in., vivid pink, large flowers.
Clara Butt, 21in., apple-blossom pink, splendid.
Europe, 22in., glowing salmon-scarlet shaded rose.
Farncomb Sanders, 25in., fiery rose-scarlet, inside vivid cerise, center white and blue; unexcelled.
King Harold, 24in., deep purple-red, white base.
La Candeur, 22in., lovely soft white, blush tint.
Mme. Krelage, 28in., bright lilac-rose, inside blush.
Pride of Harlem, 28in., bright rose, enormous flowers of great beauty; stately habit; fine for beds.
Rev. Eubank, 23in., rich heliotrope, margin lighter.
The Sultan, 20in., glossy maroon-black; odd color.

One bulb of each of the above splendid named Darwin Tulips, a full collection of 10 bulbs, only 50c. 12 mixed Darwin Tulips, 50cts. 50 bulbs enough for a gorgeous bed, $2.00, by parcel post. pre-paid.

Darwin Tulips for Beds

For a magnificent display of Spring flowers plant beds of those two glorious Darwin Tulips, Pride of Harlem and Farncomb Sanders. The former grows 28in high, the enormous flowers borne upon strong erect stems, and all in bloom at the same time. The flowers are not only of mammoth size, but exceedingly graceful and of the richest rose color suffused purple, calling forth the enthusiastic admiration of all who pass. The same may be said of Farncomb Sanders, except that its color is vivid scarlet with white and blue markings and is 25in. high.

100 bulbs of either kind $3.75 post-paid. You'll be more than pleased with these Tulips.

The Grandest Bedding Tulip

Gesneriana patulata bears huge, vivid scarlet flowers on tall strong stems. See next page.

For a Glorious Tulip Bed

GET that splendid Cottage Tulip, Gesneriana Spatulata, illustrated on the preceding page. It is of surpassing beauty, the flowers of largest size, held erect on strong tall stems, all open at once and retaining their attractiveness for many days. The color is dazzling scarlet with a rich blue center. No Tulip is more showy, admired and lasting. The English Flower Garden refers to this grand Tulip as follows:

"Tulip Gesneriana is the noblest of all Tulips and should be in every garden, planted in bold groups or broad masses. It has an immense bright red flower, borne on a tall stem, sweetly scented, with a blue-black zone inside at the base. The flowers last admirably when cut, and by artificial light open as widely as by day. The finest form is that called spatulata. In Sussex I have seen charming effects secured by planting in quantity. In one case a bed thickly planted formed a solid shield-like mass of color more brilliant than a soldier's coat."

Price 5cts. each; doz. 50cts.; 50 $1.90; 100 $3.75.

Rembrandt Tulips

When in Holland I passed the old mill by the water's edge where the Dutch poet, Rembrandt, was born and got a fine kodak picture of the place from the boat. Now I have a lot of Tulips named in his honor. All variegated in odd contrast of lilac, carmine, purple, pink, scarlet, rose and crimson. All are hardy and do well in garden beds. Flowers large, stems 1ft., fine for beds. 5cts. each, 50cts. per doz.

PARROT TULIPS

BEAUTIFUL showy Tulips opening wide in the sun and often 6in. in diameter. They exhibit red, yellow, rose and violet shades, mostly in combination. Stems are weak and often bending, but a bed of these Tulips in bloom is pleasing and attractive. Mixed, 10 bulbs 50cts.

Lily of the Valley

The modest little Lily of the Valley is one of the sweetest and loveliest of Spring flowers. A few grouped in a partially shaded bed will increase and produce a wealth of the exquisite fragrant white clusters every season for years. Six plants mailed 25cts., thirty plants $1.00.

Lily of the Valley is one of the modest little perennials that will care for itself.

GRAPE HYACINTH

A PRETTY early-flowering hardy bulbous plant, 6in high, with blue and white flowers in clusters, see engraving. Once planted it will increase and take care of itself. Should be a "must have" in every garden. Heavenly Blue, the finest variety, 5cts. each, 50cts. per dozen. Also white and common blue, same price.

Hyacinthus Candicans

A hardy plant two feet high with a raceme of big drooping bells at the summit of a strong scape. Called Summer Hyacinth, but really a species of Galtonia. Blooms in summer. Price 20cts. each.

Spring Crocuses

CROCUSES are among the earliest of Spring flowers, coming almost before the snow has disappeared. Purchase and plant early in Autumn, as the bulbs lose their vitality if kept long out of ground. The handsome flowers are borne on 4in stems and are showy in groups. Set 3in. deep. I supply fine bulbs at 5cts. each, any color, White, Blue, Yellow, Striped, or the four for 15cts. Crocus Zonatus, early-flowering, rosy lilac with orange center, fine for the window, 5cts.

NARCISSUS, DAFFODILS

EARLY-BLOOMING hardy bulbous flowers, white and golden yellow. Set four inches deep a bulb will soon form a clump and make a fine display in the garden. The larger bulbs may be grown in pots for the window.

Alba Plena Odorata, pure white, dble fragrant, big bulbs 20cts., small 5c.

Sir Watkin, see eng. title page; golden yellow, large, fragrant; 15c., 6 75c.

