Madden's Stallion Record.

ABBOTT 348, b. h. foaled 1869. Bred by H. S. Russell, Boston, Mass. Sired by Tattler 300 (which see); dam Molly D. (also known as Norfolk Belle), by Mambrino Chief 11; 2nd dam by imported Envoy. Abbott started twice in 1878. At Orono, Maine, he finished second to Iona 2:51, and at Portland, Me., he was distanced in a third heat in 2:36 by Emery Fearnaught. He sired Kitty Abbott 2:26 $\frac{3}{4}$ and one of his daughters produced Malabar 2:21 $\frac{1}{4}$. His dam also produced Smuggler's Daughter 2:25. The failure of Abbott as a sire was on a par with practically all of the horses carrying the Pilot, Jr.-Mambrino Chief cross without a line to Hambletonian 10.

ABBOTTSFORD 707, b. h. foaled 1872. Bred by J. W. Knox, Pittsburg, Pa. Sire Woodford Mambrino 345 (which see); dam Columbia, by Young Columbus 95; 2nd dam by Harris' Hambletonian 2. J. W. Knox said he bought Columbia to breed to Woodford Mambrino because she was a cold blooded mare of a trotting family. She was double gaited and had a French make-up. Abbottsford trotted to a record of 2:19 $\frac{1}{2}$, and was her fastest foal, but she also produced the pacer Dido 2:23 $\frac{1}{4}$ (dam of Redondo 2:26 $\frac{1}{2}$); Abbess (dam of Brandolien 2:28 $\frac{1}{2}$), and Maud (dam of California Lambert 2:27). According to Chester, Abbottsford made his first start as a two-year-old at Pittsburg, being distanced in a third heat by the Woodford Mambrino mare Lady McFatrige. He was finished second to Joe Lytle in a race at Beaver, Pa., before being shipped to California, where the balance of his races were trotted, and where he won seven firsts, four seconds and one fourth out of twelve starts. His record of 2:19 $\frac{1}{2}$ was made over the Bay District track, at San Francisco in the last race in which he took the word, and which he won after a six heat contest. Abbottsford stood for service in California and Kentucky. He sired thirteen trotters, Poindexter 2:09 and She 2:12 $\frac{1}{2}$ being the fastest, and three pacers. Five of his sons sired fourteen performers, and fourteen of his daughters produced twenty-three with records. His family is disappearing like practically all that are short in the maternal lines.

ABDALLAH (Goldsmith's) 164, b. h. foaled 1863. Bred by Edwin Thorne, Millbrook, N. Y. Sire Volunteer 55; dam Martha, by Abdallah 1; 2nd dam by Conklin's Bellfounder, son of imported Bellfounder; 3rd dam by Cornercracker; 4th dam by Hickory. Edwin Thorne named this horse Dictator, and sold him to Elihu Griffin. He changed it to Bellfounder Hambletonian, while Alden Goldsmith again changed it to Abdallah, to which the word Goldsmith's was subsequently prefixed, to distinguish him from Abdallah, the sire of his dam. This horse was taken to Racine, Wis., in 1866, where he made two seasons on the farm of Richard Richards. While there, he got Alexander, his most successful son, Alexander Boy, and Shadow, as well as Dictator 2:27, Hickory 2:27¾, Minnie Crawford (dam of three in 2:30), and Lady Ellen (dam of Mary Sprague 2:21). In 1869, Goldsmith's Abdallah was back in Orange County, N. Y., and was raced in 1872 and in 1873, when he made a record of 2:30 over Fleetwood Park, New York, N. Y., in a race which was won by Lady Picton. That fall, W. H. Wilson took him to Cynthiana, Ky., where he made the season of 1874. He was killed in a collision the following year. Goldsmith's Abdallah got but few foals in Kentucky, Little Miss 2:26½ and Lida Goldsmith, the dam of Stella Belmont 2:19, being among them. Martha, the dam of Goldsmith's Abdallah, was almost a sister in blood to Rysdyk's Hambletonian, 10, and was foaled the same year as that distinguished sire. She produced seven foals. Four of her colts proved sires of speed, the others being Volunteer Boy, John Bright and Dixon's Ethan Allen, sire of Sensation 2:22¼, winner of the $20,000 trot at Buffalo in 1873. The doubling of the Abdallah and Bellfounder lines in Goldsmith's Abdallah made him well thought of as a stock horse in his day. He made but three or four seasons in the stud.

