GENERAL PREFACE

When the Bureau of Historical Research (as it was originally designated) was established in 1903 by the newly founded Carnegie Institution of Washington, the first of its permanent departments, one of the most urgent needs of scholarship in the field of American history was of systematic and comprehensive information respecting the great masses of unpublished primary source-material that lay in the archives and libraries of those countries that had been active in exploring and colonizing the New World, or that had long maintained important relations with the United States. Such information as was available was fragmentary, casual, not easily accessible, and did not afford that guidance without which historical research must proceed blindly and hesitatingly, following false trails and missing much that is most important. The amelioration of this situation was one of the first concerns of the new Bureau, which organized a series of systematic explorations in those foreign archives and manuscript collections that were known to be most rich in source-material for the history of the areas now occupied by the United States and its dependencies. These explorations, conducted by numerous scholars temporarily connected with the Carnegie Institution as well as by members of its permanent staff, have resulted in the publication, to date, of some fifteen volumes, or Guides, as they are termed, relating to materials in Great Britain, Spain, Italy, Russia, Germany, Austria, Switzerland, Canada, Cuba, and Mexico.

That the first of the volumes describing the important materials in the depositories of Paris should be appearing only now, twenty-five years after the writer of the present lines was entrusted with the French "mission", is cause for chagrin and regret. It is not easy to present adequate apologies for a delay of a quarter of a century, but it is only fair to explain that during the greater part of this period other and quite different duties and activities have had to receive first attention. In order to mitigate so far as possible the evil effects of this long delay, every effort has been made to place at the disposal of those who might have need of it the information collected for this Guide, and the original notes have been freely loaned or otherwise made accessible to students and institutions. Especially the notes on some 20,000 documents relating to the history of the Mississippi Valley have been utilized in the two-volume Calendar of Manuscripts in Paris Archives and Libraries relating to the History of the Mississippi Valley to 1803, edited by Mrs. N. M. Miller Surrey, and issued by the Department of Historical Research of the Carnegie Institution in a planographed edition (1926, 1928). This Calendar is in fact a by-product of the work on the present Guide. Similarly, the titles of all printed royal or ministerial acts relating to America that were discovered during the course of the "mission" have been included in Acts of French Royal Administration concerning Canada, Guiana, the West Indies, and Louisiana, prior to 1791, compiled by Lawrence C. Wroth and Gertrude L. Annan (New York Public Library, 1930). Finally, when the monumental task of copying the documents in French archives and libraries relating to the history of the United States was inaugurated in 1913 by the Library of Congress the notes that had been made for the Guide furnished the basic information for the selection of the material to be copied.

It would be superfluous to present to those for whose use this Guide is designed even the briefest account of those phases of American history that depend upon the sources herein described. Let it suffice to point out that in general the scope of the Guide corresponds to the history of French action in North America from the early part of the sixteenth century to about the middle of the nineteenth. The material that is described bears especially upon such aspects and episodes of French-American history as discovery and exploration, the operations of the early trading companies, the colonization of Canada and Louisiana and the establishment of the intervening settlements, the commerce of the continental and West Indian colonies with the metropole, with each other, and with the English and Spanish colonies, the American phase of the Seven Years' War, the participation of France in the War of American Independence, the American episodes of the Napoleonic wars, and, finally, the commercial and political relations between France and the United States from 1783 to about 1850.

Geographically the Guide is in principle restricted to material bearing upon the history of the area now comprised within the United States and Canada, but many documents relative also to Mexico, Central and South America, and the West Indies have been noted, although not systematically nor comprehensively. Canadian material has been included because of the difficulty, not to say impossibility, of attempting to establish a sort of international boundary line between the documents relating to Canada and those relating to the northern part of the United States. It was more practical, as it was certainly more historical, to treat the French régime in North America as a whole. Nevertheless it was possible to deal more summarily with material chiefly Canadian than with that relating to the area now within the United States, for the reason that the Public Archives of Canada have printed detailed inventories of certain important sections of it. The arrangements for the complete exchange of information between the missions of the Carnegie Institution and of the Canadian Archives, generously entered into by the latter, greatly facilitated the task of the former.

So far as depositories are concerned it has been necessary to limit the Guide to those of Paris, namely, the Bibliothèque Nationale and the other Parisian libraries that possess collections of manuscripts, the Archives Nationales, and the archives of the ministries of Foreign Affairs, War, Marine, and Colonies. For the libraries outside of Paris information respecting manuscripts relating to America in their collections is to be found in David M. Matteson, List of Manuscripts concerning American History preserved in European Libraries and noted in their Published Catalogues and Similar Printed Lists (Carnegie Institution, 1926). For information respecting local archives the investigator must depend upon the large though still incomplete series of Inventaires Sommaires of departmental and communal archives, a list of which, by Robert Doré, is published in the Revue des Bibliothèques (July–September, 1919).

The methods followed in the preparation of the Guide have varied according to the character of the material encountered. In general, historical manuscripts have received individual notice, while archival material, being usually found in groups or series of related documents, has been described more summarily. Printed material has been described only as it has been found among manuscript documents.

Throughout the Guide, with one or two exceptions that are noted where they occur, the volume or the carton (file-box) is the unit of description, and the order followed is that of the official classification.

The exploitation of the French sources of North American history has been carried on for nearly a century by private scholars and by governmental agencies of Canada and the United States. The most systematic and complete of these exploitations are those of the Public Archives of Canada and of the Library of Congress. It is just fifty years since the former undertook to inventory and copy all material relating to Canadian history in French archives and libraries. From 1883 to 1905 detailed calendars were printed in successive annual Reports of the Canadian Archives, the documents themselves being transcribed by a small force of copyists. The work of transcription continues to the present time, and has resulted in the accumulation upon the shelves of the Public Archives in Ottawa of a substantial and steadily increasing proportion of the French materials for Canadian history. In 1911 the Public Archives issued a comprehensive Rapport sur les Archives de France relatives à l'Histoire du Canada, compiled by J. Edmund Roy, chiefly from published inventories and catalogues and from a few manuscript lists. This survey, though superficial and marred by errors and by failure to indicate sources of information, is useful.

Systematic exploitation by the Library of Congress was commenced in 1913 with the copying of documents relating to the history of the Mississippi Valley selected by those in charge of the Carnegie Institution's mission. Transcription by hand proceeded slowly for more than a decade, being extended to some of the more important West Indian material, but in 1927 it was superseded by photographic copying at a greatly accelerated rate, a change made possible by a special gift to the Library of Congress from Mr. John D. Rockefeller, jr.

This vast collection is supplemented by earlier collections of transcripts acquired by the Library, notably the twenty-four portfolios of B. F. Stevens's Facsimiles of Manuscripts in European Archives relating to America, 1775-1783,¹ of which a substantial part is drawn from French sources, and the thirty-seven portfolios of additional Stevens Transcripts relating to the French alliance, 1778-1784, and to the peace negotiations, 1782-1784, which likewise include a large number of French documents, especially from the archives of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs. Mention should also be made of the monumental " Benjamin Franklin Stevens Catalogue Index of Manuscripts in the Archives of England, France, Holland and Spain relating to America, 1763-1783 ", in 180 manuscript volumes containing the titles of 101,000 documents, which was purchased by the Library of Congress in 1906.

Thus it is seen that there are being formed in Ottawa and Washington two master collections of copies of documents in French repositories relating to American history that are rapidly approaching completion in their respective fields.

While the two general collections just noted overshadow in their importance for purposes of research the smaller collections formed for more special objects, the latter are nevertheless worthy of notice. To mention first those that have been published, there are, for the history of French Canada and of the contiguous areas now within the United States, the following principal collections :

Collection de Manuscrits, contenant Lettres, Mémoires et autres Documents Historiques relatifs à l'Histoire de la Nouvelle-France, recueillis aux archives de la Province de Québec ou copiés à l'Étranger (4 vols., Quebec, 1883-1885). This publication includes a large number of documents in the ten volumes of transcripts made in France in 1844-1848, by Benjamin Perley Poore, for Massachusetts and preserved in the archives of that state.

Documents relative to the Colonial History of the State of New York, E. B. O'Callaghan, editor. Volumes IX. and X. of this series (Albany, 1855, 1858) contain in English translation the documents copied in Paris about 1843, under the direction of John B. Brodhead; they range from 1631 to 1774 and are chiefly from the archives of the ministries of Colonies and of War, with a few from the Bibliothèque Nationale.

The French Régime in Wisconsin, 1634-1760, edited by Reuben Gold Thwaites, in Wisconsin Historical Collections, vols. XVI.-XVIII. (1902-1908), is a collection of documents and extracts, in English translation, selected from various sources but largely from the transcripts in the Canadian Archives of the archives of the French Ministry of the Colonies.

The Cadillac Papers, 1669-1742, edited by Clarence M. Burton, in Michigan Pioneer and Historical Society, Historical Collections, vols. XXXIII.-XXXIV. (1903, 1904), is a collection of documents relating to the French régime in Michigan, copied in the archives of the Ministry of the Colonies and in other depositories in Paris, and printed in English translation.

The great collection of documents relating to the Mississippi Valley is that edited by Pierre Margry, and published with the aid of a subvention from the government of the United States: Découvertes et Établissements des Français dans l'Ouest et dans le Sud de l'Amérique septentrionale, 1614-1754, 6 vols. (Paris, 1876-1886). This contains a great variety of documents from the archives of the ministries of Colonies and Marine, and of the Hydrographic Service, and from the manuscripts of the Bibliothèque Nationale. They relate largely to voyages and explorations—to La Salle, Iberville, La Vérendrye, and others—and to the fur trade, western posts, relations with the Indians, etc. While the documents are often abridged and although they contain rather too many textual inaccuracies, the collection is of great value. Supplementing Margry in a most useful way for the lower Mississippi is the series of Mississippi Provincial Archives, French Dominion, published in English translation and edited by Dunbar Rowland and A. G. Sanders, for the Mississippi Department of Archives and History, of which volume I., 1729-1740 (Jackson, Miss., 1927), has appeared. The documents are selected from the series "Correspondance générale, Louisiane" (C¹³), in the archives of the Ministry of the Colonies.

For the period of the War of American Independence must be mentioned the monumental work by Henri Doniol, published by the French government: Histoire de la Participation de la France à l'Établissement des États-Unis de l'Amérique, in six volumes including a supplementary volume (Paris, 1886-1900). This is a collection of extracts of documents connected by narrative, with appendixes of integral documents. The material is taken chiefly from the archives of the ministries of Foreign Affairs, War, and Marine.

Finally, there should be noted the valuable collection of documents edited by Professor Frederick J. Turner and published in French in the Annual Report of the American Historical Association, 1903, vol. II.: Correspondence of the French Ministers to the United States, 1791-1797. These documents are from the series Correspondance politique, États-Unis, in the archives of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs.

Of the collections of manuscript transcripts only a few need be noted. The "Poore Transcripts" in the Massachusetts archives have already been mentioned as forming a substantial part of the Collection de Manuscrits . . . relatifs à l'Histoire de la Nouvelle France. The Massachusetts Historical Society has preserved the forty or more volumes of transcripts bequeathed to it by Francis Parkman, which were made for him over a period of many years and constitute the principal source of his monumental history. Although overshadowed by the more comprehensive collection in Ottawa, they include much Canadian and New England material that is not to be found in the Library of Congress. The Library of Harvard University possesses the papers of Jared Sparks, which include 22 volumes of documents copied from various Parisian archives, as well as six volumes of transcripts of Lafayette papers, and one volume of Beaumarchais correspondence. Similarly, the New York Public Library contains the papers of George Bancroft, among which are about 1100 transcripts of French diplomatic correspondence relating to America between 1765 and 1783; but this collection is now superseded by the Stevens Transcripts and Facsimiles in the Library of Congress. Some few other small collections exist in Albany, in Portland, Maine, in New Orleans, in Detroit, and in Madison, Wisconsin, but they have for the most part been published or are superseded by the collections at Ottawa and Washington.

The pleasant and considerable duty remains of making acknowledgment of the courtesies and assistance that have been extended to the "mission" during its long history.

First and foremost should come the name of the one who would have written this preface had he not retired from the directorship of the Department of Historical Research before the delayed completion of the present volume. The helpfulness and patience of Dr. J. Franklin Jameson could not be surpassed, and it is not without emotion that this slight tribute is paid to his friendship and to his wise and inspiring guidance. It is given to few scholars, in any field of learning, to render such services to scholarship as he has performed for historical studies, and the complete unselfishness with which they have been given has heightened their value and increased the obligations of their beneficiaries.

To the Canadian Archives, to Dr. Arthur G. Doughty their director, to Dr. Henry P. Biggar in charge of their operations in Great Britain and Europe, to M. Théodore Beauchesne, head of their Paris bureau, as well as to M. Edm. Buron and his other collaborators, the compiler of this Guide is especially indebted, not only for valuable information and advice, but for assistance and collaboration.

To his Excellency M. Jean Jules Jusserand, Ambassador of France to the United States when the work was commenced and during the greater part of its duration, thanks are due for official introductions and kindly interest. Officials of the American embassy in Paris have also been unfailingly helpful, although it has seldom been necessary to have recourse to their good offices since the early days of the "mission" when the late Henry Vignaud, First Secretary and Counsellor of the embassy, in his own name a scholar of high rank, secured for the Guide the benevolent interest of ministerial, archival, and library officials and himself took the trouble to be mentor and friend to the inexperienced and (then) youthful American in charge of the undertaking.

