INTRODUCTION

In the seventeen years since the first edition (1975) of this gazetteer, knowledge of Bolivian birds has increased enormously. Seventy-four publications concerned primarily with the ornithology of Bolivia have appeared in this brief period, while between 1839 and 1974 there was a total of only 85. In other words, in the 153-year span of Bolivian ornithological studies, nearly half the publications came in the last seventeen years.

The deluge of recent publications alone would have made the first edition obsolete, but after this initial volume in the series, which now covers all the countries of South America, our methodology rapidly evolved and the information given became much more comprehensive. While at first we were satisfied with merely documenting that someone had worked at each field site, later it became apparent that the gazetteers would be more useful if we cited everyone who had been there, along with the dates of their work. The bibliography also evolved. At first it was simply a listing of all references used in the text, but later this was changed to be a complete ornithological bibliography for the country. References used to provide supplementary information are now cited in full within the text, leaving the bibliography uncluttered with material that is, strictly speaking, peripheral to the main body of literature for a given country. These methodological changes, along with the surge of new studies, has necessitated rewriting the entire volume; the result is a gazetteer more than twice the size of the first edition.

The ideal gazetteer would not only survey all the literature but would also include unpublished data from museum collections. Practicality still precludes such comprehensive coverage, but I have included records from all the Bolivian specimens in the Museum of Comparative Zoology, the Field Museum of Natural History, the Western Foundation of Vertebrate Zoology, and the Los Angeles County Museum of Natural History. K. C. Parkes has provided considerable information for Steinbach material housed in the Carnegie Museum. Data from other collections are included when known, but no attempt could be made at comprehensive surveys.

Each country has its own set of minor problems that defy resolution. In Bolivia I have been troubled by three. The first concerns d'Orbigny's pioneering explorations. d'Orbigny has published detailed itineraries of his extensive travels. Ornithological collections or observations were not made at every site visited, at least as far as we know, but it is possible that some of these localities will take on some ornithological significance when these old collections are examined further. I, therefore, have included not only d'Orbigny field sites that have appeared in the ornithological literature, but, using Papavero's excellent synopsis (1971, Essays on the History of Neotropical Dipterology, Vol. 1, pp. 139-143) of d'Orbigny's travels, have included a few of those places where he made extended stays and where he may have collected birds. The second trivial problem concerns the collections made by the Steinbachs, a family team as well known in Bolivian ornithology as the Olallas in Ecuador. J. Steinbach began work about 1908 and F. Steinbach about 1918; D. Steinbach appeared briefly in 1920-1921. The dates of the former two overlapped for about 20 years, meaning that during this time, if the published records fail to indicate the initial, there is no way to know who was the collector. R. Steinbach offers no problem since he appeared on the scene between 1968 and 1973, after F. Steinbach had ceased collecting. The third problem, which is of more significance, concerns maps. It has been extraordinarily difficult to obtain useful, recent maps. In the seventeen years since the publication of the first edition of this gazetteer, I have obtained only one new map (MAPA-II) that has been of any significant use, and this bears no date!

The following abbreviations and acronyms have been employed:

AMNH	American Museum of Natural History (data from specimens therein).
Bartholomew, 1989	Brazil & Bolivia, World Travel Map. (1:5,000,000), 1989. Bartholomew, Harper-Collins, Edinburgh.
CM	Carnegie Museum of Natural History (data from specimens therein).
FMNH	Field Museum of Natural History (data from specimens therein).

LACMNH	Natural History Museum of Los Angeles; formerly part of Los Angeles County Museum and collections were catalogued as "LACM" (data from specimens therein).
MAPA	Mapa de la República de Bolivia (scale?), 1947, R. R. Camacho Lara, Zumelzu y Cia., La Paz.
MAPA-II	Mapa de la República de Bolivia (1:4,000,000), date ? [1980s?]. Instituto Geográfico Militar, La Paz.
MCZ	Museum of Comparative Zoology (data from specimens therein).
MHA	Map of Hispanic America ("Millionth Map"), 1922-1940, American Geographical Society, New York (reference to one of the 9 sheets covering Bolivia).
ONC	Operational Navigation Chart (1:1,000,000). Defense Mapping Agency Aerospace Center, St. Louis Air Force Station (reference to one of the following sheets: N-26[1967], P-26 [1967], P-27 [1976]).
USBGN	United States Board on Geographic Names. Department of the Interior, Washington, DC (refers to Gazetteer No. 4, Bolivia, 1955, and Gazetteer Supplement, 1971).
USNM	United States National Museum (data from specimens therein).
WFVZ	Western Foundation of Vertebrate Zoology (data from specimens therein).

With each gazetteer we have been dependent on the good will and assistance of a number of people. This time I have been greatly helped by: L. J. Dorr, J. Fisher, J. Fjeldså, K. L. Garrett, R. Gresham, F. M. Jaksic,

R. I. Johnson, L. F. Kiff, D. V. Lanning, S. M. Lanyon, T. C. Maxwell, S. L. Olson, K. C. Parkes, V. J. Remsen, Jr., R. L. Roca, K.-L. Schuchmann, and, my earlier co-author, M. A. Traylor, Jr.

To Alison Pirie special thanks are owed for her faithful assistance and keen eye. This work would have been much less complete without her.

MOLLE-MOLLE; Cochabamba Not located
Close to Cochabamba [1724/6609 (USBGN)], Steinbach, date? (Todd, 1942, Ann. Carnegie Mus., 29:338, 370); Steinbach, 22 April 1922 (Remsen, et al., 1986:32).

