HARROLD'S FLORIST STRAIN ANTIRRHINUM SEEDS

It has been our endeavor in growing the stock offered here in to supply only the very best varieties. Those that have proven their value to the trade along with a few of the newer sorts that promise to become profit producers.

The stock offered is grown in our own establishment and through the elimination of artificial growing conditions we feel confident that you will find the product of superior quality. Our stock from which these seeds are grown are plants grown from the originators' strain, and plants used for seed production are carefully selected. All seed, after being harvested and cured, are carefully tested to determine viability.

During the past three years we have supplied thousands of florists throughout the United States with these seeds. We are the only firm in the world backing Antirrhinum seed with a definite guarantee of production. This guarantee coupled with the best commercial varieties, priced at uniformly economical prices makes our seed the outstanding value of the season. Read the following guarantee!

GERMINATION GUARANTEE

We guarantee that every packet of Snapdragon, (Antirrhinum) seeds supplied by Harrold's Greenhouses, will with usual care produce at least one thousand plants. Should for any reason they fail to do so, upon proper notification, we will replace packet for packet those failing to fulfill this guarantee FREE of charge. It is understood however, that in the event of the purchase of a number of packets of one variety, and they fail to conform with the terms of this guarantee, that replacement will be made on the aggregate and sufficient seed supplied to make up any deficiency.

It is also understood that Harrold's Greenhouses will in no case assume a responsibility greater than the original price of any stock supplied under this guarantee.
