

PROCEEDINGS OF THE ENTOMOLOGICAL SOCIETY OF AMERICA.

Atlanta Meeting.

The Eighth Annual Meeting of the Entomological Society of America was called to order by Dr. Philip P. Calvert in the absence of the President, Rev. Charles J. S. Bethune, at 10:00 A. M., Tuesday, December 30th, in the rooms of the Physiological Department of the Atlanta Medical College. In calling the meeting to order Dr. Calvert conveyed to the Society Dr. Bethune's deep regret at being unable to be present and his hearty good wishes for its success. The meetings were all well attended, the number was surprising considering Atlanta's isolation from great educational centers. The following committee, appointed by President Bethune, was named:

Committee to draft resolutions on the death of Dr. Philip Reese Uhler.—Herbert Osborn, J. H. Comstock, and Philip P. Calvert.

The chair was directed by motion to appoint the following committees: Committee on Resolutions; Committee on Nominations; Auditing Committee.

The following papers were then read, but through the action of the Executive Committee that all abstracts should be omitted from the proceedings, only titles are given:—

J. T. Lloyd, Cornell University—The structure of the hind intestine of Corydalus.

Paul S. Welch, Kansas Agricultural College—Observations on the habits and life-history of Hydomyza confluens Loew. Read by title.

The volume for the year, which includes about five hundred pages and fifty-nine plates, will I believe maintain the quality of preceding volumes and it has been necessary to postpone or refuse other papers of excellent quality because of the lack of funds for further publication. It is hoped that the income for the coming year will permit the handling of a number of these papers but the Editor believes that the amount printed should be kept within the margin of receipts and if possible no deficit be created. The sale of a few sets of back volumes would assist much in the publication of additional matter and any assistance in placing such sets will be very much appreciated.

The Editor desires to express his appreciation of the aid rendered by the members of the Editorial Board, and to the Secretary for his untiring efforts in attending to the details of the business falling to his office.

Respectfully submitted,

HERBERT OSBORN,
Managing Editor.

The Committee on Nomenclature presented an informal report which was ordered accepted.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON ENTOMOLOGICAL TYPES.

One of us (Cockerell) examined the collections of the U. S. National Museum and the Carnegie Museum during the year. The types, so far as seen, were found in excellent condition, but not all in systematic order or available for study and comparison without some searching. We know of no museum in which the entomological staff is really adequate. At the Carnegie Museum one is amazed at the richness and value of the collections, including materials which have been described in many important memoirs, and enormous numbers of specimens not yet worked over, but evidently including much of interest. The entomological curator has succeeded in keeping everything in good condition, but it would take a considerable staff of workers to put the collections all in order and keep the accessions worked up. At the U. S. National Museum one finds a large staff of well-known entomologists, many of whom work over time and on holidays in the effort to keep the collections in order and work up the accessions. However, the appearance of an adequate entomological staff is illusory, since nearly all of the men belong to the Bureau of Entomology of the Department of Agriculture, and have to give their attention to economic problems and routine work of various kinds. Judging by the large amount of published work issued from the Museum, one might suppose the number of workers to be sufficient, but this idea is soon dispelled on examining the very large and important collections remaining unstudied and noting the continued stream of accessions. The scientific staff of the National Museum is inadequate in almost all departments, but especially in Entomology, a subject which covers a much greater and more important field than the public imagines. The type problem becomes part of the general problem of securing adequate and competent curatorial assistance; not only for the proper care and availability of the types already owned by the Museum, but also and especially in regard to obtaining other types. The study and description of the new species now in the Museum would add thousands of types to the collection; while many private workers would give or leave their types to the institution, were entomology treated by Congress and the authorities as it deserves.

We think, therefore, that all entomologists should make a point of urging, whenever possible, the claims of their science to a larger share of support in important Museums. In doing this, they may properly point out the astonishing revelations of recent years in regard to the importance of various insects to man, showing that a knowledge of entomology is of prime importance for the progress of civilization. They may also point out that in the case of large public museums, all the major expenses have been met, and it is only necessary to add a comparatively small amount to greatly increase the scientific output.