MONOS; Santa Cruz ca. 1810/6342 (MAPA)
4,700 ft [1,450 m], collector? [Miller?], date? [1915?] (Todd, 1919, Proc. U. S. Nat. Mus., 74:51); on road E of Samaipata [1809/6352 (USBGN)], in foothills of western Santa Cruz (MAPA).

MONTEAGUDO; Chuquisaca 1949/6359 (USBGN)
5,000 ft [1,500 m] (FMNH); eastern Chuquisaca, 32 km SW of Lagunillas [1938/6343 (USBGN)] and 70 km SE of Padilla [1919/6420 (USBGN)] (MHA); Crossin, 16 km N, 24-28 Nov., 1 Dec., 72 km ESE [in Dpto. Santa Cruz], at 4,000 ft [1,200 m], 20, 30 Nov., 1-9 Dec., and 80 km ESE [in Dpto. Santa Cruz], at 3,500 ft [1,050 m], 4 Dec. 1972 (FMNH, ESE localities cited as "Monteagudo, Santa Cruz"); Schmitt, 16 km by road E of Monteagudo, 26 April 1984 (Schmitt & Schmitt, 1987:131); Remsen, et al. (1986:29; 1987:16) record from here a specimen of Dryocopos schulzi collected on 13 May 1917, but this is a Dinelli specimen (MCZ no. 86,762) from Monteagudo [2731/6517 (USBGN)], Tucumán, Argentina; see, also, Hirnado Silez.

MONTEAGUDO; Santa Cruz (FMNH); see Monteagudo, Chuquisaca.

MONTE BELLO; Tarija ca. 2241/6426
2,000 ft [600 m], farm in southern Tarija, near Argentina border, near where the Río Lipeo [not located] and the Río Candado [Quebrada Candado Chico, 2241/6426 (USBGN)] meet, Carriker, 9-10 (MCZ, as "Río Lipeo"), 11-28 Aug., 1-3 Oct. 1936 (Bond & de Schauensee, 1942b:313, as "Río Lipeo"); this description, given by Bond & de Schauensee (loc. cit.) is faulty and cannot refer to the Río Lipeo [2226/6432 (USBGN)] that rises in northwestern Salta, Argentina and joins the upper Río Bermejo [2652/5823 (USBGN)], without entering Bolivia; the USBGN for Bolivia has no entry for "Río Lipeo" or for a town bearing the name "Lipeo", but ONC shows a town of Lipeo, in Bolivia, at ca. 2225/6445; possibly there is a river nearby also bearing this name; Bond & de Schauensee (op. cit., p. 309) show further confusion by stating that the Río Lipeo flows northward into Salar de Uyuni [2020/6742 (USBGN)], when they meant the Río Grande de Lípez [2047/6714 (USBGN)], in Potosí.

MONTE GRANDE; El Beni Not located

OYANE (Chubb, 1919:5); see Yani.

PACAJES; La Paz 1740/6840 (USBGN)
ca. 3,850 m (MHA); southwestern La Paz, ca. 130 km SW of city of La Paz [1630/6809 (USBGN)]; does not appear on our maps; F. Steinbach, 4-11, 15-18, 20, 22-24, 26, 28, 30 Sept., 3-5, 7, 9, 11-13, 15, 17-18, 20, 22, 24, 27, 29-30 Oct., 2, 4, 6-9, 15, 17-19, 24 Nov. 1941 (Esteban, 1951, Acta Zool. Lilloana, 12:383, as "La Paz, Pacajes"; pp. 410, 412, 437, as "Pacajes, Esperanza"; p. 427, as "La Paz, Pacajes, Prez", p. 427, as "Esperanza"; FMNH, as "Pacayes, Esperanza, La Paz", "La Paz, Pacajes, Esperanza", "La Paz, Pacajes, Prez," "La Paz, Pacayes, Prez," "Pacajes, Camacho," "Pacajes, Esperanza, 50 km from Mt. Sajama", and "Pacajes, Camacho, near Mt. Sajama"; Olrog & Navas, 1961, Neotrpica, 7:57); there is an Esperanza at 1749/6847 (USBGN), not far from Pacajes, which seems to indicate Pacajes has been correctly identified; the somewhat more distant Curahuara de Pacajes [1740/6802 (USBGN)] would not appear to be the correct site; "Camacho" is certainly the nearby railroad station General Camacho [1721/6849 (USBGN)] and "Pérez" seems to be Estación General Pérez [1730/6910 (USBGN)], also not too far from Pacajes; "Mt. Sajama" must be Nevado Sajama [1806/6854 (USBGN)] in Oruro; also see Esperanza, La Paz.

PACAYES ESPERANZA (FMNH); see Pacajes.

PACHURAS PAZÑA (Menegaux, 1909: 213); see Pazña.

PAMPA GRANDE; Santa Cruz 1805/6409 (USBGN)
1,240 m, on slopes of central western Santa Cruz, 31 km WNW of Samaipata [1809/6352 (USBGN)] (MHA); d'Orbigny, 4 Nov. 1830 (d'Orbigny, 1839-1843, p. 508; Papavero, 1971, Essays on History of Neotropical Dipterology, Vol. 1, p. 140); Steinbach, 23 May 1920

(CM); Ridgely, nearby, 9, 29 April 1977 (Remsen & Ridgely, 1980:69).

PAMPA OLLIAGA; Oruro Not located
Collector?, date? (Hellmayr, 1938, Field Mus. Nat. Hist. Publ., 13, pt. 11, p. 350); almost certainly this is an error for Pampa Aullagas [1911/6705 (USBGN)].

PAMPAS AULLAGAS (Hurlbert, 1978:14); see Pampa Aullagas.

PAMPAS DE TAPERAS (Todd, 1942:315); see Taperas.
