NATIONAL BIRD AND MAMMAL RESERVATIONS IN ALASKA IN CHARGE OF THE U. S. DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

Seven reservations for the protection of birds and mammals in Alaska have been set aside by executive order and placed in charge of the Department of Agriculture. These reservations, created in February and March, 1909, comprise, with one exception, small islands at several points along the coast of Alaska and in Bering Sea, as follows:

Bering Sea Reservation.....	Saint Matthew, Hall, and Pinnacle islands.
Fire Island Reservation.....	Near head of Cook Inlet.
Tuxedni Reservation.....	Chisick and Egg islands, Cook Inlet.
Saint Lazaria Reservation.....	Saint Lazaria Island, Sitka Sound.
Yukon Delta Reservation.....	Tundra of the Yukon Delta.
Pribilof Reservation.....	Walrus and Otter islands, Bering Sea.
Bogoslof Reservation.....	Bogoslof Islands, Aleutian Archipelago.

Fire Island is the breeding ground of the Alaska moose, the islands in Bering Sea contain rookeries of sea lions, and all of the reservations are important breeding grounds of sea birds or ducks and geese.

All of these species are protected by the Alaska game law (35 Stat., 102), and the birds on the reservations are protected by the following act of Congress:

LAW PROTECTING BIRDS AND THEIR EGGS ON BIRD RESERVATIONS.

[Criminal Code, sec. 84, 35 Stat., 1104.]

Whoever shall hunt, trap, capture, willfully disturb, or kill any bird of any kind whatever, or take the eggs of any such bird, on any lands of the United States which have been set apart or reserved as breeding grounds for birds, by any law, proclamation, or executive order, except under such rules and regulations as the Secretary of Agriculture may, from time to time, prescribe, shall be fined not more than five hundred dollars, or imprisoned not more than six months, or both.

EXECUTIVE ORDER.

It is hereby ordered that Saint Matthew island, Hall island, and Pinnacle islet, situated in Bering Sea, approximately in latitude sixty degrees, thirty minutes north, longitude one hundred and seventy-two degrees, thirty minutes west from Greenwich, as segregated by the broken line shown upon the diagram hereto attached and made a part of this order, be and the same are hereby reserved and set apart for the use of the Department of Agriculture as a preserve and breeding ground for native birds. It is unlawful for any person to hunt, trap, capture, wilfully disturb, or kill any bird of any kind whatever, or take the eggs of such birds within the limits of this reservation, except under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Agriculture. Warning is expressly given to all persons not to commit any of the acts herein enumerated and which are prohibited by law. This bird refuge to be known as Bering Sea Reservation.