Several workers in the National Museum recently agreed with the suggestion that 5% of the total expenditure on the Museum, added to the cost of maintaining the scientific departments, would double the scientific output.

Signed,

T. D. A. COCKERELL,
L. O. HOWARD,
HENRY SKINNER.

On motion, the report was ordered accepted and printed and the Committee continued for another year.

REPORT OF THE SPECIAL COMMITTEE ON HOLDING A SUMMER MEETING ON THE PACIFIC COAST IN 1915.

Your committee desires to report that there seems to be a strong sentiment in favor of holding a summer meeting on the Pacific coast in 1915.

It finds the officers of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition willing to co-operate in every reasonable manner, and it is informed that the meeting can be held on the exposition grounds or at either Stanford University or at the University of California. One member of the Committee suggests the desirability of a group of entomologists traveling together and arranging to have a field meeting at some Rocky Mountain point. There would probably be no difficulty in arranging for the necessary stop over privileges.

The western entomologists will be enthusiastic supporters of such a gathering and it should be attended by a number of eastern men. We feel it highly desirable to have such a meeting and therefore recommend that arrangements be consummated. We respectfully suggest including in the nominations for 1915, at least one vice-president who would be in position to serve as chairman of the meeting in case a president was unable to attend.

Signed,

E. P. FELT,

V. L. KELLOGG,

A. J. COOK.

W. M. WHEELER,

T. D. A. COCKERELL,

On motion, the report was ordered accepted and printed and the committee was ordered continued as a Committee on Arrangements with the addition of Dr. E. C. Van Dyke of the University of California.

The following amendments to the Constitution submitted at the Cleveland meeting of the Executive Committee were read:—

Article IV, Section 3. The President shall represent the Society upon the Council of the American Association for the Advancement of Science until such time as the Society shall be qualified for representation by two councilors, in which case the second councillor shall be elected from the Fellows by the Executive Committee.

To be amended to read as follows:

Article IV, Section 3. Councillors to the American Association. The President and the preceding Past-President shall represent the Society upon the Council of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. In case of the death or resignation of either or both councillors, the vacancy shall be filled by the Executive Committee.

Article V, Section 3. Election of Officers. All officers shall be elected by ballot at the Annual Meeting for the term of one year and shall be eligible for re-election. The term of their office shall commence with the first of June following their election.

To be amended to read as follows.

On motion, the amendments were adopted.

The Executive Committee at the Cleveland meeting submitted the following addition to the Constitution:

On motion, the Secretary was instructed to send a Night Letter to President C. J. S. Bethune, extending greetings from the Society, their pleasure on the recovery of his sight, and their regret at his inability to attend the meetings.

The following communication submitted to the Secretary by Mr. Nathan Banks was read:—

Inasmuch as there is no independent society in this country able to publish large works on Entomology, and since there are even now manuscripts awaiting printing, and with time there will be more, I suggest that the Entomological Society of America found such a society. This Society to be known as "The Thomas Say Society." Its object to publish catalogues, revisions, and monographs of North American insects. That it be authorized to solicit and collect money for a permanent fund, the interest on which shall be used for the printing of said works. That the Society shall be controlled by a board of five entomologists, chosen by the Executive Committee of the Entomological Society of America. Each member to serve five years, the first board to have one member for one, two, three, four, and five years, thereafter one selected each year. That all money received for sale of publications be added to the permanent fund. That said board of control shall select whatever officers they deem necessary and have authority for accepting articles for printing and disbursement of funds.

On motion, the President was directed to appoint a committee of three to consider ways and means for the establishment of such a society. The President appointed the following committee:—Nathan Banks, Chairman, H. H. Lyman, and Morgan Hebard.

The following papers were then read:—