ABDALLAH (Spaulding's), ch. h. foaled 1840. Bred by John T. Finnan, Jamaica, Long Island, N. Y. Sire Abdallah 1; dam by Star Gazer, son of Engineer, by imported Messenger; 2nd dam a brown mare of unknown breeding brought from Canada. This horse was at one time known as Abd-el-Kader. He was owned by A. Spaulding of Greenville, Ky., for many years, and died the property of D. White, Yates City, Ill., in October, 1873, according to the Breeder's Trotting Stud Book, while Wallace says he died in 1876. His name appears in a few of the early Kentucky pedigrees.

ABDALLAH PILOT 708, b. h. foaled 1865. Bred by R. A. Alexander, Spring Station, Ky. Sire Alexander's Abdallah 15, son of Hambletonian 10; dam Blandina (dam of the noted sires Swigert 650, King Rene 1278 and Solicitor 1025), by Mambrino Chief 11; 2nd dam Burch Mare [dam of Rosalind 2:21¾, Donald 2:27, Burchwood, (dam of Kingwood 2:25), and Springhill, sire of Careless 2:23¼], by Brown Pilot, son of Copperbottom. Abdallah Pilot sired Pickard 2:18¼, a high class trotter in his day, and Messenger Chief (which see). He died in 1881.

(dam of Eric 2:28¼ and Capoul 2:28), by American Clay 34 (which see); 3rd dam by Downing's Bay Messenger; 4th dam by Cripple, son of Medoc. This horse was purchased as a two-year-old by John S. Foote of New York City.

ABRAHAM 353, b. h. foaled 1862. Name of breeder unknown. Was the property of Benjamin H. Baldwin, Whitehall, N. Y., when he first attracted attention as a sire of speed. Sire Daniel Lambert 102 (which see); dam Polly Cook, by Vermont Black Hawk 5; 2nd dam Young Poll, by Young Sir Charles, son of Sir Charles by Duroc. Died in 1892. Abraham sired six trotters, the fastest being Frank 2:19½, who with a running mate made a record of 2:08½ in a race. None of Abraham's sons sired speed, but his daughters produced five trotters and two pacers, the fastest being the double-gaited horse Monopole, 2:23¼ trotting and 2:08½ pacing.

ADMINISTRATOR 357, br. h. foaled 1863. Bred by Elizah Woolsey, New Paltz, N. Y. Sire Hambletonian 10; dam Dolly Halstead, by Mambrino Chief; 2nd dam by Arabian Tartar; 3rd dam by Duroc Messenger. In 1888, the breeding of the dam of this horse was questioned, it being claimed that she was a Western mare purchased out of a load of horses. Z. T. Freer of New Paltz, N. Y., looked it up and reported that Dolly Halstead was bred by Thomas Halstead of New Paltz, N. Y. He stated that Halstead had a mare by Seely's American Star 14; that he bred her to Mambrino Chief, and that Dolly Halstead was the foal, which he afterward broke for E. DuBoise, a son-in-law of her breeder. The American Star cross was never accepted, but the pedigree was allowed to remain as given above. Geo. F. Stevens, Ilion, N. Y., purchased Administrator when he was a young horse and sent him to Kentucky, where he made a time record of 2:29½ in 1877. Two years later, he sold him to Robert Steele, Philadelphia, Pa., for $2,550. In 1883, Steele sold him at auction, in New York, N. Y., to E. E. Frost of Worcester, Mass., for $1,125, and he in turn sold him, in 1887, to J. A. Gourlie of Summerside, Prince Edward Island, Canada, where he died in August, 1892. Administrator sired sixteen trotters of which Catchfly 2:18¼ was the fastest. Twenty of his sons sired forty-one trotters and nine pacers, while forty-nine of his daughters produced sixty-two trotters and nine pacers, the best ones in the lot being Derby Princess 2:08½ and the well known sire Ashland Wilkes 2:17¼; sire of John R. Gentry 2:00½.

