

Cambridge, April 2nd '57

My dear Mr. Wright,

I have received several letters from you from December & February, & have been meaning all the time to write to you - But I have been very much absorbed with this new Edition of Manual, which still drags its weary length along, & instead of being finished the 1st of February, is not likely now to be done before the 1st of Southern aid.

Your subscription of $20 (to which I added a trifling $5) - has been paid and acknowledged in the newspaper. I meant to have sent it out & sent to you as a voucher - but it has got mislaid

A. G.

writes & neglected making & getting about in every way - nothing you, in the tropics!

You ask who Quaker is - He was one of the porters of an English line now in New Jersey, & whose name was McPherson

Now, say is pretty well, will be better one doesn't when spring fairly shows & the sun get not more goodly - the legs & the arms back -

He will be more delighted than I am to know that the documents have probably arrived in western. But I am not much the easier. In the Republican are too many in charge for their own good, or ours. - and it seems the best of Garrison for his way - as it should be, in the sense of training yet pointing the way to the future, & help our people. I have the feeling

Gray, Asa. 1867. "Gray, Asa Apr. 2, 1867 [attached note]." Charles Wright correspondence with Asa Gray

View This Item Online: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/item/257881>

Permalink: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/partpdf/276793>

Holding Institution

Harvard University Botany Libraries

Sponsored by

Andrew W. Mellon Foundation

Copyright & Reuse

Copyright Status: Public domain. The BHL considers that this work is no longer under copyright protection.

This document was created from content at the Biodiversity Heritage Library, the world's largest open access digital library for biodiversity literature and archives. Visit BHL at <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org>.