It is impossible to name all the officials of ministries, archives, and libraries who have been helpful with advice and information; some will be mentioned in succeeding volumes in connection with the depositories to which they were or are attached. Nevertheless this general enumeration should include the late M. Charles V. Langlois, former director of the Archives Nationales, MM. Charles Schmidt (now General Inspector of Archives), Pierre Caron, and Georges Bourgin, of the same establishment; MM. Abel Rigault and Georges Espinas, of the archives of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, and their former colleague, the late M. A. Tausserat-Radel; M. O. Wirth of the Ministry of the Colonies; M. Charles Braibant, chief of the archives of the Ministry of the Marine; the late M. Martinien of the archives of the Ministry of War; and MM. Henri Omont, Charles de La Roncière, Ph. Lauer, and Léon Vallée, of the Bibliothèque Nationale.

Of French scholars not officially connected with depositories of archives and manuscripts the late Senator Richard Waddington and the late Professor P. Cultru of the Sorbonne were most helpful, as have also been M. Paul Mantoux and especially Professor Bernard Faÿ, now of the Collège de France, whose research uncovered much material of importance for the Guide.

American scholars whose sojourns in Paris occurred during the work on the Guide furnished useful suggestions and information and in some cases contributed lists and notes; among them may be mentioned Dr. Stewart L. Mims, lately professor in Yale University, Professor Samuel E. Morison of Harvard University, Dr. Verne Blue, now of the Department of State, Professor Samuel F. Bemis of George Washington University, the late Professor Claude H. Van Tyne, and especially the compiler's colleague, the late Dr. Frances G. Davenport, of the Carnegie Institution.

Especial thanks are due to Mr. James Hazen Hyde of Paris and Versailles, who placed his fine library of publications bearing upon the history of French-American relations at the disposal of the "mission", and himself extended many personal courtesies.

When it became necessary for the writer of these lines to leave Paris, in September, 1914, M. Louis Doysié undertook the custody of the formidable accumulation of notes and saw to its being safely shipped to Washington before the risk from submarine warfare became acute. After the war the European Center of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, directed by Dr. Earle B. Babcock, provided accommodation for the notes, and still later the International Institute of Intellectual Co-operation, then under the directorship of M. Julien Luchaire, hospitably furnished space and accommodations for work in the offices of M. Michel Lhéritier, attaché of the Institute and general secretary of the International Committee of Historical Sciences.

Finally, a word must be said of those who collaborated in the preparation of the Guide. First of these was M. Abel Doysié, now in charge of the work in Paris for the Library of Congress, referred to above, whose association with the "mission" commenced in 1908 and continued until the outbreak of the war, after which it was resumed until the copying for the Library of Congress took on such proportions as to require his entire attention. His natural qualities of intelligence, industry, and accuracy, enhanced by his enthusiastic devotion to the undertaking, made his collaboration exceedingly valuable and indeed indispensable. He performed an important share of the original note-taking, supervised the work of several assistants, and in short rendered invaluable services. His name is associated with those parts of the Guide to which his contributions were most important.

Mr. David W. Parker, lately of the Public Archives of Canada, devoted over a year to editorial work on the volume with which his name is associated, dealing with the Colonial and Marine archives, and with series of the Archives Nationales. His experience, critical judgment, and historical knowledge were generously made available, and he solved many difficult problems of method and presentation.

Mrs. N. M. M. Surrey, during the period that she was engaged in editing the Calendar of Manuscripts . . . relating to the History of the Mississippi Valley, was most helpful in checking and amplifying notes already taken, and in completing the notes for certain series, especially in the Colonial archives.

The assistants who worked at various times for longer or shorter periods, mostly under the direction of M. Doysié, were Mmes. Mathilde Breuil, Valentine Jouhet, and Léa Vila; Mlles. Jeanne Bossard and Marie Antoinette Mairesse; and MM. Victor Édard, A. Montoux, and J. Wielhorski. To this group, although working independently of it, should be added Miss Sybil Norman of Edinburgh, then a resident of Paris.

In conclusion it remains only to express the hope that the Guide—this present volume and the two or three that are to follow as rapidly as the collected material can be prepared for publication—may usefully serve the purposes of scholarship, and may stimulate interest and research in those important chapters of American history which are also chapters in the history of France and of the French people.

WALDO G. LELAND.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 17, 1932.

INTRODUCTORY NOTE TO VOLUME I

The first volume of the Guide to Materials for American History in the Libraries and Archives of Paris is devoted to the collections of manuscripts in thirteen libraries. Its scope, both chronological and topical, is broader than that of any of the succeeding volumes, and its contents are far more miscellaneous. It is impossible to apply methods of summary description to volumes and cartons of heterogeneous papers, of which an accurate description can be given only by listing the individual pieces. Accordingly this section of the Guide more nearly resembles a calendar than will the later volumes, which deal with groups of homogeneous documents.

While most of the note-taking for this volume, especially in the Bibliothèque Nationale, was done by the compiler, an important share was performed by M. Abel Doysié, who prepared the "Classified List of Manuscript Maps" (pp. 221 ff.) and who also examined the manuscripts in most of the smaller libraries. Dr. Henry P. Biggar, of the Public Archives of Canada, generously allowed use to be made of a list of manuscripts in the Bibliothèque Nationale that he had prepared for his own use, and the Paris bureau of the Canadian Archives made other lists available and furnished many important suggestions. The lists in this volume are however based upon a fresh examination of the documents.

The index, which presented unusual difficulties, has been made by Mr. David M. Matteson, who has identified and supplied many proper names and corrected numerous errors.

Miss Cornelia M. Pierce, secretary of the Division of Historical Research, has rendered services in seeing the manuscript through the press that are acknowledged with sincere gratitude.

Finally, Dr. Frank F. Bunker, editor of Carnegie Institution's Division of Publications, and the Lord Baltimore Press, printers of this volume, who furnished the first proofs in 1928, have exhibited a degree of patience that is believed to be unsurpassed in the history of publishing.

BIBLIOTHÈQUE NATIONALE.¹

The Bibliothèque Nationale, whose origins, as the Bibliothèque du Roi, go back to Charles V. and the fourteenth century, began to assume a position of pre-eminence among Parisian libraries under the administration of Colbert during the latter part of the seventeenth century. In the French Revolution it became the Bibliothèque Nationale and received large and important accessions from the sequestered libraries of émigrés and religious establishments. To-day it is one of the great treasure houses of the world, approached only by the British Museum as a centre of research.

The Bibliothèque Nationale, entered through the court of honor at 58, Rue de Richelieu, occupies the quadrilateral between the Rues des Petits Champs, de Richelieu, Colbert, and Vivienne, part of which, at least, has been the site of the library for two centuries or more. It is essentially and primarily a scholars' library. A small part of it is utilized for a public reading-room, to which admission may be had by any one, without formality, but admission to the more important and larger research rooms, or salles de travail, is by card, issued by the secretariat of the library. Foreign scholars may secure these cards upon applying to the secretariat, and presenting a form of introduction from their consulate, legation, or embassy. Two photographs, passport size, of the applicant must also be presented. A small fee is charged for the cards, which are good for five years, but which must be visaed annually at the secretariat.

A brochure of practical information and instructions, especially useful to those who resort to the library for the first time, may be had at the secretariat or at the entrance to the principal reading-room: Guide du Lecteur à la Bibliothèque Nationale.

The Bibliothèque Nationale is organized in four departments, as follows:

- (1) Département des Imprimés, Cartes et Plans, divided into a Section des Imprimés and a Section des Cartes et Plans;
- (2) Département des Manuscrits;
- (3) Département des Médailles, Pierres Gravées, et Antiques;
- (4) Département des Estampes.

The resources of the Section des Imprimés, so far as American history is concerned, are most valuable for the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries. They may be known through the printed author Catalogue Général (commenced in 1897 and in 1930 nearly through the letter L) with its manuscript supplements, through the manuscript subject catalogues of books entered since 1882, and through the printed Catalogue de l'Histoire de France, chapter L. Especially useful are the poly-copied Catalogue de l'Histoire de l'Amerique, by G. A. Barringer, in five volumes (1903-1911), and the similar Catalogue de l'Histoire de la Grande Bretagne (1878) and Catalogue de l'Histoire d'Espagne et de Portugal (1883). The Section des Imprimés contains, exceptionally, a few manuscripts, of which those deposited by Angrand relate to America, and are described below.

The Section des Cartes et Plans contains many important American maps, which are listed in the present volume.

The collections of the Département des Manuscrits, which in the making of this book have been explored with great care, contain a very large number of documents relating to America, some of first importance, as will be seen from the detailed lists that have been compiled and are here printed.

Neither the Département des Médailles nor the Département des Estampes has been explored, as their contents do not fall within the scope of the Guide. Suggestions as to the sort of American material to be found in these departments are offered by J. E. Roy in Rapport sur les Archives de France, pp. 781-827 (Ottawa, Archives of Canada, 1911).

DEPARTMENT OF MANUSCRIPTS.

The Department of Manuscripts contains one of the largest collections of manuscripts in the world. It comprises 122,000 volumes, and is organized in various categories or fonds, according to language: Oriental, Greek, Latin, French, and modern languages. Most of the manuscripts have been described in published catalogues, which, as well as a large collection of reference works, are at the disposal of those who work in the salle de travail of the department on the first (second) floor of the Library.

Very little material relating to North America appears to be found in other than the French manuscripts (Fonds Français). There may be noted, however, though they have not been examined, certain collections, described in the following works:

Catalogue des Manuscrits Américains de la Bibliothèque Nationale (Paris, 1925, 25 pp.; reprinted from the Revue des Bibliothèques, 1925). Describes 77 manuscripts in various native American languages or dialects.

Catalogue des Manuscrits Mexicains de la Bibliothèque Nationale (Paris, 1899, 64 pp.; reprinted from the Revue des Bibliothèques, 1898, 1899). The annotated copy in the salle de travail describes 426 manuscripts, comprising the Fonds Mexicain, of which nos. 1-384 are the manuscripts collected in Mexico by Joseph Aubin, and presented to the library by the widow of E. Eugène Goupil.

Documents pour servir à l'Histoire du Mexique. By Eugène Boban (Paris, 1891, 2 vols.). This catalogue contains a full description and analysis of each manuscript, nos. 1-372 of the Aubin-Goupil collection.

Catalogue des Manuscrits Espagnols et des Manuscrits Portugais. By Alfred Morel-Fatio (Paris, 1892). A list of 685 Spanish manuscripts, including not only the contents of the Fonds Espagnol, but also the manuscripts in Spanish found in other collections, and of 106 Portuguese manuscripts. A few items relate to South America, the West Indies, or Mexico.

The history of the Department of Manuscripts is set forth in the monumental work of Léopold Delisle, Le Cabinet des Manuscrits de la Bibliothèque Impériale (Paris, 1868-1874, 3 vols.), while a Résumé de l'Histoire du Département des Manuscrits de la Bibliothèque Nationale, also by Delisle, serves as an introduction to the Inventaire Général et Méthodiques des Manuscrits Français de la Bibliothèque Nationale, I. xiv-xxxvi (Paris, 1876).

MANUSCRITS FRANÇAIS.

The Manuscripts Français constitute a third or more of the collections of the Department of Manuscripts. They are in two series, the first of which, designated as Manuscripts Français, is a closed series (nos. 1-33264), while the second, continuing the first but with a new numbering, is open to receive new accessions (since 1862) and is designated as Manuscripts Français, Nouvelles Acquisitions. At present this second series includes about 15,000 volumes of manuscripts, to which additions are constantly being made.

The printed catalogues of these two series present an excellent account of their exceedingly miscellaneous contents: (1) Catalogue des Manuscrits Français, Ancien Fonds (5 vols., 1868-1902). In this catalogue are calendared in detail the documents constituting the original collection of miscellaneous French manuscripts of the Bibliothèque du Roi (nos. 1-6170). (2) Catalogue Général des Manuscrits Français, by H. Omont, C. Couderc, L. Auvray, Ch. de La Roncière, and others (1895-). Of this catalogue, which continues the preceding, vols. I.-III. contain the manuscripts constituting the Ancien Supplément (nos. 6171-15269); vols. IV.-VI. contain the French manuscripts coming from the Abbey of St. Germain-des-Prés (nos. 15370-20064); vols. VII.-IX. contain the French manuscripts coming from suppressed Parisian convents, from private libraries, from the archives of the Chambre des Comptes, from the former Cabinet des Titres, and from other sources, this ensemble of groups being known as the petits fonds (nos. 20065-33264); vols. X.-XIII. commence the catalogue of the Nouvelles Acquisitions, or accessions since 1862, together with a number of small groups (Brienne, Decamps, Fontanieu, Parlement, Renaudot, Visconti) that formerly were kept as independent collections (nos. 1-11353, 20001-22811).

Continuations of the Catalogue Général are published at irregular intervals in the periodical Bibliothèque de l'Ecole des Chartes.

A manuscript index of the catalogues of the Manuscrits Français, in ten volumes, is available in the room where the manuscripts are consulted: Table Générale Alphabétique du Catalogue des Manuscrits Français.