AJAX 724, b. h. foaled 1864. Bred by S. D. Whipple, Stockton, Cal. Sire Whipple's Hambletonian 725 (which see); dam Ashcat dam of Hambletonian, Jr., 1882), by Rysdyk's Hambletonian 10; 2nd dam Black Maria (dam of Sir Walter Scott 286), by Long Island Black Hawk 24. When Ashcat was purchased from Geo. B. Alley of New York, N. Y., and taken to California in 1862 by S. D. Whipple, she was represented to be out of a mare by Seely's American Star 14; 2nd dam by Abdallah 1. The pedigree given above was established in 1887. Ajax started in his first race in 1869 as a five-year-old (Chester says three but if he is correct there is an error in his Trotting Register as to the age of the horse) and made a record of 2:46 $\frac{1}{4}$ that season in a heat which he won from Venture. As a six-year-old, he reduced his record to 2:45 $\frac{1}{2}$, and finally made a record of 2:29 at Oakland, Cal., in a race in which he defeated Alexander. Between 1869 and 1876, Ajax started in California in twenty-eight races, of which he won ten, was second in twelve, third in three, fourth in one and unplaced in two. E. R. Dean purchased Ajax in 1877 and shipped him to Australia, where he died at Melbourne in 1887.

Little Albert 2:10 was the best trotter and no Electioneer horse ever got a better one.

William Corbett, San Mateo, Cal., purchased Irvington and Arthurton and took them to California. Irvington was sold and shipped to Australia, while Arthurton remained in California until 1885, when he was purchased by R. S. Veach, St. Matthews, Ky. Arthurton sired six trotters, one of them being Arab 2:15, and one pacer. Two of his sons bred on, while the produce of his daughters made Guy Wilkes famous. Twenty-five of them produced forty-three trotters and three pacers, the group including Lesa Wilkes 2:09, Hazel Wilkes 2:11 $\frac{1}{4}$ and Una Wilkes 2:15, all Grand Circuit performers.

ASHLAND CHIEF (Prewitt's) 751, b. s. foaled 1858. Bred by Jackson Viley, Midway, Ky. Sire Mambrino Chief 11; dam Viley Mare (thoroughbred dam of Cripple 1418), by imported Yorkshire; 2nd dam imported Flounce, by Mulatto; 3rd dam imported Florestine, by Whisker. During and after the Civil War, this horse passed through so many hands, there is a doubt that his identity was preserved. Wallace says that he was sold as a yearling to F. G. Brocht, Grant County, Ky., that in 1862 he was at Georgetown, Ky., and taken South during the war by Ryland Todhunter, sold to Dick Harris, bought back and sold to Dr. Miller and Lewis Gay, Clark County; in 1867 in the hands of John T. Jones; sold to Rolla Sutherland and taken to Missouri; purchased by Jones and Robert Prewitt and returned to Kentucky in Fall of 1871 and was subsequently purchased by Robert Prewitt, Fayette County, Ky. This horse was also known as Mark Chetwood. Ryland Todhunter says that Mark Chetwood was taken from his fathers' farm near Lexington, Ky., by a portion of the command of Gen. Churchill of Arkansas. Churchill became the owner of this horse and he traded a Star Davis saddle mare for him. Todhunter was an Adjutant General in a Texas Regiment and was wounded while riding this horse at the battle of Murfreesboro, Tenn. He sent the horse to Cartersville, Ga., in care of Tom Hayes. Hayes kept him there until driven out by Gen. Sherman. The horse was then taken to Columbus, Ga. Todhunter says he sold him for \$500 and that after the war he saw him in a show ring at Sedalia, Mo. At that time he offered \$1,000 for him. He also said he saw the horse later when Prewitt and Jones had him in Kentucky and called him Ashland Chief. Ashland Chief sired three trotters, one of them being that good race horse Black Cloud 2:17 $\frac{1}{4}$ (which see). Two of his sons sired speed and fourteen mares by him produced nineteen performers, one of them being Baron Rogers 2:09 $\frac{3}{4}$ that proved a great sire of speed in Russia.

