

Olympia Wash^{ter}
Nov. 18th 1883.

My dear Doctor Gray

May I claim a place among the friends who will crowd around you to day for congratulation?

There can scarcely of us who have never seen your face who will never the less feel well acquainted with you because of the freedom with which you have permitted them to approach you for personal assistance by letter or their otherwise unaided studies.

I hope you will permit me to say, their your kindly service to me since the time, and at the time when you helped me to come into the歩markard of botanists with a new genus in my hand has wrought in me an affection which claims a place among your friends more favored in this only that they have had more frequent and more familiar intercourse

Nevius, Reuben Denton. 1885. "Nevius, Reuben D. Nov. 18, 1885." Asa Gray correspondence