"De l'Amérique, quatrième partie de la terre." Another copy, with variations, is in MSS. Fr. 2108. [ff. 31v-32]

1382. "Premier livre de la description de tous les portz de mer de l'univers . . .", by Jehan Mallart, [1546-1547.]—In verse, based on the Voyages Aventureux of Jean Alfonse. Described, with extracts, in H. Harrisse, Jean et Sébastien Cabot (Paris, 1882), pp. 222-229; cf. H. P. Biggar, Early Trading Companies of New France (Toronto, 1901), pp. 221-222, and Georges Musset, ed., La Cosmographie . . . par . . . Alfonse de Saintonge (Paris, 1904), pp. 42-44. MSS. Fr. 13371 and 25375 are other copies of this work.

2145. "La Reprise de La Floride Par Le Cappne. Gourgue."—Four other copies of this document are among the MSS. Fr.: 3884 (ff. 318-344), 6124, 19899, and 20794 (ff. 728-738). Of these five the oldest is that in 20794, which bears annotations in the hand of Henri Lancelot Voisin de La Popelinière (obit 1608), and is among the papers of François Eudes de Mézeray (1610-1683). A summary of it is given by La Popelinière in Les Trois Mondes (Paris, 1582), liv. II., and is repeated by Martin Basanier, in L'Histoire Notable de la Floride (Paris, 1582, reprinted 1853), under the title "Le quatresme voyage des françois en la Floride sous le capitaine Gourgues, en l'an 1567". Three of the copies, 2145, 6124, 19899, are of the late sixteenth or early seventeenth century and are from the hand of the copyist Robert Leprevost. Of these, 19899 has been printed by Paul Gaffarel, with foot-notes showing the principal variations of 2145, 3884, and 6124, in his Histoire de la Floride Française (Paris, 1875), pp. 483-515, and also, according to Gaffarel, op. cit., pp. 340-341, by Henri Ternaux-Compans in his Recueil de pièces sur la Floride (Paris, 1841), pp. 301-366. The copy in 3884, ff. 318-344, is of the later seventeenth century, and, according to Gaffarel, loc. cit., is printed by Jules Antoine Taschereau in the Revue Rétrospective, II. (1835) 321-358; while the version printed by Philippe Tamizey de Larroque in Publications de la Société des Bibliophiles de la Guyenne (Bordeaux, 1868), I. 1 ff., is said to be based on 2145 and 6124. For full discussion of the various manuscripts and of the incident itself, see Gaffarel, op. cit., pp. 340 ff.; Charles de La Roncière, Histoire de la Marine Française, IV. 63-70; Maurice Delpeuch, "Un glorieux Épisode Maritime et Colonial . . .", in Revue Maritime, CLV.

(1902) 1882-1931, 2150-2191; Francis Parkman, Pioneers of France in the New World; and Charles Samaran, "Dominique de Gourgues", in Revue Historique, CVIII. 276-293, where are also printed "De la vie et mort de Dominique de Gourgue", by Pierre de Vaquieux, 1582, from MSS. Fr. 20794, ff. 736-737, and the will of de Gourgues, dated Paris, Dec. 5, 1581, from Arch. Nat., Y, 123, f. 415.

2482.—"L'Usage de la Mappemonde." (16th century.) Examples for ascertaining latitude of various places; difference in time between Paris and Florida, etc. [f. 27]

2524.—Extracts relating to cosmography. (17th century.) Brief treatise on geography, the three parts of the world, including America, etc. [f. 159]

2954-2955. Correspondence of Louis de Pineau, Sieur de Castillon (1537-1538), and of Charles Marrillac (1539-1540), ambassadors in England. Not examined. See J. Kaulek et al, Correspondance Politique de Castillon et de Marillac . . . 1537-1542 (Paris, 1885). Note also MSS. Fr. 4130, 17970, and 17971 (not examined), and Arch. Affaires Étrangères, Corr. Pol., Angleterre, vols. 3-5.

3884. See above, 2145.

4128. Copies of the correspondence of Jean de Thumery, Sieur de Boissise, ambassador in England 1598-1601.—List of contents in Catalogue. The volume contains rare references to commerce with the West Indies, depredations by English against French vessels in the Newfoundland fishery, etc. The material has been thoroughly exploited and most of the letters of Henry IV. to de Boissise printed by P. Laffleur de Kermaingant, L'Ambassade de France en Angleterre sous Henri IV.: Mission de Jean de Thumery, sieur de Boissise, 1598-1602 (Paris, 1886).

4569. Artillery and war in 1666.

[1627?] "Mémoire touchant la navigation." Memoir prepared at request of Richelieu and the Marquis d'Effiat, proposing that the commerce assigned to the company [of the de Caens?], the cod fisheries, and the trade with Canada and Acadia be placed in the hands of the king or of Richelieu and d'Effiat. [ff. 54-55v]

[1627.] "Minutte du contract du commerce général." Contract between Cardinal Richelieu and the Compagnie de la Nouvelle France. Cf. MSS. relatifs à la Nouvelle France, I. 71-74. [ff. 58-61v]

4925. Memoirs on navigation and commerce, probably for use in negotiations of St. Germain-en-Laye, 1632.

1611-1621. "De la pesche et du commerce des François en l'Amérique, devers la rivière de Canada ou de Saint Laurent et devers l'Isle de Terre Neuve ou Neufondlande, et comme les Anglois les y peuvent empescher." Memoir based on works of Champlain and Purchas. [ff. 15-15v]

"Des usurpations des Anglois sur les François en la Nouvelle France . . . depuis l'an 1611." Substantially as in preceding document. [ff. 17-17v]

1621, Sept. 10, Windsor. "Don de la Nouvelle Ecosse . . . par Jacques, roy de la Grande Bretagne, à Guillaume Alexandre." (Latin copy.) Ptd. in D. Laing, Royal Letters, Charters, and Tracts relating to the Colonization of New Scotland (Edinburgh, 1867). [ff. 18, 19v]

"Que la Nouvelle France et l'isle de Terre Neuve ont esté decouvertes par les François dès l'an 1504." Extracts from Petrus Plancius, and from Bertrand d'Argentré, L'Histoire de Bretagne (Paris, 1588, third ed., 1618). [ff. 20-20v]

5085.—[1548, Sept. 30, Lyon.] Grant by Henry II. to Jean François de La Rocque, Sieur de Roberval, of exclusive mining rights for nine years. Ptd. in Isambert, Anciennes Loïs Françaises (Paris, 1828), XIII. 57-60. [ff. 271v-273]

5503.—1540, Oct. 17, St. Pris. "Charge de cappitaine et pillote général des navires que le roy envoie au Sagueney", conferred by Francis I. on Jacques Cartier. Ptd. in H. Michelant et Alfred Ramé, Voyage de Jacques Cartier au Canada en 1534 (Paris, 1865), pt. II., pp. 12-17. [ff. 190-191]

5581. Collection relating to marine and colonies, 1643-1769.

[1697 ca.] Petition addressed to the Comte de Pontchartrain, secretary of state for the marine, by the wife of Jean Baptiste Ducasse, complaining of the conduct of the Baron de Pointis, commander of the expedition against Cartagena. [ff. 24-26]

1697. Account of the siege and capture of Cartagena by de Pointis and Ducasse. Cf. de Pointis, Relation de l'Expédition de Carthagène faite par les François en 1697 (Amsterdam, 1698), and [Ducasse], Relation Fidèle de l'Expédition de Carthagène (1699). [ff. 27-30]

1663, Mar. Edict creating the Sovereign Council of New France at Quebec. (Copy.) Ptd. in Edits et Ordonnances, I. 37. [ff. 41-42]

5589.—"Seconde navigation faicte . . . par Jacques Cartier . . .", 1536. [ff. 1-62]

Two other versions are in MSS. Fr. 5644, and 5653, ff. 1-56; a fourth version is printed, Bref Récit et Succincte Narration (Paris, 1645). An elaborate discussion of these four versions is to be found in Biggar, Early Trading Companies, pp. 210-220. According to Biggar, MSS. Fr. 5589 is the earliest version, and served as the original or base of the other three. The printed edition of Paris, 1645, has been reprinted by Armand d'Avesac, Bref Récit et Succincte Narration de la Navigation faite en 1535 et 1536 par le Capitaine Jacques Cartier (Paris, 1863), with indication of the variations in the three manuscript versions. The narrative printed by H. Ternaux-Compans, Archives des Voyages (Paris, 1840), vol. II., pt. I., pp. 5-66, is based on MSS. Fr. 5589 and 5644. According to Biggar, also the version in Lescarbot is from MSS. Fr. 5589, while that printed by the Quebec Literary and Historical Society, Voyage de Découvertes au Canada (Quebec, 1843), pp. 24-69, is a modernized copy of MSS. Fr. 5653.

French-Indian glossary: "Ensuite le langaige des pays et royaumes de Hochelaga et Canada. . . ." Also in MSS. Fr. 5653, ff. 56v-59. Ptd. in the Paris edition, 1645, noted above, and in the reprint of this latter by Armand d'Avesac. [ff. 63-66]

5652. "Segon livre de la monarchie articane et antarticane ensemble les voyages et perigrinassions de Vincent Leblanc . . ." (1578-1584?)—Deals with India and the eastern hemisphere, but has outline maps in ink showing North and South America (f. 81), and parts of the coast of South America (ff. 245, 284). Incorporated in part in Les Voyages Fameux du Sieur Vincent Leblanc; cf. above, MSS. Fr. 2033.

5653. See above, 5589.

5682.—[1784 ca.] "Mémoire sur le commerce étranger et maritime." (Marginal note: "Remis à M. le Comte de Vergennes. Je crois que le Sr. de Limon est auteur du Mémoire.") Contents: present state of French commerce, India and America; French have had to abandon the whale fisheries, should make the most of the reconquered cod fisheries; importance of colonial commerce, necessity of reform in legislation relating thereto; importance of largest possible development of commerce with United States by liberal provisions, reciprocity, etc. [ff. 224-264]

5765. Formulary of letters written in the name of the king by Paul Phélypeaux, Comte de Pontchartrain, 1588-1594.—Letters to the Queen of England, the admiral of England, and to the French ambassador in England, on behalf of Nicolas Missent, sea-captain of Pont Audemer, whose vessel the Diane, bound from Newfoundland laden with dried fish and oil, was seized by the English. (Copies.) [ff. 93v-94v]

6116-6117. Extracts from narratives of voyages and works of history, etc. For detailed list of contents see Catalogue.

8036. "Histoire abrégée des Compagnies de Commerce qui ont esté établies en France depuis l'année 1626, avec la collection générale de tous les Privilèges qui ont été accordés depuis 1664 . . .", by Dernis, employee of the Compagnie des Indes, 1742. This work, frequently cited by Pierre Bonnaissieux in Les Grandes Compagnies de Commerce (Paris, 1892), is stated by him (p. 351, n. 1) to be borrowed largely from Savary, Dictionnaire du Commerce. The MS. contains numerous pages on the American colonies and on companies trading in America (pp. 1-2, 5-11, 21-23, 55-62, 407-411). Another copy is in Arch. Colonies, F2, vol. 18.

"Mémoire des habitans de Saint Malo pour le rétablissement du Commerce", by M. de la Motte Gaillard, deputy of St. Malo. [ff. 291-314]

8153. "Mémoire sur la Bretagne", by the intendant Gallais de la Tour.—Not examined; analyzed by H. Sée, in Annales de Bretagne, XXXV. 187-208, 433-455.

8290-8293. "Précis des délibérations des États [de Bretagne], 1567-1762." These four volumes contain an analysis, arranged alphabetically by subjects, of the proceedings of the États de Bretagne. The proceedings themselves, procès-verbaux, are in Arch. Départementales, Ille-et-Vilaine, at Rennes (C. 2640-2704). The printed inventory (Inventaire Sommaire des Archives Départementales Antérieures à 1790: Ille-et-Vilaine, Archives Civiles, Série C, vol. II.) contains a chronological summary of the proceedings but omits most of the references to American matters found in this précis. The American items mentioned in the précis under the headings Caffée des Isles, Canada, Colonies françaises, Commerce, Compagnie des Indes, Gouverneur, Huilles, Terre Neuve, and Vaisseaux are herewith indicated, consolidated, and rearranged in chronological order. 10666-10667. Memoirs of Jean Baptiste Colbert, Marquis de Torcy, 1687-1714. (Original MS., in part autograph.) Printed under title *Mémoires de M. de * * * pour servir à l’Histoire des Négociations depuis le Traité de Riswick jusqu’à la Paix d’Utrecht* (the Hague, 1756, 3 vols.). The account of negotiations with England, 1711-1712, in vol. III. of the printed text (MS. 10667) deals largely with American matters, viz., Newfoundland, Acadia, fisheries, Hudson Bay, slave-trade, West Indies, etc. See below, MSS. Fr., nouv. acq., 744-745.

10670-10672. Memoirs of Jean Baptiste Colbert, Marquis de Torcy, 1715-1718.—Continuation of above. Contains slight references to America, e. g., court of Spain asks permission of King of England for Spaniards to engage in Newfoundland fisheries (10607, p. 640); dissatisfaction of Spain and England respecting observance of Treaty of Utrecht, abuses in West Indies and slave-trade (10672, p. 910). [ff. 42, 73]

10716. 1760, Sept. “Mémoire sur la France et l’Angleterre”, by François de Chaumont.—Comparison of France and England; necessity of falling back on Louisiana if Canada should be lost (f. 27).