During that period he started in thirty-four races of which he won twenty-five, was second in three, third in three and unplaced in three. He made a race record of 2:20 and a time record of 2:17 $\frac{1}{4}$ at St. Joseph, Mo., the last time he took the word. At the close of 1916 Ashland Wilkes was the sire of ninety-six trotters and seventy-eight pacers while sixty of his sons had sired ninety-five trotters and two hundred and twenty-two pacers and sixty-five mares by him had produced seventy-nine trotters and fourteen pacers. The Messenger mare, and her filly by Sir Solomon, were purchased by Dr. John B. Rich, New York, N. Y., from George Burgen in 1824. All of the other mares were bred by Rich. On account of his pedigree tracing in more direct lines to imported Messenger than any other horse in the American Trotting Register, R. S. Veach purchased Auditor for the Indian Hill Farm stud, St. Matthews, Ky. He was a failure and was, on April 12, 1883, sold at public auction for \$400 to S. B. Trapp, Cuthbert, Ga., where he died in 1884. At this same sale, the three-year-old colt Epaulet (which see) was sold for \$380. As a five-year-old he was one of the most prominent horses on the turf. BAY CHIEF (Alexander's), b. s. foaled 1859. Bred by Richard Johnson, White Sulphur, Ky. Sire Mambrino Chief 11; dam Keokuk, breeding unknown. This horse appears in Volume 1 of the American Trotting Register as being out of a mare by Keokuk, son of Truffle; 2nd dam by Stamboul (Arabian). This was taken out of the Woodburn Farm catalogue and was accepted as correct as well as the fact that he was bred by R. A. Alexander. In 1885, Wallace learned that Keokuk was one of a pair of mares that Richard Johnson purchased in Keokuk, Iowa, and took to Scott County, Kentucky, that he did not know her breeding and that he also bred her to Mambrino Chief in 1858 and in 1859 she produced the bald faced colt known as Bay Chief. In 1862 he bred this colt to sixteen or eighteen mares and sold him that fall, at public auction, to R. A. Alexander for \$1,000. After being shipped to Woodburn Farm, Bay Chief trotted a half-mile in 1:08, and repeated in 1:08½, which was a wonderful performance for a four-year-old at that date and made him the most talked of trotter in Kentucky. Bay Chief never covered any mares at Woodburn Farm but was kept in training and was still there when on the morning of February 2, 1865, a guerilla band led by Marion raided the farm and with other horses took Bay Chief and Alexander's Abdallah. They were pursued by federal soldiers, and in the fight, Bay Chief was shot in four places and died from the wounds. He was no doubt the most sensational trotter of the Mambrino Chief family. Of the few foals which Bay Chief got in Scott County, Bayadere produced Lady McFatrige 2:28 and Madam Powell, the good trotter Monroe Chief 2:18¼, while two of his sons sired speed and Steven's Bald Chief, another son, sired the celebrated brood mare Minnehaha, as well as Overland and Atlantic Chief, both sires of speed.

This horse sired Flora Temple 2:19¾, the first trotter to enter the 2:20 list. Alexander, the founder of Woodburn Farm at Spring Station, Ky., investigated her pedigree when the persons were all living and was satisfied that One Eyed Kentucky Hunter was her sire. He also traced the horse to Baltimore, where he found that he had died neglected and unknown. At a later date Samuel Welsh, the breeder of Flora Temple, came forward with a statement that she was by Bogus Hunter and that he was present when the mare was bred. His word was accepted.

This mare produced Broken Legged Kentucky Hunter when she was nineteen years old. When two years old the colt broke a leg, near the ankle, while being led by the halter. This mishap supplied him with a name. Chestnut Kentucky Hunter was foaled in 1838 or 1839. His dam was by Bay Duroc, a horse that was taken from Connecticut to Northern New York, and from there to Madison County, N. Y. The information in regard to this horse was secured in 1883 by L. M. He was raced from that year until 1886, when he made his record of 2:21¾ in the fourth heat of a race that Ambassador won at Cleveland, September 17 and 18. He in turn sold her to Dr. Rodney Sweeting, who then resided at Clinton, N. Y. Wallace in Vol. 5, page 353 of the American Trotting Register, says that Sweeting's Ned Forrest is said to be a son of Alexander's Edwin Forrest 49, while the other facts in regard to his pedigree appear in Wallace's Monthly for June, 1886.