Laurens Koster, pure white, orange cup; large clusters, 10cts., 6 50cts.

Van Sion, double golden yellow, large bulbs 10c, 6 50c.

My bulbs of the above were all carefully grown and are the finest to be obtained. The large sized bulbs are sure to produce fine flowers in Spring. The small ones may bloom next Spring, but sure to bloom well a year later. The following are Eastern grown, but sure to bloom next Spring.

Jonquill, golden yellow, very fragrant, several flowers to each stem. 5cts. each.

Trumpet praecox, golden yellow, like Princeps but smaller and earlier. 5cts.

Butter and Eggs, double, sulphur and gold, hardy and fragrant. 5cts. each.

Poeticus, white, red-edged cup; fragrant, hardy 5cts.

Van Sion, single Daffodil, yellow and orange. 5cts.

Mixed Narcissus, a general mixture of Narcissus, Jonquils and Daffodils, etc. 6 bulbs 20cts., doz. 30c.

These are very satisfactory for mixed bedding and make a fine display. Sir Watkins is best for pots.

Hardy Day Lilies

EASILY-GROWN, showy, free-blooming hardy plants, the flowers not unlike a Lily in shape, new ones opening every day. Improved Fulva, 3ft. high; Double Kwanso, later blooming; Auriantica major, 2ft., big golden Amaryllis-like flowers. Each 20cts, or one each of the three 50cts.

A Glorious Lily

THE new Regal Lily is truly a King among Lilies. It will grow anywhere, and once started it stays, while some Lilies last a few years then disappear. It blooms freely, and the big white flowers with gold center are deliciously fragrant. By all means get this grand Lily. Small blooming size bulbs 15cts. Larger size, 6in. in circumference, 35cts. each, 3-bulbs for $1.00. Set the small bulbs 4in. deep, larger size 6in. Mulch liberally with stable litter. Partial shade is preferable. You will never regret buying this Lily. It increases in beauty each year. Mailed in October.

The Largest, Finest Pansies

I OFFER seeds of the Largest, Finest Pansies grown and autumn is the best time to sow them. They were mostly saved by Pansy Specialists in Holland, where the soil and climate are specially adapted to the full development of the plants and flowers and where the seeds come to their fullest maturity.

Roggli's Swiss Giant Pansies, considered the finest strain known, not only for mammoth size and exquisite form but for new, rich and beautiful variegations. No other Pansies surpass these.

Holland-grown Pansies

Masterpiece, Vis strain, fine in size and color, ruffled.

Bugnots Strain, Vis Prize superb, Giant Pansies.

Exhibition Mixture, Sluis' Giant, extra large flrs.

Triumph of Giants, Sluis Extra Strain; huge, superb.

Hyemalis, Vis Giants, winter blooming; unexcelled.

Complete Special Mixture of all the above, Holland-grown Pansies carefully proportioned.

Price 5cts. a packet for any of these Pansies. Same quality mostly sold at 25cts. a packet elsewhere.

Early-flowering Sweet Peas

THE Early-flowering or Christmas Sweet Peas bloom about two weeks earlier than the Standard varieties, and should be planted either in late Autumn or very early in Spring. They are also best adapted for greenhouse culture.

At the North plant in trenches with an 8in. board on each side. The plants should make a growth of from four to six inches before freezing weather, and be protected by a layer of hay or corn-fodder during severe weather. This should be removed early in Spring, otherwise the plants are liable to mildew and smother. In the South protection should only be given during the most frigid weather. I offer only the hardiest and best mixed, 5c. Blue Bird, azure blue, rich and beautiful.

Giant Rose-pink, selected; showy and handsome.

Glitters, rich orange-scarlet, very attractive.

Harmony, clear lavender, large, fine for cutting.

Mrs. Kerr, finest salmon, new; fine eut flower.

Snowstorm Improved, decidedly the best white.

Sweet Lavender, new; beautiful wisteria shade.

Vulcan, dazzling scarlet-cerise; splendid.

PERENNIAL PHLOX

ONE of our handsomest hardy Perennials. Seeds sown in Autumn will come up in Spring and the plants will begin to bloom in the fall. Seedlings are vigorous and healthy and show a great variety of colors. I offer new-crop seeds of a splendid improved strain. Seedlings are preferable to plants grown from cuttings, which are sometimes diseased. This is a grand perennial. Plants grow 2ft. high and become huge panacles of bloom. See engraving. Packet 5cts., 1-16oz. 20cts.

Annual Phlox

In the South seeds of Phlox Drummondii give the best results if Autumn-sown. The plants appear and begin to bloom early, and make a fine display during early Summer. Finest Large flowered mixed. Packet 5cts., 1-16oz. 15cts.

PORTULACA

PORTULACA, often called Flowering Moss because of its narrow foliage and low, dense growth, is one of our prettiest, most showy and easily grown annuals. The single flowers are cup-like, in great profusion, in many bright colors. Complete mixture, single or double, 5c.