10751-10752. 1565-1572. Copies of correspondence of Raymond de Pavie, Sieur de Fourquevaux, French ambassador in Spain.—The major part of this correspondence has been published by Mgr. C. Douais, Dépêches de M. de Fourquevaux, Ambassadeur du Roi Charles IX. en Espagne, 1565-1572 (Paris, 1896, 1901, 1904, 5 vols.), and Lettres de Charles IX. à M. de Four- quevaux (Paris, 1897). These four volumes are published from the original minutes of de Fourquevaux's despatches, preserved in the Château de Fourquevaux, and from Bib. Nat., MSS, Fr. 10751-10752, 16103. A considerable number of the documents relate to the destruction of the French colony in Florida by the Spaniards, and to the West Indies and Spanish America. Paul Gaffarel, Histoire de la Floride Française, pp. 409-455, has printed extracts from 54 documents in 1075, relating to the Florida affair, as follows: ff. 23, 37, 41, 43, 50, 58, 60, 70, 102, 131, 137, 141, 144, 156, 162, 167, 172, 180, 181, 182, 198 (2 letters), 207, 219, 225, 257, 286, 292, 313, 314, 323, 334, 363, 378, 397, 458, 470, 494, 571, 575, 587, 687, 694, 761, 766, 780, 901, 904, 975, 1008, 1030, 1083, 1091, 1285. Cf. above, MSS. Fr. 2145, and below, MSS. Fr. 16103.

10764-10770. Papers of Beliard. 1758-1770.—Beliardi, an Italian by birth, went to Spain in 1746, where he held a position in the tribunal of the nunciature, later becoming internuntius. Attracting the attention of the French ambassadors he was induced to enter the service of France, and from Apr. 3, 1758, to Oct., 1771, he held the position of chargé des affaires de la marine et du commerce de France at Madrid. He had some part in negotiating the Family Compact, and in 1762 he went for the first time to France, where he served in the Ministry of Foreign Affairs until 1765. In April of the latter year he was appointed commissioner to negotiate the treaty of commerce and navigation between France and Spain, which was concluded at Madrid on Jan. 2, 1768. He was a second time in France in 1767-1768, and returned there finally in 1771, after the disgrace of Choiseul. He was commonly called abbé, for although not a priest he was tonsured and in 1767 was made titular abbot of Saint Florent de Saumur. See Mémoire et Pétition à l'Assemblée Nationale, pour le Sieur Beliard (in Bib. Nat., Imprimés, 8vo., Pièce, K, 454). Other papers of Beliard are in MSS. Fr. 13417-13419.

11300-11301. Correspondence and original documents relating to the marine and to artillery, 1716-1778 (especially 1746).—A few letters of Oct., 1746, contain slight references to the squadron of the Duc d'Anville, e. g., 11300, ff. 207, 212, 216; 11301, ff. 4, 11.

11315-11318. Correspondence of Patoulet, intendant of marine, and documents relating to the marine and colonies.—In 11315 a few letters from the king and from Seignelay of 1681 and 1685 contain references to commerce with the West Indies and with Canada (ff. 125, 236, 250, 261, 284). In 11317 an order from Pontchartrain of July 26, 1691, relates to the visit of vessels coming from the colonies by the agent of the fermes (f. 163). Cf. G. St. Yves, "Les Antilles Françaises et la Correspondance de l'Intendant Patoulet", in Journal de la Société des Américanistes de Paris, IV. 55-71.

11319-11321. Accounts of the receipts and expenditures of the treasurer general of the Marine de Ponant, for the years 1632, 1633, and 1634.—Among the items of expenditure are a few relating to America: salaries of Commander de Razilly, Capt. Launay de Razilly, the pilots Guillaume and Jean Levasseur; expenditures for vessels despatched to Canada in 1632; reimbursement of expenses incurred by Guillaume de Caen, etc.

11325-11329. Summary of the policy and practices of the administration of the marine, 1669-1723.—Each volume deals with a distinct period: Colbert, 1669-1684; Seignelay, 1684-1690; Pontchartrain, 1691-1699; Jérôme Pontchartrain, 1700-1715; Conseil de Marine, 1715-1723. The summaries are based upon a large collection of extracts from the despatches of the various secretaries and indicate briefly the policy and practice of the department with respect to the various matters treated. A table of contents in each volume makes the arrangement of subjects clear. The general subjects of interest for America treated in these volumes are as follows: armaments, American war; commerce; colonies; fisheries.

11337-11339. Correspondence of the commission on the debts of the marine: chiefly letters from Berryer, secretary of state for the marine.—These letters are for the most part formal and of small interest. Letters relating to American affairs of 1759-1760 are noted as follows: 11337, ff. 77, 87, 137, 197; 11338, ff. 105, 272, 275; 11339, ff. 22, 29, 47, 53, 72.

1758, Feb. "Mémoire sur l'Etat présent de la Marine du Roy", by M. Le Normant. A prefatory comment states that Le Normant was attached to the Ministry of the Marine, and that he lost his position because in this memoir he exaggerated the debts of the marine by a third in order to secure funds from the Ministry of Finance. 12100. Correspondence relating to settlement of the estate of Raymond Balthazard Phélypeaux, governor general of Martinique, 1713-1714.—Of personal interest only.

12101. "Lettre écrite du Fort-roïal de la Martinique au sujet de la Revolte arrivée en la Colonie de la Martinique en MDCCXVII." (15 pp.)—Details respecting the rebellion, the organizers of it, their plans, its causes, etc. Freedom of trade for foreigners, introduced by Phélypeaux and Du Quesne, and its rigorous suppression by their successors are indicated as the chief causes of the revolt. Cf. MSS. Fr., nouv. acq., 2549, f. 49.

12102-12104. Collection of original letters and documents relating to Santo Domingo, 1764-1799.—According to V. Schoelcher, Vie de Toussaint-Louverture (Paris, 1889), p. 39, n. 2, these volumes are from the estate of General Étienne Laveaux, commander and governor of Santo Domingo in 1794-1796. They consist of letters to Laveaux from French officers in Santo Domingo, from English and Spanish officers in the island, from French diplomatic and consular officials in the United States, and of 117 letters from Toussaint Louverture. Schoelcher has made much use of this collection, op. cit., and prints many of the documents in extract or in full. Among the documents relating to the United States are those noted below, all being letters addressed to Laveaux, unless otherwise indicated. Cf. Arch. Nat., D, XXV.

12102. Letters to Étienne Laveaux.

1794, July 1 (An II., Mess. 13). Fonspertuis, consul at Charleston. Obstacles placed in his way by the Federal government. [f. 88]

1795, Feb. 5 (An III., Pluv. 17), Charleston. Fonspertuis. Sends powder and medicines. [f. 21bis]

1795, Feb. 10, Kingston, Jamaica. Address of 260 French prisoners. Their distress; they do not wish to be deported to New England. [f. 27]

Petition of Dias de Castro, asking for reimbursement for transport of refugees. [f. 53]

1795, July 16 (An III., Mess. 28). Toussaint Louverture. Sends papers found on the Betsey of Philadelphia by a French privateer. [f. 180]

1795, Aug. 5 (An III., Therm. 18), Philadelphia. Adet, minister to the United States. Recommends Hugh Wason, captain of the Betsey. [f. 181]

1795, Aug. 12 (An III., Therm. 25), Alexandria, [Va.]. Cherni, vice-consul. Complaints against the authorities of Cap Français by Capt. Cushman of New Bedford, which have prejudiced Americans against Santo Domingo. [f. 185]

1795, Aug. 31 (An III., Fruct. 14), Philadelphia. Létombe, consul general. Will send munitions; privateers must not enter ports of the United States. [f. 201]

1795, Aug. 5 (An III., Therm. 18), Philadelphia. Létombe. Money is exhausted; the sick must be sent to New York only. [f. 205]

1795, Sept. 4 (An III., Fruct. 18), Philadelphia. Adet. Complaints by American merchants; policy with respect to American vessels must not be changed because of the treaties between England and the United States. [f. 206]

1795, Sept. 5 (An III., Fruct. 19), Philadelphia. Létombe. Case of the Cassius; the debt of the United States to France no longer exists; only strictly necessary purchases can be made. [f. 211]

1795, Sept. 29 (An IV., Vend. 7), New York. Rozier, consul. Requests blank forms of commissions for republicans [French] of New York who wish to engage in privateering. [f. 235]

1795, Oct. 2 (An IV., Vend. 10), Boston. Gariseau, commanding the Brutus. Left Charleston for Port de Paix, was chased and obliged to return to Philadelphia; complains of conduct of Fauchet towards him. [f. 239]

(COLLECTION DANGEAU.)

22593-22822. Collection Dangeau. The collection of papers formed by Louis de Courcillon, Abbé de Dangeau (1643-1723), is of interest for the purposes of this Guide chiefly for the correspondence of Esprit Cabart de Villermont (1628-1707). Cabart de Villermont assiduously collected news of all sorts, which he used for the Mercure or for gazettes à la main, and has a great number of correspondents. Among them was Michel Bégon, intendant of the marine at Rochefort, who kept Villermont informed with regard to interesting matters that came to his attention, particularly those relating to the French colonies, the projects of Iberville, etc.

22623.—Dated lists of early governors, intendants, etc., of French possessions in America. [ff. 71-72, 477]

22684.—1697, Mar. 13, Feb. Lists of vessels and naval forces under command of the Marquis de Nemond and of Du Magnon, fitted out at Brest and Rochefort “pour aler sur les côtes de l’Amérique septentrionale”.

3344-3348. Correspondence and other documents relating to the control of publications under Malesherbes. See also MSS. Fr. 22061-22193, and MSS. Fr., nouv. acq., 5001-5002.

A complete inventory of the contents of these volumes is in E. Coyecque, Inventaire de la Collection Anisson, II. 477-544. For accounts of Malesherbes' administration as directeur de la librairie see id., I. lxxxix et seq., and F. Brunetière, "La Direction de la Librairie sous M. de Malesherbes", in Rev. des Deux Mondes, 1882, reprinted in Études Critiques sur l'Histoire de la Littérature Française, second series (Paris, 1889). The following notes are taken from the inventory by Coyecque.

3344.—1757. Correspondence of Malesherbes and Gilbert Lagrange de Chessieux respecting the latter's work, La Conduite des François justifiée, ou Observations sur un Écrit Anglois intitulé: Conduite des François à l'égard de la Nouvelle Écosse (Utrecht, Paris, 1756), and a dissertation on the Ohio which he proposes to add to a second edition. [ff. 248, 250, 359, 361]

3345.—1754. Correspondence of Machault, Malesherbes, Rouillé, and O'Héguerty, respecting the publication of the work by the last named, Essai sur les Intérêts du Commerce. [ff. 290, 292, 294-296]

3530. "Description méthodique, historique, et chronologique des Papiers contenus dans le Dépôt de la Marine et des Campagnes sur Mer, depuis 1610 jusqu'en 1750." By Hocquet d'Hamecourt, chief of the dépôt des archives de la marine.—Also in Arch. Marine, B8, vol. 26. This volume is useful as an introduction to the archives of the marine. It contains historical accounts, with documents, of the principal offices, amiral, grand maître, conseiller de la marine, etc., and on pp. 500-509 is a very summary description of the different categories of documents in the dépôt, relating to the American colonies, the commercial companies, etc.

3539-3542. "Plantae Antillanae." [1771 ca.]—Collection of drawings of plants, fish, insects, etc., with explanatory notes.

3605-3606. Papers of the Chevalier Étienne François Turgot, governor general of Guiana.—Vol. 3605 contains correspondence, 1763-1768; vol. 3606 contains administrative documents, and papers relating to the affaire Chanvallon (Chanvallon was intendant during Turgot's administration). Cf. MSS. Fr. 6233-6256.

3610-3611. "Recherches sur les maladies des races qui ne souffrent pas de la fièvre jaune, et études particulières sur la maladie des sucreries de Cuba, ou hinchazon des nègres et des Chinois." By Dr. Henri Dumont, 1865-1866.—The second volume contains photographs.

3615-3622. Biographical notes relating to various personages of the sixteenth-eighteenth centuries.—These notes, on 9019 cards (fiches), arranged in alphabetical order, were made by A. Rochebilière from the parish registers of Paris, which were destroyed by fire in 1871. They are noted in this Guide because of their possible value for details (dates of birth, baptism, marriage, death, place of burial, etc.) respecting the lives of persons connected with the American colonies.

3629-3636. Collection of nineteenth-century documents made by Victor Schoelcher, relative to the administration of French colonies, slavery, the navy, etc.—Vols. 3628-3631 relate to Martinique; 3632 to Guadeloupe, Jamaica, Dominica, and Cayenne; 3633 to Haiti; 3634 to Senegal and Gabun; 3635 to Réunion, India, and Cochinchina; and 3636 to the navy. None of these volumes contains documents relating directly to the history of the United States.

6360-6363. MS. copy of the memoirs of Talleyrand.—Vol. 6360 contains references to the war of American independence (ff. 143, 197) and to Talleyrand's sojourn in the United States (ff. 303 et seq.). See, however, the published Mémoires, edited by the Duc de Broglie (Paris, 1891-1892, 5 vols.).

6447-6448. Works of G. P. F. de Lamardelle, commissioner of justice in Martinique, on the organization of the judiciary and on the legislation suitable for Martinique and Guadeloupe.—Nothing in these volumes relates to North America.

