Cambridge, Mass.

Dear Sir.

A few days ago, I sent to Rev. Th. Morton, of Boston a collection of Texas plants, and in the same box, the collection of western plants that I promise you sometime ago; Mr. Morton promises me to take the plants to you, so, the same expense and trouble I sent them in the same box but in separate packages, I have not the least doubt they will reach you in safety. I have gettredly put but one or two specimens of good as I had them for each species; supposing that most of them are well known of you; but if I was lucky enough to have found something new or little known, I would send more specimens of such plants, supposing you would need them.

I owe you a good many thanks for the precious botanical contributions, that you and Mr. Watson send me, it would prove a great help to me, and since I have sent my collection, I have