The Frenchman wanted to raise a foal from her, but would not pay more than three dollars for any horse's service. Sir Walter's fee was fifteen dollars, so he did not use him, but bred her to a bay stallion that was kept in the same stable and used to haul water from the lake to the hotel. HISTORY OF THE DAM OF

GEORGE WILKES

— BY —

J. W. DAY

REPRODUCED FROM A PAMPHLET PUBLISHED IN 1912

INTRODUCTORY

I have known this history of the dam of George Wilkes ever since the Civil War, but, at the time John P. Ray started his warfare upon the breeding of the mare, years after Wallace, Captain Lewis, Joshua Phillips and nearly all the parties interested were dead, I had no idea that the history he gave me of his proof would amount to anything as it was so trivial, and therefore paid no attention to it. Many articles that have been written and published, finally stirred me to write these letters and furnish the proof that I hereby publish.

I had no intention at first of putting it in this condensed form, but, meeting John E. Madden at Cleveland, he very enthusiastically thanked me for the articles as he had read them and also congratulated me by telling me I was getting to be an old man and that this proof ought to be placed in form to be preserved, and stated that if I would place them in condensed form he would be glad to pay for two thousand copies if I would do the work. I have therefore complied with his request.

Rochester, N. Y., Jan. 19, 1912.

Editor American Horse Breeder:—

I am going to bother you once more. I read Dr. Holt's article about George Wilkes and Electioneer, in the Christmas Breeder. I am not a partisan on either side, but Dr. Holt's statement that the dam of George Wilkes was of questionable breeding brings back to me all the old memories of that outrageous proceeding against the Clay family, and the attempt to rob the family of Clays of the credit of producing the dam of the great George Wilkes.

Now friend Parlin, you know I was always a friend to the Clays but never was so strong a partisan as to wish George Wilkes' dam to be credited to the Clay family unless it was true. I think I have written you once before something in regard to my views, but not the facts in this matter. I am going to give them to you more fully. Now for the facts which I do know are right.

First, I persuaded my father, a Methodist minister, in 1856 to buy a three-year-old gray mare that was owned seven or eight miles from Geneva where Captain Lewis, as that is the name he went by when I was a boy, lived. This mare I bought was sired by Dey's Messenger, he by Liberty, a grandson of Imported Messenger, and the dam of Dey's Messenger was a daughter of imported Messenger. My father purchased her for me for one hundred dollars, unbroken. I remember very well, for my father, being a Methodist minister moving every year or two, was appointed that year to Canoga, twelve miles from Geneva, to preach, and it was the year Buchanan and Fremont ran for President. My father considered me a great judge of horses if only eleven years old, for he trusted any horse in my care after I was seven years old, but, I think I was a born horseman, at least a lover of horses. I drove this mare to Geneva when I had her well broken and showed her to Captain Lewis and John Dey, as it was a relative of John Dey who owned Dey's Messenger. John Dey was the right hand man of Cobb and Lewis when they were in the wool and produce business and I knew both well from that time up to their deaths.

I drove this Messenger mare for three years on the road with and without my father, when without father, I stepped her some. I begged father to allow me to take her to the county fair to show for a premium. He consented. She got the first premium all right, but something else happened that father did not expect. There were trotting races at the county fair besides the show of pumpkins. I entered the mare in the three minute class, borrowing an old spring road sulky weighing about one hundred and twenty-five pounds, and I won the race. It was the first time she had ever been on the track and the time was a little better than three minutes.

Some of the neighbors got home before I did and father had the news. He gave me just time enough at the barn to take good care of the mare and then something else happened that I have never forgotten. Father, of course, was disgraced and the result was the mare was sold in a very short time for $600.00. I don't know in just what form the money was paid, for I never saw the color of it, for it was the old story of the boy's colt and dad's horse, but as I committed such a disgraceful act, and as father promised me he would use the money to send me through college, I was content.