6464-6497. Collection of notes, extracts, and transcripts made by H. Doniol for his Histoire de la Participation de la France à l'Établissement des États-Unis d'Amérique.—This collection, covering the years 1774-1785, is composed mainly of the documents used by Doniol, and printed by him, in whole or in part. Some of the transcripts are in MS. while others are on printers' proof-sheets. Whereas Doniol, in his publication, breaks up most of his documents, printing extracts here and there as they best fit into his text, in this collection the unity of the different documents has been preserved, and the transcripts are arranged in the order in which their originals are found in their respective depositories. While this collection is fragmentary, it is fairly representative of the material to be found in French archives relating to the American Revolution, and is more convenient to use, for the purpose of studying the documents, than the published work. Inasmuch as the originals of the documents included in the collection are described in other parts of this Guide, under the dépôts in which they are respectively found, it has not been thought expedient, in this place, to list the contents of the 34 volumes. The provenience of the documents in each volume is however indicated, approximately, so far as it can be deduced from the printed catalogue, no attempt at verification having been made, except for vols. 6464, 6465, 6466, 6470, 6471, and 6473.

Cf. MSS. Fr. 12102-12104.

6946-6971 Résumés of and extracts from the despatches of the imperial [Austrian] ambassadors in France, 1715-1792, and inventories of various series in foreign archives relating to the history of France, 1416-1792.—This collection, formed by Jules Flammermont, is in three groups as follows: 6946-6951, résumés (analyses) of the despatches of the Austrian ambassadors in France, 1715-1792; 6952-6964, extracts from the same despatches; 6965-6971, inventories and miscellaneous. The first group presents an interest for American history; the résumés, in German, are fairly full and appear to be carefully made, and they contain, especially for the years 1776-1783, many references to American affairs as observed at the court of Louis XVI. and reported to Prince Kaunitz by the ambassador, Mercy-Argenteau. Lists of annexed documents (beilagen) accompany the résumés. The second group is of less interest for American affairs because the extracts which compose it are confined much more closely to purely French matters. The third group appears to have little or no interest for the purpose of this Guide.

In the following list, taken from the printed catalogue, such fragmentary notes as were made during a hasty examination of four volumes are incorporated for the purpose of illustrating the utility of this collection, more especially as a guide to the French series in the archives of Vienna. Cf. Jules Flammermont, Les Correspondances des Agents Diplomatiques Étrangers en France avant la Révolution, conservées dans les Archives de Berlin, Dresde, Genève, Turin, Gênes, Florence, Naples, Simancas, Lisbonne, Londres, La Haye et Vienne (Paris, 1896: ext. from Nouvelles Archives des Missions Scientifiques, vol. VIII.), and also A. von Arneth, Correspondance Secrète du Comte de Mercy-Argenteau avec l'Empereur Joseph II. et le Prince de Kaunitz, 1780-1790, with appendix, 1766-1780. (COLLECTION BRIENNE.)

6972-7328. Collection Brienne.—Collection of copies of documents relating to foreign affairs, commerce, and other matters, formed by Antoine de Loménie, seigneur de La Ville-aux-Clercs (1572-1638), secretary of state of Henry IV. and Louis XIII. Of the volumes noted below, only 7287 and 7290 have been examined; the others are mentioned because of their possible interest for the purposes of this survey, though it seems unlikely that they should contain material not already well known and more accessible elsewhere.

7003. Treaties of peace between the kings of France and the kings of England, 1527-1629.—All such treaties having any bearing upon American history are printed in F. G. Davenport, European Treaties.

7005. "Meslanges contenant plusieurs lettres, tiltres, actes et autres mémoires concernant les affaires entre les rois de France et les rois d'Angleterre." 1190-1625.

7009-7012. "Despatches de messire Christophe de Harley, Comte de Beaumont, écrites pendant son ambassade d'Angleterre au Roy et à Mr. de Villeroy, avec les responce." 1601-1605.—Most of these despatches are lacking in Arch. Affaires Étrangères, where are to be found only those of Jan. 23-Mar. 19, 1603 (Corr. pol., Angleterre, vol. 24). Cf. Laffleur de Kermaingant, L'Ambassade de France en Angleterre sous Henri IV., Mission de Christophe de Harlay, Comte de Beaumont, 1602-1605 (Paris, 1895, 2 vols.).

(COLLECTION RENAUDOT.)

7483-7497. Collection Renaudot.—This collection, formed by Abbé Eusèbe Renaudot (1648-1720), is composed in part of documents relating to geography and voyages, explorations in the interior of America, diplomatic affairs, etc. Renaudot was particularly a friend of Henri de Tonty, from whom he received letters and memoirs, and was also in close correspondence with Abbé Bernou. See Bibliothèque de l'École des Chartes, LI. 270, and articles on Renaudot in Gros de Boze, Histoire de l'Académie des Inscriptions, and in the Nouvelle Biographie Générale.

7483 (formerly Renaudot 28). "Descriptions de medailles à faire par Mr. l'Abbé Renaudot: 1. Sur ce que les Anglais ont esté repoussés en Canada, 1690. 2. Sur les prises faites par les armateurs, 1695." [f. 231]

7485 (formerly Renaudot 30). Geography and voyages.

"Mémoire historique des principales découvertes, voyages, et navigations de long cours", by Renaudot. (See autograph MS. in MSS. Fr. 9516.) 7497 (formerly Renaudot 42). A volume of autograph letters from Abbé Bernou to Renaudot. These letters, written mostly during the years 1683-1686, while Bernou was in Rome, are exceedingly interesting for the light they throw on various aspects of La Salle's enterprises, and on other American matters. Frequently they will be found to explain documents in the Collection Clairambault, especially those in vol. 1016, which is composed of papers of Bernou. A few of the letters, or extracts from them, have been printed by Margry, III. 73-87. The following letters, all autographs and all but two dated at Rome, contain passages relating to American matters, chiefly to La Salle.

1683, May 18. [ff. 9-10v]

1683, June 27, Frascati. References to map of New Mexico made by Bernou, and a map of North America made by Bernou and Father Coronelli for Seignelay; use to be made of the work of Father Zenobe [Membré] and of Bernou's relation of the discoveries of La Salle. [ff. 18-20]

1683, July 20. [ff. 25-27v]

1683, July 27. [ff. 28-31v]

1683, Aug. 10. [ff. 38-39v]

1683, Aug. 24. [ff. 40-41]

1683, Aug. 31. [ff. 42-43v]

1683, Sept. 7. [ff. 44-45v]

1683, Oct. 19. Hopes that La Salle may have the government of the Mississippi. [ff. 54-55v]

1683, Dec. 7. [ff. 72-73v]

1684, Jan. 25. Glad that interests of La Salle are in the hands of Renaudot; La Salle must receive the support of the "robes noires" [Jesuits] if he goes to the Illinois and Arkansas countries by way of Canada; plan for expedition by the Gulf of Mexico; interest of the cardinal [Benedetto Pamphili] in voyages of La Salle. [ff. 86-88v]

1684, Feb. 1. Bernou will correct or rewrite his relation of La Salle's discoveries, being careful to take vengeance on Hennepin; advice respecting the map with which La Salle should accompany his narrative. [ff. 89-91v]

1684, Feb. 8. [ff. 92-93v]

1684, Feb. 15. [ff. 94-95v]

1684, Feb. 22. Wants to be confirmed as agent of La Salle if the latter's affairs are successful. [ff. 96-96v]

1684, Feb. 22. [ff. 97-100v]

1684, Feb. 29. Ptd., Margry, III. 73-77. [ff. 101-103v]

1684, Mar. 14. Wishes to see La Salle before his departure. [ff. 104-105v]

1684, Mar. 21. Complains of silence of La Salle. [ff. 106-107v]

1684, May [sic] 23. Money which La Salle should pay to him; bad form in which he found La Salle's narrative. [ff. 108-109v]

1684, Mar. 28. Ptd., Margry, III. 78-81. [ff. 110-111v]

1684, Apr. 3. Memoir by the new Bishop of Quebec [Saint Vallier], respecting jurisdiction over the Mississippi, and his reply thereto in another memoir. Cf. MSS. Clairambault 1016, f. 629. [ff. 112-113v]

1684, Apr. 4. Glad to have letter from La Salle; does not advise La Salle to delay his departure from France for fear lest R[obe] N[oire] should discover his plans and oppose them; La Forest should be sent to trade with the Indians along the Mississippi. [ff. 114-115v]

1684, Apr. 11. Ptd., Margry, III. 82-84. [ff. 116-117v]

1684, June 10. [ff. 134-135]

1684, July 8. [ff. 140-141]

1684, July 12. Stay of Ontcouantagueté [La Salle] at La Rochelle; has received La Salle's map; La Salle's suspicions aroused by manoeuvres of R[obe] N[oire]; which is regrettable, for the latter could be of service.

1684, Aug. 19.

[ff. 151-152]

1684, Sept. 2. He forgives La Salle in spite of having been wronged by him, and hopes that Renaudot will secure forgiveness of La Salle from the priests of the rue de la Victoire; La Salle's delay places his life and plans in danger; Gambacorta [Cabart de Villermont?] has become his enemy, through interest in one of the Tontys.

[ff. 153-154v]

1684, Sept. 9. Ptd., Margry, III. 85-87.

[ff. 155-156]

(COLLECTION MARGRY.)

9255-9510. Collection Margry. This collection of 255 volumes was formed by Pierre Margry (1818-1894) with the purpose of documenting and writing the history of French navigation, exploration, and colonization. Margry commenced work in his chosen field as the collaborator of J. R. Brodhead in the compilation of Documents relative to the Colonial History of the State of New York (1853-1883); he finished with the publication of his own collection, Découvertes et Établissements des Français dans l'Ouest et dans le Sud de l'Amérique Septentrionale (1879-1888). Margry's exploitation of the immense mass of material that he gathered together was confined to the last-named publication and to a small number of minor works and articles; his major design was not realized. The MS. collection is a formidable, ill-arranged mass of material. For the most part it is composed of rough notes, badly made copies by Margry, fair copies by copyists, extracts, lists of documents, etc., all of which were drawn chiefly from the archives of the Marine and Colonies, then united, of which Margry was for many years the custodian, from the archives of the Hydrographic Service, the archives of the ministries of War and of Foreign Affairs, and from the MSS. of the Bibliothèque Nationale. There are also extracts and copies from the Archives Nationales and certain departmental archives, from MSS. in provincial libraries, and from MSS. in private hands. Finally there are a few original documents, presented to Margry, or purchased or "borrowed" by him. There is much repetition of material, and the sources of most of it are indicated insufficiently or not at all. Such indications as to sources as are given in the following pages are based mainly on personal acquaintance with them and not on information contained in the collection. The value of the collection lies, in the first place, in the original documents which it contains, in the second place, in the copies of documents of which the originals have disappeared or are not readily accessible, and finally, in the numerous suggestions scattered throughout the volumes as to the location of documents relating to America. There are also a few autobiographical notes by Margry, and a considerable number of letters written to him by historians, especially by Francis Parkman. For a brief, rather patronizing biographical memoir of Margry, accompanied by a bibliography of his writings, see Gabriel Gravier, Mélanges: Comptes-Rendus, III. 21-47 (Rouen, 1894).

In the following notes it should be remembered that all documents listed are copies unless otherwise indicated.

(COLLECTION ARNOUL.)

21306-21444. Collection Arnoul.—This collection is composed of the correspondence, administrative memoirs, and other papers of Nicolas Arnoul (obit 1674) and of his son Pierre Arnoul (obit 1719). The elder Arnoul was intendant of galleys at Marseilles from 1665, and intendant of marine at Toulon from 1673. His son succeeded him as intendant of galleys in 1673, and as intendant of marine in 1675. In 1680 he was appointed intendant at Havre, and from 1683 to 1687 served in the important intendency of Rochefort. Subsequently he became intendant des classes, and from 1710 to 1719 served as intendant of galleys. The interest of the collection, for the purposes of this Guide, is chiefly in the correspondence of Pierre Arnoul with the secretary of state for the marine, especially during the Rochefort intendency. While this correspondence is mainly administrative in character, it nevertheless often contains interesting information which the intendant at Rochefort received in his dealings with officers and officials in the various American services. The earliest part of the collection records certain of Colbert's activities in attempting to build up French commerce, particularly with the West Indies. A more detailed inventory of the collection than that included in the printed catalogue of the MSS. Fr., nouvelles acquisitions, is published by Robert Latouche in Revue des Bibliothèques, XVIII. (Paris, 1908) 244-263. It may be noted that most of the documents in the volumes that relate in any way to Canada, Acadia, Newfoundland, the cod fisheries, etc., have been copied for the Public Archives of Canada, and transcripts of them are available at Ottawa.

21309. General correspondence, 1669.—A few references, in correspondence with Colbert and Seignelay, to fishermen of St. Malo (ff. 227, 332, 336), and to payment of officers and embarkation of soldiers destined for Canada (ff. 363).

21310. General correspondence, 1670.

1670, Dec. 26, Paris. Colbert to Arnoul. Hopes that merchants of Marseilles will engage in commerce with the West Indies; it is desirable that inhabitants of Provence should engage in the cod fisheries. (L. S.) [ff. 489-490]

21311. General correspondence, 1671.

Numerous letters of Colbert and Arnoul contain references to efforts to interest the merchants of Marseilles in the commerce of the West Indies and in the cod fishery; Colbert sends Arnoul 10,000 livres to enable him to take a half interest in a company for trading with the West Indies; lack of success of merchants of Marseilles in the cod fisheries, etc.

