

Charlotte, Vermont.

8. Feb., 1887.

Dear S. Gray,

The kindness and thoughtfulness of your letter is deeply appreciated.

If a few of our botanical friends will advance funds for the beginning of the season, it will be just the best-thing for me. They would be running no risk, I should think; as the possession of an interest in real estate here makes me responsible as a debtor, and the money could be recovered in the event of my death in Mexico. If I visit you, we can then best arrange the details. It has been my way to leave a deposit in a bank in St. Paso, and to avail myself of good banking facilities in Chihuahua - A letter of credit may have advantages; I do not understand, never having had one.

I am now beginning my distribution.
Here are, I think, tickets for all the specimens sent you -

Yours faithfully,
C. G. Fingle.