This was the first trotter I had ever driven in a race, and I became the hero as a boy horseman in the eyes of some and especially in those of John Dey, Cobb and Lewis, as John Dey saw the performance. I write the above to explain to you the reasons why I have always believed and had opportunities to know the breeding of the dam of George Wilkes. I met both Lewis and Dey year after year and talked over the Wilkes matter with them time and time again.

I enlisted in the Civil War in 1861 but was thrown out of the regiment on inspection day on account of my youth. I enlisted again in 1862 and passed inspection. You can well understand that I had something to do and think about besides horses until 1865, when I was discharged. Very soon after I got home from the war I bought a little bay mare. I called her Toot. The guy that sold her to me told me she was sixteen years old. She was a trotter in those days all the same. I entered her in a race, in the three minute class, at Ovid, Seneca Co., N. Y., in 1866, and won the race in 2:52, the same day that Maid of Clay, by Henry Clay, got a record of 2:40, and was afterwards sold by Cobb and Lewis to Gov. Stanford to be bred to Electioneer.

After the races that night, I rode to Geneva with John Dey and Cobb. I learned from them that my old Toot had been owned in Waterloo, Seneca Co., for many years by the great old breeder, Mr. Wright, and that she was twenty-six years old then. She had a colt by George M. Patchen that was a very fast horse. That colt proved to be my old stallion, Seneca Patchen, as I afterwards discovered. You can see, Friend Parlin, that sentiment came in again so much that in after years I bought old Seneca Patchen because he was by George M. Patchen and out of my old trotter Toot. Old man Wallace called me a fool and said I was crazy for buying an old stallion for six hundred dollars when he was seventeen years old and without having sired a trotter, but I am diverging. You know the story of old Seneca Patchen and what he did for me without my repeating it.

When we reached Geneva that evening we spent the time until midnight talking about the horses, and I am positive as I live that John Dey then told me about the dam of George Wilkes being a Clay, as we were discussing the Clay family. I know surely, that that pedigree had been looked up as early as that, at least, and it may have been as early as 59 or 60 before I went to the War, but, if it was that early I did not hear about it until I came back from the War. I do know that Captain Lewis, very soon after John Dey had told me the dam of George Wilkes was a Clay, told me the whole story about the mare, and that Harry Felter had asked him to secure the breeding and that he sent John Dey to Bristol to do so, and ever afterwards during his lifetime Captain Lewis reiterated that statement to me.

I sold them a mare, four years old, by Gooding's Champion, in the Fall of 1870, eight years before Wallace writes about. I drove her second in a race in Canandaigua after I bought her unbroken for one hundred and fifty dollars. I broke her, trained her and raced her in this race in less than ninety days time; sold her to Cobb and Lewis through John Dey as Cobb and Dey both saw me drive her in that race. I sold her to them that night for eight hundred dollars. I called her Gypsy Girl. I bought her in partnership with the late Senator John Raines; he furnished the money and I did the work and we divided. I used my half to carry me through my last year in the old Hobart Medical College in Geneva.

They trained her the next year and changed her name. They then sold her to Mat Tanner, a great horseman in those days, of Albany, N. Y. She got a record, I think of twenty-seven or eight and during these two years, 1869 and 70, my rooms, when I went to College at Geneva, were within two blocks of Cobb and Lewis' office and I saw them nearly every day. This all settles the date to me of when Lewis and Dey looked up the pedigree of the dam of George Wilkes, for that had all been done long before this matter of Wallace's in '77 or '78, for that is all bosh so far as that being the date or knowledge of her pedigree being learned, but it only confirms what we all knew long before.

In 1875, I moved to Waterloo, where my old farm was for so many years, and lived there twenty-five years, seven miles from Geneva. I knew every horse that was of racing caliber, that Dey, Cobb and Lewis had during all those years and knew them all up to their deaths.

Captain Lewis was not a race horse man, ever. He had the money but was a strictly moral and religious man. He loved horses but he did not wish to race them and never gambled. John Dey was their horseman and Cobb was the inspiration of all the trotting horse deals, and the last trotting horse or mare that Cobb owned before he died, he bred to one of my stallions. Captain Lewis for several years before he died refused to have anything to do with trotters even when Cobb and Dey had them.