[ff. 28, 44, 56, 65, 283, 307, 324, 341, 345, 351, 362, 383]

21312. General correspondence, 1672, Jan.—June 15.

Letters of Colbert and Arnoul contain references to encouragement of commerce with the West Indies, and conditions imposed by the merchants of Provence for their participation in the cod fisheries. [ff. 70, 113, 144]

21329. General correspondence, 1683.

Original letters from Seignelay and royal memoirs of instructions addressed to Pierre Arnoul at Rochefort contain references to despatch of vessels, munitions, supplies, and troops to Canada, and to encouragement of merchants to engage in Canadian and West India trade, etc. The record copies of most of these letters are in Arch. Marine, B2, vols. 48, 49.

[ff. 5, 32, 239, 258, 260, 266, 281, 299, 317, 447]

21330. General correspondence, 1684.

Original letters of Seignelay, royal memoirs of instructions to Arnoul at Rochefort, and copies of letters of Arnoul to Seignelay and others contain references to the following matters: Acadian timber for masts, preparation of the Joly for La Salle's expedition to the mouth of the Mississippi, inspection of vessels to be despatched to Canada, troops for Canada, return of the Entrepreneur, disabled on the Grand Bank, investigation of naval contracts, abundance of flour in Canada and supply of flour to Cayenne and Martinique, supply of lead for Quebec, etc.

COLLECTION CLAIRAMBAULT.

The important group of manuscripts which bears the name of Clairambault is what remains of a much larger collection formed by Pierre Clairambault (1651-1740), genealogist of the Ordres du Roi from 1698 to his death. Clairambault spent his life largely in collecting material of all sorts relating to the history of France, the French nobility, etc. Under Colbert, Seignelay, Pontchartrain, and Maurepas he held positions which afforded him ample opportunity for securing valuable historical documents, including many relating to the marine, the colonies, voyages, explorations, etc. He was also employed in classifying the vast collection of Gaignières, from which his own collection profited to no small extent, as it also did, particularly in the matter of documents relating to America, from his administration of the estate of Abbé Bernou. After his appointment as genealogist in 1698 he formed an enormous collection of documents relating to the history of the order of Saint Esprit and of the families of those belonging to it. When he died in 1740, his papers passed to his nephew, Nicholas-Pascal Clairambault (1678-1762), who succeeded to the post of genealogist, but who added little to the collection, which he sold in 1755 to the order of Saint Esprit. In 1792 the collection passed into the hands of the government for deposit in the Bibliothèque Nationale, but it suffered a reduction of more than one half through the destruction, under the decree of May 12, 1792, of all the genealogical documents, titles of nobility, etc.

In its present state the collection numbers 1350 volumes, which are inventoried, with carefully made summaries of their typical or more important contents, by M. Ph. Lauer, in his excellent Catalogue des Manuscrits de la Collection Clairambault (2 vols., Paris 1923, 1924). A third volume of the Catalogue (in MS., 1930) contains an introduction with a history of the collection, and indexes. A brief account of the collection is given by L. Delisle in his Cabinet des Manuscrits de la Bibliothèque Nationale (Paris, 1874), II. 18-25.

[In addition to the volumes of this collection reported on below, the following have been examined and found to contain nothing of sufficient interest for the purposes of this Guide to warrant their inclusion: vols. 296, 297, 376, 522, 527, 705, 720, 806, 850, 861, 862, 885, 938, 1027.]

MÉLANGES DE COLBERT.

The collection of 454 volumes and cartons, numbered 1-416, which comprise the Mélanges de Colbert, was acquired in part in 1732, when the library of Colbert was purchased for the Bibliothèque du Roi, and in part by confiscation at the time of the Revolution. The collection is in four principal parts, as follows: (1) The first part, nos. 1-100, in 105 volumes, is composed of originals and transcripts mostly of the seventeenth century; the documents are of the greatest variety and relate to religious, diplomatic, administrative, and judicial history. They include the minutes of the letters of Mazarin, 1646-1660, the memoirs of Colbert and his son Seignelay, and documents relating to England, Spain, America, and other countries. (2) The second part, acquired in the Revolution, is the correspondence of Colbert, 1661-1674, in 111 volumes, numbered 101-176 bis. These volumes contain chiefly the letters addressed to Colbert, but they also include a considerable number of minutes or drafts of letters by Colbert and Seignelay. They were originally bound in green and were long known and referred to as the volumes verts. They have been exploited by Pierre Clément, in Lettres, Mémoires, et Instructions de Colbert (Paris, 8 vols., 1862-1882), and by G. B. Depping, in Correspondance Administrative sous le Règne de Louis XIV. (Paris, 4 vols., 1850-1855). (3) The third part, 166 volumes, nos. 177-343, is composed chiefly of administrative and financial documents, while (4) the fourth part, 76 cartons, nos. 344-416, known as the Chartes de Colbert, is composed of charters and diplomas. An excellent and detailed catalogue of the collection has been published by the Bibliothèque Nationale: Catalogue des Manuscrits de la Collection des Mélanges de Colbert, by Charles de La Roncière and Paul M. Bondonio (Paris, 2 vols., 1920, 1922). The first volume contains a brief history and general description of the collection (pp. 1-xvi), upon which this paragraph is based, while a very complete index is in vol. II. See also L. Delisle, Cabinet des Manuscrits, I. 439-486.

31.—1606. "Relatione di Spagna . . ." Includes, ff. 60v-61v, an account of the Spanish Council of the Indies, its organization, officers, salaries, etc.

COLLECTION DUPUY.

The Collection Dupuy was formed by the brothers Pierre Dupuy (obit 1651) and Jacques Dupuy (obit 1656). It is composed of various elements, such as MSS. bequeathed by their father, Claude Dupuy (obit 1594), MSS. bequeathed by Lullier, counselor of the Parlement de Metz, portfolios of Peiresc, papers of Théodore Godefroy, etc. An inventory of the collection has been made by Léon Dorez, Catalogue de la Collection Dupuy (Paris, 1899, 2 vols.) ; brief accounts of its formation and its accession by the Bibliothèque Nationale are in Léopold Delisle, Cabinet des Manuscrits, I. 263, 422.

1566. Reply of the King of Spain to the articles presented by Fourquevaux. Menéndez has punished Ribaut and his followers not as subjects of the King of France but as pirates; liberation of the women and children of Ribaut's expedition, imprisoned in Spain; judgment passed on the men [of the expedition] in Seville; Frenchmen arrested at Havana. [ff. 215-221]

661.—1613, June. Description of the city of Mexico as recounted to Guillaume du Var by a Spanish half-breed. [ff. 185-186]

COLLECTION JOLY DE FLEURY.

The Collection Joly de Fleury, in 2561 volumes, is composed chiefly of the archives of the office of the procureur général before the Parlement of Paris, an office held by members of the family of Joly de Fleury from 1717 to the Revolution. The papers which make up the collection, judicial and administrative documents, are mostly of the eighteenth century, but there are also numerous documents, chiefly copies, of the seventeenth century, which were brought together for historical or administrative purposes. Material relating to America is scanty and scattered, and for the most part of small importance. It is of interest, however, as showing to a certain extent what American affairs came before the Parlement of Paris through the office of the procureur général.

A rather summary catalogue of the collection has been printed: Inventaire Sommaire de la Collection Joly de Fleury, by A. Molinier (Paris, 1891), which contains an excellent account, in the introduction, of the history of the collection and of the nature and interest of the various sections. Vols. 2553-2554 of the collection contain an inventory of vols. 1-562, and vols. 2557-2561 an inventory or tables of other parts of the collection. See also manuscript additions in copy of Molinier in the Département des Manuscrits.

COLLECTION MOREAU.

The Collection Moreau, 1834 volumes, comprises the manuscript part of the Cabinet des Chartes, or library of historical documents, formed under the direction of Jacob Nicolas Moreau, avocat des finances and historiographer of France, between 1759 and the Revolution. The purpose of the collection was to facilitate research and reference in all matters pertaining to legislation and administration; it may indeed be regarded as a prototype of the modern legislative reference library. The collection is composed, for the larger part, of transcripts of documents in foreign, provincial, and, to a less extent, Parisian archives, which were gathered in the course of numerous historical missions. It also includes groups of documents, original and transcribed, that were collected by others than Moreau. It is in one of these groups, the collection of Fevret de Fontette (vols. 734-861), relating mainly to the history of Burgundy, that are found the few important documents of interest for American history; other documents, in the group known as Collection d'Ordonnances (vols. 1282-1421), are ordinances and edicts which are for the most part accessible in print or in other depositories.

A catalogue of the Collection Moreau, containing a brief account of its formation and history, has been published: Inventaire des Manuscrits de la Collection Moreau, by H. Omont (Paris, 1891). MANUSCRITS LATINS.

No attempt has been made at an examination of the large and important collection of Latin MSS. A single item, noted by Biggar, Early Trading Companies, has been seen and is described.

17059. Charters, 1400-1789.

1538, Sept. 22, St. Germain. Royal warrant to the treasurer general to pay to "Jaques Cartier ñre pillote en la marine de ponant demeurant à Saint Malo", the sum of fifty écus for salary, food, and maintenance of savages. (In French.) [no. 202]

MANUSCRITS ANGLAIS.

The small collection of English manuscripts, about 100 volumes, was formed in 1860 by bringing together in a single group the MSS. in the English language that had previously been scattered in various other collections. A brief catalogue of the collection has been published by Gaston Raynaud, Catalogue des Manuscrits Anglais de la Bibliothèque Nationale (Paris, 1884).

51. Memoranda of navigation.—These consist of bluewash drawings or paintings of the profiles of various points of land in the West Indies, Cuba, and Central America, as they appear from on board a vessel approaching them, and of memoranda of bearings, variations of the compass, color of water, etc.

68. Ship signals.—A list of signals for use in day time, at night, and in time of fog, and by private vessels. On fly-leaf: "The Gift of Sir Peter Parker to Toby Caulfield, Nov. 27th, on board of the Chatham off the Town of New York, N. America." (Parchment.)

69-70. Journals of the House of Commons.—"Commons Journals from Nov. 18, 1606, to Feb. 9, 1609/10", and "Commons Journals from Mar. 17, 1627/28 to Mar. 10, 1628/29".

DEPARTEMENT DES IMPRIMES, CARTES, ET PLANS.

SECTION DES IMPRIMÉS.

COLLECTION ANGRAND.

The collections of printed works administered by the Section des Imprimés include exceptionally a few groups of manuscripts. One of these relates to Mexico, Central America, and South America, and is known as the Collection Angrand, having been bequeathed to the Bibliothèque Nationale in 1885 by Léonce Angrand, the Americanist.

1-3. Two volumes of letters, notes, memoirs, etc., by Col. Galindo, 1831-1838, relating to the languages, antiquities, and geography of Central America, accompanied by a volume of illustrations.

4. Letters and memoirs of Brasseur de Bourbourg, 1859-1865, accompanied by photographs.

5. "Idée générale d'une exploration archéologique au Mexique et dans l'Amérique tropicale", by Angrand. (Incomplete.)

6-7. "Bibliotheca americana. Catalogo de los autores que han escrito de la América en diferentes idiomas . . . compuesto por el coronel D. Antonio de Alcedo . . ." 1791. Two volumes.

8. "Libro de sermones predicables sobre los misterios que en la quaresma se celebran desde la Septuagesima hasta el tercer día de Pascua . . . compuesto en lengua cakchiquel por el padre fray Antonio del Sal . . ." 1643.

9. "Vocabulario en lengua kiche y castellana." (Incomplete.)

10. "Vocabulario de la lengua general de los indigenas de la provincia de Quito." 1834.

11. "Discurso en que se prueba el derecho que el rey tiene como soberano de valerse del oro y plata de las iglesias de sus reynos y estados, para subvenir a los gastos de la presente guerra . . ."

12. "Atlas guatemalteco en ocho cartas formadas y grabadas en Guatemala de orden del gefe del Estado C. Dr. Mariano Galvez, año de 1832." By Miguel Rivera-Maestre. Printed, with addition of MS. maps and notes.

13. "Notas geograficas, topograficas . . . sobre la isla de Pinos."

14. "Note sur les antiquités de Kiché et de Tepam-Guatemala par Miguel Rivera-Maestre." 1834. Nine plates.

15. Carton of miscellaneous notes on the Plata.

16. Letter of Angrand on the Gardens of Lima. 1866.

17. "Noticias de Nutka", by D. José Mariano Moziño; "Estado del reino de Santa Fe", by Sr. Cavallero; "Lo importante que es la poblacion y medios que se proponen para conseguirlo en este nuevo reyno de Granada", attributed to Dr. Pedreros.

Pictorial. Annexed to the MSS. of the Angrand collection are 24 portfolios or albums of photographs, lithographs, pencil sketches, wash drawings, tracings, etc., representing scenes, towns, sites, ruins, remains, costumes, and various objects in Mexico, Central America, South America, and Cuba.

SECTION DES CARTES ET PLANS.

The collections of the Section des Cartes et Plans consist of maps, plans, atlases, geographical reviews, works on geography and cartography, instruments, etc. The maps and plans, engraved, printed, or in manuscript, number over 200,000. The collection has been formed from a variety of sources, and in it have been incorporated important smaller collections such as those bearing the names of Angrand, Barbier du Bocage (1844), Gosselin (1842), Klaproth (1832), Moreau, Archives Nationales (1873-1876), and especially, in 1924, the great collection of J. B. d'Anville, very rich in American maps, which was formerly in the archives of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs.

The maps acquired before 1886 constitute the Ancien Fonds, those acquired since that date the Nouveau Fonds, but a general reclassification is in progress which will bring all the maps together into a single general classification.

