

January 6, 1890

Prof. Sereno Watson,
Cambridge, Mass.,

Dear Sir, —

We have your favor of 4th inst in relation to pages of the Manual and would say that we think a table of contents would not seriously interfere with the make up of the forms and we consider it a desirable feature.

If you will furnish copy to the University Press for same we shall be much obliged to you.

Yours truly,

Iverson, Blakeman & Co.
J. B. E. C.

If you can use 4 pages, making pages i to viii to precede page 1, we can print in that shape conveniently.

J. B. E. C.