The whole trouble and dispute in this matter was caused by the bad memory of Clark Phillips, thirty years afterwards, that he thought Bailey owned Henry Clay when he bred the Highlander mare to him. No proof, nothing but bad memory. It was a mighty slim argument against a pedigree that had been established many years before.

Leonard Gooding married my wife's sister in the spring of 1868, and visited us on their wedding trip. Leonard Gooding was born and lived all his life on the Homestead Farm in Bristol Center, N. Y. He was a great lover of horses and bred a good many colts and knew the history of all the breeding interests of Bristol, N. Y., as well as any resident there. In the summer and fall of 1868 I visited him at Bristol several times. He had at that time two black stallions, one he told me was about 20 or 21 years old, the other eight or ten years younger. He told me that the older one was bred the first year that Henry Clay stood in Bristol. He told me also at that time, that he knew the dam of George Wilkes, as he was well acquainted with all of the Phillips' and that the dam of George Wilkes was bred the same year that his oldest stallion was.

As Lewis and Dey had already told me this story you will understand that to me, this was one of the best proofs that I had for believing the facts as I have written them. Another point, Captain Lewis told me repeatedly that the mare that he sold and afterwards became the dam of George Wilkes had no name that he knew of when he sold her, but, afterwards was named Dolly Spanker. I am satisfied that the breeding of the dam of George Wilkes was all established before she died, if not, why did Captain Lewis go to the Felter Farm to see her and identify her, as he told me he did?

I knew John P. Ray intimately for thirty years before he died and he looked up that pedigree as he told me many times at the time Wallace was investigating it, and he told me many times that the pedigree was firmly established that the dam of George Wilkes was by Henry Clay. After this last story got started about who owned Henry Clay when Phillips bred the Highlander mare, Ray heard of it and started in this last investigation all on the memory of a man, forty years after he had bred a mare, about who owned the stallion at the time he bred. Mighty slim evidence, my way of thinking, to break up a well established pedigree that had been uncontradicted for forty years.

I treated John P. Ray professionally for two or three months, soon after he had, in his own mind, proved that the Phillips mare had been bred too late to be the dam of George Wilkes. He and I had several warm arguments over the matter. We closed the argument by my telling him that while I had confidence in him as a man, from all the facts that I had stated to him as I have to you, and the full knowledge I had of the matter, that I would not believe his story if he and all the people he had interviewed would swear to it on a stack of bibles.

CAPT. J. S. LEWIS' LAST STATEMENT.

I secured yesterday a letter from Stewart L. Purdy, of Geneva, N. Y., the nephew of Captain Joseph Lewis. I think this is the last clinch of the testimony, in the proof of the dam of George Wilkes. He tells me also, that he is the only near relative of Captain Lewis. Captain Lewis was a bachelor, and this Stewart L. Purdy is the only nephew, and there are no nieces. Mr. Purdy is the nearest living relative, and he was with his uncle more or less all his life, and knew all about the horse interests and every other interest of Captain Lewis. He saw Henry Clay himself when eight years old and knew the breeding of the mare. He is now sixty-five years old and had a right, as well as I, to know all those facts, as I did; and this testimony from him does away with any of those statements of veracity of his uncle about the pedigree. I met Stewart L. Purdy myself and became well acquainted with him in 1866, and have known him ever since. I met him many times in his uncle's office and on his farm, eight miles out of Geneva.

The point that he makes about the price of the service fee being a strong factor in this case, I know to be right. I have another brother-in-law living in Bristol, who was born there and has always lived there on a farm within two miles of Joshua Phillips. He is not a horseman, but he has heard of these facts that I have presented, and was a great friend of Leonard Gooding, as we all married sisters, and knew all about his stallions by Henry Clay. He tells me that several old men, that were breeders to Henry Clay, reports that if the fee was only five dollars, as Phillips claimed it was when he bred to Henry Clay, it certainly was when he was first there, because when he was bought and brought back eight or nine years later, the fee was much larger for those days. As the colts were showing so much speed, everybody wanted to breed to him, and that was the very reason he was brought back.