In the following list there have been included all the manuscript maps of North America and the West Indies that have been revealed by a painstaking search of the card catalogues, followed by an examination of the maps themselves. For convenience in consultation the list has been given a geographical classification, which does not in any way correspond to the classification of the maps themselves. The call-numbers of the maps are indicated in open brackets. Those numbers that include the letters "Ge" are of the new classification; those that include the letters "DD" refer to maps in the d'Anville collection.

There is no published catalogue of the maps, but the section possesses card catalogues of both the Ancien Fonds and the Nouveau Fonds. The following lists are mentioned because they contain detailed descriptions of a number of important American maps in the collection.

Henry Harrisse, Notes pour servir à l'histoire à la Bibliographie et à la Cartographie de la Nouvelle France et des Pays Adjacents, 1546-1700 (Paris, 1872).

Gabriel Marcel, Cartographie de la Nouvelle France: Supplément à l'Ouvrage de M. Harrisse (Paris, 1885).

BIBLIOTHÈQUE DE L'ARSENAL.

I. MANUSCRIPTS.

The Bibliothèque de l'Arsenal (1, Rue de Sully), so named because of its location in the surviving building of the Arsenal of Paris, was founded by Antoine-René de Voyer d'Argenson, Marquis de Paulmy (1722-1787), who sold it to the Comte d'Artois in 1785. Confiscated during the Revolution, it was made a public library and is now one of the richest of the Parisian libraries in point of importance of its collections. These include some 10,000 volumes of manuscripts and also the archives of the Bastille, described below. The manuscripts include papers of the Comte d'Argenson, most of which, however, were deposited in the library of the Louvre and destroyed in the Commune of 1871, papers of Gabriel Brizard, of Abbé Henri Grégoire, of Joseph Dreux, secretary of Vergennes, of Gudin de La Brenellerie, of the family of Lézay-Marnésia, involved in the Scioto colony, of Mirabeau, and of many others. The American material while not abundant contains a number of valuable documents, especially memoirs on eighteenth-century explorations.

An exceedingly detailed inventory of the manuscripts has been published: Catalogue des Manuscrits de la Bibliothèque de l'Arsenal, by Henry Martin (vols. I.-VIII., Paris, 1885-1899). Of this work vols. I.-VII. contain the inventory, with index, while vol. VIII. is devoted to the history of the library and to an elaborate account of the formation of its collections. Supplements to the inventory are published in the Catalogue Général des Manuscrits des Bibliothèques Publiques de France: Supplément, IV. (Paris, 1904) 1-126; Départements, XLV. (Paris, 1915) 1-34.

6871-6881. Papers of Paul Ph. Gudin de la Brenellerie, 1738-1812.

6880. "Histoire Politique et Philosophie."—Fragments, notes, etc., containing frequent references to American history as follows: note on article in the Journal de Paris of May 13, 1784 or 1785, on the Philadelphia balloon (f. 156), French participation in the war of American independence (ff. 195v-205v), preliminaries of the treaty of 1783 (f. 216), description of a medal presented by Franklin to Fleury (f. 217), summary of the history of the American war, population of the thirteen States, treason of Benedict Arnold, American Indians, etc. (ff. 264-286).

7053-7055. Collection of autographs, chiefly from the collection of Victor Luzarche.—In these three cartons a small number of American letters, mostly without interest, are to be noted: 7053, Henry Clay, Ashland, Oct. 27, 1835, asking that a sum of money be sent to him; J. Cox Barnet, U. S. consul, Paris, Jan. 25, 1831. 7054, Andrew Jackson; John Jay, Philadelphia, Jan. 10, 1779; Albert Gallatin to Samuel M. Hopkins, Treasury Dept., Nov. 27, 1807. 7055, William C. Rives, U. S. minister, Paris, Jan. 26, 1831; Vergennes to Gerault, Mar. 28, 1763, on the treaty of peace; William Ducoudray, New Orleans, Oct. 17, 1813, on his travels in the United States; Daniel Webster to Justice [James M.] Wayne, Mar. 8; Justice James M. Wayne to ——— Taft, June 18, 1840; D. B. Warden, U. S. consul, to M. Coulier, Aug. 18, 1833, Mar. 2, 1837; W. West to W. H. Crawford, Washington, July 7, 1818.

7169-7183. Catalogue of maps and plans included in the “atlas historique militaire du Dépôt de la guerre”, 1635-1871.—A considerable number of American maps are listed in 7180, 7181, 7183.

7184. “Résumé historique des guerres”, 1719-1768.—References to hostilities in America during this period.

7193-7339. Archives of Lezay-Marnesia.—Because of the part taken by the Marquis de Lezay-Marnesia in the Scioto Company, and of his interest in America, an examination was made of 7320-7326, and 7338-7339. One document only was found: (carton 7326) 1792, Apr. 18, Fort Pitt, letter from Pierre Audrain to Lezay-Marnesia, relating to consideration of their affairs by a committee of Congress, to letter from Tardiveau in Illinois, to Lezay-Marnesia's plans for trade in Illinois, to activities of the Des Pintraux, to proposed fort to prevent contraband trade of the English, to accounts with O'Hara, Wilkins, Ormsby, Probst, etc.

7581-7589. A collection of notes of slight value, bearing the general title Diversité. The first volume is dated, Évreux, 1774. A few references to American matters have been noted, as follows: 7586. Emigration to America (p. 152); hieroglyphic representation of the arrival of white men, by Virginia Indians (p. 188). 7587. Reasons for refusal of Spain to join France in aid of American insurgents (p. 264); Spanish views of slaughter of natives in West Indies (p. 317). 7588. Indian remedies (p. 13); Canadian beaver trade (p. 38); revolt of American colonies (pp. 282-290).

7592-7594. Autograph note-books of Mirabeau.—The first and last of these contain nothing bearing on American affairs; the second, 7593, is entitled by Mirabeau, “Pensées diverses et anecdotes sur l'administration”, while a note signed by Lucas de Montigny states that the contents are “fragments historiques insérés dans les mémoires du Duc d'Aiguillon”, and refers to the Mémoires of Mirabeau, IV. 84 et seq. The following points of interest for American matters are to be noted: Beaumarchais and the insurgents, his connection with Le Ray de Chaumont for supplying them; criticism of the first operations of the war, of French attitude toward England, and of joint action with Spain; financial disorder; criticism of d'Estaing; attitude of Vergennes, d'Aiguillon, Maurepas, Turgot, Necker, Sartine, and Gérard; influence of Gérard on Vergennes; ministerial intrigues; it was the king who willed the war, etc.

9026-9041. Papers of the Chevalier d'Eon.

9026.—1793, Jan. 18, London. Capt. O'Gorman to his “aunt, M'lle” d'Eon. His experiences in Santo Domingo; campaign against the negroes in revolt.

1787, Aug. 17. G. Rose, secretary of the treasury, to Capt. Collet. Same subject.

II. ARCHIVES DE LA BASTILLE.

When the Bastille was stormed on July 14, 1789, its archives were subjected for two days to general pillaging, after which what was left of them was placed under guard and later deposited in the Hôtel de Ville, the Abbey of St. Germain-des-Prés, and the convent of St. Louis-la-Culture. It was probably in 1798 that they were finally removed to the Bibliothèque de l'Arsenal. They are now preserved in some 2725 cartons, numbered 10001-12725, constituting a continuation of the series of manuscripts described above. They are in three groups or divisions: (1) administration of the lieutenant general of police, nos. 10001-10329; (2) dossiers of individual prisoners and biographical documents, nos. 10330-12471; (3) administration of the Bastille, of the prison of Vincennes, and of other prisons, nos. 12472-12725. The second and third of these groups contain the American material, the most important of which consists of the documents relating to the trial of the Canadian officials after the fall of Quebec, the trial of Kerlérec, governor of Louisiana, and the lists of prisoners in the chain-gangs sent out to Louisiana. Vol. IX. of the Catalogue des Manuscrits de la Bibliothèque de l'Arsenal (Paris, 1892-1894) contains a history and inventory of the archives of the Bastille, with an index to the fifty or sixty thousand names of persons to be found in them, by Frantz Funck-Brentano.

10028. Papers of Levié, commissaire, police inspector of ports.

1755, Nov. 5; 1759, Aug. 20, Havre. Levié to [the lieutenant of police]. Effect on the Bourse of the engagement at Fort Frederic; news from Canada.

10496. Dossiers of prisoners, A-Z. 1693.—Dossier of Martin De Lino (merchant at Quebec): order of arrest; examination of De Lino for information respecting English designs on Canada, news from and trade with Boston, Nelson, the English interpreter of Frontenac, etc.; passport for Frontenac to return to France.

10501. Dossiers of prisoners, D-Z. 1694.—Dossier of Nelson, the English subject mentioned in the preceding item. He was released at the close of 1695 on his promise to go to England via Flanders without stopping in Paris.

10597. Dossiers of prisoners, A-E. 1711.—Dossier of Alexandre Bellefond. According to the examination this officer of marine was the son of a notary at Quebec, and at this time (June, 1711) was forty-five years of age. He had fought the Iroquois in Canada, had served under Villebon in Acadia, and afterward had been with Iberville until 1703. The cause of his imprisonment was a proposal to the King of Spain to assassinate the archduke. He was sent to the Spanish frontier, and thence to the Bastille.

10631. Dossiers of prisoners, I-L. 1717.—Dossier of Antoine de La Mothe Cadillac and his son. There is no record of examination, the cause of imprisonment being given as “discours peu convenable”. The period of their joint incarceration is Sept. 27, 1717–Feb. 8, 1718.

11374. Dossiers of prisoners, Th-U. 1737.—Dossier of Thiersant: memoir of Mme. de Thiersant to Cardinal de Fleury, touching upon beaver trade by the English, and their manufacture of hats at Montreal in 1725, Fort Niagara, contraband trade by the English, etc.

11970. Dossiers of prisoners, Me-Mi. 1757.—Dossier of Pierre Charles Mesnil: papers dealing with his relations with La Salle at the Hague, and La Salle's plots against Canada.

12110-12136. The dossiers of prisoners included in these cartons contain only brief notes indicating the cause of arrest, the punishment if any, and the period of detention. All are dated 1761: 12110, Barbel; 12111, François Bigot; 12112, Deschamps de Boishébert; 12114, Cadet; 12115, Jean Corpron; 12119, Claude Nicolas Fayolle; 12124, Joncaire dit Chabert; 12125, Jean Pierre La Barthe; 12128, Le Mercier; 12130, Jean Baptiste Martel, de Villers, and François Maurin; 12133, Michel Jean Péan and Louis André Joachim Pénissault; 12136, François Paul Duvergé de St. Blin.

12142-12148. “Affaire du Canada.” 1761-1772.—These papers relate to Bigot, Péan, Cadet, and their numerous accomplices. For the most part they represent the work of the commission charged with the investigation of frauds in Canada. Among them are found orders of various kinds relating to the prisoners, papers seized, correspondence of the prisoners at the Bastille, lists, notes on procedure, memoirs, information respecting witnesses, notes on sentences and terms of imprisonment, etc. Occasional documents of a wider historical interest are found, e. g., one relating to La Friponne of Québec (12142, no. 359), and a memoir for Péan, 1762, dealing with military affairs in the western country in 1753-1754 (12145, ff. 7-55).

Names of the accused are as follows: Bigot, Billeau, Boishébert, Bréard, Cadet, Chabert, Corpron, Curot, Dartigny, Dauterive, Desmeloises, Descheaux, Douville, Dumoulin, Estèbe, Fayolle, Ferrand, Ferrières, Gamelin, Garreau, Hauteraye, Héguy, La Barthe, La Chauvignerie, Landrière, Laplace, Le Gras, Le Mercier, Lemoine-Despins, L'Espervanche, Lorimier, Martel (3), Maurin, Noyan, Papin, Péan, Pénissault, Perrault, Poisset, Roustan, Rouville, Sacquespée, St. Blin, St. Germain, St. Sauveur, Sermet, Varin, Vassan, Vaudreuil, Villebon, and Villefranche.

12148 contains documents seized for the purposes of the examination, including commercial papers of the firm of David Gradis of Bordeaux, 1752-1754, relating to Canadian supplies.

12151-12166. Certain dossiers in these cartons consist merely of notes or fiches on certain persons concerned in the “Affaire du Canada”, and deal with length of imprisonment and punishment. The list is as follows: 12151, Bréard; 12154, Desmeloises; 12156, Estèbe; 12159, La Potherie; 12162, Noyan; 12163, Perrault; 12166, Villebon, Vassan, and Vaudreuil.

12200. “Affaire de l'Ile Royale.” 1758-1764.—This carton of 518 folios relates to charges of embezzlement brought against Jean de La Borde, treasurer general of Ile Royale and procureur général of the Superior Council, and Jacques Prévost, conseiller général de marine and ordonnateur of the same colony. Decarette, son-in-law of La Borde, and Fabres, Prévost's uncle, were also arrested. The papers consist of memoirs, correspondence of the prisoners, examinations and other documents relating to the trial, orders, etc. La Borde alone was judged guilty.

12249. Dossiers of prisoners, Mar.-May, 1765.—A note on the imprisonment of Philippe de Marigny de Mandeville, Apr. 30–May 24, for his writings on Kerlérec and Louisiana.

12262. “Affaire de la Louisiane.” 1765-1770.—This case grew out of disputes in Louisiana between Gov. Kerlérec and certain officers and officials there. The controversy continued after their return to France, and was accentuated by the publication of alleged libels against Kerlérec. A commission was appointed to examine the case, and finally issued its report in 1769. It was unfavorable to Kerlérec, who was exiled from Paris and the court. He died in 1770.

