"The Home of the Pansy"

IN THIS CATALOG we are attempting to display the different plants we grow in quantity, with Pansies as our specialty. We have been growing Pansies continuously for 40 years, always having in mind to improve our strain both in size of blooms and new colorings. Each season we purchase Pansy seed of the rarest and most expensive varieties, of growers in Europe and America. These we grow separately and watch carefully for a few plants of something new. If the color and size of flower, the productivity of plants and habit of growing meet with our approval, we add them to our mixture. In doing this we have built up a strain of the highest degree of excellence.

How we have succeeded is shown by the many complimentary letters we get from our old friends and customers, some of whom have been buying yearly since the firm was quite young. If you have never tried our Pansies, we invite you to send us an order this season. It will prove to our mutual advantage.

Pansy Culture

PANSIES can be grown on any well-drained soil. If your soil is wet and soggy, the beds should be raised at least 4 inches above the level. Add a little sand; it will help to lighten the soil. This need be done only in extremely heavy soil.

Always bear in mind, in order to have large and beautiful flowers, the soil should be very rich. Fertilize your beds a month or two before planting when possible, using well rotted stable manure liberally. Commercial fertilizer can be used with success if applied intelligently, using for humus, peat moss, dead leaves, or other like material.

When preparing for planting, pulverize the soil to a depth of 6 inches or more, firm the soil. Place plants no less than 4 inches square, up to 9 inches is better if you have the space. Put roots in ground only as deep as they were in nursery. If ground is sticky, wait until it dries a little. In hot, dry weather, water thoroughly after planting, covering with paper during heat of day until plants are rooted. In the South, little or no covering will be necessary to carry plants over Winter. Water frequently in hot, dry weather and pick flowers when they show signs of fading. This will insure a continual bloom. Following these instructions you can expect Pansies at their best.

The above are photographs of the large and regular size Pansy plants. They are greatly reduced, of course, but it shows the stocky, vigorous plant, and note the wonderful root system. Our soil is fairly light, which accounts for the good roots. The advantages of the large size are that they should bloom a few weeks earlier and will show more flowers at first.

The regular size will take a little longer to develop, but should be just as nice in the end. We recommend the large size for greenhouse Winter blooming as they are ready to flower. When ordering, be sure to state size and number wanted.

Pitzonka's Prize Mixture

Only plants that are strong growers are selected. This variety is all the name implies. We can offer these only at retail, as our supply is small. This is due to the fact that in making up the mother seed bed, only the very choicest stock is taken for seed production.

PERENNIALS

How to Use and Care for Them

PERENNIALS as ever are the most interesting of plants. They are hardy, and once you start to plant you become fascinated and want to keep on adding more. A bed started one year and not finished does not mean you must start over the next year. Arranging the plants to show to the best advantage is most interesting.

In grouping the plants, that is, putting two or three plants to the group, the taller plants should be placed to the rear of the bed. Do not crowd them. Allow a little space here and there through the bed for your annuals. They often give color and cut flowers in the late Summer when many of the perennials are through blooming. In selecting plants for the border, choose plants for blooming in different seasons. PANSIES and ENGLISH DAISIES will give you the first flowers of the season. These should be planted toward the front. Tulips can also be planted in the border. We must not forget our standbys—the HOLLYHOCKS, CANTERBURY-BELLS, FOXGLOVES, HARDY PINKS, SWEET-WILLIAMS, PHLOX, PYRETHRUM, FLAX, the different kinds of DELPHINIUM, including the newer hybrids, and many other old-fashioned hardy plants. In the Fall we have the AGERATUM, CHRYSANTHEMUMS, etc.

In the Summer the beds should be mulched with peat moss at least one inch thick. This will give the plant protection against droughts. For the Winter we must protect them during the severe part, being careful not to cover too early. After the ground is frozen hard is the right time.

Use only light material for the plants that retain their foliage such as the FOXGLOVE, CANTERBURY-BELLS, SHASTA DAISY and COREOPSIS. Straw is good for covering. Remove in the Spring when growing weather starts.