Mr. Purdy says that he told Huntington of Captain Lewis' statement made but a short time before his death, and does not see why Huntington should have said he was Capt. Lewis' son, yet Huntington made a lot of blunders worse than that, and hurt the Clay family more than any other man; but, with John P. Ray, it was simply a case of prejudice, as he was no horse breeder and never bred a trotter in his life nor bred a mare to anybody's horse unless the service was given to him. He wouldn't have bred a mare to Seneca Patchen even if I had given it to him, he was so prejudiced against the Clays; but, he gave my horse, Kaiser, by George Wilkes, first premium as a judge and begged me for a colt service fee. I declined, although we were good friends, but, his prejudice was too strong for his judgment.

Now there never was a stronger case of absolute proof that the dam of George Wilkes was this Clay mare and foaled about 1847 and there has no proof ever been furnished of any real weight to change that pedigree as recorded by Wallace. I think this testimony ought to satisfy everyone who wishes to know the facts.

STEWART L. PURDY'S STATEMENT.

Geneva, N. Y., Aug. 30th, '12.

Dear Doctor Day:—

Your letter of inquiry as to my knowledge in regard to the facts of the breeding of the dam of George Wilkes, received. I am 65 years old, as I was born in 1847. Joseph S. Lewis, who bought the mare afterwards called Dolly Spanker, and proved to be the dam of George Wilkes, was my uncle and I was his only nephew. I have always been engaged in the breeding of horses and the horse interest, and have kept a diary for a great many years. I know all the facts in regard to the buying of this mare by my uncle and his selling her to Mr. Delevan. After Mr. Felter bred the mare to Rysdyk's Hambletonian he naturally wanted to know the pedigree of the mare. My uncle often told me that he went to New York, and to the Felter farm to identify the mare. Felter wanted to know the pedigree and I know from my uncle's statement to me that Mr. Gilbert told my uncle, as he often stated, that he bought the mare of Joshua Phillips of Bristol, and my uncle told me that he sent John Dey to Bristol to ascertain the facts in regard to her breeding.

John Dey was a wool buyer and horse buyer for my uncle always, and he told me the same facts many times. There was a strong prejudice in those days against the Clay blood, especially after Mr. Bonner declared that the Clay blood in a trotter was as bad as sawdust in his oats. I know from my uncle's talk that Felter and the owners of George Wilkes did not care to have that pedigree with a Clay cross in it publicly known. There was no one in Geneva or that territory that ever made any other claim for her sire, or doubted that said mare was by the Wadsworth Henry Clay.

Nelson Thompson of Penn Yan, was a partner of my uncle for years in the stage business from Penn Yan to Geneva, and the said Thompson bought Henry Clay after he had first stood in Bristol a year or two. The horse was afterwards sold and went back to Bristol. The statement in the affidavit of Phillips that he paid five dollars for the service fee, proves conclusively that it must have been when Henry Clay first stood in Bristol, for I knew that when he went back to Bristol eight or nine years later that his fee was fifteen dollars. This fact my uncle and John Dey and Mr. Thompson told me many times.

Now as to the report that my uncle ever stated that he might have been mistaken or that he did not say much about the dam of George Wilkes, I know to be false. On my birthday, Feb. 13th, 1896, my wife and I visited my uncle and he asked me to walk down to the office with him after dinner. He then said to me that there had been a great howl about the pedigree of the dam of George Wilkes, but that he knew what he was talking about. He stated that he had seen his mare, Dolly Spanker, at the Felter farm and that she was the same mare that he bought of Gilbert, and Gilbert told him he bought her of Joshua Phillips, and my uncle said that he sent John Dey to Phillips to learn her breeding, and he knew it was true, and that he had never made any other statement. He stamped his cane upon the floor in the office and very earnestly said that there was a fool born every minute, but, they could not change the pedigree of that mare. My uncle died June 18th, that same year, 1896, and his memory was as clear as it always had been, up to the very last. John Dey told me this same story all his life. I knew him up to the time of his death, and he always reiterated all these statements. My uncle thought a good deal of John Dey all his life and paid his funeral expenses when he did, four or five years before my uncle died.

I read your letters in the American Horse Breeder and you were perfectly right in your statements, and I have known you, Doctor, ever since 1866, right after the war, and I know that you have had every facility to know these facts and that you knew my uncle well all these years. I am glad to help you with these few facts which are well known to me.