ANNUAL POPPIES

Annual Poppies do much better sown in Autumn. The plants start early in Spring and bloom before hot weather comes. Paeony-flowd and Fringed Carnation-flowd are the best. Shirley Poppies single and double are also beautiful. Mixed colors, 5cts.

Perennial Gaillardia

I REGARD Gaillardia Lorenziana fl. pl. as the finest Gaillardia, the flowers being large, double, of rich colors and borne freely on long, strong stems. Benary's special mixture is unexcelled, 5ct.

Gaillardia Grandiflora, Kelways Prize, is much admired, and has taken many awards. The flowers are of immense size, very rich and varied in color, and fine for beds as well as for cutting. Complete special mixture, all colors, 5cts. Sow now. See Eng.

Digitalis, Foxglove, Shirley

THE finest of all Foxgloves; developed by Rev. Wilkes, who originated the Shirley Poppies. The plants grow six feet high, three to four feet of the stem thickly set with big Gloxinia-like bells of many rich colors and variegations. One of the choice flowers for the Perennial garden and should be a "must have" if you only grow but a half dozen sorts. First-class seeds of all the splendid colors, mixed only, 5cts.

A Grand Biennial

An elegant, stately and beautiful biennial is Harkness, Verbascum. The plants grow from seven to nine feet high, are candelabrum-like, and completely covered every day with showy golden flowers, the display lasting for weeks. The plants will grow in any rich soil and once started the supply will be kept up from volunteer seedlings. This is one of the good things that should be at every home. Don't omit it. Only 5cts. Start the seeds now.

It will be greatly admired by all who pass.

SWEET WILLIAM

VERY beautiful fragrant old-fashioned garden flowess that have been much improved. Sown now the plants will bloom freely next summer. I have the finest new colors and variegations; single and double. Once started the supply is kept up by self-sown seeds mxd 5c, 1-16oz. 10c.

SWEET GARDEN PINKS

The Pheasant-eye and Cyclop everblooming Pinks are indispensibles, bearing masses of lovely bloom, and richly perfumes the entire garden. Finest single and double sorts mixed, 5cts., 1-16oz. 10cts.

A FEW EXTRA BULBS

SOME CHOICE FREESIAS

Fischeri, New Pure White, beautiful.

General Pershing, pink, a rare color.

Splendens, lavender, new and handsome.

5cts. each, 50cts. a dozen.

FINE CALLA LILIES

Aethiopica, the old-fashioned Calla.

Elliotana, spotted foliage, golden flowers.

Godfrey, the best white Calla.

30cts. each, 6 for $1.50

SCILLAS AND SPARAXIS

Scilla Siberica; blue; Campanulata, white, pink and blue; Nutans coerulea, blue. Separate or mixed.

Sparaxis, Cape bulbs, large flrs., hardy, mixed colors.

5cts. each, 50cts. a dozen.

LOVELY KINDS OF OXALIS

Grand Duchess, pink, yellow, lavender or mixed.

Rosea, pink, white, separate or mixed.

Bowei, very handsome pink, splendid.

5cts. each, 50cts. a dozen.

FINE NAMED PAEONIES

White, Red, Rose, each 35cts., dozen $3.50.

CALLIOPSIS

A SHOWY and beautiful hardy annual. Sown in Autumn the plants bloom in early summer in great profusion, and a mixture displays a fine range of colors and variegations. Makes an interesting and attractive bed. Mixed, 5c., 1-8oz. 10cts. C. Drummondii or Golden wave, same price.

Perennial Larkspur

A grand everblooming hardy perennial. If sown now the plants begin to bloom by mid-summer and keep up the display till freezing weather. Benary's Finest Strain, single and double, 5cts., 1-16oz. 25cts.

FLOWERS for the HOUSE

Freesia Bulbs, lovely tubular white, sweet-scented flowers in clusters. Each 3cts., 4 10cts., 10 25ct.

Narcissus, Sir Watkins, L. Koster, Jonquils, are all fine for the window. Root the large bulbs as recommended for Hyacinths and treat in same way.

Oxalis, Buttercup, one of the most attractive of pot Oxalis; lovely clusters of pleasing yellow flowers; always greatly admired. 6cts. each, 60cts. per doz.

Calla Lilies, Godfrey, the best of free-blooming Pure White Calla Lilies; beautiful foliage, each 30cts. Elliotana, golden yellow, spotted foliage, free-blooming 30cts. Maculata, a smaller Calla with pretty white-spotted foliage. 20cts.

Other Bulbs. The large Snowdrop, a hardy early-flowering garden bulb, the foliage 10in. high, and white drooping flowers; larger than the common Snowdrop. 5cts. each.

Seeds. The new Bush Balsam is a splendid window plant; blooms in a sunny or shady window, and requires but little care. Start the seeds in early Autumn for pot plants for winter-blooming. Everyone should have this grand new flower, mixed 5c.

Cannas, 15cts. each, $1.50 per dozen. Philadelphia, huge clusters of crimson bloom. Pennsylvania, huge scarlet bloom. King Humbert. carmine and orange. Piedmont, yellow. Colossal, 6ft., showy bright orange. President, big clusters of scarlet. Apricot, salmon. Mrs. Conard, shell pink. Venus, pink and white.