The dossiers in this volume of 280 folios are of Louis Billouart de Kerlérec, Jean Philippe Gougou de Grondel, Antoine Philippe de Marigny, Paul de Rastel, Chevalier de Rocheblave, and Jean Baptiste Le Bossu. There is a certain amount of memoirs, procès-verbaux, orders, and other routine documents, but the major part of the volume consists of correspondence of the individuals noted above, and also of the lieutenant of police, the governor of the Bastille, the Duc de Choiseul, Duval, Mme. Rochemore, Chevalier, Huart Du Parc, Abbé de Rocheblave, Delfau, and various others.

In addition to this material, among the sequestered papers of Le Bossu are the following of wider historical interest:

N. d. Memoir by Le Bossu, on the vexation of officers in Louisiana by Kerlérec. (Draft.) [ff. 240-241v]

N. d. Le Bossu to ———. Kerlérec's despotism. (Draft.) [ff. 243-244v]

N. d. [Le Bossu] to Dubiq, chief clerk of the Bureau des Colonies. Summary of Le Bossu's memoir against Kerlérec. (Draft.) [ff. 246-250]

N. d. Baron de Portneuf, commandant at Fort Orleans, among the Missouri, to [Le Bossu]. Census of Missouri tribes seems forged by Le Bossu. (Draft.) [f. 257]

Information compiled in 1756 among the Illinois in order to learn from them the western tribes known and attached to the French, and on whom in case of need the Missouri post can rely for aid. (Census.) [f. 257v]

12324. “Affaire des colonies de la Guyane.” 1767-1774.—Documents relating to the trial of Thibault de Chanvallon, intendant of Cayenne and Guiana, for misappropriation of funds.

12383. Dossier of Denis Nicolas Foucault. 1770.—Foucault was arrested at the request of O'Reilly, who laid charges against his conduct as ordonnateur in Louisiana. He was forgotten at the Bastille for a year, and finally obtained his release in 1771. Examinations and memoirs relate in part to the revolt in Louisiana against Spanish rule; there are also letters of Foucault, Sartine, Abbé de Beaujeu, Abbé de Carlier, Duc de Praslin, Macarty, Duc d'Aiguillon, and others.

12453. Dossier of Chevalier de Lannay, 1782.—Brief document, indicating his connection with a Franco-Anglo-American gazette published at Maestricht, and his correspondence with Swanton.

12472-12478. Ordres du Roi. 1666-1779.—Letters of the king and of the minister to the governor of the Bastille. For the most part they are lettres de cachet, signed by the king and countersigned by the minister, ordering imprisonment in or release from the Bastille. The above dates are not complete, as the entire collection of twenty-two volumes has been widely dispersed.

12473.—Orders for the release of La Salle (Mar. 7, 1675) and Perrot (May 7, 1675).

12478.—Orders for imprisonment (Aug. 10, 1777) and release (Sept. 24, 1777) of William Hodge, Philadelphia merchant.

12479-12481. Registres de la Salle du Conseil: Registres d'Écrou.—These registers contain the date of entry of prisoners, their names, list of articles found on them at their arrival, name of the minister who countersigned the lettre de cachet, etc.

12479. 1711-1728.—Bellefond, La Mothe Cadillac and son.

12480. 1762-1771.—La Borde (Mar. 16, 1763), Prévost (Apr. 28, 1763), Grondel (May 9, 1765), Mandeville (May 13, 1765), Rocheblave (May 11, 1765), Cadet.

12481. 1773-1787.—Brissot de Warville (no. 364), Baudard de St. James (no. 352).

12482-12484. Feuilles d'Écrou. 1709-1750.—Signed by prisoners on arrival and departure. Vol. 12482 contains the feuilles of La Mothe Cadillac and his son.

12486-12517. Correspondence of the lieutenant general of police with the governor and the major of the Bastille, 1723-1789.—There are also letters of secretaries of the lieutenant of police and of commissaries at the Bastille, petitions, etc. The correspondence deals with the life of prisoners at the Bastille, the rigor of their confinement, any privileges granted them, their petitions, complaints, and requests.

12501. Letters of the lieutenant of police. 1762, Jan.-Apr.—Correspondence relating to Cadet, Martel, Corpron, Boishébert, Péan, Pénissault, Joncaire, Bigot, Varin, Vaudreuil, Le Mercier, Villers, and Noyan.

12502. Letters of the lieutenant of police. 1762, Sept.-Dec.—Correspondence relating to Varin, Péan, Le Mercier, Estèbe, Martel, Noyan, Fayolle, Bréard, Pénissault, Bigot, Maurin, Chabert, Cadet, Vassan, Corpron, and St. Blin.

12503. Letters of the governor and the major of the Bastille to the lieutenant of police. 1760, Jan.-1762, Dec.—Correspondence relating to Péan, Le Mercier, Bigot, Cadet, Noyan, Estèbe, Vassan, Bréard, Pénissault, Martel, Corpron, Chabert, La Barthe, Fayolle, Maurin, Perrault, and Varin.

12504. Letters of the lieutenant of police. 1763, Jan.-May.—Correspondence relating to Péan, Pénissault, Chabert, Noyan, Varin, Martel, Estèbe, Vassan, Bréard, Le Mercier, Maurin, Corpron, La Barthe, Cadet, St. Blin, Fayolle, Bigot, and La Borde.

12505. Letters of the lieutenant of police. 1764, June-Sept.—Correspondence relating to Péan, Fabres, La Borde, Corpron, Pénissault, and Maurin.

12506. Letters of the major of the Bastille to the lieutenant of police. 1763, Jan.-1764, Dec.—Correspondence relating to Bigot, Bréard, Cadet, La Borde, and Prévost.

12507. Correspondence of the lieutenant of police with the governor and major of the Bastille. 1765, Jan.-1766, Dec.—A small amount of routine material relates to the Canadian prisoners.

12519. Correspondence on supplies for prisoners. 1759, Jan.-1767, Dec.—Various routine items relate to Cadet and to St. Blin.

12581-12582. Registers of declarations signed by prisoners on their departure from the Bastille, in which they promised not to speak of certain matters in connection with their imprisonment, and acknowledged the receipt of personal effects.

12582. 1763-1770, 1786-1789.—Fayolle, Perrault, Vassan, Le Mercier, Noyan, Joncaire, St. Blin, La Barthe, Bigot, Varin, Estèbe, Dec. 15, 1763; Martel, Cadet, Bréard, Jan. 27, 1764; La Borde, Aug. 23, 1764; Corpron, Maurin, Pénissault, Dec. 25, 1764; Grondel, Rocheblave, Mandeville, May 24, 1764; Cadet, Mar. 25, 1766; Fabres, Aug. 2, 1766.

12708. Correspondence and other documents on transportation of prisoners to Louisiana and Cayenne, 1719-1720.—For Louisiana there are eight lists of prisoners, which cover forty-two pages and doubtless contain many duplicate names, six letters or notes, and three petitions. Most of these prisoners came from Bicêtre. The material relating to Cayenne is of a similar nature, and deals mainly with the chain-gang.

BIBLIOTHÈQUE DE LA CHAMBRE DES DÉPUTÉS.

The library of the Chamber of Deputies, in the Palais Bourbon, contains 1546 volumes of manuscripts, which constitute a miscellaneous collection acquired by various means, in considerable part by purchase. Among the few documents of American interest are items of administrative correspondence, extracts from English and American laws, edicts and letters patent, memoirs on commerce, narrations of voyages, etc. An extended inventory of the collection by Ernest Coyecque and H. Debraye has been published: Catalogue Général des Manuscrits des Bibliothèques Publiques de France: Chambre des Députés (Paris, 1907, pp. lxxi, 663).

BIBLIOTHÈQUE MAZARINE.

The Bibliothèque Mazarine (23, Quai Conti) no longer possessed in 1789 the manuscripts that had been collected by its founder, Cardinal Mazarin. Given the status of a state library during the Revolution, it was enabled to replenish its collections from the contents of the confiscated private and religious libraries. It now has about 5000 volumes of manuscripts, largely drawn from the collections of Parisian convents. An inventory has been published by Auguste Molinier, Catalogue des Manuscrits de la Bibliothèque Mazarine (4 vols., Paris, 1885-1892). In vol. I. is a brief history of the library. A supplementary inventory is in Catalogue Général des Manuscrits des Bibliothèques Publiques de France, XLV. (Paris, 1915) 35-55.

1533. "Orbis terrarum descriptio." Tome III.—Anonymous MS. of 17th century. At pp. 392-413 are descriptions of North America: Nova Francia, Nova Terra, Norumbega, Virginia, Florida, Hispania Nova, Quivira, Iles de l'Amérique du Nord. Engraved maps by Sanson, inserted in the MS., are to be noted as follows:

Les Isles Philippines, 1652. [ff. 251-252]

Amérique Septentrionale, par N. Sanson d'Abbeville, Géog. du Roy. A Paris . . . 1650. [ff. 392-393]

1616. "Archeveschez et éveschez des Indes Occidentales au Nouveau-Monde. Tome Premier."—Cf. Bib. Nat., MSS. Latins 16945-16976. Not examined.

1833. History of France, England, and the United States.—Courses of lectures by Prof. Koch, Strasbourg [?]. The section relating to England contains a few pages on the American colonies (pp. 72, 106, 110); the section on the United States (pp. 1-81) presents a general view of their history from 1607 to 1783.

1850.—1755. Discussion Sommaire sur les Anciennes Limites de l'Acadie, et sur les Stipulations du Traité d'Utrecht qui y sont relatives. [By Pidausat de Mairobert, according to Barbier.] (68 pp.)—French and German texts on opposite pages.

"Mémoire contenant les matières essentielles du commerce . . ." The third section is devoted to complaints against the abuse by the English of the treaty of assiento and of the permission they have received to send a vessel of 500 tons to the West Indies.

1912. Memoir on the commerce of Spain with America, with the draft of regulations for its promotion and for reserving the monopoly of it to the subjects of the Catholic king. By a commission created by Philip V., Madrid, Feb. 17, 1706.

1913. Reglamento y Aranceles Reales para el Comercio libre de España a Indias de 12 de Octubre de 1778. Madrid, en la Imprenta de Pedro-Marin. (262 pp.)—Followed by French translation in MS. Passages relating to the commerce of Louisiana are at pp. 53-60.

1963.—1643, Aug. 3-1645, Nov. 1. "La véritable relation de tout ce qui s'est fait et passé durant le voyage que M. de Brétigny fit en Amérique." Cayenne.

BIBLIOTHÈQUE SAINTE-GENEVIÈVE.

The Bibliothèque Sainte-Geneviève (8, Place du Panthéon) possesses a collection of about 3510 volumes of manuscripts, all of which, with the exception of some 100 volumes of purchases or gifts, formed the cabinet of manuscripts of the Abbey of St. Genevieve, in Paris, at the time of the Revolution. The American material includes the papers and journals of A. G. Pingré, relating to the scientific expeditions in American, chiefly West Indian, waters in which he took part, and also the papers and correspondence of Ferdinand Denis relating to Brazil. An inventory of the manuscripts, accompanied by an historical introduction, has been published by Charles Kohler, Catalogue des Manuscrits de la Bibliothèque Sainte-Geneviève (2 vols., Paris, 1893, 1896), with a Supplément (Paris, 1913); also in Catalogue Général des Manuscrits des Bibliothèques Publiques de France, XLV. 57-126.

529. Description of the seacoasts of various countries.—The coasts of the Antilles, Santo Domingo, Bermuda, Newfoundland, and Labrador, and the Atlantic coast of North America are described at ff. 130-347. The MS. is ascribed to Father Alexandre G. Pingré.

530-533. Journals, log-books, observations, calculations, maps, etc., of the scientific expedition of the Flore, under Verdun de La Crenne, J. C. Borda, and A. G. Pingré, in 1771-1772, in the waters of the West Indies and South America.

534. "Journal de Mr. le Marquis de Courtanvaux, sur la frégate l'Aurore pour essayer . . . plusieurs instruments relatifs à la longitude, mis en ordre par Mr. Pingré . . . 1768." (240 ff.)

539-540. Autograph journal in German, by the Russian artist Louis Choris, of his voyage around the world, 1815-1818, with documents relating to his assassination near Vera Cruz in 1829. See Louis Choris, Voyage Pittoresque autour du Monde (Paris, 1822).

543. Pencil outlines of the coasts of Iceland, of St. Pierre and Miquelon, and of small islands in the Gulf of St. Lawrence. (18th century.)

BIBLIOTHÈQUE VICTOR COUSIN À LA SORBONNE.

The Victor Cousin library, bequeathed to the University of Paris by Victor Cousin, constitutes an annex to the university library, but, under the terms of the legacy, it may “never, under any pretext”, be united to it or to any other library. The library contains 261 volumes of manuscripts consisting of autographs of historic personages, papers relating to philosophy and education, the papers of Barthélemy-Saint-Hilaire and of Paul Janet, and the correspondence and papers of Victor Cousin. Practically all the American material is to be found among the papers of Victor Cousin and consists of letters from American educators, philosophers, and others. An inventory of the collection by Paul Deschamps is published in Catalogue Général des Manuscrits des Bibliothèques Publiques de France: Université de Paris et Universités des Départements, pp. 369-465 (Paris, 1918).
